The Town and the Country

RESIDENTS of towns and cities everywhere are beginning to realize more acutely the fact that their communities will prosper and develop only in proportion to the prosperity and development that comes to the farming sections that surround them.

REALIZING this fact, Boards of Trade in recent years have been devoting as much or more of their attention to developing the country districts as to securing new industries or attacting new residents. They know that as the country around the towns become more prosperous and more thickly settled, the more money will be spent in the towns, and the faster these towns will grow.

FOR these reasons the towns and cities have contributed more and more liberally towards the building of good roads in the country districts, and have been paying their share of the money spent for the purpose of making agriculture a more attractive and prosperous calling in life.

THE town needs the country, but the country also needs the town. The farmer needs the assistance of the storekeeper in securing a market for his products, in getting better roads over which he travels and in helping him over a period of financial stringency. His farm is worth very little unless it is within reasonable distance of a market town with its elevators, creamery and stores. On the other hand the storekeeper needs the business of the farmer. In the language of the street the town and country make a fifty-fifty proposition.

THE EXAMINER'S REVIEW OF PROVINCIAL MARKETS

April 2nd, 1925.

CATTLE

BEEF—Prices at Calgary unchanged firm on steers and females selling higher. Choice heavy steers $6.50@7; choice light $6.25@6.50; good $5.50@6.25; medium $4@5.25, common from $4 down. Choice heifers $6@6.50; good $4.50@5.75. Choice cows and bulls $4.75@5.35; good $4.25@4.75; common $3.50@3.75; canners from $2 down. Choice bulls $2.75@3.50, medium $2@2.50; canners from $1.50 down Choice light veal $9; other veal calves down to $6; common and heavy calves $4@5.50. FEEDERS, and STOCKERS—Inquiry indifferent. Choice feeders up to $6.50, others around $4; stocker steers $3@4. Stock cows $2.50@3.

HOGS

Calgary prices broke badly during the week from $13 on Saturday to $12.35 this morning on Wednesday; bacon 10 p. c. premium; today's sales $12.

Edmonton sales also lower with long haul hogs at $12.50 and other loads as low as $12, off cars; bacon hogs usual premium at 10 p. c.

SHEEP

Not many butcher sheep coming at Calgary and lambs around $14; yearlings $13 and fat ewes $11, would probably be around top prices; breeding ewes such $10@$16.

Edmonton quotations nominal, no receipts very light, choice lambs $13@$14; yearlings $12@$13; fat ewes $9@$10.

GRAIN

Another smash up in prices during three-week end and the tone of the trade is poor. More favorable reports of the American winter crop and a willingness on the part of other producing nations to sell, has changed the full tone of the market. Where it is going from here—nobody knows.

Work on the land started at a few points in the south this week.

BUTTER — BUTTERFAT — CHEESE

CREAM—Not much increase in production yet, though creameries report some improvement in south; volume will be governed by weather. CREAMERY 1lb. Butter—Car lots basis specials, Alberta points, around 33 1-2@34c; prints and cartons unchanged; market looks steady while production down to present volume.

DAIRY BUTTER—Receipts very light and not much expected from country points for another month. CHEESE—Western supply well cleaned up and eastern stock will have to be brought in until factories going again.

EGGS — POULTRY

EGGS—Another nickel has been lopped off practically all say grades by Calgary trade, making the basis for extras 22c and down to 17c on seconds; Edmonton still at 23c, but likely to reduce; Lethbridge may be expected to get in line also, though they were higher Tuesday. At present prices are too high for indifferent [illegible] prices about right.

POTATOES

With local supplies still high Calgary trade quotes jobbing prices $30@$40 on A grade Alberta; P. E. I. potatoes still coming in and quoted $45@$44.

HAY

Bad trails reported in many districts where there is surplus hay and prices remain the same with demand only moderate; some feed will be required for spring seeding, but not likely enough to cause any flurry.

BIRDS

Market tone is still bad and though no cut in last, there is a difficulty in making sales of present stocks.

FURS

Montreal auction this week will set prices for any of the late packs which come on the market; some of the furs taken now are practically worthless.

The Parent's Prayer

I have a boy to bring up.
Help me to perform my task with wisdom and kindness and good cheer. Help me always to see him clearly, as he is. Let not my pride in him hide his faults. Let not my love for him magnify my doubts and my fears, until I make him doubting and fearful in his turn.

Quicken my judgment so that I shall know how to train him to think for himself, to live in all things pure and simple as a child.

I have a boy to bring up.
Give me great patience and a long memory. Let me remember the hard places in my own youth, so that I may better help me when I see him struggling as I struggled then.

Let me remember the things that made me glad, lest I, wearing in the toil and strain of life, forget that a little child's laughter is the light of life.

I have a boy to bring up.
Teach me that love that understandeth all things; the love that knows no weakness, tolerates no selfishness. Keep me from weakening my son through the granting him pleasures that are at pain, ease of body that must bring sickness of soul; a vision of life that must end in shame. Grant that I have my son and myself not at all.

I have a boy to bring up.
Give him the values of honesty and just rewards of industry. Give him and understanding of truth and hands that are cunning, to work out his happiness.

I have a boy to bring up.
Help me to send him into the world with a mission of service. Strengthen my mind and heart that I may teach him that he is his brother's keeper. Grant that he may serve those who know not the need of service, and knowing, need it most.

I have a boy to bring up.
So guide and direct me that I may do this service to the glory of God, the service of my country, and to my son's happiness. Amen.—Angelo Patri in the Delineator.

WHEAT SHIPMENTS

Wheat shipments from the Alberta divisions of the two transcontinental railway companies for the 1924-25 season have totalled approximately 58,861,000 bushels. Making allowance for the shipment of wheat from Saskatchewan points on the Alberta divisions, the total for Alberta would be approximately 48,000,000 bushels. The largest shipments have been made from the Lethbridge division, which comprises the greater part of southern Alberta and from which division the wheat shipments have totalled to date 20,000,000 bushels.

Symptoms Of Poison In Dogs, And Their Antidotes

(By L. L. Taylor)
(In Red and Gun in Canada for April.)

At this time of the year the year the poisons fiend begins his nefarious practice of scattering poison. The following hints although intended to be of assistance where a veterinary surgeon's aid cannot be obtained. No time should be lost in sending for [illegible] if at all available.

Arsenic is a common form of poisoning, [illegible]

Symptoms: Violent [illegible] Antidote: Give an emetic as follows: tin sulphate grains XX; water three ounces, one or two teaspoonfuls every ten minutes until vomiting ceases. Follow with one or two ounce doses of magnesium or iron every twenty minutes. Finally give starch gruel, milk, white of eggs, or linseed water.

Phosphorous is another poison used extensively in vermin baits. Symptoms about an hour after receiving the poison acute colicky pains are evident, together with profuse salivation, vomiting of dark green matter having a strong garlicky odor, bloody diarrhoea followed by convulsions and coma. If the animal be placed in a dark room, the breath, vomita and urine can still be seen in luminous appearance. Death usually occurs before the second day. A disease of the liver frequently results from this form of poisoning.

Antidote: Give one or two teaspoonfuls of the following mixture every fifteen minutes; copper sulphate grains XV, water two ounces. Finally give starch, syrup, honey or one-half teaspoonful doses of oil of turpentine (gills) every half hour. Epsom salts, milk or some must be allowed.

Symptoms: There is uneasiness, an anxious appearance, and panting, followed by acute muscular spasms at intervals which affects the whole body, stiffening the limbs and causing the animal to fall to the ground. The jaws are locked, the lips drawn back producing a characteristic sardonic grin, the spine is arched or curved, breathing very difficult, eyes prominent and the heart action tumultuous. After a convulsion the muscles relax, and there an interval of quiescence until another paroxysm occurs. Death come during one of the spasms, and is due to asphyxia.

Antidote: Give an emetic as in Arsenic. Follow with from two teaspoonfuls to one tablespoonful of the following mixture every two hours: Chloral hydrate one dram, potassium bromide four drams, syrup sarsaparilla two ounces, water six ounces. Keep as quiet as possible.

Carbolic Acid. Dogs are often poisoned by licking wounds to which carbolic dressings have been applied.

Symptoms: When the acid has entered the mouth white patches will appear wherever it has come in contact with the membranes; if absorbed generally, the animal will appear greatly distressed, and convulsions followed by paralysis of the hind-quarters will occur, the pulse will be barely perceptible, temperature subnormal, and the urine very highly colored.

Antidote: Give alcohol, gin or whisky in one or two ounce doses. As a purge give sodium sulphate two drams, water four ounces. Follow with starch, oils, and lime water.

Poisoning from Garbage: The Symptoms: All the symptoms arising from the eating of decomposed meat, fish, etc., containing toxic bodies are far too varied and numerous to mention here. Some of the more common: one however, are violent and bloody diarrhoea, vomiting, intense thirst, high temperature, acute abdominal pains dizziness and stupefaction.

Antidote: Give an emetic followed by one-half to two grain doses of calomel every half hour until purgation commences. Hot applications to the abdomen are often beneficial. Mustard plasters may be applied. Finally give stimulants, wine, spirits of wine or brandy.

Listening In At Lacombe Bacon Hog Course

Mr. Stone, a returned soldier, settled at Wetaskiwin, stated that hogs were putting him on his feet. He has at present 12 brood sows and is feeding a lot of pigs on which he expects to make a handsome return. He has bought feed oats and barley at present market values and with hogsat near today values, [illegible] select [illegible] farmer [illegible] pigs from 12 large sows. [illegible] According to the advice of Mr. Chapman, the early spring pig has greater opportunities for finishing pastures or forage crops, all of which tends to reduce cost of production and, by inducing strength and development of muscle, have a tendency to increase the percentage of select bacon hogs.

A bacon hog must be born, but it also must be properly fed, stated Mr. MacMillan, of the Dominion livestock branch, Ottawa. The bacon hog is a distinctive type which has been bred and developed for many years. Length of body smoothness of conformation, and constitution denoting feeding qualities were all essential if a hog was to grade in the select bacon grade.

The bacon type brood sow should have the characteristics which make for the production of a hog which when marketed is finished in the most economical manner. Information, said Professor Secklar, The sow which is asked to rear large litters of uniform pigs will have plenty of depth and she must be a good milker in order that the young pigs have the necessary thrift and vigor to grow with uniformity.

Hogs pens need not be expensive, so long as they are comfortable, airy, and clean. The hogs have handed out by Mr. Reed, superintendent of the experimental station. Exercise and a variety of feed containing the proper proportion of protein were, in his opinion, cardinal features of management in connection with the production of bacon hogs.

Farmers should take steps to get definite reports on the grading of their hogs, said Mr. Curtis stockyards representative, at Edmonton. Many hogs graded select bacon at the stockyards, upon which the farmer got no premium. Farmers using car tags could get a grading report no matter how their hogs were sold. Districts where buyers were not handling hogs on a grading basis, where selects were being produced, should silo. Lethbridge is the centre of the grade, mark their hogs or organize to ship co-operatively.

Tea Production Today

If the Chinese, who first discovered tea, had continued the cultivation of the tender and bud studded shoots and young leaves of the plant, China might still be the largest tea producing country. Careless neglect, however, stunted the growth and caused the quality to deteriorate, so that in the mountains of Ceylon and India, tea was found to flourish. Scientific methods of cultivation and manufacture were introduced with remarkable results. Now the finest tea grown in the world and by far the largest quantity comes from these countries. "SALADA" is mainly blended from Savoury India and Ceylon teas.

H.R.H. The Prince Of Wales Believes In Tree Planting

His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, is a firm believer in tree planting and home beautification and a visit to his "Little Grey Home in the West," now more than Grey, is a trip well worth while.

Well embowered in vines and trees, the Royal ranch property is not the primitive place it was when it was originally established. The Prince's manager, Professor Carlyle, has shown much taste in his choice of vines, trees and shrubs wherever it is proper, to duce some of the homelike surroundings when the Prince so much enjoys. A description of the Prince's home by Rev. F. C. Spurr, a visitor to the Cowley district, is herewith given.

"My crown of all experiences was a visit to the Prince of Wales's Ranch," says Mr. Spurr. "The property is situated sixty-seven miles south-west of Calgary, in the direction of the Rockies. The Bow River flows past and through the property, and the aggate which divides the Prince's estate from the ranch is not distinguished from other gates. A clump of trees conceals the house and farm buildings from the common view. The whole place is the very incarnation of privacy and remoteness. The nearest railway station is twenty-seven miles away. Not a sound from the outer world ever penetrates this retired spot. It is as far removed from the haunts of men as is a Trappist monastery. The astonishment of the ranch is its sublime simplicity. It is a large of farm of 4,000 acres, in no way different from thousands of other farms. There are cattle, sheep, poultry, horses and outhouses. There is a fine barn and a generating plant for electricity.

"But the view! Ah! There is where the charm comes in. Fifteen miles away are the Rockies, remote guardians of the estate. Nearer are round knolls, undulating ground, and fields of rich prairie grass. We stood up to our knees in the midst of the prairie, and plucked at least twenty different kinds of gorgeous wild flowers.

"The house is as simple, modest, homely abode. The lounge is comparatively small and poorly furnished. It contains four or five basket chairs, a couch, one or two small rugs, a bookcase, a gramophone, and photographs of the King, the Prince himself, and an intimate friend. And over the bookcase is an unframed text "As for me and my house we will serve the Lord." The Prince's bed-room has far less luxury about than the bed-room of an ordinary hotel. The dining room is quite small and the table, when around it for five or six guests. The bungalow is one of the simplest places I have ever seen and it completely matches the character of one whom the British people have come to regard as a natural and simple-hearted man."

Those who are readers of Canadian FOREST AND OUT-DOORS, the official organ of the Canadian Forestry Associations now Grey, is a trip well worth while.

Monster Celebration Planned for Stettler

Old Boys' Re-union and Exhibition, July 30-31st and August 1st (3 Days)

Through the Board of Trade all organizations in Stettler have united to put over a real celebration this coming summer. A grand committee has been formed as follows:

Board of Trade:
H. B. Free, Wm. Dunlop, E. Broadhardy, T. McFadgen, H. Mair.

Masons:
Bob Swift,
Reuben Blunt
Alex. Wilson,
I. O. O. F.:
Arthur Fox.
G. W. V. A.:
Fr. Hughes.
Council:
Jas. Sharpe.
Agricultural Society:
Wm. Dunlop.
Rotary Club:
S. McCoy
Elks Club:
Dr. Goodhand.

Committee held its first meeting in the Board of Trade Chambers, Thursday, March 26th. The old timers list and certificates are well under way. Invitations are being sent to every person of Stettler and district.

A free camping ground will be available for visitors. A headquarters will be arranged where visitors can register and receive an Old Boys' Reunion button. Everything thats possible will be done to give the old timers and new comers a good time.

A large pageant parade is being arranged. All organizations are being requested to make up floats. All the towns from Lacombe to Coronation, East and West and North and South, Big Valley to Dunsdale are being requested to in this monster celebration by putting in floats or doing whatever they see fit. The school districts and organized communities are also to be asked to do the same. It is desired to make this a district affair.

Another big feature will be the street dance every night of the celebration. If you have never experienced one of these you have a treat in store. The property committee, McFadgen and Wilson have received instructions to proceed with arrangements for the Ballyhoo dance.

The publicity committee, Free, Dunlap and McCoy have been re-instructed to get busy on advertising. Mr. Ball has been interviewed with regards to obtaining a monstrious stamp for the Post Office. Mr. Willis has been asked for a price on envelopes stamped with advertising on Old Boys Re-union an Exhibition, (3 Days.) Every person will be asked to use these envelopes from now until end of July. When writing don't forget to invite your out of town friends. Everybody be a booster.

It is expected the other leading organizations will be sports and horse races.

One of the leading attractions will be the Elk's children's Day. The first day of the Celebration. The Committee have offered to co-operate with the Elks and put it over big.

It is a pleasure to see all the organizations co-operating in so good a union. Watch this paper for further developments.

Fenn News

It is with much sadness that we report the death of a very old and respected resident of this community, Mrs. John Ewing, who passed away suddenly on Sunday morning, April 5, at 10:30 a. m. Some time ago Mrs. Ewing suffered form a stroke but regaining her health she has since been as full of energy and enthusiasm as ever and her sudden passing has come as a great shock to everyone. Mr. John Ewing, her husband, has a farm on Ewing Lake.

Mrs. Ewing is one of the real old timer mothers—the family having come into this community more than thirty years ago. She leaves to mourn her loss and it is indeed a real loss, three daughters, Mrs. Maggie Klotz, Mrs. Mary Baker and Mrs. Jean Long, and one son William. Mrs. Ewing had been such a splendid wife and mother that her loss is an almost irreparable one. As a Church worker and neighbor she will be keenly missed and her leadership and assistance for any work of progressive nature in the community will in a way that it will be difficult to replace.

We extend to the Ewing family our sincerest sympathies and trust that they will find consolation in the fact that Mrs. Ewing's life was a long and splendid one, rich in service to others and not they alone but many others will remember her with respect and love.

Spring is here or so we hope. The sun has at last condescended to shine and the skies are now blue instead of grey with snakes one think of warm weather and seeding operations. In a few weeks we trust to be right in the thick of it, and with the encouraging amount of moisture that appears to be in the ground farmers should face the future with optimism and encouragement. Barring accidents, a good crop is almost assured this year. A good start is half the battle, and we seem to have the stage all set for a splendid start this year at any rate.

Snow is melting rapidly and the roads are in a terrible condition. In the low spots the water is deep and travelers by sleigh or wheels find difficulty in making it. If the warm sunshine continues its would not be long before this dries up to a certain extent, at least sufficiently to make the trails passable.

There is quite a dost of sickness around. The De Graff family are down with the flu, the eldest boy Morris having been taken to Big Valley Hospital with pneumonia. He is under the care of Doctor Smyth. We hear that all the sick children are now progressing favorably.

The popular little Miss Shirley Marquingal was taken to Red Deer a few days ago suffering from appendicitis. An operation was performed and we are all glad to hear she is progressing favorably.

Mr. T. T. Clyde, Dominion Poultry-man, was in this district during the week end, visiting the farms of Messrs. Klotz, Ewing, Richards, Strange, Long and Bob Wallace, etc. Mr. Clyde had been delayed by bad roads, but was able to give some helpful advice.

The Grades of Canadian Eggs

I have made it a practice for many years to buy all the eggs for the family that could be secured in cartons with the words "Special," "Extra," "Fresh," and "Selects" on the lids. I have found that the "Special" eggs were the smallest eggs among 23 dozen cartons of eggs, and while still good they lack that flavor and body that those of the "Extra" grades, "Specials," "Fresh" and "Selects" have. I have also found that the "Specials" when the finest grade of eggs are classed that they will have no guarantee of getting that quality of eggs. Producers and delivery of eggs as desirable as a broken egg will be broken, which is the highest of the highest of standard grades of eggs. The different grades of the specialist packers that the producer who now sells under the old system of advertising will have the highest grades of eggs are rapidly developing that is of the commodity [illegible]

[illegible] to bring only that delivery of [illegible] that meet with extreme [illegible] This is a popular way for the [illegible] and is obtainable at practically all seasons of the year. It is [illegible] a little less than "Specials" the standard being 36 ounces per dozen. The "Extra" comes next in the case of smaller eggs being 33 1-3 ounces per dozen, and while still good they lack that flavor and body of the "Extra" grades. "Seconds" are those that are cleaned but will not [illegible] in quality but no. Fresh eggs [illegible]

During a discussion of these grades at a meeting of the Agricultural Committee, it was brought out by an official of the Department of Agriculture that the growers who are really suffering from the absence of advertising of the best grades of eggs are rapidly developing the habit of the commodity [illegible]

WHERE A PENNY IS OF MORE VALUE

When it comes to values there is nothing that puts a premium on a penny more than taxes. The odd cent has no any better than on any other item on the assessment roll. Add to some per acre and it may not be in any better good item as regards the owner. The buildings may not be worth any extra to a good deal, usually a penny more or less in the assessment is of little moment. But when it comes to the tax roll, then a penny is a penny, and a penny more or less is a matter of considerable importance to the owner. It looks as if a penny would not make a great deal of difference to the tax rate. But there is a big difference between living and partly starving, and when both are considered. There are farm buildings, improvements of all sorts, and cultivation, and the owner has to pay taxes on his buildings and improvements, and on the land that represents the value added by his improvements. Sometimes the taxation rates are so high that the owner is practically penalized for making improvements. Sometimes the taxation rates are so low that the owner is practically penalized for not making improvements. It does not matter much to the individual, but to the community as a whole the difference in the taxation rate can grow from a penny to a million dollars. Sometimes the difference that other pile-on can also if the owners are to live. Taxes make a big difference. Titles depend on them. Improvements depend on them. Whether you are a farmer, or a town man, or a city man, or a country man, or anyone else, you have an important interest in the taxation rate that is made by the municipality in which you live. It is the duty of every citizen to see that the taxation rate is made as low as possible, consistent with the necessary improvements of a complete, city home. With all that it means to the development and happiness of the people to live on the land.

What Other Editors Are Saying

TAX SALE JUDGMENT

(Calgary Herald.)

The following article is taken from the Calgary Herald and sets forth the recent finding in respect of the Tax Recovery Act.—

"The following synopsis of the municipal corporation to have the law in respect to mortgagees and tax sales not only amended but taken out and striking turn. The government has refused to do what is advocated by the farmers, namely, to repeal the whole of the farmers. But the action now taken is by the farmers themselves—by the power of the ballot. The Act was originally designed to be a fair measure, and it may yet be in any better hands than it is at present. The farmers have now the power to repeal or amend the Act as they see fit. Politics should not enter into the matter at all. The Act is a business measure, and should be dealt with in a business like manner. It is to be hoped that the farmers will not be led astray by the cry of politics, but that they will use the power they have to make a fair and reasonable Act. Whether they will do so or not remains to be seen."

The Significance of The Little Tree

A little group of Aspen Poplars in a field or by the roadside, by the railway track or on the open prairie; where did they come from? How did they get here and why? They are only about two or three feet high and most noticeably they were not there three or four years ago. What is its purpose and history.

Its purpose is mighty significant, and to be no less than the covering of the whole prairie with the same forest as that. What! That little path a few feet across covered by hundreds of miles of prairie! No, not absurd, for a similar little patch together with those and more like it have already lived under hundreds of miles that were entirely bare prairie when the settlers came to the country and looked to them as if the last thing you would find growing there would be trees.

Let's at it, dig it all up carefully without breaking the roots and you will find that the twenty or thirty little tree stems of all sizes that constitute the group are all connected one to another by their roots. The one root system is common to all, that is the whole group spread out a succession of little trenches into the air. Do you see how the largest trees are in the middle and that they grade down to the smallest on the outside? Look in the ground around them and you will see that all more of them just beginning to show. Another year the group will be a foot wider all around and covering almost twice as much area.

Here is another similar clump 100 feet away. It is just about the same size, but you see the same arrangement of tall trees in the middle grading down to the ones at the margin. In a few years those two little clumps will have spread so much they will have met. There is nothing to prevent them, and we have another tree island on the prairie and a further spread of the park country.

That is how it goes on and has been doing so for centuries. A little seed blows there from upper trees somewhere, perhaps miles away, lands in a moist place kept moist, perhaps, by a snow bank and germinates. Then the seed germinates, sends up a little tree and you have the beginning of a little forest which has some possibilities to stop the prairie in time simply by spreading its roots, sending up more shoots and shedding moisture. All the great Aspen forests of the north and foothills has spread in just this way. The beautiful park country and the round the fringe of the prairie is simply a stage in the same development. The trees are gradually spreading in the odd outside places, and the fringe of trees through is just the forward fling of the skirmish line of the great army of trees that will slowly but surely follow after.

The reason this hasn't taken place before, because the [illegible] has been [illegible] and the little trees got a chance to make themselves appear. Now the beautiful trees on the farms of Manitoba, Eastern Saskatchewan and Alberta are the result of the [illegible] and the [illegible] of trees that will slowly but surely follow after.

The Prairie is a natural tree country. It is not a desert by any means at all. It is one of the most beautiful countries in the world. It can bear in mind for if he carries on his planting in accordance with what I have said he will be successful. The little mistakes that I have made is significant and most encouraging.

Here and There

During 1924 the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers marketed 1,600,000 pounds of wool, making a total of 3,000,000 pounds handled since its organization seven years ago. Work was first organized in 1920.

Fillings on oil land in South Alberta are reported to be showing much, owned by the Prince of Wales. The ranch is in the hands of a receiver and portions of it may have to be sold to satisfy the claims against the estate. It is understood that the Prince has no personal interest in the property as well as to the [illegible] and [illegible] for. Without doubt, the judgment of the Appeal Court will cause many farmers who have lost their land by the operations of the Tax Recovery Act to consider again all the circumstance in the light of this decision. Nevertheless, and the government is not going to revive they attitude of [illegible] as the result of this important judgment."

SHEEP

Receipts of medium sheep at both Alberta markets too light to give definite sale prices, nominally lambs like up to $11.50 on lambers; wethers up to $12 and fat ewes up to $9@$10, with range dockwood according to quality.

GRAIN

Over a portion of Alberta the net-ed presentation for the next grain crop are driving out interest in the market, and many farmers having land to the south has been in a tillable condition for the past week and the commercial portion of a considerable acreage has been put in. Winnipeg July $1.29½ $1.29½ $1.29½ $1.29½

BUTTER—BUTTERFAT CHEESE

All western prices unchanged—people are somewhat down and with a lot of poor cows production will be a little late in reaching peak.

CREAMERY BUTTER—Market unchanged, and uncertainty of opinions about prospects. DAIRY BUTTER—Receipts very light and prices unchanged. CHEESE—Market firm and unchanged.

POULTRY—EGGS

EGGS—Price unchanged, on basis of 22c for extras at central markets; government grading regulations has by no means been fully framed, though considerable grading may be carried. POULTRY—Light demand for Easter holidays, but prices are steady.

POTATOES

Spring weather bringing more heads on Calgary market and prices lower, and are now quoted around $60; P. E. I. imports selling at $1.

HAY

Nothing new in hay trade, but deliveries are slow in many districts owing to bad roads; no Timothy offered for sale from now on unless needed and with spring rains.

ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL CLOISTERS

The people of London on March 31 saw their last unobstructed view of the interior of St. Paul's Cathedral as probably six or seven years, and the last wooden screen was removed on June prior to closing the entire south-west part of the church for the work of weatherbeating it. The whole area from the choir, together with the transept, the dome, and the north transept, will be closed to the public until the scaffolding has been removed, a number of years hence. Then the work of restoring the cathedral will begin. Some touching incidents were observed as many aged citizens saw, what probably was their last look at the interior of the famous edifice.

Bringing the West to the East

Not the smallest part of the educational value of the Canadian Pacific Railway's exhibit, shortly to be on view in the West in beautiful Victoria, is the fact that it will bring to the Western Province a vivid picture of the natural resources of the Province of Alberta, agricultural and mineral, there, in the Province's own Capital City, a knowledge of which is now scattered in many parts of Canada.

This is the object of the 21-day tour of Canada which the Canadian Pacific Railway is now laying out. Leaving Victoria on August 1st it will be back in Edmonton on August 21st, having visited Calgary, Banff, Lake Louise, Field, Glacier, Revelstoke, Kamloops, Vancouver, Nelson, Fernie, Crowsnest Pass, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Swift Current, Regina, Moose Jaw, Saskatoon, Prince Albert, Battleford, Wainwright, Vermilion, Lloydminster, Wetaskiwin, Edmonton, Calgary, Banff, Lake Louise and Revelstoke.

GADSBY NEWS

Exceptionally fine weather has dotted up the trails and the land generally and allowed many lonely lords are ready our start at seeding and ploughing the land. It is still comparatively early and not much is ever gained by getting excited and trying to be first on. Conditions are very favorable and the prospects are bright. Late Friday afternoon a heavy rain came in torrents and broke the popularity of late Friday afternoon ball games. The rain continued on Saturday and Sunday and there was no baseball. Some people are wondering if the Leader will have a ball team this year. Well, we have and the same team up here Wednesday night before Police Magistrate W. Long. He found the same players and fined Messrs. Jetson and Ballance $100 and costs. The main act in the drama was a notification from the Liquor Commissioner closing the bar here partially. I understand fifty cents per quart. A little lower than expected.

The local population has had a decided increase by the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Grant, from Coldstream, about the farthest north of Saskatoon, with their healthy family of 8 children. If one can judge form appearances and the tone of these folks, first impressions and views we have of them the makings of very excellent settlers. Gadsby boasts—here everything—and with the S. S. B. in giving them a warm welcome and looked after their comfort at the hotel for their first night here before transporting the to on the final leg of their journey. They are located on the farm lately acquired by Mr. Abe Anderson, 5 miles S.W. of town. Mr. Grant and son are expected to work for Mr. G. B. Hoover another lot goes to Harry Gadsby who has gone to Lac Ervard. Those people will face the best possible chance to boom the land farming portion outside for this country so ill there are needed are real capable men. There have been quite a number visitors for the services of the elders girls are having some morning engagements are not heard what they have decided to do. I think I can promise for the Orgy folks generally that all they can do to help our struggling friends will be done.

I have just heard of a bad accident sustained by Jack Bull, one of Woodward's best known young farmers, and a government member of their football team. He was helping his brother-in-law, L. S. McMillan on a threshing machine and went to replace a belt that had come off. In doing this he got his glove caught and drew his arm in. John Avery tried to free him and assisted by McMillan, who had gone around the machine. Less stopped the machine immediately. The injured man was rushed in a car to Gadsby where Dr Brayton attended him. His arm was found to be broken and the thumb torn off, a very painful affair. Dr Brayton had the unfortunate of Dr Brown, who is visiting at the Morrells and made as effective a job as some that could be done to fix the poor fellow up. Much regret will be felt that he is to be very likely and regular young man, and for Mrs Bull to be separated too, at this trouble that he come to them.

The Easter recess brings a few of our young people back to be old pals. We notice among them Miss Helen and Marie Warden Lodge, from Alberta College.

With the Teachers' Convention in Gadsby will be pretty well represented. Miss McKay of Little Knife, who is holidaying in Lodge and Edmonton, will attend and also Miss Miles of Gadsby Consolidated School. Mr. Sydney Umbaugh from Omega, and Kenneth Young of Imogene are also plotting it.

Dr Dawes, who has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Burrell three past two weeks has decided to stay in our near neighborhood and will practice his profession, I believe at Erskine.

Rev. G. A. Steele had a very interesting service on Easter Sunday night and was encouraged by a very large congregation. Special music and an appropriate pageant were both very good and were very much appreciated.

Mrs. Geo. Davies left today (Sunday) for B. C., where Mr. Davies preceded her a week ago. They have a small ranch there and will try what effect B. C. climate has on Mrs. Davies health That was their only reason for leaving Alberta and we hope it may be a success. We are sorry to lose them and Mr. Davies will be missed at the organ in the church.

Farmers and Stock Growers

A movement is in progress looking toward the amalgamation of the Stettler District Co-operative Marketing Association, Limited, with the Alberta Co-operative Live Stock Producers, Limited (Live Stock Pool.) The farmers and stock growers of the Stettler District are requested to identify themselves with their local shipping association instead of signing a contract with the pool direct. It is important that this be done at once in order that the amalgamation may be completed promptly when the final drive for membership in the Pool begins on June 8th, 1925.

Easter Cantata

The Easter Cantata "The Dawn Crowned King" which was given in Stettler Theatre on Thursday evening, April 16th, drew an audience which filled the hall and gallery and proved to be one of the unusual events of the season.

The cantata was put on by the Knox Church Choir, assisted by Sturdy and Krahne talent, under the direction of C. L. Wilbe, who acted as organist, and an orchestra of three pieces also gave valuable assistance on the programme.

The choir was a well balanced one, twenty-two voices and as many more as follows:

Soprano: Soloist—Mrs. Dunlap, Mrs. Hart, Miss M. Hamilton, Mrs. V. Lawson, Mrs. Lamb, Miss Connell, Mrs. Hedley, Miss J. Thom, Mrs. Wyllie.

Alto: Mrs. Gillis, Mrs. Muir, Miss D Rasmuss, Miss Thelma Shurtliff.

Tenors: Mr. Gordon, Mr. Horsfall, Mr. Robinson.

The programme started promptly with the singing of "O Canada" by L. A. Bissell, the class on the platform, and the choir rendering the plan of the cantata, as to the harmonious solos preliminary numbers, consisting of a cornet solo by Mr. Flatworth, a recitation by Mr. Lee-Gordon and a soprano solo by Mrs. Lang of Erskine. All these were well-rendered, and the vocal solo by Mrs. Lang, entitled "The Swallows" drew an attractive encore entitled "Tipica."

The cantata proper consisted of two sections, the first leading up to the resurrection and the second dealing with the Resurrection itself.

The opening chorus "Let the Night-bird Sing" was sung in a wonderful manner and set the various parts of what might, and was, after the other, one was a good example of choral singing. This was followed by an alto solo by Miss Dora Rasmuss, entitled "She Came at the Cross of Shame," and Miss Rasmuss's rich voice was shown to advantage throughout, the tone by Mrs. Archibald furnishing an artistic accompaniment.

A men's chorus, made up of all the male voices in the choir, then gave the chorus entitled "There Was No Other Way" in an effective manner, showing that each voice ranging can be made to stand as a four-part chorus. Mr. Robinson then led off with a brief recitative "Betrayed," followed by the choir in a chorus portraying the arrest of the soldiers to the crucifixion.

Mrs. Wyllie, who acted as supreme soloist for the cantata then gave a picture of "The Thorn Crowned King" in a charming way, which was encored and well received.

This was followed by a short but recitative by Mr. Gordon, introducing Christ's question "What Shall We Do with Him," followed by the choir in a chorus "Let Him be Crucified" and the crucifixion, with a solo by Mrs. Lang and for our Transgressions."

In addition, Miss Hart, Mrs. Wyllie, Mrs. Gillis, Mrs. Hedley, Miss Shurtliff and Miss Thelma Shurtliff, then followed with the tenor solo "After the Darkness and Blood," in a three part selection which was said to be the most striking feature of the cantata for its sustained harmonies.

An artistic recitative by Mrs. Wyllie "Now in the Place Where He Was Crucified" and a chorus by the choir entitled "They Laid Him Away" with obligato by Mrs. Wyllie, made an effective full choral ending to the first part of the cantata.

During the intermission, Mrs. Muir gave a pleasing alto solo "Still, Still with Thee," with violin obligato by Mrs. Lang sang Gounod's Hosanna in a very acceptable manner. A solo by the orchestra was also given.

The second part of the Cantata opened with a duet by Mr. Gordon and Mr. Robinson, entitled "Have Faith in God." This struck a new note in the cantata, introducing the idea of the resurrection.

It was followed by a bass solo by Mr. Gordon in "What Means this Empty Tomb" with a full chorus by the choir entitled "He is Risen."

The beauty of the resurrection idea was then brought out in a recitation given by Mrs. Wyllie and Miss Thelma Shurtliff, entitled "Mary in the Garden. This was followed by a double quartette and solo in the selection "Some Lives," the double quartette against being made up of Mrs. Wyllie, Mrs. Hart, Miss Shurtliff, Mrs. Gillis, Mr. Roberts and Mr. Lee. The selection was given in a sustained but elegant manner.

The final chorus "Praise Ye the Lord" was given by all voices, accompanied by an anthem, elaborating the theme of the opening chorus, and ending with a glee march entitled "The Lord Reigns Forever."

Encores were numerous during the cantata and the whole programme lasted about two hours.

Taking the programme all through, the results obtained were in proportion to the amount of practice and talent displayed and the ... Church, the seating capacity being 350 ...

On Sunday evening, April 19th, a choir of 10 voices gave the cantata "Calvary" in the Methodist Church, the seating capacity being 350 ...

Union Hall

Farmers' operations were more in full swing and many are busy at preliminary farming, etc. for the season. Considerable interest is being taken in the proposed Provincial Exhibition to be held in Stettler, and it is expected that a good exhibit will be forthcoming.

Pete Summers, who has operated the Union Hall for some time, is going on the land with a homestead near Erskine, and has already broken a number of acres. He will be succeeded by Mr. Dunlap, who has been in charge of the Union Hall at Big Valley.

Among those who are putting in a large acreage are John Anderson, 500 acres; Alex Dick, 300 acres; J. Bannister and Sons, 800 acres or more; C. Wilson and Sons 1,000 acres or more. Last two mentioned are using both tractor and horses and are making great headway.

While horsemanship has taken a back seat to the Tractor, considerable interest was manifested in the Tractor Plowing, and about the same number of tractors were in evidence on the Vegetable Garden. As Mr. Ball is conveniently located at the post office he has a number of other possibilities for distribution to those interested in the development of the district.

Mr. Lee turned in a report on the Tractor Plowing and Big Valley Circle. He asked for a grant of $100 to help pay for the music required, outlining what the men and the ... grant was made on motion of Ball and McConnell.

It was also decided to recommend that the Board of Trade acquire a suitable piece of land directly adjoining the cemetery for the accommodation of the Tractor Plowing Match and to have a representative from each district on the Vegetable Garden Committee.

It was also decided to recommend that the Board of Trade acquire a suitable piece of land directly adjoining the cemetery for the accommodation of the Tractor Plowing Match and to have a representative from each district on the Vegetable Garden Committee.

The secretary was instructed to write to Mr. Sanders to see if this was correct, or whether the government intended dragging all government roads in the district next summer.

Mr. Ball of the Trade committee reported that he had completed about 100 miles of road under the Tractor Tree Clearing, and about the same amount remained to be completed. Selecting A Location For The Apiary

In selecting a location for an apiary at this time, the most important factor from a distance of two or three miles from the apiary, is to be sure that the honey flora within that radius should contain a plentiful supply of nectar-secreting plants, within this radius. A good location is one that will provide a continuous supply of nectar and pollen from early spring until late fall. If it has but one source from which to gain crop of honey may be gathered, however, that source should be in the yard, or taking advantage of it otherwise, it is not profitable, but worse still, is intended to establish a large and permanent apiary, the question of flow must receive careful consideration. Other points to bear in mind when choosing a location, are either a permanent, accessibility, fire and flood. An apiary should be easy to reach by team or truck so that supplies can be transferred back and forth with little difficulty. Bees and honey that are already accepted should be avoided; overwork of bees is a common cause of loss. The plants should not be less than four miles apart, unless the location is of exceptional size. Places that are likely to be devastated by fire or flood are to be carefully avoided.

The site chosen for the apiary must be well sheltered from high winds, especially the cold winds in the spring and those that blow from the north or west. If the bees are to be wintered outside, good, wind-break are of especial importance. It is also necessary to have the hives partly shaded during the hottest parts of the day in summer and this can be accomplished by planting a few evergreen trees or shrubs in the yard, or taking advantage of those already there. The bees should be placed near a public highway, nor where children are likely to play near the hives.

The arrangement of the hives is a matter for individual taste, but convenience and arrangement are necessary to convenience in handling. The hive may be arranged in pairs or single, or in rows, but in any arrangement very most not be crowded together or heavy drifting from one colony to another will take place. There should be at least three feet between the hives and six feet between rows, so that each colony may be handled with ease and that necessary supplies may be moved in or from any part of the apiary with hand barrow or truck. If the site is in grass this should be kept closely cut during the summer so as not to choke the bee entrances.

ALBERTA MORTGAGES TO AT-TEND CENTENNIAL

Many Norwegians settled in Alberta are planning to attend the Norwegian Centennial to be held in Minneapolis in June, celebrating the hundredth anniversary of the first Norwegian settlement in America. President Hoover, and other prominent men, including prominent Canadians, will be in attendance. Alberta has many prominent Norwegian settlers and many of the finest communities in the province have been built up by these people.

MENTAL DEFICIENCY

In 1921, Dr. Hollinshell, of New York undertook an investigation to find out whether or not a hereditary attitude lay behind the mentality of children. Over 10,000 school children were examined and the results of the investigation which was quite into in great detail are recorded in the Mental Hygiene issue of August, 1926. Of the children examined, 42 per cent. were of normal mentality and as many as per cent were mentally dull or feeble.

17 per cent. were actual "mollards."

25 per cent. were "border-line."

15 per cent. "merely deficient."

In over 20,000 cases, the habits of the parents were observed and it was understood that of the children of drinking parents, 33 per cent. were "mollards," while only 10 percent. of the children of abstaining parents were so classed.

Then the skilled investigators carried on the research into the family histories of nearly 4,000 of the children. He found that in the families of abstaining parents and abstaining grandparents only 4 per cent. were "mollards," whereas of the children of drinking parents and drinking grandparents "4 per cent. were "dull or feeble-minded." Of the children of drinking parents and abstaining grandparents 11 per cent. were "mollards," whereas of the children of abstaining parents and drinking grandparents only 7 per cent. were "mollards." Whereas of the children of drinking parents 17

Round the Country

The Calgary members of the provincial house have distinguished themselves this year by making the record time "in sight," or so we further "infer (we don't care, ask for it) by being by the opposite of the people of the province preparing the visitor of the southern city getting a start on another university society night in June. We had also that W. Hillmer would not make such a mistake, being a newspaper man himself, but must Bowse or the same man be elected in Calgary.

Rev. J. Dixon, of Red Deer, returns from Toronto stating that it is not time there is not much organization over the methods of the Government of Ontario in the matter of their sources.

We note that the Government of Ontario has decided to put a stop to the practice of the Government members getting their liquor free. We would like to see the Government of Alberta do the same thing.

The Premier Liberal and Conservative governments of Ontario are both controlled by the United Farmers' Government.

The president of the C. N. R. and the C. P. R. commissioner are both said to prove that one real resource is experiencing more money than the country is.

Both of these roads that cannot afford to spend a certain amount of money. They have passed to subscribe, especially as a side-stroke from like our own.

The wireless reports from Fort Simpson make interesting reading for Albertans as the Fort is in Mackenzie River territory. It is the most northern of Central Alberta. People in the district will note the frequent mention of Sergeant MacIntyre, a former Stettler resident, who has charge of the police force up there. Like a true Scot, the sergeant has temporarily left the Fort in order to secure a supply of wood for the coming winter, and will ship it down the MacKenzie River on rafts.

Let us assure Mr. Stefansson that there are a few "civilized" Stettlerites.

Quite a few local farmers are working on the land and find it in good shape. It is anticipated that seeding will start in the course of the next few days.

Ratching operations are proceeding pace and our poultry enthusiasts report record numbers of healthy chicks. The hen eggs and baby chicks, so that there would seem to be great prosperity for our energetic farmer poultrymen if they will only stick to it. Let us make Fenn known as one of the best of chicken districts in Alberta. We already hold a splendid reputation for what we have achieved so far, let us keep it down the MacKenzie River or north.

BEEF Lighter receipts and better movement at Edmonton made active competition and better prices, with choice heavy and light steers $6.50@ $7, good $6@$6.50; medium $4.75@ $5.50; common $4 down. Choice cows $4.50@5; good $4@$4.50; medium $3.75@$4; common $3 down. Choice heifers $5.50@6; good $5@$5.50; medium $4.50@$5; common $4 down. Stock cattle $3.50@4.50

HOGS

Calgary: Lower today during the week and sales at $12@$12.10, thick smooths, off cars, weighing 2 c. previous; today's thick smooths $11.

Edmonton market first since Ist April, but nominal prices as before: $12.50@ $13.25, thick smooths, $11@$11.50; stags $7 down; sows $8@$9; thick smooths, off cars $12; bacon 19 c. premium.

SHEEP

Mutton sheep scarce at Calgary and market hard to establish; lambs lower on inside ground $12@$13; wethers $10@$11; fat ewes around $9.50, for breeding ewes $10@$16 each.

Receipts at Edmonton also very light, but nominal prices as before: $13 @$14; wethers $10@$11; fat ewes at $9@$9.

GRAIN

Prices on wheat have recovered a little and active marketing is looked for on the balance of the crop. Business has made a good start in seeds and in a portion of central Alberta, with the area of operations extending gradually. In most sections the crop is practically free from snow, save for occasional light snowfalls which have been readily absorbed.

BUTTER—BUTTER'S

CHEESE

CREAM—Receipts are improving and Alberta prices unchanged; Manitoba is getting frisky again and there has been an advance which must only be temporary. CREAMERY BUTTER—Supply now approaching surplus point and outlook has spring uncertainty. DAIRY BUTTER—Receipts at central markets still light and prices unchanged, with chiefly better demand for No. 2, which is quoted 18@19c. CHEESE Market firm and supply light in spots.

POULTRY—EGGS

EGGS—Prices unchanged, receipts moving increase at all central markets. Grading causing considerable difficulty and some farmers said to be selling checks. POULTRY—Hot many birds moving and prices unchanged; market indifferent after light Easter trade.

FRUIT

Alberta prices branded stubborn by low priced importations from east. Calgary receives quote $10@$12, and some pessimism is discussion of lower grade sold to be selling for $9.

HAY

Trade light and the commercial demand not pressing; Calgary stuff, in several instances loads being made up of bales at the bottom of the stacks; receipts moderate; only feeders will be for good quality fed.

FEED

Prices unchanged, with demand good for spring rain and badger. Quality of Peace River this year owing to more cure in handling, but still room for improvement.

HIDES

Tanners keeping out of the market and unless some buying starts soon it looks like lower prices; quality of the hides still start improving soon, which may help the movement.

Relic of Quebec's Fall to Return to Canada

After 115 years prone despatches from London, Lord Willingdon, 1st Viscount of Dalhousie, and his wife was scheduled to sail from Liverpool on April 20 by Canadian Pacific steamship "Montreal" on special mission from the Hudson's Bay Company to the Quebec City council for the purpose of returning to the citizens of Quebec, Wolfgang's

His Lordship's official mission, which is to be carried out when the Viscountess receives, will be to return to the City of Quebec the original silver key of the city which was presented to General Wolfe after the battle of Quebec in 1759 and which was presented to the Hudson's Bay Company by General Murray who was present on that memorable occasion.

More than four years ago the key was hung over the door of Council Chamber in the Town Hall at Hastings and Quebec has endeavoured to obtain its return, but up to now, has not been successful.

Viscount Willingdon will be accompanied by his wife and his son, Lieutenant Hon. the Earl of Dalhousie, daughter of Lt. Baron Brooke, together with his son the Hon. Lieut. Brooke Freeman-Thomas and his wife.

How I Raise My Baby Chicks

(By Kathleen M. Stringer)

For the past three years I have breeded and raised practically one hundred per cent. of the chicks taken from the incubator—since six hundred each year. I keep in mind the following essentials:

1. Keep the brooder house hot.
2. No food for at least forty-eight hours after chicks are hatched.
3. Do not smother, cut up corn, etc. All feed fed dry.
4. Keep chicks hungry and busy.

For a brooder house 8 x 10 x 6 granary, I take fourteen covered sashside with tar paper and lined inside with brown building paper (running off the corners of boxes.) A false roof is constructed of building paper inside at a height of five feet six, with an eighteen-inch square opening cut in the centre. This is covered with a piece of lath and a few inches of paper on top for ventilation.

The windows, each about eighteen inches square, are let into the south side. A door, two feet square, is cut in the door and covered with cotton flannelette.

I use a coal burning brooder stove with a capacity of 1,200 chicks. I find however, that we can only satisfactorily handle about 600 chicks with this size.

I keep the stove as hot, both day and night, that the hand can hardly be held on the bottom edge of the canopy, making the temperature about 90 degrees in farthest corner of the house.

For the first two weeks I keep the chicks penned around the stove at night with pieces of tar paper, about six, two feet long, placed in a rough circle about eighteen inches from the edge of canopy. To make them huddle stand upright, and a foot of sawing four, six inches high, in centre of one edge, letting it in flush with the side.

At night I cover the area inside this circle with clean sacks. In the morning there are removed with the night droppings of the birds.

For litter I use clean straw chopped into two inch lengths. The house is cleaned and disinfected and litter changed every week.

I let the chicks out on the third day, weather permitting, as a great believer in the medicinal virtue of the sun.

I feed as follows:

For the first two weeks, either cone cake, bread crumbs or cracker. I use a half-gallon measure with tow two quarts added as the metal rim so that when the cooker is inverted in a corner the bottom will not touch the floor. Cover with a piece of cheese cloth.

At the end of forty eight hours, feed cracked and steamed on paper plate, and follow a little later with a feed of chick scratch grain. Any commercial chick grain is good. I make my own as follows:—

Temperate each of finely crushed wheat, corn and rolled oats, fed five times a day just as much as they will clean up in ten minutes. Then remove, but keep dishes with sand and charcoal on floor all the time.

After the second day, I feed the scratch grain in the litter and no longer on plates.

Starting with the second week, two of the scratch grain feeds are replaced with feeds of mash, fed dry in troughs. Any good commercial chick mash may be used. I make my own as follows:—Twenty pounds bran, ten pounds corn meal, ten pounds fine oatmeal, five pounds shorts, five pounds beef scrap, one pound alfalfa scraps. Leave mash in front of chicks a little longer each day until at end of second week it is in front of them all the time from nine a. m. till 5 p. m.

At the fifth week I change the mash feed to a developing food made as follows:—

Twenty pounds of whole wheat, ten pounds cracked corn, ten pounds oats, ten pounds bran, five pounds shorts. Keeper with oyster shells, grit and charcoal, can kept available all the time.

For producing broilers, at the beginning of the eighth week leave the scratch grain in front of birds as well as the mash, and keep this up for a month or six weeks. For roasting stock I feed the cereal grain as sparingly that the birds are always hungry and keep the litter fairly dry.

From the third week I feed any green stuff, such as lettuce, sprouted oats, etc., that is available.

About the eighth week I separate the cockerels for broilers for special feeding, placing the pullets in a separate house with roosts. Sexes are then disposed of.

This management produces excellent broilers and winter laying pullets.

Artificial Measure

The term "artificial measure" has been applied to a product resulting from the treatment of straw by certain chemicals. The outstanding feature of the methods is the conversion of straw into matters which have first used as a food or litter for stock, to rotting down of to straw being wrought about, as in the case of ordinary manure, by bacteria which in this process is surrounded and consume upon the chemicals added to the straw. These bacteria are ever present in the air and therefore there is no necessity to purchase or otherwise procure a special culture. In order to accomplish their useful work on the straw in a manner necessary that they should have a certain amount of nitrogen. This requirement is supplied by the chemical sulphate of ammonia, the instrument for the investigation of which led to the devising of a practical process for making this artificial manure was carried out at the Rothamsted Experiment Station (England) during the latter years of the World War, with the general [illegible] and more or less of the [illegible] of the process were announced in the agricultural press in [illegible] 1916.

Unfortunately for Rothamsted Experiment Station, the process, [illegible] with a view of making up a [illegible] for the fertilizers rendered [illegible] the fact to give the details and description of material by Rothamsted Experimental I. A. Department of Agriculture following 9 [illegible] experiments such the matter published account. This method has made public that the addition of 100 pounds of sulphate of ammonia and two pounds lime to each ton of straw will give satisfactory results a manure-like substance of distinct fertilizer value. The materials, sulphate of ammonia and lime, are cheap on the straw as it comes out the [illegible] and the process need kept mostly in a steam of wet.

If the straw is already paled or stacked the "manure" can be made by spreading on the ground a layer of straw, say, of two feet or thereabouts, in thickness, and broadcasting over it the requisite amount of sulphate of lime, thoroughly moistening the mass and repeating the procedure until the heap has reached a height of say, eight to ten feet, above which it is not convenient towork. If there are no ready means to retain the moisture from rain, the heap should be covered with sacks.

It is stated that the conversion of the straw in the resultant manure, the material is all take from straw to six months, that the loss of plant food during this period is less than that which takes place in the course of manure, and that this straw and sulphate manure as practically equal in value conditions are favorable to the crop production to ordinary barnyard rotting of straw.

FACTS ABOUT TEA SERIES—No. 2

The Two Types of Tea

There are two distinct types of tea, namely Black Tea and Green Tea. Both are made from the same leaf, both are carefully grown. The difference is in the process of manufacture which gives each a distinct flavour. Black Tea after it is picked is allowed to ferment, or oxidize, and is then dried by artificial heat. Green Tea is simply withered without fermentation, then rolled and dried by artificial heat. The tea is then carefully steamed after packing, which prevents fermentation. In the case of tea sold as "SALADA" Teas both of these types are used in a unique blend of Black and Green Tea blended. All are sold in four qualities.

Erskine News

Mr. L. S. Mann who has been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. A. E. Pearce over last fall, returned to her home in Lewiston, Maine, recently leaving on the local express at 6 o'clock for Edmonton en route to Montreal where she will visit friends.

The entertainment staged in Dewberry Hall last Friday evening under the auspices of the Basket Ball Girls was a splendid success in every way. Appropriate numbers, but no means lacking in quality, made up a program which everyone agreed to be the best given in the district for some time. The first part of the evening was given over to cards, the honors being won by Mrs. Wingert and Mr. Mackay. Mr. Simmons and Mr. Mackenzie carried off the prizes for the dancing contests which followed. Refreshments were served during the evening and the dancing was kept up until well on towards the morning.

The ladies have served up the usual delicious lunch on many occasions previously, but on this occasion they outdid themselves. Fluorescent lighting was used to a great extent, after a brief but pleasant visit in connection with the dance, which was a most enjoyable affair. Additional nights of opening when necessary began to roam.

Mr. and Mrs. Summers returned home last Saturday, to assist with spring operations on the farm, after spending the winter in Los Angeles for the past two years and admitting building a good steady job, felt the call home should be responded to.

The fact that was advertised to take place in this town last Saturday was postponed on account of the weather and will be given on Saturday, April 25th instead. The Women's Institute will have charge of the event and a splendid time is promised. Mrs. L. Forbes is in charge of the refreshments and is devoted to [illegible]

The annual Church Services in connection with Erskine U. C. Ladies' Aid will be held on Dew's Hall on next Sunday afternoon April 26th at 2:30 p. m.

The wonder of Stettler is still effective. All members and friends are cordially invited to attend.

Right Foods To Help The Teeth

When a dentist we have learned that the structure of the tooth is more important than the care given them after decay sets in. Success in the prevention of decay depends largely upon keeping the teeth white and clean. Good tooth powders and pastes are made, but are not at all necessary. Good powders and pastes are made, but are not at all necessary. Good powders and pastes are made, but are not at all necessary.

The tooth are formed of calcific and organic matter, they are made hard by lime salts and flexible by organic matter.

It will be noticed that some of the teeth are more decayed than others. This is due to the fact that some of the teeth have better enamel structure than others. Some have thicker enamel than others. Some have thicker enamel than others. Some have thicker enamel than others.

Round the Country

The Red Deer News asks in connection why a speaker and minister like Sir Clarke is not in parliament, echoes most of that enemy one at a present. If Sir Clarke lived in Eastern Canada he would be a member of Parliament and probably a member of the Cabinet, but like "Immediate Relief" Clarke and most of similar expert ones in public service, is one of the casualties of party government in Alberta.

The Wetaskiwin Times says: "We had an article in last week's issue on "The Acts to Either or Wild Life." We always thought that the acts applied a little past Twin one of the chief protectors of wild life. Speaking of the life of the wild birds, however, how many boys know that it is a crime to kill birds. Yet we have heard of boys who go around with a sling all summer and kill birds of all kinds. The provincial police have numerous instructions to prosecute all those who violate the Migratory Birds Act, and they are always on the alert to do so.

The Innisfail Province says: "The Canadian Pacific Railway has made some cuts in the salaries of its employees, and a number of thousand dollars have been saved and have found their way into the pockets of the shareholders. The Canadian Pacific Railway is a corporation which has probably been treated with full as much consideration by the Dominion government as any other corporation in the country, and it is only fair that it should bear its share of the burden of retrenchment which is being borne by the people generally. In the United States corporations of the railroad type are paying the maximum of taxation, and in Canada the Canadian National Railways are paying taxes which are not paid by the Canadian Pacific Railway. Taxes are a charge upon the earnings of a railway before dividends are declared and fall back on the private pocket of whomsoever the free-will may be."

The newspaper report that all the police departments of Europe have agreed upon a general round-up of the Communists and the expulsion of suspected aliens during the next few days.

Communism seems to be as popular there as it is among the hard-headed farmers of Alberta. In fact the only place that the communists are not yet a stink is in Alberta, and among the foreign element at Drumheller, and other coal mining camps.

Apologists for the Soviet regime long ago gave up the defense of the communistic principle. Communism in practice has turned out to be a ring rule and concentrated autocracy of the worst possible type. Communism, in practice, loses a sensory to human nature.

The Prime Minister's statement on an end to the Chanak or commence a campaign of education to acquaint the people with the true facts of the case, and to counteract the misrepresentations of some parts of the community present of such a protracted duration as those of ex-operators. The statement was where there is less talk on co-operation and more action, have had those the hospital for several years, and would not go back to the old high-priced hospital on a visit.

For his many years in this country has been making marked cases to Stettler, Red Deer, Calgary or Edmonton, and the burden on the families who have to foot the bill is no heavy.

Now that we are going strong for a co-operative wheat pool, a live stock pool and a creamery pool, why not go further and put the health and hospital care of the people of the district on a co-operative pool basis?

Von Hindenburg, the old iron pot and ex-Hohenzollern dog, has been elected president of the German republic.

Hindenburg requested the former Kaiser to free him from his oath of allegiance to the Imperial Throne so that he could run for president, and this request was granted. The former Kaiser is said to be delighted with Hindenburg's success, and the two are carrying out a secret line of correspondence from Hindenburg to the Kaiser's

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters must be brief. Letters without name and address to the author, but a guarantee of good faith are not necessarily to make public. Publication at all cases is subject to the judgment of the Editor.

To the Editor,

As I have not seen any comment in your paper of the New Taxation Act, which is proposed by the Minister of Education, a short draft of it might be interesting to your readers.

What the people needs, the is know.

The proposed Tax is a Blanket-Levy of Two Dollars on the assessed value of all farm lands in Alberta. The Act, in addition to the present supplementary revenue, the rest has grants-in-aid of Municipal Hospitals and such like imposed by the province.

Now the Act, as I have shown, does not provide no doubt, make one cause by the Municipal Hospitals are provided for, and namely a farmers' Government, in short town can create an article showing the great advantages of the Stettler District. It is to be hoped the Taxation Branch of the Farmers' Government do not use that editorial, otherwise we will be saddled with a Super Taxation Tax. "How to get on with the city." This Blanket-Levy of three cents is no doubt only a start-or amounting to $1,800,000. They will be divided over the respective municipalities by doubling the levy to 6 cents per hundred-weight total to be disbursed by the Department of Education to help fund School districts. Would those school districts need but year for lack of funds to better able to pay 5 cent shares of the new levy or will they just say as at present "let the Government pay the bales" we can only hope for a good crop so as to double the local produce as long as possible, for at present after paying out the Provincial-Secretary Tax we feel as poor as Job's turkey that had only one feather on its back, and had to look around the fence to rubble. If the Farmers' Government can put by $1,800,000 it will be two years as well fed for brokers.

THE TIGER IS ABOUT TO DIE IN ITS TRAIL

It did not happen, however, publicly that when Georges Clemenceau returned to Paris the other day from his fishing-shack by the seashore, he committed a violent acid and his intimate friends whispered around that the end was "This is the end."

Clemenceau is on his eighty-fourth year. At that age a severe bronchial cold is more fatal than one at 50.

What was his surprise on returning to his desk later to find that Clemenceau had completely thrown off the cold and was apparently in better health than ever!

The old Tiger uses few people nowadays, with the exception of intimate friends. This is not because he is difficult of approach, for almost anybody may obtain an audience with him, at any time. But he will not talk politics, and as that is what most of his visitors want to discuss they usually let attempting to draw him out.

He does not shut these distinguished matters briefly with his most intimate political friends, but only to reveal a deep bitterness which is more painful than silence. He feels that his recent ex-prime minister during the last part of the war was what made victory possible, and has never been able to understand why, as soon as the peace treaty was signed, he should have been cast aside. He would have liked to be elected president of the republic as a reward for his formidable labors during the war, and when the parliament threw him aside in favor of the colorless Paul Deschanel, a more routine politician, he turned his back forever on politics.

The Old Tannery Boss And His Philosophy

There died in New York City the other day a man whose name, well enough known there, was unknown outside it, but who earned a pioneer that has probably travelled all over the world. The man was George Washington Plimpton, and the pioneer was "honest graft." He was one of the active at Ben Tousel's day and was a power until twenty years ago, when his business was destroyed by the leathered from him by a tax entirely new process. He thought. But Plimpton had not reckoned. He made his fortune all over again, and in the mark wealthier man than before.

Plimpton's method was simple. He began by making a study of the tanning papers he was a tanner, and a tanner was a man who made leather. He found out, by close observation and experiment, how the tanners got their leather, and how they could get it quicker. Then he made his plans. He found that those who were dealing in leather were not tanners, but middlemen. They bought the hides from the packers, and sold the finished leather to the manufacturers. Plimpton decided

Business Tide Is On The Turn

HAS the West cause to be optimistic? As the weeks go by we are more and more convinced that the West—and particularly Alberta—will see the awakening of a new business era. Last year was a year of business stabilization, but this year will be a year of business expansion.

FOUR news items appeared in one day's issue of an Edmonton paper, illustrations from different angles of the favorable forces that are working in the direction of a greater and more prosperous Alberta. An Ontario manufacturer of agricultural implements is moving its western headquarters from Regina to Alberta. The government elevator at Edmonton is so full of unsold wheat held for higher prices that an embargo on further shipment was declared. Forty-six homesteads were filed on in the district in January and a large volume of enquiries is coming in from the United States. Alberta had only one commercial failure in January—the fewest of all the provincies.

THESE are but a few of the many indications that the tide has turned. In the words of the old song: "a long pull, a strong pull and a pull all together" will carry Alberta far along in the forward movement.

HOGS

Calgary sales during the week four lots off from last report with third smooth... 111.50, off rate, bacon 10 to 1 per cent.

Edmonton had only fairly well and there top sales on long haul hogs $11.75, for dark smooths, off cars and the 10 p. c. premium on bacon.

SHEEP

Both Alberta yards quote the sheep market very slow and the movement very limited, in fact hard to give prices owing to limited sales; choice $11@$11.25; others 10.50@$11; fat ewes $9@$9.

GRAIN

Grain prices still show fluctuation but interest among farmers is closely owing to opening of spring work. The weather conditions somewhat backward, but as most of the delay is due to moisture, there is no very serious complaint though southern and central districts, though it is not as favorable for some northern communities.

BUTTER—BUTTERFAT

CHEESE

BUTTERFAT—Receipts continue increase in production; Alberta prices firm and steady; no cautious need for further moving. CREAMERY BUTTER No. 1 prints and cartons unchanged at 30c@32c; cartons, not much offering and prices may be a little up or down from 30c. Alberta pasts. DAIRY BUTTER Very little offered yet. CHEESE—Alberta supply short and market firm

POULTRY—Eggs

Eggs—Calgary dealers quoted in advance, making extra now 23c. Grain 22c, second 18c and trade 15c; still considerable lacking over country, and dealers say more and showing receipts; receipts are not heavy yet. POULTRY Business very light and usually offered not up to much and best stock coming out of storage.

POTATOES

Calgary trade quotes market up 5 little after break of last week and Alberta $30@$35; some B grade from Edmonton shipped to Calgary sold at $40 down about $34; eastern potatoes delivered Calgary, $50@$60. A grade.

HAY

Trade dull and buyers now more discriminating as to quality; no price changes. Edmonton quoting $14@$15 on No. 1 upland delivered.

Country shipments heavier now and except for hold-over stuff, quality better; lastern inefferent lumpers, may get into market when better quality offered.

FURS

Only skins offered in any quantity are those from the northern parts, which are good quality and will make up of market which seems to be fairly steady.

A Rich Boy Who Has Made Good

From dish washer and waiter in a Chinese lunch room to the presidency of a string of 100 restaurants in less than two years is the claim made by John R. Thompson, Jr. He has just announced control of the $10,000,000 restaurant chain in the United States, built up has claimed to be a tale of a rich boy who made good.

Young Thompson, just past thirty, started learning the business by taking a job as dish-washer in one of his father's restaurants. He scanned the pots and pans and crockery.

He first promotion was to a place behind the counter, where he tossed hot sandwiches, dished up the beans and complained to cooks in the lazy cooks. Next he was promoted to waiter, where he had a notebook and pencil in the middle and a napkin on top. Then after long years of training he succeeded one of the old chaps, the famous "Tex" Thompson, as the corporate Thompson restaurants, and after that, from city to city, he went, first as manager, then as owner, of the places he took over.

Thompson's way to learn how to run a restaurant is to begin to wash dishes, clean floors, and Thompson told the United Press as he came down in the office for the first day as president.

"I don't know much about other kinds of business, but in this game the important thing is to learn from the bottom. I guess it holds good in all the other lines."

"I can go into the kitchen of any of our restaurants and tell quickly about whether things are being done properly. I can't do everything myself. If the coffee or butter I use has the boys here to make it right. If the fish wasn't as fresh as it should have to do them fast."

Young Thompson is a firm back-slapping man, but keeps in control. He was married in 1924 to Miss Ruth Hall, of Cleveland, Ohio.

ATTENTION!
Farmers and Stock Growers
A movement is in progress looking toward the amalgamation of the Stettler District Co-operative Marketing Association, Limited, with the Alberta Co-operative Live Stock Producers, Limited (Live Stock Pool.) The farmers and stock growers of the Stettler District are requested to identify themselves with their local shipping association instead of signing a contract with the pool direct. It is important that this be done at once in order that the amalgamation may be completed promptly when the final drive for membership in the Pool begins on June 8th, 1925.

FACTS ABOUT TEA SERIES—No. 5

What 'Orange Pekoe' Means

Many buyers of tea have come to ask for 'Orange Pekoe' believing that it signifies fine quality. This is not, however, necessarily the case. In the tea trade 'Orange Pekoe' is only a name given to the first leaf below the bud or tip on any bushes or Orpheus on a branch. Any Ceylon or Indian grown tea, a high-class one, usually possesses a very fine flavor. If, however, the plant is grown on poor soil, it may be of poor quality. 'Salada Pekoe' tea plan be of very poor quality. The name's only meaning is to be long a tea of good quality. When grown 'Orange Pekoe,' comprise a large part of every blend of "SALADA" and give to "SALADA" its unequalled flavour.

"SALADA"

INDIAN CONFERENCE AND PAGEANT

The biggest "POW-WOW" ever held by the Indians of the North American continent will be held in Macleod, Alta., on July 1st, 2nd and 3rd, when over five thousand Indians from tribes all over Canada and America will meet together to decree matters pertaining to their laws, and reserves.

Arrangements are now made for the holding of a big Indian Pageant, which will clearly demonstrate to their white brothers and sisters the wonderful advancement the Indian of North America has made during the last century, both in culture and education. Thousands of Indians from the Blood, Blackfeet, Peigans, Crees, Cree, Stonies, Sioux and representatives from the Six nations in the East, will take part in this historic spectacle—the Pageant.

There will be an exact representation of the great battle of "Whoop-up" when was fought near Macleod and Lethbridge between the victorious Blood Indians and the Crees, one of the bloodiest massacres ever known in Indian history. The morning and evening of Sunday and Lady, the stage hold-ups so prevalent before the

Don't Dope Your Storage Battery

A President Greer's college of Auto motive Engineers says:

In the old days, absolute economizers were given a drink with the pet radiator's furs. They were much more cur—ious than the present tablet or pepp—rmint and probably astonished them a little—or at least—a Spanish—for the effect was not the same as—hen a tablet or cat water was put—o the radiator cement removed from the water cylinder the valves ground in and the carburetor adjusted and then again the modified treatment—the fuel tank, by the way certain—not smaller mileage per gallon.

What's wonder—ith—ith the applies to the pre—ent day battery "dopers" and what not that are being sold so much—bottom—and wonderful dilutes—hich no charger can charge but, however, a battery is—ed, any battery—ver station can do the same thing by doping the battery with strange acid—but they know the harmful effects of such treatment.

The correct thing to be with—ingtance of many people to pay fabulous prices, three to five dollars—ce and for a simple application of the—"dopes," when most chemical—ts we use today for 25 cents.

There is nothing anywhere about preserving storage cell solution into a battery—ust keeping the level of water—ow the plates with distilled water—ly twenty or thirty months after the—ttery—. Any service station can do—is—but the normal up to-the-pe—n battery is to pay a current of three—ty amperes through it and avoid repair—ng or shortening its life. The—ge way is to pay three to five dollars for—bout 25 cents worth of stining acid—and save the consequences.

Botha News

Boiling questions in this district are by no means general as yet. While there are some farmers who have high land and were able to get on it before the last rain storm still the majority are waiting for the land to become a little more workable before ploughing. By the end of this week, however, spring work of every kind should be in full swing. A number of farmers in the Bothà district are more advanced than immediately around Bothà. Everyone seems to be hoping to get and sow field of barley for grain from this year. The prospects from the standpoint of moisture have been no better anywhere in the old country. They should know.

The W. I. have had a millinery demonstration during the past week and the attendance and interest on each occasion were held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and of the rooms in the Bothà Hall. Mrs. Ryerse of Edmonton, was the demonstrator and showed a thoroughly knowledge of the subject. The women of the district appreciate the opportunity to learn from and the Institute and a splendid thing to have the day up-to-date by the local public.

Round the Country

Mr Forke, leader of the Progressive group, boasted in a speech that party leaders often are, in regard to his following.

Calgary is a city of 63,000 and the farmers of Ontario are not fond of those words on the lips of those in Western Canada, nor do the farmers of Alberta regard protection as favor only to those in British Columbia. What we observe by a recent division in the Federal House when seventeen Progressives voted for the budget and the remainder voted against it, except in a few cases, is that they are not in the habit of doing so.

Mr Speaker,—the member for Red Deer voted against the budget. He did Mr Speaker, of Calgary, while Mr Smart of Lethbridge, voted for it.

All of which goes to show that the Progressives do not all think alike and that the much condemned caucus might be used to more advantage in holding the party together.

Now, we believe, that it is the honest intention of the majority of the members of parliament to split on as important a vote, and it should happen either. If the party whip is going to mean over the heads of our representatives, every time a vote is taken, what is the use of being a member at all, or of having a seat of your own. Party government is all right in its place, but the farmers should not be so over awe with a member's private convictions. If Progressives wants to vote against the budget and Lefeb in favor of it such a situation should be a matter of congratulation, instead of head bursting and recrimination among the bobbish.

One of the most fruitless of the U. F. A. control in Alberta is that the opinions of the provincial representatives are in the hands of the farmers. Whatever the hands say the members must vote for or do. In other words, we have a phase of Corlyle, the member is "not his own man." He may not consider it to the worse of a large part of his constituency, but if he pleases the hands he is counted a success as a representative.

In Poland politics the lines are not so clearly drawn, and a member, who has won miniature wars and duels here he is going to act in some particular circumstances without having the matter decided beforehand for him.

Mr. JARDY stood on the budget as an example of this, and he should be commended instead of condemned for voting as he saw fit even though his views ran contra to those of his fellow progressives in Alberta. We do not know the gentlemen but we venture to say that he is a good representative and is now worse because he did not vote to Mr. Forke or Mr. Wood to nor have to vote. Too many of our party associations are merely satellites revolving around some major planet. And now can judge beforehand what they are going to say on any particular subject and how they are going vote. Dr. Clarke was censured in that respect as he was one of the most independent members of the parliament.

It is perhaps only natural that people around Mr. Wood as the advisers of the Alberta group of members, and a good one too, as he has been—should, for all of them. Mr. Wood is a representative personage in many respects. Do you ever see his name in the newspapers? Very seldom. He evades publicity instead of courting it. He is avoid in his day was a front page article, but Mr. Wood prefers the back seat.

Madame Tussaud's Famous Wax Works

The exhibition of the famous waxworks of Madame Tussaud in London, but few people on this side of the Atlantic know of the wonders contained in the celebrated museum.

Madame Tussaud, the great grandmother of the famous Madame Tussaud, is at present in Boston and so much destressed at the news of the fire.

"But one thing that is sort of a saving grace, you know," she said, when reported, "now that pioneer models must have been saved and the fire destroyed only modern ones. We have a mate for every effigy in the exhibition. The figures are made of a process that has several stages, and the model from the sculptor's hand is kept, carefully labelled and pigeonholed.

"If the effigies can be replaced, but the rare will the contagion and the Chamber of Horrors and Wellington and the French Revolution things that I've got—well, we'll say that Judy," for it's too hard to figure out the genius—brought over with her. These are priceless and cannot be replaced. And they are very interesting and most important historically.

"My father rates the exhibition very highly, indeed, and I think he says has before. My brother has taken it from him, and I have a great deal of artistic ability to be able to do the thing right.

"How were statues of such people as Marker and Due d'Orleans the famous Egalite. And it was the statues of these two men that played a part only we thought it was, in the first outbreak of the Revolution.

On the twelfth of January, 1793, the Parisian mob surged up by the news of Mother's dismissal, visited Curtius's museum and took from it the effigies of Mother and Due d'Orleans. They carried these effigies through the streets chattering and shouting for their two heroes. But the statue are not to be found in Boston and so was much destressed at the news of the fire.

Dear Sir:

Mayor John Bartlett, Superintendent of the Land Settlement Branch, and Department of Immigration in Ottawa, desires to extend through the courtesy of your paper, my appreciation for the kindly sensitive extended to the members of the Scotch families who have recently arrived to settle in the Stettler District.

We are most grateful to the Members of the Board of Trade at Alix, and to each member particularly the name Mrs. Manchester who generously entertained us.

Our thanks are due to the Members of the Board of Trade who met the Robt Boyd-Grigg, and to Mr and Mrs. Cooper who entertained us on their arrival at their home.

We appreciate the kindness of the Members of the Rodeo Board of Trade, and Women's Institute who received us on the evening of the 27th March, and to Mayor Dickinson, the Lodwig business men and the women of Stettler who provided Arabella McKay, Donald Grant and John Sinclair families. Our thanks are due particularly to Mrs. J. Brady, the Rev. A. L. Hoole, Headman P. E. Eaden and P. Gaudak of Gadsby.

We also extend our appreciation to the members of the Rosedale district, for their assistance on the arrival of Mrs. Charles Thompson and W. B. Burns families, particularly Mesdames Wood, Mrs. Wm. Wilson, Dodd, Mrs. and Mrs. Harris and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rogers.

The kindness displayed towards these newcomers tends to dispel the loneliness and homesickness they are bound to experience on arrival in a new country and will do much towards overcoming the future obstacles of settlement, and enables them to overcome difficulties and obstacles as are bound to face them on their arrival in a new country.

The community spirit displayed by the Stettler district will, we are confident, contribute in a great measure towards the success of these newcomers.

Yours faithfully,
W. T. WOODS.
Secretary-Treasurer.

POLISH LAWS OUT DRESS

The Polish Parliament passed a bill to prohibit the wearing of short skirts dresses and to even make it against the law for shopkeepers to sell them. Jewish rabbis were called to urge the measure, after forbidding women so attired to enter their synagogues. Later the Catholic and Protestant Clergy joined the movement.

Botha News

At a football meeting held on T day evening last the following was elected for the entertainment G. L. Snyder team captain, W Palmer Secretary. Treasurer.

Some considerable discussion as to the [illegible] in the Basketball League, but it was finally decided to receive the old Buffalo League fee, and really a very interesting season may be looked for. Botha has been successful in getting a game from the Custer team [illegible] and it is hoped to arrange a game to come this way again this summer it was also understood that Bashaw were desirous of getting on their team on this league.

The secretary was instructed to get in touch with the various towns and endeavour to arrange a meeting for this purpose as soon as possible.

Proud and Snyder were appointed to attend the meeting to represent the Botha team, together with any others interested who could go along.

LATER The meeting has since taken place and Messrs. Proud, Snyder, B Bill and invitations have been sent to the various towns and very much interest and will be held in the Botha Hall at 8 o'clock, weather permitting.

The garage shoes at Botha Hall will re-open for the winter on Saturday May 16th, there is to be no charge for admission, good fun is started as well as an extra good time all round. Watch the advertising in these papers.

Rodeo in general this year in the district will start with good weather and will be well covered by the end of the week. Every farmer is busy at his crop and their horses are also much interested getting out. The acreage this year will be a record the entire to last year with perhaps more summer fallow than usual, sometimes, with any chance of a good result. The ground is holding the moisture and the seed is coming on very strong giving this spring will be fine one.

Mr and Mrs. T. A. Kerr, of Camrose are the guests for a few days of Mr and Mrs E. Steele as a honeymoon visit.

Mrs. John Bertrand of Edmonton, and children are spending a short time at the home of Mrs D. Bertrand.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. M. S. of the Community Church will be held on Friday afternoon next, May 15th, at the home of Mrs. I. A. Cunningham. The meeting will be at 2.30 p. m. and all the members are invited to attend.

On Sunday next, Mother's Day will be observed in the Methodist Church and it is to be observed by the Sunday School. Rev. Mr. Mary Van Dan has as the subjects. Church, both morning and evening.

GADSBY NEWS

I understand the Consolidated Improvement Association have received a very handsome donation per Miss Porter, as a result of a dance held on the night last month.

Quite a number of our citizens took a trip in to Stettler to the see the play "Lucky-in-Love" put on by the Stettler Dramatic Club, under the direction of Mrs. Beckley. The "Permanent Players" were strongly represented and put on some unqualified praise to the Dramatic Club for their splendid performance.

Mrs. Bill Benet is very seriously ill at present, after confinement. The baby was still born, too, a piece of hard luck for Mr. and Mrs. Benet. We trust the mother may soon be all right again.

Mr. Dan Gray, Mrs. Armand Gaudet, Jr., and two little Gray girls had a very pleasurable evening in Stettler on certain injury when a car they were travelling in on Friday night went over a steep embankment on the road running north from the centre of town at Cake Beaudet's corner. There is a bridge at the turn of the north road, a very sharp turn, where the road curves and a quite deep pool of water at the creek bottom. The car and all the passengers went right over and down into the water. Mrs. Gray and the two little girls were completely under water and came near being drowned. Fortunately Dan and the party were not seriously injured, but were in bad shape with mud and water. They made their way home to Jay and Mrs. Everyone is glad to see Mrs. Gray and children safely home and the party made a very enjoyable evening for all.

For a real good seed or table Potato, see Wm. Hall, Gadsby. Also Seed oat variety at $1.25 per bushel. See W. F. Cudmore.

Have you taken advantage of W. F. Cudmore's Farmers' Special Subscription Blank. If you haven't you have missed some good bartering.

The Gadsby Ball Team is to play nearly every week. Peasman's 5th Hun Ball Team defeated Gadsby 25.8 to 9 on Dower Longtin to Crape, Brunswick, Rubbo, Bandura Valley, Gadsby, Peacock, Thelin.

Who's Fire Those Shirts, Ties and Shoes, Socks Caps go? Suits.

See our Hen's Pasquay Hay Work Gloves your size 25 cts. Two pair for 45 cts. Dewing Gloves $1.95. Pennsey Suede Gloves $2.95. Saunders Special per pair $1.00.

We have had an addition to the ranks of our local editors already. A nice baby son to Mr. and Mrs. John Lemay on May 4th. Congratulations are extended south of town. We hope the the young gentleman will approve of the country when he gets old enough to get barefoot, and grow up to be a handy farmer.

Mothers' Day was celebrated on Sunday, both at Gadsby Methodist Church Service. Rev. G. A. Steele delivered most of his sermon to an appreciative audience of Mary, Mother of Jesus. For some reason, perhaps due to the rush of seeding, the congregation was not as large as expected.

Last Thursday night the Board of Gadsby Methodist Church held the first meeting of the year in the Church office. A full attendance of the Board were privileged to hear an excellent report of the state of the finances and of the credit being due to the great work of the Ladies' Aid, and the splendid financial assistance given by the "Permanent Players" for April.

Good weather prevails for seeding operations and as at this appears the wheat will be sown extensively in the ground and off to a good start.

The Village Council met on Tuesday and recommended for the efficient way in which they went into clean up week. All of the lanes and alleys are now tidy and free from refuse, the same etc., which during the winter had been allowed to collect. A special word of praise is due to six year old Jack Lemay for good example he is setting in tidying up his yard and premises around the house. It looks fine and is quite an ornament to the Village.

Our golfers are busy these days playing off a stroke competition from which the handicaps for the monthly contest will be deduced. There have been some good scores turned in. Quite lively friends are becoming great enthusiasts.

Little Jean Rich, the 7 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Rich, met with a very serious accident on Monday. She has a Shetland Pony, a very quiet little animal, of which she is very fond and makes a great pet of. It was tethered in the yard at the back of the house and on Monday it got its head loose from its tether and ran away. Jean ran after it to prevent it from getting into the road, when the pony turned suddenly and kicked her on the head. She was rendered unconscious but it is supposed the pony had been stretching to eat grass and stepped over the rope, as there was the little girl off. It was not discovered for a little while how she had received her hurt, but Mrs. Rich noticed the grey loop and found it to be broken. Mr. Rich went for the doctor, but he was down south at a sale. Mrs. Rich then got Dr. Welsh from Innisfree and got the arm set but the little girl has been unconscious all day or two to am of it is not even the slightest that she will. We trust the little one may soon round and tender all sympathy for her and also for Mrs. Rich who is naturally much distressed.

CROSSING VETERAN PLOWS

When a person has a few hundy plows tons of improved native varieties to sell, he naturally thinks of Winnipeg, and Clancy, producing very fair crops of comparable fruit in the Canadian Northwest. There is need to order spreading out and testing other newer varieties but pioneer grazier is still the favorite. Among those established of places which have recently been developed on the prairies of the Canadian Pacific Railway are Strathcona, Okotoks, Tofield, Bassano, Strathmore, Gleichen, Cluny, Bassano, Bassano, Strathmore, Gleichen, Cluny, Bassano, Bassano, Strathmore, Gleichen, Cluny, Bassano

The question some people would call a beautiful example of young or cyclonic where one group goes out of its way to give aid and sustenance to another. They will say that is stretching it accordingly to surgeons and economists, and is but another instance of the "new organization of democracy."

Others of a different opinion will cite example of a community, where one class struggles another, and where the conquered class has very little to [illegible]

A first-class visit to an English manor meeting and stabled five shillings. The horse he backed proved a winner, and he went to the bookmaker to claim his money. The sporting man handed him five half-crowns, and the Scotsman hauled at each one very carefully before placing them in his purse. "Well," said the bookmaker, "are you afraid they're bad?" "Oh, no," said the Scotsman. "But I was just lookin' to make sure the bad pin I gied ye was in among the—"

Botha News

Reading operations have continued this week with the Plow number and another week should see all the land underground for this year. The ground is well prepared to receive the seed and the growth the last few days is very rapid. On the whole the farmers about here are satisfied with the prospects and with the fine rains we have on us, when is there found to a good many this year. Everyone here is hopeful and that means a lot to the life of the people.

The Garden Permanent Players were in town on Saturday night but and put on their play "The Scrapbook" in a crowded house. The actors of the play was fast and very entertaining and the folk who attended all said that they enjoyed it. This type of entertainment and by local talent is something that always goes over big.

The Botha Juniors took a good trimming from the Stettler Juniors in a baseball game last week but they turned the tables on the Stettler boys on Tuesday by a margin by the score of 5-7. The team work of the boys of both teams was creditable and only needs polishing to make the whole game. Don Hebver acted as "umps" but he proved to tell the tale afterwards. Put other game at Botha will be played early.

On Friday night the married men played the Rich Hill girls in a game of baseball and the fair sex fare to say the girls ran away with the game, not the men. It was a bit of fun and we hope it opened the baseball season for the year.

FIRE AT OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT

The Gadsby Permanent Players made a trip to our town last Saturday evening and presented for our enjoyment their two play "Aunt Jerusha."

To say that we enjoyed ourselves is putting it very mildly, our neighbors to the east certainly deserve all the praise possible to give them and we certainly hope to be favored in the near future with a visit of the organization from Gadsby display real talent.

While a large organization is always of more interest to a community than strangers, still we have have heretofore not had an opportunity to show our talent and we feel sure that if we could get the aforementioned group over just the show over in great style.

Come again folks, we will surely be glad to see you.

The work of the Gadsby Orchestra added a great deal to the pleasure of the evening, the dance following the show, while accessory of short duration was cleaned among the best of the season.

After a great deal of effort it begins to look as though the Buffalo Lake would to get under way, definitely has been experienced in getting a fourth team to come in, Carter Botha and Stettler being the only ones in line up but after considerable correspondence it has been decided to Explosion of an atom and the result was described by Sir Ernest Rutherford, "We have proved," he said, that when the smallest number of atoms explode they produce a direct high amount of electrical activity. There is no way to determine the possible velocities of almost eight atoms which are present, and we have consequently increased our knowledge of the way in which the atoms hold together." The smallest possible atom of atoms has been found at a hundred millionth part of a centimetre.

Buying Livestock

If you intend buying cattle for feeding or improving your herd you will probably require a loan to cover the cost.

Farmers of known reputation and character can readily secure such loans from the Bank of Toronto.

The Bank of Toronto's large experience in agricultural financing makes it peculiarly qualified to meet farmers in all problems involving the profitable development of their farms.

See your Bank of Toronto branch manager to-day. He will welcome a thorough discussion of your farm financing.

Round the Country

THURSDAY
(By Arthur Brisbane)

Senator Ferris a concrete "dry," as any on the desert of Sahara or the tip side of Jonah's whale, says prohibition is a failure.

"Lawbreakers load at violating the law," he says absolved to lower their customers boasting and laughing about violating the constitution that they have sworn to uphold.

Senator Ferris thinks prohibition can still "succeed," if enforcement can be taken out of politics.

But that can't be done and if it could be done would it make any difference ? If men, in secret, can change one dollar's worth of good corn into 50 dollar worth of poison to sell to folks, or to experiment on, they can do anything.

There are more than 500 distillery men in the country before prohibition became law. Since then 15,000 distilleries have been created and for every one seized two have been started. Prohibition was made law by vote of the whole of, and never had any intention of observing the law or respecting the constitution. How can you expect the great politicians' border crossing slums, aided by prohibition, not to follow an example set in the highest places ?

Begin at the top. You find that we have had three presidents under prohibition, and Calvin Coolidge is the first of them to drink only what he often has, buttermilk, grape ale and the soft mineral concoctions, of course.

Every servant of a great state in Washington knew that a president of the United States had in the club his locker supplied with whiskey and openly passed the beverage around among his friends and transported it in the limousine of the capital in violation of law and contempt of constitution.

Can you expect those club servants to take the prohibition amendment seriously ? Do you think they do ? Can be put in jail for doing what they have seen done by the president and a dozen senators with laughter, and joking as to the quality of bootleggers and the quantity of their supplies.

When law and the constitution are despised by those in power, don't expect the loud cheers for law or economy. Don't look down in the water.

And when men that make people's laws decide that they may properly violate one law that does not suit them, you may be sure that a new crop of lawless and brutal criminals will arise to defy laws protecting property and the men who have it that is exactly what has and what is.

Whether "dry" or "wet" the administration is rotten. The people are paying heavily for the presidents fun. There is more rotten politics in Washington than ever before, and the people of their supplies.

Erskine News

The interested readers who be read the notice in the last issue of your correspondent modestly as to the paper or column that if you have any items of interest pertaining to our district you will kindly send them along in unity there is

The Mayor has called a meeting of the ratepayers to be held on Monday, May 18th, at 8 p.m. in the Council Chamber to try out our local park system.

As we had occasion to be out of town that evening shall have to abbreviate the write-up. Just see Judgeny by the notice. Please should have more about 3 to 8". An eyewitness informs us that pandemonium were present. It was ever thus.

The Erskine Band was entranced for this last Saturday morning fixed with sufficient enthusiasm to form the beginning of New Canada. Unfortunately the ceremony been pressed a little too sloppery for them and they returned home very quietly. In order not to discourage we shall not mention their woes. Duncan said: "We would have licked you only they had too big boys on their side."

Mr. Duncan Clark and her sister Miss Rose, left last Monday morning on an extended trip to Pacific Coast points. Rhonnie they intend visiting

National Marketing For Canada

A Movement Which Promises to Keep the Dominion Same Instincts Where it Would Be of Assistance Every Province Interested

"NATIONAL MARKETING" is a phrase that enters into the minds of a Canadian almost immediately it is approached in print and is associated with a movement to market Canadian products in the best and most economical interchanges possible. The scheme of the movement as called attention to by the Canadian Council of Agriculture, National Conference and other organizations, is the most comprehensive that has been suggested for the marketing of Canada's products. Briefly, it is a movement to establish a Canadian Trade Commissioner service, to co-operate with the Provinces and the Federal Government in the matter of transportation, and

MUCH CORN BEING PLANTED

Southern Alberta farmers are going in for corn planting on a greater scale than ever this summer. Last year it was estimated that 67,000 acres were in corn. The total will probably reach 100,000 acres this year. Seed corn for 27 planks being sent out from Lethbridge, and there is expected to be a splendid showing for the corn show which will be held in Lethbridge in November.

Regular Meeting of Town Council

Minutes of a regular meeting of the Council of the Town of Stettler, held on Tuesday, May 26th, 1925, in the Town Hall at 8 p. m.

Present, Mayor Sharpe, Councillors Mrs. Fox, Ballantyne, Whitmore, McElhone and Aemmens.

Minutes of regular meeting held on May 13th, 1925, were approved.

COMMUNICATIONS

P. McPherson, Right of Way and Tax Agent C. P. R.

Board of Railway Commissioners.

Moved by Councillor Whitmore and seconded by Councillor Ballantyne that the clerk be instructed to follow the matter up by writing to General Superintendent Converse. Carried.

City Clerk, Cranbrook, B. C.—Requesting information with regard to the use of Imperial Liquid Asphalt. Matter was read over.

Nash and Nash, Auditors—Reporting the completion of their audit of the books, and transmitting the Town for four months ending April 30th, 1925, and requesting that an appointment be made for them to appear before the Council to present same.

Moved by Councillor Aemmens and seconded by Councillor McElhone that the communication be received and filed. Carried.

Workmen's Compensation Board—Asking when the grubbing of wires will be completed. The clerk was instructed to say that the snow prevented the frost is not yet out of the ground, and that the work will be proceeded with without undue delay.

H. Longtin—Submitting a proposition relative to a building and lot on Main St. for Rest Room.

The, and other suggestions regarding Rest Room were deferred for consultation with Reeve Vanderwood.

GOLF

Owing to the rain last week-end, it was impossible to complete the competition between President Duckworth and Vice-President Lee. However, some of the games have been played during the week, and the competition will be finished over next week-end.

Recent names were inadvertently left off the list of competitors last week, including Dr. and Mrs. Aemger and Mrs. Bazeley. Games will be arranged for these and for all others.

FOURTH ANNUAL TOUR TO THE PACIFIC COAST

PERSONALLY CONDUCTED

Personally conducted tours offer the most convenient way for familiarization one self with the country traversed. This applies to our country as well as to the older settled countries of Europe. Canadian National Railways has, for many years, conducted personally conducted parties to the Pacific Coast via Prince Rupert. The tour this year which will be the fourth will again commence at Winnipeg, from which point a special train of modern sleeping car equipment, dining car and radio observation car, will leave July 6th. After stopping at various points of interest, the train will arrive at Prince Rupert on July 11th. At this latter point, the party will embark on a palatial steamship for a cruise of 500 miles through the famous "Inside Passage" to Vancouver. While the time at Vancouver, those who have not already visited this town will have their tickets read "Victoria" or their destination without any additional cost.

This tour is an outing that appeals strongly to the National spirit, to the fraternal man, and business man and woman.

The local agent of the Canadian National Railways will be pleased to give you full particulars of this tour, including the cost, choice of routes, returning, etc. 5-7-3t.

Round the Country

Stettler suffers from bad crossings and the injury to automobiles caused is sometimes serious. This condition has been allowed to reap the same years or more, and was not remedied when country crossings were put in a few years ago. Perhaps if the double road had been according to its width it, as it seems difficult to keep the foundations from sagging here and there. The trouble is most noticeable at the crossings.

We do not hear much these days about that historian, the Bolshevism and the Bomb. But it is a live question in most families, the husband having the instinctive conservatism and the wife having the Reform-bee and the Bomb.

The Alberton has a standing argument on Provincial Greenfield and he has "nothing to say." This habit of silence on the part of the premier is a virtue instead of a defect. The superficial critics heard that the best public servants are those that talk the most.

William Jennings Bryan transhumed of the American public for years with his views, until they found him out. Today his intellect is about dead in its stench underscore by his partnership of those who hanged Darwin to the schools and colleges. He is heading a fund to bring to trial a Tennessee professor who is teaching that man is a cousin to the monkey. Yet all the fulmine in the world would not alter a single scientific fact.

Premier King is also quite a talker but he has good judgment and is canny. All his life he has been a hard worker and he considers the quality of speech making only as a part of his equipment and not the whole stock in trade.

He considers the best tax-payers are those that the United States had but he knew nothing because he is not talking all the time.

One of the strangest attainders in the political life of Alberta is to have the talkative Mr Irvine as the sore leg for Calgary. Mr Irvine is a voluble man, but he is not a bumptious man nor a fanatic nor a lacking man, nor indeed anything but a progressive. He is well educated, he has been in touch with conditions in the West for years, and he deserves to be on the Federal Cabinet wage for some one other, and he wishes up when he has nothing to say. His criticism is generally of the constructive kind, and not united to a given party.

Later on Calgary will have a representative more in keeping with its needs and traditions and will select Mr Webster or Mr Bennett, or some man of their stamp as a member. At least the best type of members a city requires is a man who cannot get down to the practical.

That is the trouble with our Commercials, although we would not say that Mr Irvine is a conventional, sound in theory. A conventional generally starts out as a man of high ideals. He believes in reverence for property, of education and of personal brotherhood. He wants to make the world a better place, a live in sympathy for humanity. But not lower side of what he calls "practical" he sets it. He loses the special child's perception of fair play, becomes a slave to custom, and a cynical poet.

The commercials generally have the same antipathy towards the visionary as theory that W J Bryan has. They cannot understand that evolution unfolds all progress and that improvements are effected only step by step.

Governor Roland Hartley of the State of Washington has asked Mr. Irene Lusk, president of the United Welfare Committee of America, that he would not name a delegate to the conference on child welfare to be held in New York on May 15th to 20th. The governor's telegram is partly as follows:

"What we need is to get back to the sovereignty of the old fashioned lively American family circle and to stop a lot of this outside paid, this indiscriminate spending of money in social and welfare work. In short, representatives from the halls of the child welfare clubs, organizations and societies are meeting, conferring, resolving, in the home and the schools, the talk much of good citizenship, is left to strangers of the flat and the canary.

"Can we wonder that our children are going to pot? Period, prepared, educated at the expense of the State, robbed of self reliance and independence, and send them back to our firesides to take up the ragged path of life for themselves."

For be it From The Independent to give anything but praise to child welfare work when kept within reasonable bounds. The above two point has its merits, however. There is a deference between taking up welfare work when the need is obvious or taking it up because true hungry heavy and there is nothing else to do.

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL OF MAY 18th, 1925, WRITES OF THE WHEAT SITUATION IN THE STATES AS FOLLOWS:
Official forecast of the winter wheat crop is 464,000,000 bushels, or 188,000,000 less than last year. In effect this statement is correct of entire upon the agricultural experts of the world that for the coming crop year they can rely upon little help from the United States in the supply of their bread stuffs.
This century is now dipping into its reserves by over one hundred of a bushel a capacity, and this has been the case for some months back. Instead of the surplus of 400,000,000 bushels of old wheat, there will be only a meagre amount of wheat in the carry over this year. We can place little reliance upon the "carry over and must look to the crop now growing for our domestic and export needs.
Official forecast of about 445,000,000 bushels of winter wheat gives the first year of the situation. The real situation, however, is a little less optimistic than the figures indicate. The November 1924 crop was an exceptionally big one, and the fall sowing was the largest on record. Both these facts point to an increase in the winter wheat crop of next year. Even there have been frosts and even freezes in the Southwest. No matter what may be said in favor of the crop, the fact remains that a freeze coming after wheat has jointed does either the yield.
Abnormal rains have been heavy in the States that destroyed the bulk of the head winter wheat for export and the crops there will be materially reduced. The Canadian crop, which last year had 154,000,000 bushels now on the present forecast has less than $300,000,000.
Due to the lack of official forecast of the spring wheat crop and that exceeds 250,000,000 bushels for domestic consumption, which is the bulk of the while welfare clubs, organizations and societies are meeting, conferring, resolving, in the home and the schools, the talk much of good citizenship, is left to strangers of the flat and the canary.

Is The Driver Or Pedestrian To Blame

(By Erwin Cover)

(President Grant College of Automotive Engineering.)

Who is to blame for the numerous accidents reported every day in the papers, the automobile driver or the pedestrian?

The correct reply is "both."

There are many careless drivers who violate every ordinance sense rule and there are thoughtless pedestrians who are equally worth deserve in front of a machine, listening to Providence to save them. Both of these types of individuals are worse not naturally careful when they step from the street and the majority of drivers didn't operate carefully enough safety first rules there would be few cases of them accidents every day.

I have drawn up a few easy "don'ts" for pedestrians and drivers which I think would go a long way to avoid accidents. They are as follows:

FOR PEDESTRIANS

1. Don't step out the curbing to cross the street without looking both ways.
2. Don't try to read your newspaper crossing the street or cross using with a friend walking by.
3. Don't walk behind a car and step into the path of an approaching car.
4. Don't try to run if caught between two machines. Stand still until the automobiles have passed.
5. Don't try to cross a crossing ahead of the police signal is not for the opposite direction.
6. Don't cross in the middle of the block.

FOR AUTO DRIVERS—

1. Don't turn a corner without sounding your horn.
2. Don't try to talk to someone in the back seat when making a turn.
3. Don't cut corners.
4. Don't get interested in something

MARKETS

THE EDMONTON REVIEW OF PROVINCIAL MARKETS

May 21st, 1925.

CATTLE

BEEF—Prices have dropped considerably during the past week on the Calgary market. Choice heavy steers, 1,100 lbs. with a few reaching $7.25, choice light $6.25@$6.50, good from $5.50@6.25, medium from $4.50, common $3.50@4.25. Choice heifers $5.50@6.00, good $5.00@5.50, medium $4.00@4.50, common $3.00@3.50. Choice cows $4.50@5.00, good $4.00@4.50, medium $3.50@4.00, common $3.00@3.50. Choice bulls $4.00@4.50, good $3.50@4.00, medium $3.00@3.50, common $2.50@3.00. Choice calves $6.00@6.50, good $5.50@6.00, medium $5.00@5.50, common $4.50@5.00. Choice feeders $5.50@6.00, good $5.00@5.50, medium $4.50@5.00, common $4.00@4.50. Choice stockers from $4.50 up. Choice bull calves $3.00, common $2.00@2.50. Receipts and STOCKERS Market has been slow, and over a one week period prices are somewhat lower. Trade has been delayed by the cold weather.

HOGS

Values on the Calgary market, generally, Thursday. Prices at Winnipeg were $11.10@11.25 fed and watered basis. Edmonton $11.10@11.25 fed basis, off cars, 10 cents per hundred less.

SHEEP

Receipts on both Calgary and Edmonton markets are very light. Edmonton reports that the market there was reviewed to be weak and quotations are around $13 for lambs.

GRAIN

Prices are still gaining at the two dollar mark, helped chiefly by the good export demand. Crop reports to the south now show conditions to be looking very favorable for a bumper season, and the dry area is looking better this year than it has done for a number of years. In some places the seeding has been completed, thereinto has been delayed by the cold weather.

BUTTER — CREAM — CHEESE

No change has taken place in butter prices, but the local creamerymen are of the opinion that there will be a drop in the near future as the production is picking up, and the warmer weather is now at hand. CREAM—Values have dropped two cents in Alberta and Saskatchewan has also come down to the same level that is being paid here. No cream has come from Manitoba, but it is believed that they will be in line by the first of the week, as they are shippers to the eastern market which is not overly strong. CHEESE—Production in the west is increasing, and can now supply the demand.

HOGS — POULTRY

Marketing is slower than it has been for a considerable time; most of receipts going into storage as it is not profitable to ship to the east or the States. Merchants in Crow's Nest Lake and all the southern shipments. POULTRY—Trading quiet with only receipts being a few fat hens and old roosters; few broilers on the market, but prices too high, and dealers not anticipating as much per pound, but a certain price for the birds, which are in fine shape, good quality being handled that is coming out of storage.

EGGS

Demand for eats and green feed is good, but the deliveries are not heavy enough to take care of trade. During the past week there has not been such a heavy call for hay as existed previous to that time; dealers say that this is chiefly due to a fairly large percentage of the crops being in. Dispatches from Edmonton are finding it hard to establish a quotation, for they say that the price paid largely depends on where it is being loaded. Receipts are not very heavy but the demand is in the same situation.

POTATOES

There is a fair local demand existing for seed potatoes, but after next week the dealers report that trade will be quiet. Spuds from the east are still being handled by local jobbers, and they report that prices are holding steady, and in fact are slightly stronger than a few weeks ago. Edmonton is quoting Early Ohios at $1.75 per 100 lbs. These are a few prices from the east: Manitoba Red Rivers, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Gems, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Netted Gems, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Early Ohios, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Irish Cobblers, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Triumphs, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Burbanks, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Rurals, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Delaware, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Dakota Reds, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Norkotahs, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Netted Gems, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Early Ohios, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Irish Cobblers, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Triumphs, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Burbanks, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Rurals, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Delaware, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Dakota Reds, per cwt., $2.25; Manitoba Norkotahs, per cwt., $2.25.

"Care of the Piano" Talk Broadcasted Over the Radio

An instructive talk over the Radio, perhaps one of the most interesting which has yet been the privilege of Radio fans on the outmost to hear, was recently broadcasted from Station WJZ, New York. It was about your lower case middle-sized piano plus ordinary use for years, and all the mysteries and dangers mysteriously hastened to and acted up that is caused by the rising vapor in the dry season. There is no doubt that the above mentioned detriments to the home piano are subject to a good deal more serious than it has been revealed in the past.

"I shall try in the next few minutes to tell you just exactly how to take care of your piano. As we all know, the climate controls play havoc with it in all sort of musical instrument, so time the piano, collect his fee, and you personally as with a piano. The average will be as near to the condition of your piano as is always as good as it is just exactly what to do during the different seasons of the year; whether your instrument and the answer to your problem will be found in the following talk to point it with, etc. The first thing you can do in practice your instrument is to see that the children have started early and when they'll start to complain some of the pieces. You can tell your teacher and I will probably tell you it is all the drill these kiddies that ever will get to repair the piano, a newspaper you have got your piano, and after all it is not very good for tuning and it is better to have you are a musician if you are only practice. This is one of the most important things that you can do. Don't let any people get in and then tell your piano. Don't let any people get in and then tell your piano. Don't let any people get in and then tell your piano

THE FUNDAMENTALIST-MODERNIST CLEAVAGE

(And Dear Advocate)

It is rather remarkable that the theological views held by old country Presbyterians, and the Protestant Methodists, are much freer than new those held by the ministers in the United States, and that any cleavage between the Fundamentalist or orthodox ministers, and the modernist, or heterodox ministers in Britain is nothing like so acutely as it appears to be in several leading denominations in the States. Some people will tell us that it is due to the more liberty-loving intellectual atmosphere in the old country, while others will have it on the respect and deeper influence of the Church in Britain, as contrasted with the lack of it in the United States. Personally I am inclined to think that there is something in both of these explanations.

The Presbyterians and the Baptists are the two denominations that have been most divided and rent asunder by the Fundamentalist-Modernist controversy. In Britain, nothing like so much attention seems to be paid to the Fundamentalist-Modernist controversy as appears to be the case in the United States. Dr. Campbell, of New York, has been trying to establish a Presbyterian Church of England in London, but he has not succeeded very well. The Presbyterians are not very much interested in Dr. Campbell's efforts. Dr. Campbell is not now preaching to Presbyterians. Dr. Campbell's church in New York Presbytery is interested him to preach was solely to prevent a split there. Dr. Campbell's views were not regarded by the majority of the Presbytery as sufficiently orthodox to commit the minority cause to the extent of the organization of a separation or secession—as it is called—of the Presbyterians and others of Presbyterian views in New York Presbytery. Dr. Campbell's views were not sufficiently orthodox to the satisfaction of the majority of the New York Presbytery to warrant their leaving the denomination and setting up a denominational church. Dr. Campbell, New York Presbytery, and Dr. Fosdick, of the First Presbyterian Church, New York, has called Dr. Fosdick, and the congregation had spoken by a vote to accept the call, the church will have to build a new and more commodious edifice, as the present church is not large enough to accommodate the congregation. Dr. Fosdick's views are modernistic.

We believe that most men come to a word by direct evolution of thought and not by revelation. This evolution may be very unpalatable and distasteful to many, but it is the result of long and weary thought and experience. Revelation is based upon inner soul change and is not evolutionary upon outer soul change and is not previously created forms of life."

The minority report was defeated by a vote of 1012 to 895, on a motion for the previous question, which cuts off all further debate. Some few speakers still had had their say. The majority report was then adopted by a vote of 1,039 to 868. Immediately the vote was announced, Dr. Fosdick announced that he would not accept the election as a mandate to force the issue, but would leave it to the consciences of the individual churches to decide for themselves whether they would or would not call a fundamentalist minister. Dr. Fosdick's church is the one that has been in the limelight for the past few months, and which has been the storm centre of the controversy. Dr. Fosdick is a Baptist minister, and is the pastor of the Riverside Church, New York, which was built by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., at a cost of $4,000,000. Dr. Fosdick's church is a union church, and is supported by Presbyterians, Baptists, Congregationalists and Methodists. Dr. Fosdick's views are modernistic. Dr. Fosdick's church is a Methodist as well as a Baptist church, but it is not under the jurisdiction of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Dr. Fosdick is a Baptist minister, and is not under the jurisdiction of the Northern Baptist Convention. Dr. Fosdick, the only ministerial pastor of the Interchurch World Movement, and the Interchurch Federation of Churches of the United States of America, and the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, and the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, and the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in

The Annual congregational meeting of the Union church at Botha was held in the Hall on Friday night last and a well attended meeting was held. Reports of the various departments of the church for the past year All departments showed a very short turnover over last year and in some cases the results were appreciably increased. During the evening Mrs. Ray Ball rendered a vocal selection and Master Lorne gave a piano solo both of which were enjoyed by all present. A resolution was passed in appreciation for Mr. J. A. Hardisty in his pastorate at present and a hope for a speedy recovery. On account of the approaching Union of the churches the organization of the boards of the church was completed by the appointing of a session consisting of the following officers:—I. L. Epestein; Hy. S. H. Preddie, sr., Messrs. A. A. Proudfit, H. J. Snyder, Thos. Kenny and J. A. Mackay.

On and after the 10th of June the church will be known as the Botha United Church.

Mrs. Sarah Carter of Lethbridge, mother of Minnie Carter is spending some time in town as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Snyder.

Mrs. H. Bertrand and her daughter Mrs. E. Hall of Edmonton are visiting for a short time and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Bertrand.

Mrs. J. S. Crowe is visiting for a short time with her daughter Irene in Edmonton.

Mrs. J. F. Hollingshead is spending a few days with her son Guy at Lacombe.

Mrs. R. Knoderud was the delegate from the Women's Institute Convention in Edmonton, returned this week, and gave a splendid and enthusiastic report.

The many friends of Rev. A. E. Lytle in this district will be pleased to learn that he is at present suffering from a complete nervous collapse and is confined to his bed and will be for some time.

Mrs. H. Steele returned home on Sunday from the hospital in Stettler with her baby boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ball entertained the officers and members of the Sunday School to a social evening, the occasion being the annual meeting of the school. Much business was transacted and officers all members elected for the ensuing year. Among other things decided on was that the Sunday School should hold a picnic in Pine Lodge on July 1st, and that it be a real picnic and no baseball. Plans are being laid for a real day. The Sunday School also is going to maintain a library for the coming season and Sunday June 14th, is set aside as a day when everyone is asked to contribute at least one book to the library of the school. Due notice of instructions will be given.

Next Sunday will be a special day in the Botha School when the annual Sunday School picnic will be held and all children are requested to be present at 11 a.m. Everything necessary will be provided and a good time is assured.

The Botha Ladies' Aid met on Thursday last at the home of Mrs. Ed. Bertrand and the meeting was a very successful one. Plans were discussed for the coming year and the following officers were elected:—Hon. Pres., Mrs. Bertrand; Pres., Mrs. Ball; 1st Vice, Mrs. Hall; 2nd Vice, Mrs. Hollingshead; Sec., Mrs. Hall; Treas., Mrs. Ball; Pianist, Mrs. Bertrand; Asst. Pianist, Mrs. Hall; Flower Committee, Mrs. Hollingshead, Mrs. Bertrand, Mrs. Hall; Lunch Committee, Mrs. Ball, Mrs. Bertrand, Mrs. Hall.

Did You Ever Stop To Think?

By R. S. Wells, Secretary, Shawnee, Oklahoma, Board of Commerce.)

THAT every city should grow, if it is to grow, a-tall grow through united effort.

THAT when it comes either to attract new industries, or to build up present industries into larger and efficient industries, it must count grocering, business stationery, or go backward.

THAT the city with the most enthusiastic industries is always the city that most easily gets the fullest prosperity, the drive of business depression, the hardships of general unemployment, the heaviest losses through bankruptcy failures, and the greatest demonstration of that virtue of courage and mutual appreciation.

THAT the industrial development of many cities has been held back for many years by lack of nerve effort by public and their representatives in municipal matters.

THAT factories are born into every day in our midst nearly as favorably as babies are born.

THAT a city citizen should have a full knowledge of its possibilities, its advantages and its possibilities.

THAT you should not be a stick-in-the-mud citizen.

YOU SHOULD STRIVE TO MAKE YOUR CITY A PROGRESSIVE, LIVE-WIRE CITY. A FRIENDLY CITY. A CITY WITH A VISION. A CITY THAT WILL GO AHEAD, AND REACH YEAR, THROUGH THE CO-OPERATION OF EVERY CITIZEN, BECOME A BIGGER, BETTER, HEALTHIER AND HAPPIER CITY.

COTTON CULTIVATION IN PALESTINE

To encourage cotton cultivation in Palestine, the Government is to set up a cotton ginning factory. It is proposed that for a period of two years the ginning will be charged on any cotton grown in Palestine, and none will be allowed to export cotton unginned prior to the expiration of the term. The fee is to be 1.10 per cent, but any oil products imposed by the Government on all cotton ginned. It is expected that the fee will be 1.5 per cent, and only on the basis of the rate to cover the cost of ginning. From other sources the power appears adequate.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON TUBERCULOSIS

One of the most important steps yet taken in the anti-tuberculosis campaign was announced during the past week, by Dr. H. H. Terry, Chairman of the Research Council for Canada, in the appointment of a special committee to conduct research work on tuberculosis as it affects cattle.

This announcement will be heartily gratifying to the people of Alberta, since it forecasts developments of interest among the lines on which the Alberta Department of Agriculture and Alberta Provincial Laboratories have been working for some months in the matter of the control of bovine tuberculosis. This committee includes prominent medical men of the province and the personnel of the committee has already done considerable work in the Provincial Institute at Ponoka. Still later, the provincial department expects to add to the staff there of the Calgarian college which has been used with such gratifying success in the investigation of bovine tuberculosis. This college is now temporarily closed for the summer months, and the experiments are almost complete, each being under the direct supervision of a large number of experts in the various branches of veterinary science.

Blame American Law For Sea Disaster

The disaster off the Nova Scotia coast to the Japanese Freighter Ikoma Maru, which sank during a gale of in full sight of the White Star liner Minnewaska, with at least 31 men aboard, presents a problem of international significance. Coming on the very eve of the opening of the regular attention is centred upon the controversy whether Captain Robertson of the Ikoma should have disregarded instructions issued either from the owners or the Japanese government, whether, as contended in Japan, the fury of the storm could not have been anticipated and some attempt made to shelter vessels. Second Pilotage had a life saving of these whose own lives experience stone have impressed upon them the need of humanitarian work and strengthened them to accomplish it. He was born at Bristol in 1826, entering the service of the Japanese government, whether, as contended in Japan, the fury of the storm could not have been anticipated and some attempt made to shelter vessels. He had had the above experience for several hours before the position was reported to Lloyds. His action will be considered by the British authorities when properly passed off aboard the liner, and after he had the best intentions of the kind and a record of conspicuous success, to devote worthy conduct. But part of the question at issue might be brought under some which Pilotage took up and have been done, in the presence of the subject what were known at the time who caused the disaster. Contrasting data as coffee maps. The owner, her statements have conflicting accounts, often overlapped whether or not the Ikoma Maru was overloaded heavily loaded, if this they overloaded. It has been claimed that subsidy from the insurance companies has put out York Times, since then the steel, went down. In June 1929 Plimsoll entered Parliament as a private member to introduce that bill. Several members of Derby and vain, but taken a second move that was stood it regards the passage of a bill dealing with the grave evil. Four years later

Lloyd's Register of British and Foreign Shipping is the first that the ship should be classified as "Loadline" that the master, underwriters, and brokers, said her "Samuel on the British Act. As a result a new mark was made on the vessel's freeboard allowing a certain amount of cargo to be carried. Before this was done, however, the investigation ordered by Parliament into the whole question of loadline marks was completed. Under the Merchant Shipping Act of 1894 the Board of Trade was empowered to assign loadline marks to vessels, but the owners could not be compelled to have their vessels marked. Then the Act of 1906 made it compulsory for all vessels to be marked with the loadline, and the Board of Trade was empowered to grant exemption certificates to vessels which, in their opinion, were not suitable for the assignment of loadline marks. Under the Act of 1906 the Board of Trade appointed a committee to inquire into the whole question of loadline marks. This committee, which was presided over by Lord Mersey, issued its report in 1913. It recommended that the Act of 1906 should be repealed and that a new Act should be passed which would make it compulsory for all vessels to be marked with the loadline. The committee also recommended that the Board of Trade should be empowered to grant exemption certificates to vessels which, in their opinion, were not suitable for the assignment of loadline marks

LUSITANIA WAS SUNK JUST TEN YEARS AGO

Ten years ago on May [illegible] the Lusitania was sunk [illegible] by a German submarine. [illegible] Captain Turner was in command of the vessel when she left New York on her last voyage. [illegible] Among the passengers were a number of well known Americans, including Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Charles Frohman, Elbert Hubbard and Justice Lehaun of the Supreme Court of New York. [illegible] Many of the passengers were still at lunch and [illegible] Captain Turner was standing on the bridge.

Suddenly a lookout on the forecastle head shouted to the officer on the bridge that a torpedo was coming on the starboard bow. Hardly was the warning given when there was a terrific crash and a second later, before anything could be done, the torpedo struck. There was a cloud that broke nearly all the glass in the portholes in that part of the vessel and a moment later another shock. The explosion broke the main steampipe and flooded the boiler room so that the power was cut off immediately. The watertight apparatus failed to work and a call for help as the vessel began to list to starboard. She slowly headed over, straggled to right herself, and then began very slowly to settle. Vessels filled with water she plunged bow forward to the bottom of the sea.

It was several minutes after the survivors had clambered into the boats before sinking the crew, but the momentum of the vessel, and the suck of the decks made it at first a matter of great difficulty and in a few minutes the impossibility to launch the boats. Captain Turner remained on the bridge and went down with his ship, but was picked up later and lives to have another command. Mr. Irvin was picked up under him a year or two later.

There perished on the Lusitania 763 women, men and children. Of the crew of 702 persons only 289 were saved. Of the passengers but, sixty-three were infants or children. Only four per cent of the children on board survived. One family of eight was completely wiped out. It was said by Germans after the crime that the Lusitania was a legitimate war vessel and that the second explosion was caused by the bursting of the shells she carried. But an inquiries before sailing proved that she carried only cartridges, shrapnel cases and infantry ammunition. The news of the destruction of the Lusitania was received with feelings of horror, amazement, and fury in the United States. More than one hundred American citizens had been destroyed. Millions of Americans demanded that war should be declared. It was generally supposed that President Wilson would promptly abandon his neutrality, but three days later he made his speech about a nation being "too proud to fight," one of the most extraordinary remarks made by anyone in the course of the war. Thereafter he engaged in an exchange of notes with Germany which was prolonged until April, 1917, when the United States accepted as a fact that state of war which Germany had thrust upon her.

Health and Happiness

"We want to be healthy. Our physicians insist on that. We have to make a child so every kind of hygiene. It does harm to the body. Statisticians say, that the average child, at 7 can strong and lusty, but in my youth I never did see a child that was [illegible] injured in any school."

We want to be athletes. We admire the big boys and men on the football teams. They think and act so quickly. We wish we could play just as they do. But we can not if we drink. Physical directors say that drink softens the muscles, weakens the heart, and makes the brain dull and stupid.

"When we grow up we want to be successful in life. We want to earn money. Some people know that drinkers do not hold their jobs nor save their money.

"We want to be happy. There is often unhappiness where they drink. They fight and quarrel and hurt each other. Children have to go hungry and clothes because the money goes for drink. Many people are killed by drunken auto drivers. I know two little girls who were killed by a drunken man."—Ruth Park, Wheaton, Illinois.

Success in Life

"Not adapt it takes a healthy man with a clear, alert mind to succeed. I say that and I mean it. Success in any one game by total abstinence are 1. He has a clearer mind. 2. He has a better nerve. 3. He can save more money. 4. He is more respected. 5. He can command better, sixty-three work.

"I am this gain, would it not be for me to refrain from using alcohol."—Vern Hampmeier, Davenport, Wash.

Good Citizenship

"We must have a strong nation, and to have a strong nation we must have strong men and women with good character and strong bodies.

"A man or woman who uses no alcohols is more thrifty than one who uses them. No one will deny the evident truth that a dollar paid for bitter and cigars will bring more happiness to a home than a dollar invested in liquors.

"A man or woman who does not use alcohol is a better citizen than one who uses them. For example, a person who peddles, makes or drinks liquor is not a good citizen. By doing this he is disobeying the law and one who disobeys the law is not a good citizen."—Harold Arne, Preston, Minn.

Safety, Thrift and Social Welfare

Personal Influence

"I appeared in a moderate drinking establishment myself and a number of times and offered cigarettes. I took him to whatever for the cause of science. Christine, what's your influence over a young man? Why is it equal to mine? If he does not love me he is safe. If he attempts to follow you, he is lost. You can not say, 'Come we will all go on good.' You and he must come or you can not and dare not go with you if he would be safe."—From ex- Bishop Ft. Lauderdale, Florida.

Prosperity

"Many boys have learned to drink from their chums. Boy Long Alcohol from being a pal of one young people' Clean influences, good habits and pure thoughts develop brains and body."

"Total abstinence safeguards our morals. Men with unclean morals have poor judgment and lack self respect. Men cannot be true to their government of they males, sell, or drink liquor. Men cannot be diverse to the constitution.

"Total abstinence will make people thrifty. Men who spend their money for liquor make their wives and children live without food proper clothing and comfortable homes. If all the money spent for alcohol were spent for entertainment, and actions was good in building homes, schools, colleges, churches and good buildings, our country would be made more pleasant and prosperous."—Lorrie Ringer, Ohio.

"Alcohol lowers one's self-respect and dull's one's ambitions. The intellectual, artistic and moral senses are lowered. This affects the individual and the entire community. Abstinence uplifts the race and increases the happiness of the community. Therefore, by total abstinence, one gains vigor life, better health, has more money to spend wisely for himself, and family, and lower taxes, increased self-respect and higher morals."—Mary Edmundson, Kansas City, Missouri.

[illegible] Eastern Canada and the United States have been conducted at towering temperatures. Western Canada has had decidedly cooler and even rough a The Alberta fruit crop is reported in bloom, and the growth of vegetation under the influence of sunshine and warm rains that all Canada enjoys at present becomes lush. The soil is just a trifle too wet for the best results, but a good deal more than the average amount of moisture is needed to make a good crop.

A farmer in the district may have kept an hour's hand practically all during the last two months without complaint. In January, 1924, 12 inches; February, 1924, 10 inches; March, 1924, 8 inches. Total, considerably more than 30 inches per acre.

The record is probably not an average one throughout the district, but in many cases it does not exceed it. Some districts were so saturated that they had to be worked over twice before seeding could begin.

The average [illegible] per acre is a record which many districts would be glad to have, but it is not the Northern Farm

HELP THE POOL

HELP YOUR NEIGHBOR

HELP YOURSELF

The Pool Gives You Quick, Courteous Service and Profits

There are seven million chickens on the farms in the province of Alberta, in 1924 they produced one hundred thousand cases of eggs, practically all this or more went into cold storage and were sold last winter at twice the price the producers received for them, the Pool, which in the coming part of the Egg producers contract, would have saved this profit for YOU; it would have doubled your profit in poker what you were paid for eggs in 1924. Who made this nice easy money—You or the Speculator?

Be Wise and Organize

Because you cannot see how the Pool is going to work, or you do not know if you will like it or not, is no reason why you should not sign the contract; this of things you cannot see to-day that will be plain to-morrow, is reminded us of the following:

A policeman on his beat in the early morning hours discovered a citizen carefully examining the ground under a street lamp. Offering his assistance, the cop learned that the citizen was searching for his glasses, which he dropped; also that he continually demonstrated that prohibition doesn't prohibit. After some minutes of fruitless searching, the policeman asked if he was sure he had dropped his glasses there.

"Certainly not," was the response; "look 'em round the corner there."

"Then what the dickens are you searching here for?"

"Can't see there. Whereas use a lookin' in the dark?"

The foundation of business is confidence which springs from integrity, fair dealing, efficient service and mutual benefits.

EGGS—WHAT COULD BE DONE?

(From Westminster Gazette, England)

It is gratifying to note that a "Who Up, Agriculture," movement is in progress.

"Few people have an idea of the vast importance of the egg trade. During the 12 months ending December 31st last we imported from abroad 2,000,000 long hundreds (that is 120's) of a value of more than £15,000,000 in addition to this we imported more than £5,000,000 worth of dried and liquid eggs," writes Mr. E. T. Brown, the Westminster Gazette poultry expert, and lecturer at the Royal Agricultural College, Cirencester, in the newspaper named.

"The home crop of eggs—those produced in this country—were valued at about £14,000,000, which brings the total quantity of eggs consumed in this country in a single year to well from 2,250,000,000.

"When it is remembered that the total annual wheat crop of Great Britain amounts to only £18,000,000, the importance of the poultry industry may be realized.

"We could easily produce all the eggs required in this country, and thus divert great sums of money at present flowing into the pockets of our foreign rivals into the pockets of our own farmers and small holders.

"At the moment there is not one ten per cent of cultivated land; the number could be increased fourfold without displacement of any other class of farm.

"The farmers and small holders must be given some encouragement. With eggs at a shilling a dozen not less than the cost of production, it is not likely that our people will demand cheap flesh.

"To this end the government should do as the South African and other governments are doing, and that is to advance money to the farmers and small holders on the security of eggs in storage.

"Ministers are always willing to advise money to tenders against the warehouse receipts. Why should not the government—for even one of our more progressive banks—adopt a similar plan for the encouragement of poultry farming?

"Plenty of poultry-keepers would like to store their surplus eggs for use next winter, but it means locking up too much money. With government assistance, however, it would be a simple matter.

"Egg preservation is carried out today on a large scale, but it is not the producer who makes the profit. One concern last year preserved over a million eggs, keeping them in April and May, when they were worth a penny each, and selling them in October and November, when they were worth 4d. to 5d. each. But the producer got only his penny. It is the producer who requires help, not the middleman, and this can only be done with government aid."

"BLESSED BE THE HEN"

The old rooster, his wives and family, were scratching around in their usual haphazard way.

An unusually industrious hen was busily engaged in laying an egg.

Rooster: "Say, what's the use of you working so hard? Look at me! I don't work at all, and I get my share of the food."

Hen: "Yes, but I'm laying an egg."

Rooster: "Well, what's the use of that? Look at me! I don't lay eggs

Clean The Oiling System

By Erwin Geyer

(President Grace College of Automotive Engineering)

The average car owner is prone to follow instructions which he finds in the book which accompanies his car, and to do nothing, unless he is told to do something. Yet he is a careless man that same book of instructions.

He tells the user of engine oil that automatic ball bearings are indicated, however, knowing the manufacturers that the oil flows through the [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] and many wireless aerials. Results

It was soon found that the two best methods by far were the lime water and waterglass. These have been continued to date and very little difference has been found, though different lots of eggs tested each year by the Dominion Chemist and the Dominion Poultry Husbandman at Ottawa, and by Superintendent of the Cap Rouge Experimental Station.

Best Methods

Use one pound of good, freshly burnt quicklime to five gallons of water. Slake the lime with a small quantity of water, just about enough to cover it, and then stir the milk thus formed into water. Keep well stirred for a few hours, allow to settle, and use the saturated water over the eggs. With waterglass, use about four pounds to ten gallons of water.

General Advice

All eggs used should be perfectly fresh, and, if possible, from flocks having no male birds. The eggs should be completely immersed during the whole period of preservation, and the vessel should be kept covered. The best temperature, though not absolutely necessary, is from 60 degrees to 65 degrees Fahrenheit.

BOTHA NEWS

The Provincial Peace held a meeting one night in the Hall on Monday afternoon last, for the purpose of organizing and obtaining signatures for the Live Stock, Egg and Poultry and Dairy Pools. From an outsiders standpoint there must have been something decidedly wrong in the management. Speakers were scarce. A. L. Bancroft was called on to give an address to fill in time, which he did. The meeting was called for 2 p. m. and it was an hour before a handful could be got together to hear what was to be said. Mr. MacMillan of the Buffalo Lake Live Stock Cooperative Association arrived about half-past three and in a manner was enthused the nostrils supported in the formation of the livestock pool. The whole arrangement reminding on the local association makes a mockeries of overhead expenses. Mr. McMillan was somewhat inconsistent in some of his remarks, however, particularly when he criticized the high-salaried, white-collared officials of the U. G. G. and then he turned around and said that in having a man to look after the selling end of the pool as this taking care of the local work the association and directors must pay a good salary and get the best men for these positions. Naturally they must bring a white collar and a high salary. Co-operation and co-operative is not going to result if the men of the farmers today and it was encouraging to see so few of them really interested in forming the scheme. Some farmers will sign the desired line no matter where or when presented, but to the mind of the writer, the most successful co-operative marketing is the intelligent kind, where we all understand exactly what we are doing and not letting the other fellow do our thinking.

Wayne Empey returned to Botha from McKinnonville, Oregon, on Wednesday afternoon, and is going to work for Henry Pemberton for the summer. Wayne is looking hale and hearty and his many friends were glad to see him again.

A very pleasant breakfast reunion was held on Wednesday morning, when Mr. Wallace Farrar, ex Boy Scout Secretary for Alberta and his successor Mr Charles E. Hendry stepped off on their way to Stettler and were entertained. Mr. Farrie by Mrs. W. L. Friend and Mr. Hendry by Mrs. R. S. McDonald. These two men are carrying the promises in the interests of the summer camps for boy. After breakfast Mr. Farrie, Mr Hendry, Robert Friend and R. S. McDonald all motored to Stettler and made arrangements for the Buffalo Lake Camp to be held July 17th to 25th. At this meeting amongst the officers appointed were R. S. McDonald, Camp Director, Robert Friend in charge of the canteen and recreation. Mr. Ransom in charge of Rotary Ready and Co-operative Transportation and equipment is being supplied by the Rotary Club of Stettler.

The Stettler nine journeyed to Botha on Monday night and in a close game defeated the Botha representatives. The score was 6-4. The men having responsible names for a match or an all round game were on hand to cheer for their team.

The W. M. S. is holding their regular meeting on Friday afternoon at 2.30 at the home of Mrs. Ray Bell. Arrangements are being made for ours to take all attending to the meeting.

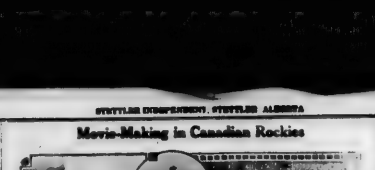
Movie-Making in Canadian Rockies



1—Shooting an Indian chase in Alberta. 2—A Northern Alberta lumber camp. 3—Mr. Hubbard "Capturing" Indian Medicine and unwinding some film. 4—Mr. Hubbard and Indian Chief.

While it may be true that in the making of movies we perceive ridicule has a trick behind the United States, there is at least one particular in which Canadian producers are becoming more and more dependent upon the Dominion for the proper production of their pictures. And just that particular is scenery.

They may have their stars, their directors and their vanity, but directors and their vanity, but directors have learned that for sheer beauty of scenery and grandeur of "settings" the Canadian Pacific Rocky Mountains are unbeatable. That this discovery was made at all is due largely to one, Mr. Ernest Hubbard.

Two or three years ago it occurred to Mr Hubbard, owning he produced some notable pictures in his time that there were certain spots in the Rocky Mountains, such as Lake Louise, Emerald Lake and Field, Yoho Valley, which were an answer to directors' prayers. Accordingly he engaged in the production of "scenic" films, placed them on the market and found a ready sale for them. Advertising agencies, railroads and steamship companies were among his customers. He succeeded in selling to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, which was an answer to a producer's prayer.

Then Mr. Hubbard, having found a market for his wares, began to specialize in the production of "scenic" films. He produced "The Call of the Canadian Rockies," "The Call of the Sea," "The Alaskan," "Rocky Mountain Trails," "The Call of the Country Schoolboy," "The Man From Glengarry," "The Call of the Prairie" and "Canadian Mosaic," advertising engineer in the preparation of these two features. He succeeded in interesting Mr. Hubbard in the possibilities of the Peace River country, and the result was the production of "The Call of the North."

JACK'S RESTAURANT WAS FAMOUS RESORT

For more than a quarter of a century Jack's place in New York has been one of the attraction of the town. Visitors learned it out pretty much as they learned out Jack Sharkey's place or Dempsey's or Broadway or the old Haymarket. It was one of the most noted eating and drinking places in the city, and it was the country that mattered. There the sporting world ran riot from midnight till dawn. Many of the town's celebrities were regular frequenters. It was a place for newspapermen and actors. Now it is a place for tears, for it is no more, it's proprietor has closed it down, and in so doing has with a magnificent gesture sacrificed a fortune. For when if Jack's today is not like the Jack's of twenty years ago, the folks from out of town are not aware of it. The very name and good-will could be counted on for a weekly profit of several hundred dollars. But the proprietor, rather than see his place degenerated by being a bee-quarters for hairy boxers, fighter into a stalking ground for neck-haired lounge-lizards, went to bring out of business. He just closed the doors.

As a good many readers are aware, Jack's was located at Black Tom and Forty-third street. It opened up some thirty-four years ago as a little oyster house, shortly after proprietor, Jack Dunstan, had been discharged on board water at the Hoffman place. On being fired, Jack is said to have remarked, "Some day I'll beg the place over the United States." Twenty-odd years later he did so to the tune of $225,000, but Sammy had long ceased to worry. We presume the barrel of Jack's money was there. He had good oysters with reliable source, cold three ofmgs, and happened to be in a place where there was a demand for them. Heppenened, and soon it was necessary for him to acquire the property next door. In a few years more his place was so purged with paying customers that he bought the place on the other side. In the course of time these additions came to be known as the Star Room, and the other as the White Room. It was the Star Room that made the reputation of Jack's. The White Room was no innocence as Child's. There family parties would assemble. A man and his wife would eat their ham and eggs and drink perhaps a stein of beer, while in the Star Room a man and another man's wife would be laying into the chicken and opening wine.

Jack Dunstan never had a prude agent. Seemingly, he never moved hand or foot to get publicity, but he got as much of it as Dalmonico in his palmy days. The spotlight was first turned on the pace when Frank Jay Gould and Helen Kelly held their wedding breakfast in the Star Room. It became fashionable to put in an appearance at Jack's after the theatre. One could always be sure of something turning up. Jack did not book his customers, either. Up to the time of the war, not an entree cost more than fifty cents. There was always beers drinking their eating going on at Jack's, and even after prohibition, it is said that the Volstead agents got back enough booze away from a secret place on the roof to light up Broadway for a month or so. And the drinking was probably the primary cause of the impromptu fist fights that happened in Jack's on an average of perhaps five hundred times a month. The fact that it was there the fact that it was there the fact that it was there the [illegible] arrived in Erskine, Tuesday, [illegible] on a visit to their daughter [illegible] A. E. Harrison.

Erskine News

Leaving Vancouver on the previous Thursday, they motored via Spokane, [illegible] encountered fine weather conditions [illegible] miles. Riding in Erskine on June 12th. The wedding [illegible] home on Graham farm, south of the [illegible] Rev. Dr. Neil officiating. [illegible] Following a delightful motor trip, during which they visited [illegible] and Banff, they returned home on the [illegible] Wednesday, June 17th, where they will make their home on the [illegible] farm.

[illegible] Erskine was a busy one, [illegible] contests. A miscellaneous course from [illegible] baseball schedule into a real puddle. [illegible] Well, I know it's the rules before the storm."

[illegible] Grisham of Calmary visited Erskine friends on Sunday.

Road work in the vicinity of east [illegible] has been at a standstill for the past two weeks. Before encroaching on private property it is necessary to obtain permission from owner; this feature was evidently overlooked [illegible] the delay.

Quite a number attended Church on last Sunday afternoon anticipating a service, but were disappointed at the non-appearance of the preacher. It transpired that Rev. Gordon while on his way from Stettler put stuck in the mud east of town which accounted for belated arrival. The incident evidently offended itself later in the evening at the Annual Masonic Church Service, held in the Union Church, Stettler, when a large congregation listened to Rev. Gordon's remarks. A number of brethren from Erskine attended.

Mrs. J. R. McConnell of Edmonton, conducted a sewing class recently under the auspices of the Institute

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Chant arrived last week from the United States and will probably remain here during the summer months. They report a very pleasant trip by auto.

Mr and Mrs. Boeland announce the engagement of their daughter Rosina Margaret to Charles W. Allen, Buchan, Washington. The marriage will take place in July.

THINGS WE WOULD LIKE TO KNOW

If a contract exists why is the Stettler to Erskine road not dragged after each rain before developing the concrete stage?

If it takes three weeks to move the empty house three feet, how long will it take to move it out in the country sun miles?

When will the grandstand lattice roof be completed?

Are the trees, or weeds, along the Railway avenue going to win the race?

Did you see the mosquito?

Was it really a resignation—or only a bluff?

SHIP BUFFALO BOOM

The shipment of several thousand head of buffalo from the Waterhole National Park to the northland where they will be set free will commence shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuels and Mrs. D. McCorkindale of Stettler's visited with the week-end here with friends

A social afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hulbert was given on Monday in honor of Mrs. Ball, by the Ladies' Aid and members of the play. [illegible] Mrs. Ball received a nice gift [illegible] Mr. McLaren presiding at the [illegible] Rev. Dr. Neil and Wooster performing the duties.

After the lunch, Rev. O'Sullivan, on behalf of the Ladies' Aid Presented Mrs. Ball with a rose-bowl, and expressed the appreciation of her help in [illegible] many ways during the few years she resided among us, and especially in directing the play.

What will be our loss will be some one else's gain when the time for departure arrives.

The farewell will be greatly missed when they depart.

Mrs. Keigher is enjoying a visit from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dittrich of Kansas.

ALBERTA COAL GOING TO ONTARIO

The initial shipment of 25,000 tons of Alberta coal for Ontario points, under the arrangements arrived at between the Alberta Government, Dominion Government and Canadian National Railways, will be commenced shortly, following the return of Trade Commissioner Howard Stuchbury from the east. An arrangement has been made between the Alberta Government and the C. N. R. whereby the initial shipment of 25,000 tons will be made to prove the freight rate at which the coal can be carried. The Dominion Government has agreed to bear the difference between a $7 a ton rate and the actual cost of carrying the coal, provided there is a difference. The rests will be charged by an expert on behalf of the Provincial Government and W. F. Hinton, farmer Vice-President of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway in charge of traffic, will do this work. The C. N. R. has agreed to carry the coal at actual cost of pocket operating costs. Orders have been received for more than 200,000 tons from Ontario, and if the arrangement works out satisfactorily to all concerned, there will be considerable market for the Alberta product. The total shipment will include coal from Drumheller, Carbon Bar, Pembina, Wabamun, Three Hills, Saunders [illegible]

Edward G. Taylor, one of the best known game fishermen on the continent is authority for the statement that New Brunswick is losing some of its lure as a fisherman's paradise. Just back from a trip to the Cains River, N.B., Mr. Taylor said salmon were steadily increasing in numbers and also in the province. He added that he had caught on this trip a salmon of Salmon long and weighing 36 lbs. In the autumn such a fish would likely weigh up to fifty pounds.

Milton Sills, the well-known movie actor, with a company of 32 other screen artists, passed through Montreal recently to take scenes in "The Come Back" in which he is featured. The party went to Beauharnois, in Southern Quebec. Travelling by another train was a mother skunk and five kittens which will also figure in the pictures.

The 256 passengers on the Canadian Pacific S.S. Empress of France completed their 50,000-mile tour of the world on Saturday, May 27, when the vessel docked at New York. At their last stop at Havana, President Machado of Cuba invited the passengers to attend his official inauguration and to witness the unveiling of a statue to the preceding President.

Another aristocratic rancher recently passed through Montreal en route to return visit to the ancestral estates in Transylvania, Roumania. This was Baron Josef Cserveny who, with his brother Andre, took over a 1,000-acre ranch last March near Strathmore, Alberta, on the Bow River. Incidentally the Baron was a passenger on the Trans-Canada on its first return trip of the season from Vancouver.

The Indian Day Celebration at Banff, it is announced, will take place as usual this year on the 23rd Thursday and Friday in July. Preparations are already under way for this event, which enjoys an enviable reputation as an Indian show. The Stoney Indians arrive in large numbers from their reservation to take part in the ceremonies, which are the 22nd annual celebration of the event.

BONE MISNAMED ANIMALS

Why do we call a bat blind? Put one of these creatures in the darkest place possible and it will fly about without any trouble whatever. It is well known that a bat can catch the tiniest insects at night—meet that the human eye could never detect.

Regular Meeting of Town Council

TAX RATE REDUCED 5 MILLS

The regular meeting of the Town Council on Tuesday night, June 23rd, with all members present except Councillor McElhaney.

The chief features of the meeting were the announcing of the mill rate for 1925 and the passing of the half holiday by-law.

The mill rate for this year has been fixed at 32 mills. This is a reduction of three mills over last year, and it is welcome news to the ratepayers, as some fears will be able to make quite a saving in their tax bills. The municipal rate is 20 mills and the school rate 12 mills. The municipal assessments amounts to $1,219,645, and the school assessment to $1,502,295. Last year these figures amounted to $1,562,250 and $1,854,300 respectively, the reduction in assessment over 1924 being $60,000.00, due partly to the reversion of land to the town.

Before the third reading of the Early Closing By-law the Mayor asked the members of the Council if they were prepared to enforce the provisions of the Act in regard to fines and was informed that they were.

The council decided to go ahead with the drilling of a well at the cemetery. The fact should be carefully noted that there is now a Rest Room at the Arbor House for the convenience of people coming into town from the country

Members of the local executive of the Canadian Legion met in the Council Chamber on Monday night to discuss the proposed Memorial Service to be held in Stettler on Sunday, June 28th. Present were Mayor Sharpe, Messrs. Mayor Mc-Kee, Councillors Wilkinson, Bell, Dr. Ross, Secretary-Treasurer Ballantyne and Dan Mc-Kenzie.

Minutes of regular meeting held on June 9th, and Court of Revision on June 11th and 18th, were approved.

Rumsey Celebration

[illegible] Rumsey [illegible] weather conditions [illegible] were played by teams from Morrin, Big Valley and Rumsey, senior, with Rowley and Rumsey the juniors. The day started off with a junior baseball game between Morrin and Rumsey, which was won by the latter by a score of 11 to 10. Then followed baseball games between Big Valley and Rumsey, senior, and Rowley and Rumsey, junior. Both games were closely contested and were played in the afternoon. The senior game was won by Big Valley by a score of 11 to 7, while the junior game was won by Rumsey by a score of 10 to 9.

The next game was played between Morrin and Big Valley. This game was exciting throughout and kept the crowd anxious to the end, in spite of a few disputes which arose. The Big Valley players displayed their superiority in hitting and snappy fielding and took the long end of the score of 6 to 5. Dust of battle in Big Valley and Morrin ball game. A rare tense of borders for four innings, but had to be relieved by Nelson, who pitched with splendid control for the remainder of the game. Miss Nelson of Rowley umpired.

The final baseball game drew together Rumsey and Big Valley, and was a second win for Rumsey. The game looked anybody's for the first few innings, but Rumsey's pitching staff was not playing ball true to form. They missed the services of the old reliable Joe Stastny in the box. This game was called by Umpire Mr. Hall of the eighteenth score being 14 to 2 in favor of Rumsey Umpire Miss Nelson

DONALDA

Weather and roads permitting, the annual picnic will take place in the tournament held at both Stettler and Bassano.

Mrs. [illegible] returned from the city on Monday.

Services the Sunday June 28th will be held in Scenic Mountain at 11:00 a. m., Red Willow at 2:30 p. m., Sunday School at 2:30 p. m.; Union Church at 8 p. m. and Sunday School at 11 a. m. This is Bible Sunday, at home and Worship. I. N. Hutchson, Pastor.

The Basketball Club of Donalda Vista is holding a Community Picnic there on Saturday of this week. Bring your lunches along and enjoy the basketball and other games arranged by the sports committee.

Do not forget the Donalda Sports Day on The 14 of July.

The canning season is now on. All the boarders you are busy. Likewise the housewives. We are very sorry to learn that the members of the boarding staff are all leaving.

Miss Fleming is going for the summer months to Kingston, Ontario, where she will take a special course in chemistry. She has accepted an invitation to fill a vacancy on the teaching staff at Stettler High School at a very satisfactory remuneration in salary. We have not as yet learned where the other teachers are going, but we extend to them our best wishes for a most successful year.

JUDGES APPOINTED

OTTAWA.—Forty-one judges have been appointed since December 6th, 1921, it was stated in the house, in answer to a question.

ATTACKED BY LION

SUDBURY, Ont.—At the conclusion of his act at a circus, playing here, Steve Batty, the circus lion tamer, was attacked by one of the lions, and before he was rescued the beast had inflicted injuries to one side of his body and his head. [illegible] it's [illegible] claws.

Geo. Summers, while out hunting last Saturday, had the misfortune to get his arm full of shot. In some accidental manner. He is doing nicely at present and all his friends hope it does not prove serious.

Road work will start in in order and G. K. Volker and R. E. Caldwell will be our official forman. The trouble last week in the verbal as well as the east and west road to the school. Unless there is a surplus after these roads are put in order the Anderson brothers and Rose Highway will receive any attention this season.

Sorry to report the serious illness of Lynn Sanders. Latest condition is no serious, was decided to remove him to the Red Cross Hospital at Calgary on Monday. All friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Miss Mildred Fisher who has been attending school in Erskine is home for the holidays.

Crops and gardens in the districts are quite immune and with a continuance of moisture looks like a bumper crop for 1925.

The district mourns the loss of little Anna Kress, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kress. Anna was very bright and affectionate and had she lived until June 25th, she would have been 4 years of age. The funeral service was held at the residence on Sunday by Rev. Mr. Gordon of Big Valley, interment in the Rowley Cemetery. We extend our most heart felt sympathy to the bereaved family in their hour of sorrow.

Round the Country

The by-law for the Wetaskiwin hospital was passed by the Council on Tuesday night, and borrows law on Wednesday, June 30th, and will submitted to fame until August 15th.

There seems some confusion about the meaning of the by-law and we submit the main changes as follows:

1. In this By law the expression "shop" shall have the meaning assigned to it in the Early Closing Act of Alberta, save and except any trade or business mentioned in the schedule to the said Act, and save and except the trade or business of garages and motor machinery shops.

2. Every shop within area of the Town of Stettler shall be closed for the carrying of customers, that per say no customers on every Wednesday from the passing of this By law ~~during~~ the months of June, July and up to and including the 31st day of August in the year A. D. 1925 from the hour of twelve o'clock noon until the hour of twelve o'clock midnight of Wednesday.

From the above the purpose of the by-law is evidently to close all stores for the carrying of customers, that per say no customers the opportunity of buying a half holiday, once a week during the summer months. An objection of course may work at his store or shop if he wants to, the only proviso being that the store be closed for the carrying of customers.

Clause 1 gives the exemptions to the by-law. These are those mentioned in the schedule for the Early Closing Act of Alberta, and in addition the trade or business of garages and confectionery stores.

The schedule of the Early Closing Act of Alberta includes the following: Post Office business, Sale of Medicines and medical and surgical appliances, Sale of tobacco and beer, refreshments for rest-occupation on the premises, sale of tobacco and other smokers requisites, sale of newspapers.

For a number of years there has been agitation in Stettler to have a weekly half holiday during the summer. It has proved impossible to have every business establishment on the same day for several years and in this is the first year that legal formality will be complied with by taking a petition and passing the by-law.

Now that the by-law is passed, there should be a thorough try-out of the system, and it is hoped that all those who are against it equally loyal to it by first complying with the by-law that we can judge whether the system is a good one or not for the town and district.

The arrangements are not perfect in every all cases of necessity, and exceptions, and the spirit of the by law should apply without regard to technical errors in the act itself.

The by-law will be in force for the months of June, July, August and September, 1925.

There will be a large number of visitors in Stettler here and district during the summer. The Old Timers' celebration and the annual Stampede will take place on July 30th and 31st and August 1st, and the Government General will be here on August 15th to unveil the War Memorial.

As far as travelling facilities are concerned Stettler is favorably located as any other town in central Alberta, and people will have little trouble in getting here in the minimum space of time, whether they travel by aeroplane, railroad or automobile.

The town is the centre of the lines of railroad, the C. P. R. and the C. N. R. and also of several trunk automobile roads which are now in the hands of the contractors and two graders. A

Here and There

Canada spent $40,000,000 for boot drug for prevents and re-establish quest of Veterans of the Great War, according to a report recently issued from Ottawa by the department in charge of the work.

Without a dissenting voice over $1000 worth of goods were sold at the auction sale held at Donnie Free area under the auspices of the Grain Growers' Association which sells only for a two-thirds basis of all cattle sold.

Two thousand young buffalo from the Wainwright herd will make a 300-mile trek northward this summer to their buffalo "nursery" in Hay River where they will be turned loose to roam with the wild wood bison which roam that area.

"In all parts of Canada and the United States," according to Bob. C. Hodgson, editor of the Trade and Journal of Customs "Hooked Noses are being straightened, while the brow was and that are raised." Further on what was once considered out of fair value now is considered the very part of the form." Mr. Hodgson adds.

Fifty-record established yesterday at Acme when 114 horse worked on one field of one time—working 14 hours and 40 minutes. The field has been broken at Gadsby, Alberta. When the neighbors of J. B. Ball saw the crowds suffered a broken arm, put in an 160-acre crop in 27 and 1/2 hours at work on one day and 17½ hours. The crop was put in in a single day.

R. E. Horton, whose horse Hamlin made a record trip from Calgary to Bagdad Derby, will visit Canada in the fall on a race to run from Calgary which country he hails. He will probably arrive in Calgary on the Homeless from Southampton on October 6, stay a short time in the Dominion, and sail from Vancouver for China on the S.S. Empress of Australia, October 15.

Suicide in nine months after the fire that destroyed it last October, the Chateau Lake Louise hotel opened for the season on Saturday, May 31 as the Trans-Canada Limited passed through the mountain run. The hotel was enbuilt under exceptionally difficult conditions in temperatures as low as 70½ degrees below zero during which a record was made for the stones had to be erected about the Following the opening visit by Their Majesties King George and Queen Mary at Regina, Brandon, Brandon, the Duke and Duchess of York also went over the grounds. Their Majesties were especially delighted with Treasure Island, the Paradise of children, which runs right over the massive Canadian Pacific tracks that runs around the island passing on from the region of Hudson Station and the reproduction of the Canadian Pacific Station.

Pool Meeting

At a meeting of farmers held last night in Lonia Hall Mr H. A. Macmillan, one of the directors of the provincial Board, gave quite a very clear and concise outline of the situation and pointed out to the audience the many good features and the advantages to be gained by forming a local shipping association in the district.

Mr. A. J. Wright, a director in the operations of the Alta Co-operative Creamery also addressed the meeting on the duty pool and told of the success they are making of the local here at Alix.

After listening to both speakers who understood their subject and who went into them very thoroughly, making statements which may become pores, for his own satisfaction, one members left the farmers of this district have not already joined up 100 per cent.

Warden U.F.W.A.

The Local met at the home of Mrs. E. Cooper, on May 18th, for their monthly meeting. There was a good gathering of members and visitors, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted. The roll was called and bulletin for month on League of Nations was read, Mrs. A. Rose read a paper on Love.

Mrs. Price read several items, re-gaining the Pool drive now on.

The meeting adjourned and a delicious tea was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. H. Larkin, bringing a very pleasant afternoon to a close, to meet again on July the sixteenth, at the home of Mrs. H. Carder, when we hope to have Mr. Saunders, M. P. P., to address the meeting.

Dairy Pool In Alberta Urged By W. J. Park

ALBERTA FARMERS ADVISED TO WAKE UP AND TAKE CUTTING.

Vividly picturing the success of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association in British Columbia, W. J. Park, president and general manager of the organization strongly urged that the people of Alberta should organize at once by addressing a fairly well attended meeting of farmers, Strike even and Stettler on Tuesday night, June 16th.

"It is up to you farmers to wake up, step and take control of your own business," said Mr. Park. "By doing the returns will assure you of larger success."

Mr. Albert Scott of Gadsby acted as chairman of the meeting and outlined the efforts that are being made in Alberta to organize those one year.

Mr. Park then delivered a lengthy address. Mr. Park said in part: "The producer is the all-important section and should be organized so that he can control the price. Organization is the key to success. Organization is the key to success. Organization is the key to success

The Stettler Erskine game at Erskine Wednesday night, June 17th, was brought to an abrupt conclusion in the second inning. Score stood 2 to 1 in favor of the home team when the heavy deluge terminated proceedings.

The Tennis Club Dance Committee decided to carry on as advertised and although many of our country friends were unable to attend, a jolly crowd topped the night fantastic until one o'clock. Mrs. Scorse and Clark, and Mr. Morrison and Mitchell contributed the music which was appreciated and enjoyed.

We were delighted to meet the Lord Mayor of Nevis in town on the evening of. He appeared to be in very excellent spirits as he commanded the expeditions which resulted in rather forced acquaintance to the Rebel Army commander, at the hotel of appropriation he ventured the name of the particular brand, in the parlor he turned on—but shall not disclose it. When he witnessed to the price of beer a quarter—or fifty cents—per glass, with the 20 cents included, his only comment was "Good heavens—it was an orphan. Did You Ever Stop To Think?

By E. S. Wade, Secretary, Shawnee, Oklahoma, Board of Commerce.

THAT modern railroads are simply bar machines for the carrying on of work, and not vane transportation.

THAT railroads operate day and night everyday in the year and must be allowed to make enough money to carry on successful operations.

THAT in these days of keen competition only those railroads that are thoroughly sound can hope to survive and to give the service required by the business of the country in a healthy condition.

THAT railroads are a necessity, and a luxury. Without them the business of the country could not be conducted

THAT railroads must be thoroughly equipped to handle all classes of transportation. They must be able to handle livestock and passengers carefully and economically, not to do so would mean a slow down in business for everyone.

THAT railroads know that if they are to survive they must have support at least equal to that of the rest of the business world.

THAT full trains mean a profit. Empty trains mean a total loss.

EVERY SECTION, IF IT IS TO MARCH AHEAD MUST HAVE GOOD RAILROAD SERVICE; IF IT DOES NOT NOW EXIST, SOME BODY MUST BUILD IT.

NO ONE IS ABLE TO MANAGE A BUSINESS EXCEPT THOSE WHO HAVE HAD MANY YEARS OF TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE IN THAT BUSINESS

A RAILROAD IS A BUSINESS ENTERPRISE, SUCCEEDING OR FAILING LIKE ANY OTHER BUSINESS.

IT IS ABOUT TIME PEOPLE QUIT BECKONING RAILROADS AND GAVE THEM BOOSTS INSTEAD OF KNOCKS.

RAILROADS SHOULD ADVERTISE, NOT OONCE IN A WHILE, BUT ALL THE WHILE. THEY SHOULD TELL THE TRUE FACTS ABOUT THEIR BUSINESS. THE TRUE FACTS WOULD CREATE MORE SUPPORTERS AND TURN MANY KNOCKERS INTO BOOSTERS.

SUPPLEMENTARY SHOP REPORT

Further information respecting crop conditions in Alberta is the subject of a letter and other pamphlets issued by the Department of Agriculture. The absence of the promised rains several last weeks indicates that several large areas in the most central portion of the province have suffered rather severely from operations of the cutworm and grasshopper. This information has been made available as a result of a survey completed on behalf of the Department.

In some districts it is estimated that the wheat yield will be less than 40 per cent. normal, and it has been reported in these districts that re-seeding with other crops, thus reducing the general acreage in wheat. Districts in the extreme south and south-eastern part of the province have also suffered from grasshoppers.

Fortunately, however, the greater part of the province has escaped serious injury from insects and has been favored with good rains. Reports from the north-eastern portion are very encouraging, and it is also stated that the cutworm has appeared in other areas where it has not been known to exist before. Reports from the Peace River district indicate that crops are making satisfactory progress.

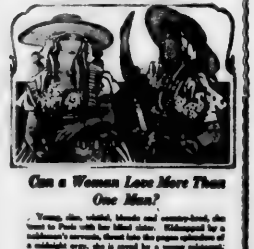
THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY—3 DAYS
July 2nd, 3rd and 4th
LILLIAN and DOROTHY GISH IN "ORPHANS OF THE STORM"



Can a Woman Love More Than One Man?

Young, chic, wicked, blonde and enemy-bent, she went to Paris with her blind sister. Kidnapped by a soldier's sweetheart, thrust into the gayest quarters of a midnight orgy, she is saved by a young aristocrat. They began one of the finest love stories of history. But each member was a Ghost of the People, from the blade forged by the peasants to the throne of the revolutionary. Protected and persecuted! Women's chief instinct—motherhood! Discover the secret of Fouquet, Danton, Robespierre, Gilbert's and Louis. This love is the most sublime ever told. The fear of three foes for three lives, two born for them, is the fear of a nation for two kingdoms! Behold "Orphans of the Storm."

A Griffith Production

Admission—25 cents and 15 cents; The Matinee. Admission, Evening—35 cents and 15 cents; The Matinee.

Erskine News

Mrs. Barton, nee Miss Lee, who has been visiting relatives in Erskine and district, returned to Edmonton last Friday.

Miss Hatton McRoberts left for Calgary, Thursday of last week. During her stay in Erskine she made many friends, who regret her departure.

T. H. Bentham, boardman of A Battalion arrived last Saturday for a short visit. Mr. Bentham is connected with the Chapter, Scotland, either of the Canadian Pacific Railway and commenced in charge of a party of 200 lumberjacks who were located at various points on Hamilton and Saskatchewan.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sorensen announced an interest call to Calgary last Sunday, owing to the serious illness of Mrs. Lund Lyon, who is recovering nicely and in Calgary Hospital.

Will Rowland, while driving to Alvin on Friday of last week met with a mishap as new grade entering the car to turn team over. Fortunately no one was injured.

The Stone Bucker Limited with a full passenger list paid the usual week end visit to Erskine last Sunday afternoon.

Clarence J. Gallogan, Belleville, Ontario, has completed position in Erskine without an intermediate teacher.

Miss Grant of Bentley, was on Erskine visitor last Saturday, the guest of Mrs. John McRae.

Harry Lyon shipped a car of cattle to Calgary on Tuesday.

The road from Stetler to Erskine is now a regular boulevard in comparison to former conditions. This will enable the Lord Mayor of Nevis to pay us many frequent visits.

The road from Erskine leading south has been "done" by the municipality, several men working during the past week in the process. We hear it is to be a permanent improvement.

J. Shearer's and family of Drumheller, and Mrs. Gough, Dowling last Sunday afternoon on their way to Battleford, where they intend to make their home.

Fenn News

Your local correspondent apologizes for the lack of local news last week, but she was away at Edmonton attending the Grand Lodge session of the Canadian Beet Growers Association and the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists both of which were held in Edmonton. I interviewed Alberta and to which also were kindly invited. The lectures were highly educational and delightfully entertaining, although all those who were lucky enough to be present must have swept with a very keen sense of Canada's position in the pursuit of agriculture.

I am sure that we unite in condoling our very heartfelt sympathies to Mr. and Mrs. W. Elwin in their recent double bereavement. The passing away of a grand child to the elder's community and our hearts go out to Mr. and Mrs. Noble in the sinister's sympathy.

The municipality of this district have been very notably in the news at the Fenn cattle platform. The banks as at Fenn were bounding to go to bed and strong for livestock.

The Fenn Parish will be held on Jack Lockwood's quarter near the lake about 1 mile north of Aungier School house on July 1st.

Meet meeting of the U. F. W. A. on Wednesday, July 8th, at the home of Mrs. Curro

WEDDING

STRATTON—HANSON

Mr. Alberta T. Stratton and Miss Minnie Angelina Hanson, both of Dunsdale were united in marriage at the United Church Parsonage on Wednesday June 24th. The register was signed by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bromley, also of Dunsdale.

The man with a growth inside his world is at crossy brought it to himself who needs to take a mental and moral outbreath.

Names of Stettler's Old Timers

The last one not appear again. It appears on the list of Old Timers for me as a chance to whom everything has ... never used to attend the Big Reunion ... July 30th and 31st and August 1st. Those having friends not included on the list should send name to Mr. B. S. Free, who is in charge of the list, ... that everything can be completed. Old Timers living within a radius of fifty miles from Stettler are expected to be on hand without a special invitation, as the entertainment is for them and their distant friends.

Round the Country

The vacant lots in Stettler offer both a problem and an opportunity. Many of those lots are owned by private individuals and will be used by them at the right time. But unoccupied frontage in the town and even on Main Street are several lots owned by the town, and they offer much room for improvement like unto a boulevard and the planting of trees and the planes for the private lawn.

The Board of Trade purchased the lawnmower at the Wild Rose Meet and we do not up as an investment. We understand the mower has proved that a high boss mower can be the proper thing to have around a park, and it is a necessary tool and means a saving in the long run. The Chinook Horticultural Society Board of Directors could do nothing better as a property investment than to buy a new lawnmower and keep the present one sharpened and in good working order.

Dayton, Two Mountain—Mr. Thomas Hough, high school master at Dayton, was inducted by a Rhine county grand jury here today on a charge of bootlegging evolution in a public school in violation of the Tennessee law. The judge set July 10th, at Dayton for the trial of the case.

The question is, what will we do about the unlimited town? Will Mayor Jamieson have Lady Byng come along the West Street and stops to read the hand-made boards about the baseball game or the boring tournament at the national grove.

Work is being done every day on the grounds surrounding the War Memorial and the authorities are spending a good deal of time planning improvements for this section of the town. By August the grounds should be attractive and the donart and a fitting frame for the monument that is to be erected. Standing room for the public during the unveiling will be necessary and a seating capacity for the ceremony. Planning the grounds for the unveiling is a task.

There are a number of vacant lots in the town that could be used for a park. Some of the

GADSBY NEWS

The Women's Institute of Gadsby held their regular monthly meeting on Saturday July 4th, with a good attendance of about 25 members, and three visitors from Erskine, Mrs. Thomas, the District Convenor presided over by Mrs. H Bowers and Mrs. Wood.

A letter was read from Mr. Wood of the Soldier Brothers Board thanking the members for their kindness to the war soldiers who have lately come to our district. A letter was read from Mrs. (Rev.) Steele who is in the Edmonton Hospital, thanking the ladies for a bouquet of carnations sent by the Institute since her illness.

A motion was passed that henceforth the Institute share their good wishes for the sick in the way between Gadsby for other parts, by some nurse gathering photos of group pictures as formerly.

Just how it might say that the Institute put on a card party a week or go for three departing members Miss Hattie and Miss Emily, who have bought recently in the Gadsby School, also Mrs Chamberlain, who left for Lougheed.

Mrs. Thomas was asked to address the meeting and did so very acceptably. She reported that the Ranch Institute was not in a very flourishing condition at present, and congratulated and cheered up with up in all their losses, and on the friendly attitude between the settlers in the district. She spoke especially of her experiences on the prairies, the lack of neighbors and convenience of the early days, and the kindness that all pioneers receive. She said she could not say to a newfanged plumbing and conveniences of Institute work in the friendship the women have with each other. "It is a real thing to get together and work for some purpose and good as it does our attempts together. Some Institutes put too much emphasis on the unimportant things, but kindness and friendliness are very important to keeping interest vitality in any Institute. Life is made up of little things and the little kindnesses of life are the big things after all. Kindness to the sick and lonely is the most worthy work that can be done for any Institute. Pride, good will among the members and the Institute will flourish."

The next item of business was deciding on a roll call for next meeting and it was decided every member should answer with a recipe for a salad.

Mrs Holgush, who was sent as a delegate to the Provincial Convention at Edmonton, was unable to attend, but sent in her report, which was read by the secretary.

The meeting was then closed with the National Anthem.

Annual Report of The Women's Institute Convention at Edmonton

(By Mrs. Holgush)

The Annual Convention of the Alberta Women's Institute was held in Edmonton, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 26th, 27th, 28th and 29th. About 250 delegates and friends attended the opening session of the convention and Mrs. Bayne, Mayor of Edmonton, presided. Several addresses of welcome were given by Mrs. Bracken of Hanna, Mrs. Stewart of Peace River was elected president of the Alberta Women's Institute Long Council of Women, brought greetings from their organizations while there were responding addresses by Mrs. Hoyd of Lacombe. Mrs. Isabelle Noble presented the annual report of the branch of spring roadside, a greetings from the Women's Institute of Ontario, and brought greetings to the Convention, and spoke on the importance of public health and child welfare.

Following these greetings was a splendid address by Mrs. Mrs. Wood of Berle, Manitoba, President of the Canadian Federation of Women's Institutes of Canada.

The emphasize that fact that our rural women hold the destiny of agriculture in their hands and it is only when the farm home is made attractive that we can inspire it from the love for the land. It is also important to plant trees around the farm home, to keep poultry, pigs and other live stock, and that the living will not be neglected for the luxuries.

It was in July in the country and early in the morning that the beauty of rural life that the rest of the world. Many people have left the country from there the movement has spread all over Canada to the Britain and the continent of Europe and in the countries of the world. Their immediate cause of the movement was until 1913 as a consequence of World War. Many people left Hungary as far as first presented. The Federated Women's Institutes tended to unite as one Institute in each province of Canada, without which no good can be accomplished. Mrs. Bayne, in the presentation of world peace, it helps in the development of rural life. She further, it suggests way and means for the improvement of rural living and the development of great rural industry, and there can be no good. Mrs. Bayne also spoke of the good work the Women's Institute is doing in welcoming the new settlers coming to this land to forget that the immigrant of to-day is our neighbor of to-morrow, and has

Don't Murder Your Costly Tires

(By Erwin Greer)

President Greer Tells of Automobile Engineering Research

Have you ever had an experienced engineer look into the management of your automobile tires to tell why they are constantly running out of air? Perhaps the reason for a driver's neglect in this matter which affects the tire more seriously is that, while the tire is a very important part of the car, it appears to be a very simple mechanism. Well known as the fact undoubtedly is, engineers for more reasons continue to be very prevalent and in spite of the ... [illegible] ... tire.

Perhaps the reason for a driver's neglect in this matter which affects the tire more seriously is that, while the tire is a very important part of the car, it appears to be a very simple mechanism. Well known as the fact undoubtedly is, engineers for more reasons continue to be very prevalent and in spite of the ... [illegible] ... tire.

One of the most useful things to carry along in the car is a 25-foot length of one-half inch manilla rope. In the first place, it is an admirable tow-rope. It can be wrapped around the axle and sprag after some of the sprag leaves have been broken to get home without breaking the rest of the lever. It can be cut in two and wrapped around the wheels in a mud hole to give traction where it would be impossible to fasten on chains. The rope can be used even as a spare when the last spare has blown out and will save the rim on the journey home. Always carry one with you.

Next week's article "The Careful Driver."

SIMPLE TEST FOR THE PROPER ALIGNMENT

Jack up the car. Then hold a rule close to ... and revolve the wheel by hand. If ... is out of true the space between end of rule and rim ... ways over the road by a very slight misalignment in the wheels.

It usually surprises the car owner to learn, in instances that a Stettler tire, which is out of alignment by only one little inch, will actually be carrying it sideways 174 feet in every mile.

Should a 34 inch tire, out of alignment one inch, run 5,000 miles, it will cover 3,302 miles of that distance by turning over and over as it should, but it will have literally dragged sideways the remaining 100 miles.

The tire would have to an exceptional extent, not to be completely worn out by this 100 miles of sheer dragging—no matter the weight of the car. Consider just how few car owners take the matter seriously enough to keep their wheels perfectly parallel, there can be no doubt that a large portion of 10% ... [illegible] ... up by useless wear.

MINIMIZING THE RISK

A Bostonian purchased a second hand motor car, and the first time he was out with it the chauffeur seemed to have great difficulty with the cut-outs.

"You're such an'ful fast," said the owner.

"Woosh," gasped the driver, "cheap

"Then, for heaven's sake, ladder," cried the host, "run into something

BIG CELEBRATION TO BE HELD JULY 30, 31 & AUG. 1

The real letter dat ... on Stettler the one ever will be July ... Visit ... Aurori Ld, when the Old Timers' ... erator, the Summer Fair and Exhibition, the Stampede and Eth's Carnival will all be held.

Stettler is holding its 20th anniversary this summer on the above dates, so the local events have been lining in the fall of 1905. It is a very appropriate time to hold the Old Timers' Re-union and judging from the replies to the invitations sent out to distant old timers, there will be a record crowd of these old timers who still live in this district present on the above dates to meet the old friends who first ... in this district. Notice will be compared and experiences related and the town and district is making full preparations to make at home all former residents and all visitors who arrive here for the Celebration. At the same time will be held th. ar.' Exhibition, and in keeping with the importance of the season, the Exhibition will surpass all previous records and will afford a complete illustration of the agricultural resources of the district both in grain and live-stock. This Summer Fair has always been good, and this year, with good crops, and good prospects, it will be better than ever before. Stettler always does get in touch with Secretary Geo. T. Day and tell him the prize money that is to be offered for that Fair.

It is only a few years ago that this district was a ranching country. In 1905-06, the ranches and cultivated farms existed together, and it is also quite appropriate that the Stampede be held this year to commemorate the passing of the ranches. There are many good ranchmen living in the district, and there are few people who do not have a thrill when a wild horse ... [illegible] ... Stampede. Stettler has ... [illegible] ... The provincial treasurer states that there is no thought of putting the Alberta Farm Loan Act into effect. It is operation was deferred pending the passing of several court legislation at Ottawa. Though a committee was to be appointed by the executive of the province, it was reported by the minister on the ground that, while it was appreciated on the subject in view, it did not the chance to give proper consideration to the matter. It is said that the minister just before prorogation of the legislature announced changes in the Alberta Farm Loan Act which would make it more acceptable, but subsequently he announced that it would not be operated under the present conditions.

[illegible] Premier Brownlee's return from the Imperial Conference will be followed by a visit to Ottawa, when he will confer with the Dominion government on the question of the Alberta Farm Loan Act. It is understood that the premier will ask for the appointment of a commission to investigate the whole question of farm relief, and that the commission will be composed of representatives of the province, the Dominion government and the banks. It is also understood that the premier will ask for the appointment of a commission to investigate the whole question of farm relief, and that the commission will be composed of representatives of the province, the Dominion government and the banks

NEAR POISONING AVERTED

Wholesale poisoning of Glasgow citizens was narrowly averted. A druggist supplied Salts of Sorrel instead of Saltpeter in a city butcher for preservative purposes. Some time after his departure the druggist discovered his mistake and hastened to the butcher's shop to find it was closed for the night. Determined to run no risk he was early astir next morning waiting at the butcher's door long before the time for opening. Fortunately none of the deadly stuff had been sold over the counter, though it was all ... and ready for disposal as usual ... customers.

PREMIER RETURNS FROM EAST

Premier Greenfield returned from Ottawa last week, following several weeks of negotiations with government and railway authorities with regard to the Peace River Railway situation, the natural resources question, etc.

No definite offers in connection with the solution of the railway situation with respect to the disposition of the E. D. and B. R. line to Peace River, or, have been received, one from the C. P. R. and the other from the C. N. R. These are now being considered by the government, in conjunction with Royal Bank, which has assumed the interests of the Union Bank in the railway line. The session of this bank will be necessary to any deal which is made. Complete details of any plan decided on will be ready for the adjourned session of the legislature when it is called.

Fenn News

The Fenn Community Picnic was the event of the past week, and everyone voted that a real good time was spent by the visitors. Sports and ball were filled up the day and the indoor in the district provided excellent fun. The booth was well patronized.

The first game, played between Fenn and Ewing resulted in Fenn's favor with a score of 17-7. The second game was a Fenn and Big Valley, with a score in favor of Big Valley of 6-4. Both games were well and caused a great deal of excitement. Visitors from all parts of the district were present and very bountiful summer conditions were enjoyed. Next year we hope to have such a bigger and better turnout.

Quite a few of our Fenn people turned up at the B. C. Picnic at Johnson Bend on Sunday last. Bobby Stewart played for Big Valley in the Ball Game between Big Valley and Ewing and put up a very creditable performance, according to the verdict of the crowd. The weather was ideal and the picnic greatly enjoyed by all those present.

Miss Edna and Mr. Irwin Crawford, and Miss Rena Legge and Roby Legge, accompanied by Mr and Mrs. Legge, of Stettler, are leaving for a vacation at Banff in the near future. Others are holidaying at Calgary, taking in the entertainments of the Stampede.

Good prospects seem to have put much heart into the local farmers.

Had rain this district on July 1st, doing considerable damage to new farms and a certain amount on the other farms.

Quite a few of our local farmers were fortunate enough to take in the Stampede. Mr. and Mrs. H. Lucas were visitors in Calgary the same time week, and your correspondent spent the latter part of the week in that city and was privileged to visit most at two of the most colorful and interesting of the many events. These were the reception and ball given by the War Veterans in honor of Earl Haig, and the famous and world-renowned Cowboy Ball. It is certain that in no other city except Calgary could such a truly representative gathering event be so successfully staged. The ball was a blaze of colors—and one of the most delightfully informal affairs that one could imagine. Thousands of people were present, dancing in the two ballrooms of the Palliser Hotel and in the streets. Those who were unable to take in the Stampede this year are advised to make an effort to be present next year, as one comes back with the most startling, stimulating and interesting memories which help very much to compensate for the time and cost of travel that is involved.

The recent U. F. W. A. meeting was held at Mrs. Curtis's and quite a few visitors from the north were present, including Mrs. Curtis's mother and sister. The picnic was discontinued and financial statement showed that we were some $60 to the good as a result of our efforts.

Mrs. Don Wallace has a small violin, Miss Esther Asmussen from Stettler. Mr. Wallace has just completed painting his house and a good job he has made of it too. A well painted house will kept house is certainly a great encouragement for a district.

The weather has been exceedingly hot during the past week, but except there is sufficient moisture still in the ground to counteract the hot winds

Erskine News

Wednesday, July 22nd, is the date set for the Erskine Annual Picnic and Sports. Baseball tournament will be held in which Rochfort Bridge team will compete. Games are scheduled for one o'clock, and the playoff at 6:00 p. m. in the evening. There will also be juvenile baseball, basketball and a full line of children's and adult's sports. Bertha Band will be in attendance.

Big dance at night.

The committee are working overtime in an endeavour to make the day enjoyable for young and old. Everybody come.

Additional visitors to the Calgary Stampede last week included: J. McCready, Cap. Baldwin, Archie McCready, Paul Gabriel, Thomas Dunn.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Lewis left for Vancouver, Thursday, July 9th, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. A. E. Morrison and Son Angus.

A. E. Morrison who is his annual vacation journeyed with them part of the way.

School vacation has created a serious atmosphere between College Heights and Trinity Avenue, which is up the heart, is very refreshing. We trust the placid situation will not contribute complacency.

Lois Gendry of Quinton arrived in Erskine last Saturday on a short visit to his home at Ewing.

Jessie Summers received word on Monday that his son Lynn, who has been in the Holy Cross Hospital, Calgary, for several months, is not making very favorable progress. He left for Calgary Tuesday morning.

Mrs. C. H. Wilkes left for Edmonton last Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mooren drove to Calgary last Sunday to be beside their little girl who is receiving medical aid in the Holy Cross Hospital. We are glad to hear she is doing nicely.

The Stampede visitors have returned to our midst again after numerous thrills and exciting experiences. We are advised that the days of motoring are many and varied.

What should prove an interesting game of Baseball is scheduled for next Saturday evening at 6:30 p. m. on the local diamond, when the Big Valley team will engage in battle with the Erskine top-notchers.

G. A. Bisbee, principal of Erskine School is at Edmonton visitor.

Esther Carlsen is reported making good progress after operation for appendicitis in the Holy Cross Hospital at Calgary, last Saturday afternoon. She was accompanied to the city by her mother who returned home on Monday afternoon. Jim Carlsen returned home from the Stamps the same day.

DESTROYED BY FIRE

Fire destroyed Beresford Trend Hill at Dunphries as the result of which operations at the mill have to be completely suspended and fully 100 men will be thrown out of employment. The pressure of the water was very inadequate and the damage amounts to many thousands of pounds.

STETTLER'S OLD TIMERS' RE-UNION BIG FAIR, STAMPEDE, ELKS' CARNIVAL AND BOXING TOURNAMENT IS THE COMING PROVINCIAL ATTRACTION

The stage is set for the biggest celebration of Old Timers that has ever been held in Alberta, the event to take place in Stettler on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 30th, 31st and August 1st.

Th town was founded twenty years ago, and previous to that time, the district was settled by ranchers and farmers. A number of the Old Timers who lived here previous to 1905 are still here, but a large number have scattered to all quarters to reappear at the Old Timers are divided into two classes. Those that came here previous to 1906 are the Class A Old Timers and a number are living in the district yet. Those who came between 1906 and 1910 are the Class B Old Timers and a much larger number are still living here. Twenty years is a long time in the history of a new district, and during that period there have been many changes, with old settlers and townspeople moving out and new ones coming in each year. Hence the list of Old Timers who are living in either parts is now a lengthy one, and invitations have been sent to all of these to be on hand for the Old Timers' Celebration.

The old time residents who are still living in the district for miles around did not yet any invitations as they are really the hosts of those who come here from a distance, and they are expected to be as much at home in the town, as the residents of the town themselves.

Special events will be put on for the entertainment of the Old Timers. There will be the Stampede, which has stock to industrial work. The district has a good crop this year and fruit crops never looks better, and the secretary reports that settlers are coming in each day or so. There will be a Stock Exhibition this year.

Another big attraction will be the Boxing Tournament between Alex Watson of Calgary, the provincial champion and Rogers of Moose Jaw, the former champion who is endeavoring to get the title back. This will be the most interesting welterweight bout staged in Alberta for some time, and will be certain to attract a large number of fans from all over Alberta. This bout will be under the auspices of the Stettler Elks and will be held in the Elks Rink, which will easily accommodate the many hundreds who will attend.

The Stampede program will include everything that has been shown Boosing to Wild Cow Milking, and the affair will be known as the Championship of I. H. Bruce, who conducted successful Stampedes at the Edmonton and Calgary Fairs.

There will be special platform attractions each afternoon and evening of Friday and Saturday, July 31st and August 1st. The Alexa Special Dancers will be on hand and a unique vaudeville program will also be given.

The Stettler Brass Band of 24 pieces will be in attendance for the three days of the celebration, and another wonderful attraction will be the picture "Zeebrugge" at Stettler Theatre, which will be given every afternoon and evening, for Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. This is the most spectacular and realistic picture ever everyone should see it.

Regular Meeting Of Board Of Trade

The regular meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening, July 20th, with President Wills in the chair. Secretary Degen was absent on his holidays and Mr. O'Callaghan was appointed secretary pro-tem. There was an attendance of about thirty members, and the reading of the minutes was dispensed with for the time being.

Unveiling War Memorial

Dr. Shapiro reported progress in regard to the visit of the Governor General on August 17th. The program was getting into shape and he hoped to give a definite outline at the next regular meeting. He had received a number of replies from the next-of-kin and addresses of several had been furnished and he hoped to have the list complete by the next meeting.

Old Timers Re-union

Chairman Free of the celebration committee then gave a short address on the progress made towards the Reunion. Botha Band had been engaged for the three days, and the Stettler Elks have charge of the concessions on the proper. He had received many replies to the invitations sent out to old timers living at a distance and the prospects were very favorable for a large attendance of visitors.

Mr. Dunlop then spoke of the program. An old timers' ball game would be held on Friday evening, the list of players consisting of men who had played here in the arly days of the town and district. Dances will be held under the auspices of the Board of Trade on all three nights of the celebration. The Stampede and Exhibition will be under the auspices of the Agricultural Society, Mr. Burnett of Stettler Elks reported that the Rodeo contest between Rogers and Wilson would be put on Thursday night at the Arena. Saturday night is open for the time being except for the dances and theatre, but there may be other special attractions such as races or the like of the Stampede.

Regarding advertising Mr. Dunlop reported that a sign painter would be engaged for window cards, and that windows would be decorated. Mr. Free reported that the town would

Grand Exalted Ruler Visits Local Order

Colonel Boyd Burritt, D. S. O., Grand Exalted Ruler of the B. P. O. E., paid a visit to the local Lodge last week end. He was met at the train by a committee of the local Elks and in the evening addressed the Lodge on their club rooms, outlining the aims and ideals of the order in a very effective manner. He congratulated the local club on the strides they have made in the short length of time they have been organized and said many fine observations, while in Stettler, that Elkdom have would flourish and eventually become a real benefit to the community

Colonel Burritt was entertained at Sylvan Lake on Sunday afternoon by the Lodge and on returning to town in the evening an informal dinner was held in the National Hotel at which he expressed himself as being delighted with his visit to Stettler and said he hoped that he might some day be able to return and enjoy the good fellowship and hospitality shown to him while on his first visit here.

IT ISN'T THE RAIN—IT'S YOU

If you can't look on the sunny side
Like the children in their paradise,
You needn't expect to find it
And that's nothing else but wise.

You'll find the world as you make it
For there's really no use in fuss
It's a mirror of yourself when you
Bring your smile or frown to us.

Real money can be made by men
Alright
Last summer only a few attend
When every one work and would Attend.

You can't learn from the dead
Any more than you can from a corpse
You can't learn to swim from the ocean

Some men will do what you want to Do
It isn't your occupation it's you.

Dear Mr. Willis:—

I see by your paper that there will be an old timers ball game at the fair ground. I want to ask that I need be there to see that game as well as to meet the old timers, as many of the old sports, and newspapermen will be present this year, except that I shall certainly attend one of the old times and good weather and would suggest a few names of some of the old boys that used to play ball in the game with. Of course I don't think the old players can play as good a ball than the young players can but from what I see in the papers they won't do much worse than the Stettler and Bothia teams are every this season. The names I suggest are as follows: J. Lane, Bashaw, Billy Smith, Wetaskiwin, Bert Hall, Wetaskiwin, Bert Hall, Wetaskiwin, Owen Bell, Red Deer, Jack Hall, Red Deer, Jack Hall, Red Deer, Jack Hall

TO ALL OLD TIMERS

Welcome To Our Town and District

Mr. R. W. Hawkins is a "regular" Old Timer, who came here in 1906. Bill Hawkins was born in Allandale, no, it is not an Alberta Old Timer. The Chronicler says it is Bill "Cleo" and those who buy it with Rubber Tires can tell what you would call Independence.

THE LESSON OF LORD LEVERHULME

The London Spectator considers that it is "Useful to Look at Lord Leverhulme's career and to note what he stood for and what he did not stand for."

The career of the late Lord Leverhulme has a great deal to teach us in these days, paradoxically, it probably has more to teach us than the world would have had to the days when monopolists are in fate and normal fear the British deliberately set out to build up to all intents and purposes a monopoly. We imagine the man who carved his own fortunes out of nothing out of soap, with little or nothing and becomes a multi-millionaire, a captain of industry, a profiteer, and is for lightly damned, and an exhibit rather than an example, is reported, for the Dr Smiles's to be the best authority. Nevertheless, we are not at present disposed of going to an extreme of reaction and of believe that the great industrialist, philanthropist and statesman never had their equals and can not play a very meaningful part in the modern world, it is useful to look at Lord Leverhulme's career and to see what he stood for and what stood for.

We are in doubt somehow that somehow Leverhulme and Henry Ford who are so much alike, and who are so much unlike, are destined to be remembered for the same reasons. Nevertheless, as we are inclined to think, the great man industrialist which are connected with his name will be most remembered for the way in which he treated Africa which supply almost the whole of the raw materials would find have been cotton and palm oil. This reason would have been the way in which he assisted the Native Government to the development of the resources. In the same way Mr. Henry Ford did not start with the object of making a humanitarian of himself but started with the object of making money (because in a humanitarian age is a necessary proof of success in industrial life) only to find that he had objects which he envisaged. His first real object was to supply the best motor car which would be produced at a very low price, since he recognized that the day had come when the car had to be a popular possession and not a luxury; and in order to do this he had to teach means to the people employed in producing his mass-produced article. As he succeeded beyond his wildest dreams he could not, of course, avoid making money; but it is, as we all know, an extremely rich man; but the fact remains that in the process of converting rich he has benefited millions. It is obvious that if what we call wealth in this new era of the brain is spread over the multitudes of hand-workers who enjoy its benefits in higher wages, in enterprises, the amount paid per head for the time or rent is very small. In America the cases of people on the whole are indeed benefited by any wealth they did in fact us. We not greater loss his money." Whether the cases of workers on the whole are inclined to point to a rosy picture of Lord Leverhulme's policy. "Capitalist, shareholder, hypocrite! He grew rich out of the misery of the workers."

How completely are we deceived by phrases! After the War when there was a scarcity of clothing, a very reputable firm of Manchester Merchants declared sale of clothes from standard prices—virtually by means of a clothing advertisement—and the shrewd public to believe that they were getting clothes at a bargain and bought them cheaply and efficiently and to the ruin from the exhortation of the existing tailors. He was regarded as a savior to mankind. He was not at all surprised the public well at on the purchase moment. He was not surprised when he found the public benefactor. Yet when one came to look into the matter, it was found that the clothes made to do in any moment were not cheaper than the clothes made to measure. Lord Leverhulme's policy was not that with many men knew cheap and nasty goods, but to provide workers with cheap goods which were made by workers with cheap labor. Yet if Lord Leverhulme had not burnt upon the world of trade, the great men industrialists which are connected with his name would have remained unknown. He was a trusted Africa which supply almost the whole of the raw materials would find have been cotton and palm oil. This reason would have been the way in which he assisted the Native Government to the development of the resources. In the same way Mr. Henry Ford did not start with the object of making a humanitarian of himself but started with the object of making money (because in a humanitarian age is a necessary proof of success in industrial life) only to find that he had objects which he envisaged. 1905 Stettler's 20th Anniversary 1925

In commemoration of the Twentieth Anniversary of the founding of Stettler, we deem this a fitting occasion to pay a slight tribute to those pioneers who laid the foundation for the best town in Alberta, and who, by their unfaltering faith in the future of the Stettler district and Alberta as a whole, made it possible for us to enjoy the prosperity which we have today; and, although we were not privileged to be present at the birth of the town, (coming here some four years later) yet our faith in the future has always been like theirs. Our district, in common with other new countries, has met with adversities, yet we believe that by application and industry and the exercise of our best talents, Stettler and district holds unlimited opportunity for those who apply these principles with undaunted courage. During these years our town and district has made wonderful progress, still we are only in our infancy and we will undoubtedly share in the prosperity of the great development that is dawning in Western Canada.

During the Old Timers' Re-union Celebration, we will be given an opportunity to meet a great many of the early pioneers of the district. Some will be absent, owing to the distance that separates them from their homes. Others will not be with us as they have passed to the Great Beyond. Let us not forget them entirely on this occasion, remembering the noble work and sacrifices that they made for the good of the town and district while living in the community. We extend a very hearty welcome to the Old Timers visiting Stettler at this time, and can assure you one and all that it is our wish to make your visit with us as pleasant as possible.

...made up of W Dunlop (Joe Rasmussen), Dave Olive, Ed Rayner. (But ... could not see the joke). The score ... Schwartzberger, with Constable Ray Wilson to come up and act as umpire.

Athletics

Baseball was the chief sport during the early days of the town. There were three or four rival teams, consisting of Stettler, Happy Hollow (Botha), Willow Park (now Red Willow), Kingsmere (now Gadsby) and Tees and Aldous. The Stettler team had the following line-up: Frost, Catcher; Sansom, Pitcher; Hibbens, 1st base; Gen. Dillon, 2nd base; Ed. Rupert, 3rd base; Shortstop; Roy Bullington, ...

Fixing Initial Payment On The New Crop

Announcement to be Made Late in August, It is Expected

An item of extreme interest to the whole local membership, the fixing of the initial payment for the 1925 crop, will likely not be announced until the latter part of August, or at about the same time in the month that the announcement of the initial payment for the 1924 crop was made. The consensus of opinion would indicate that a payment of about $1, the same as last year, will be the start-off.

The wheat market during the past few days has been of a character that may justify the board in exercising extreme caution regarding this important matter. In no previous year known to old-time grain operators has the market been so sensitive to any and all influences as during the past year. This condition quite possibly may continue until such time as the world surplus of wheat is some greater than that of today. Almost anything may happen by then under the prevailing situation. . . little whisper of rust starting up in Manitoba cut prices up 5c in a day recently. Here recently warmth of rust and drought came ticking along the wire from the Dakotas and a badge of 5c ensued. Last winter a millioneire in the states died and the market broke badly the next day when it was learned that he had been holding wheat options.

Farmers are beginning to understand that three or more payments once is very handy. Wheat growers are just as much interested in getting good mid-term payments later, especially when they realize that moneys in just as badly needed at the time of interim payment as at the time of the initial payment. That also explains that society would be more helpful to the growers if the pool than the newspaper-fiction that says "from the payment of last Saturday an initial payment.

Poison Ivy

Year after year as folks fare forth to camp or summer cottages interest in poison ivy revives. Many have got to learn to recognize these low leafy shrubby or semi-climbing plants, ranging from long prostrates at or just below ground level, and hoping the characteristic leaves of trips, crowds, pointed leaflets, and frequently the old adage, or rhyme, which fruits beneath them.

Failing to recognize and avoid the plants many people, susceptible to poisoning find themselves presently interested in remedies. Few seem to be aware that on contact with the plant, even with shoes, boots, that have been in contact, they should promptly remove all traces of it by wiping about all by freely lathering the skin with strong soap, and rinsing under hot running water, or constantly changed water. Inflammation resulting from unexpected exposure, disregard of the above precautions, may be relieved by applying solutions of baking soda or Epsom Salts, one or two teaspoonfuls to a cup of water and bandages. Various elaborate treatments are offered which are seldom any better, if any, or as readily available.

It is surprising how few efforts are made to clean up ivy from constantly frequented public and private grounds. Though eradication is bound to be laborious, there are plenty of people who could safely work at it. In hard or rocky grounds wherever injury to the soil does not matter, dry salt or strong brine might be applied before growth becomes too dense, or after mowing it with a scythe. Caustic soda and other poisonous chemicals are also recommended. As a rule, however, direct removal of the root stocks from the soil, by means of a mattocking hoe, pick or hook, digging, or ploughing, when possible, is preferable. Sometimes the roots are found matted or rock soil, and completely long strands or more stocks can be dragged out intact. This is the most safety and easily done before spring growth commences. Small patches have then been cleared up at one operation, which would have required repeated spraying.

Hundred Million Bushels Wheat Crop Estimated

E.S. Wilsonlow Figures That Harvest Even be Greater

"The crop is sure as well advanced that in my opinion Alberta has every prospect of having a wheat crop of 100,000,000 bushels or more, probably 110,000,000." Remarked E. H. Wilsonlow, grain man of Calgary, in the course of an interview with The Herald on Saturday. It ought in the meantime that the estimate of Mr. Wilsonlow in any previous years has been remarkably accurate, and even a little time ago, during the dry hot weather, when a 70,000,000 or 80,000,000 bushels crop was mooted in some circles, Mr Wilsonlow still adhered to his original forecast of 100,000,000.

"So far as the north is concerned, in view of the abundant rains during August and Saturday morning, there should be ample moisture now in the ground to assure a good crop," he said, "and the rain in the south will materially help the wheat to filling and in quality."

E. J. Simson, manager of the National Elevator Company, and vice-president of the Calgary Grain Exchange, stated he believed the maximum wheat crop in Alberta this year as 100,000,000 bushels and 125,000,000 bushels as a maximum. Up to July 30th, he said, there was a very good prospect of 150,000,000 to 175,000,000 bushels. Since the recent rains conditions of yesterday had taken a big change for the better," he said.

"This has been a fine week for the crops," remarked S. J. Ewing, secretary of the Grain Survey Board, and one of the directors of the C. P. A., who farms at Irricana. He said there should now be sufficient moisture in the north. In some parts of the south the damage already done would be hard to repair but from Calgary to Claresholm, Vulcan and other points there should be a good crop.

MARGARET LONG DECORATED BRIDE OF ROBERT KELP AT PRETTY WEDDING SATURDAY

A pretty 9 o'clock wedding united Miss Margaret Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Long, and Robert Kelp, son of Mrs. Cora Kelp of Long Beach, this morning. The ceremony was performed at the home of the brides' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Long, contract of Tuners Large floor vases of gladiolas decorated the room. The background for the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Ernest Allen of the First Methodist Church, was a lattice work arch overwood with flowers. A bower of white bell which hung from the arch, added to the impressiveness of the scene.

The bride wore a gray costume ensemble and an corsage of Columbian roses and maiden hair ferns. The rose was carried on a small muff trimmed by Evans Fisher, brother of the bride. The ceremony was played by Mrs. D. R. Mcintyre, and Miss Bessie Burgess sang "Oh Promise Me."

Only the immediate families of the contracting parties were present during the ceremony and to be the bride's guests at the dinner served at 1 o'clock. The bride's table was decorated with pink roses, and small rose baskets of mixed shades for favors.

Th ladies of the community are very busy this week with the dressmaking element, which are being held at Armagh schoolhouse. The young people are taking advantage of these sessions in the morning and are able to derive much useful and practical information.

The next meeting of the U. F. W. A. will be held on Wednesday, August 5.

Mrs. F. Cochrane had her entire family and her sister visit with her from Calgary for a few days.

Having the last week 33 inches of rain have fallen in two periods. Bin-splendid amount of moisture pretty nearly assures an excellent crop, both of grain and hay for this district.

Major H. L. L. Strange, and press correspondent have spent a small time day by auto practically all of eastern part of the province south of Stettler. They have found very few districts any better than this Fern, Stettler and Big Valley area. Upon south of Calgary, the same last district as High River Gleichen, Strathmore, Carbon Grassmere, etc., appear to have a real bumper crop, and your correspondent considers that these districts of magnificent fields would rival in many thirty-five bushels to the acre on summer fallow, if not more, and twenty bushels upwards to the acre on spring plowing.

The south eastern part of the province, north and under irrigation, appears to have again a complete crop failure. It is very sad and dispiriting to ride through this area and observe the many abandoned farms and deserted homesteads that has been back to old prairie on account of a few years' adversity. Much of this land is also to be irrigated and put under cultivation by rather deserving of to ship more farmers in these areas must be induced to irrigate their farms when the splendid object lesson which being from the south, added to the improvements of the same.

Rev. and Mrs. Lytle Honored by Members Of Methodist Church

The best evening of the Stettler Methodist Church before going into the summer vacation was spent on Tuesday last by Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Lytle, who are leaving in the near future to reside in Calgary.

Following a delightful social evening, a short program was rendered and presented by Mrs. Gandin and Mrs. North with purse of gold to the departing minister and his wife. The address read as follows:

"We are gathered together this evening with mingled feelings of glad ness and sorrow. We are glad, Mr. Lytle, that you are sufficiently restored to health to be able to be with us tonight, for we have missed you all these weeks. We are sorry, however that on hearing so you are leaving us. We are sorry that you are to be separated from us, and we appreciate the fact that you have been faithful in your duties as minister of this church. We are sorry that you are to be separated from us, and we appreciate the fact that you have been faithful in your duties as minister of this church.

Mr. Lytle, who showed the effects of his ill illness, responded very feelingly to the address. He spoke of the kind treatment received and ... and ... and ...

Central and Northern Land Settlement Association Active

President Van Allen, Mayor Stetchford and Vice-Presidents of Women's Institute Tell of Aims

On March 20th last, in Edmonton, there was formed an organization to be known as the Central and Northern Alberta Land Settlement Association with objects similar to the colonization activities of the early days of the province, but adapted to the modern needs of the present time. Aims to aid the development of the province, with the work of present bodies, also to aid the existing organizations, men in the field and the settlement of unemployed.

One very interesting experiment conducted by the association, and one which has brought them considerable proof of valuable advertising material as to the resources of Central and Northern Alberta, is a "letter scheme," in which three prizes are each were awarded to the three best letters from farm men and farm women, telling of their opinions on the future of not more than 100 acres.

The objects of the association are the field of usefulness which it aims to serve, are well set forth in the following statements by Geo. H. Van Allen, president; Mayor Stetchford of Edmonton, and Mrs. William Stewart of Peace River, vice-president of the Alberta Women's Institutes, and a prominent member of the association.

PROMINENT MEN SEEKS WAYS TO SOLVE PROBLEMS

The fundamental problem of Canada is population.

Genuine BAYER ASPIRIN

Say "Bayer" - Insist!

For Colds Headache
Neuralgia Rheumatism
Lumbago Pain

Safe Accept only a Bayer package which contains proven directions. Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets and bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists. Aspirin is the trade mark registered in Canada of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

Residence of H. F. Carder, Adjoining Stettler

We are probably the most over built nation in the world. We possess a vast physical establishment capable of accommodation with but few visitors, and a population of here and there, a population of 25 million.

The Central and Northern Alberta Land Settlement Association was brought into being with a view to stimulating efforts leading to the solution of the problem of population. It is a voluntary body of citizens who believe that Alberta offers opportunities for home making on it's rich lands that are unrivalled on the continent. It's development since it's inception in March, 1930, has been undertaken slowly but carefully with a view to it's permanent usefulness. From the outset it was decided that actual colonization efforts, such is extensive advertising campaigns in foreign countries, the sale of lands, etc., were matters for the National Government and the two great railway systems and their immigration agencies, rather than a body such as ours. The association has two big objectives. Firstly, it aims to foster and develop sentiment amongst our own people, particularly the farmer citizens, favoring incredible efforts by all to settle our vacant lands, and secondly, to build up an extensive and very practical organization having local committees in every city, town village and hamlet for the purpose of welcoming, assisting and directing for a time the new settlers brought in by other agencies, once they arrive at their ultimate destination. Progress toward both these objectives has been quite satisfactory.

The efforts of the association during Edmonton exhibition week, July 15th to 18th are entirely confined to the furtherance of the first of our objects which contains proven direction. Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets and bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists. Aspirin is the trade mark registered in Canada of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

MAYOR KENNETH GLAUTHROPP STRONG FOR SETTLEMENT

For the time being, agriculture is our backbone, and the mainstay of our towns and cities, and it is only by increasing the population upon our land that both our industries and urban centres will develop.

From the grain growing point of view our land is the best and cheapest in the dominion, produces more grain to the acre and at less cost for cultivation.

As an easy distance to the east, we have one of the finest all-the-year round sea ports in the world, placing the grain growers within reach of the overseas markets of both east and west, with their vast consumption for our farm products.

With a full adjustment of freight rates to insure transportation to our producers, which will enable them to compete into fair competition with other districts, nothing can stop the development of Canada."

MRS. WM. STEWART, VICE-PRESIDENT OF ALBERTA W. I.

No one should be more interested in the settlement of vacant lands than the farmers who are already established. There was a time when the farmer feared too much competition and a glutting of local markets, but that day is past. Alberta now commands a world market not only for cereals but for cattle, poultry and all dairy products, and that market is never full. Any one, for whatever conditions other industries may find themselves in the world's teeming millions must be fed.

Addresses Of Next Of Kin Are Wanted

His Excellency the Right Honorable Lord Bessborough, Governor General of Canada will visit Stettler on the 25th of August, and it will be the War Memorial at that time.

The G. W. V. A. of Stettler will look after the Father, Mother, Wife, Sister, Brother and Children of those who have made the Supreme Sacrifice. If there are any that we have the address of we would appreciate it. Will you assist us in securing these addresses, send whatever you have and address of next of kin of those whose name appears in the list below, that we have not yet obtained.

Dream Town To Be Awakened

For two centuries Nimfa, in Italy, has been a dreamy town, the unreality of its deserted streets and churches seldom realized, writes Agnes E. McKenzie, from Rome.

But it flourished, a staunchly-built one of the most travelled of all the roads that lead to Rome. Now it is the dark, unwholesome centre of the Pontine marshes which have remained a mystery for ten times the space through which an evil spell left Nimfa unpeopled.

That enchantment upon the town hereafter may be one thing the spirit that cast over it; it is night-fall, turning all things to shades of darkest linger there till sun-up into old ones. That is the purple Italian way of stating that those who breathe in the dank air of the marshes through the night or at any hour will be there their vitality sapped by malarial fever. It was that dreaded sickness from the marshes of the Pontine which banished the families from Nimfa, more effectively than a sovereign's decree. They left it to the bats and the owls at the end of the seventeenth century, like Pompeii, a relic preserved from the past by a power unseen which the research of man was unsuspected.

It is impossible this mediaeval town, or more broadly to reclaim the land, relates Prince Ascanio Colonna (Italy's Ambassador to the United States is quitting his post. It is not hard to appreciate Prince Colonna Constantine's reasons for returning to private life. From the fastnesses of diplomacy he must pale before the challenge of his cousin's baffling the augustness of twenty centuries to the present hectic, every-hour-counts, himself an eagle for time, for whom conditions other than the vast expanse of the Pontine marshes may find themselves in the world's teeming millions must be fed.

Greer's Mail Bag

(By Ern in Greer)

(President Greer College of Automotive Engineering, Chicago.)

Why is it that people always want to hat an automotive expert? Here I am trying to answer my mail and read intelligently and send mail I check full of nice cracks. Maybe some of this material will give you a little empty feeling in one of the folds that is holding me. But now I shall list you.

J. M. That awful rumbling at your stomach, John? Why that's people by the truck yet ate for dinner.

M. L. C. Who is the safest automobile driver? I should say the chap who has his wife along. He always keeps his eyes on the road.

Ade To employ young lady for two hours, who can drive Ford Car Must be reasonable. Box 642, R. M. Outlook.

What is the first thing he learns a bird running a new car, Reginald? The telephone number of the nearest garage, I should say.

And when the engine gave it a jar, John B. went "dead" with the rest of the car.

"We're going to have a big Knight ahead of us," said the girl as her husband's Silver syrup is behind the Stearns.

H. J. P.—Yes, Willis, in washing your car you should use soft water. Rain and a clean brand of cuss words.

T. E. E.—Overdrive pinions are sometimes dogs. Try adjusting the windshield. If that fails throw on the clutch.

Who said Fords are lazy, because they now deliver?

B P M Roadmaster per hour.

F O B. Greek term, but Latin in most of us. Meaning about like your last year.

Marketing Green Ducks

I have often wondered why it is that so many of the ducks that are sent to the Winnipeg market arrive in such poor condition. Many of them are dead, and the rest are in a very poor condition. Some of them are so weak that they can't even stand up. I have also noticed that many of the ducks that are sent to the market are not properly dressed. They are not plucked clean, and they are not properly cooled. This is a very important matter, and I think that the producers should be more careful about it.

Annual Meet Wheat Pool on August 5th

Will Be Here Representative Gathering Than Two Previous Meets

DELEGATES NAMED

FOR DISTRICTS

Directors of the Pool for the Ensuing Year Will be Chosen then

The annual meeting of the Alberta Co-operative Wheat Producers, Ltd., will take place August 5th in Calgary. The 70 delegates that will make up the personnel of the 1933 meeting will be a much more representative, attaining that extent of the two previous gatherings. It is a fact that the new plan of electing delegates has been put into effect in each section, and that is the reason why the delegates will be more representative. Each section has elected one delegate for each 1,000 members or major fraction thereof. Two non-members also are entitled to vote. Each delegate is entitled to cast one vote for each member he represents.

Lethbridge—District "A"

TO MOVE RAILWAY BRIDGE

Clearing Cross Station is a section in the south side of Red Deer and the existing railway bridge crosses a road leader. A conference between representatives of the London Court and of the Southern Railway in Red Deer regarding the project. The scheme, which has been discussed for more than twenty years was some months ago revived by the London County Council for the alteration to a committee, which is believed to have decided that the railway should approach the Southern Railway authorities on the matter. When the scheme was first mooted it was estimated that the cost of buying out the railway company and building a new road bridge would be in the neighborhood of $3,000,000 pounds.

Stettler Livestock Pool

The annual meeting of the Stettler Livestock Pool was held in the Council Chamber on Monday evening, July 17th, when the following reports were presented and adopted:—Secretary-Treasurer's report, Auditor's report and Directors' report.

The Secretary-Treasurer reported that the total number of cattle received for the season was 1,000 head, and that the total amount paid to members was $25,000.00.

The auditor reported some errors in the books between the Stettler Livestock Co-operative Association and the Alberta Co-operative Livestock Pool Ltd. was read and discussed. The local Association agrees to deliver all the livestock of its members to the Central Association for marketing during the years 1933-34-35-36 and 37 and not to sell to others without the consent of the Central Association, otherwise the penalty is $5 per head for cattle; $1 per head for calves and $2 per head for sheep.

The Central Association on it's part agrees to market the livestock so delivered to it through any established agency for the Co-operative Marketing of Livestock.

To grade feed and fatten to sell alive or slaughtered, as it's judgment may determine. From the proceeds of the sale the Association shall deduct:

(a) Cost of handling.

(b) The proportionate share of the operating and General Expenses.

And a sum not exceeding one per cent of the gross selling price as a commercial reserve.

The contract was discussed at some length and the new contract was signed and to conclude the meeting the old directors were re-elected by acclamation.

The directors elected were Messrs. Ben Bowman, Armstrong; Hedley Axe, Cosich and Burnett. George T. Day, Secretary-Treasurer.

At a subsequent Board meeting the appointment of a manager was considered and also the advice of well known stockmen in the district was sought. The convention to be held on August 4th.

Rain Improves Alberta Crops

Optimal Very Encouraging Following Precipitation During the Week

NORTH COUNTRY RAID TO BE IN FINE SHAPE

C. P. R. Reports Indicate That Good Yield Is In Sight

The rain which has improved crop conditions generally in Alberta, is encouraging reports from the various districts. Advices received by the Canadian Pacific Railway from its agricultural representatives indicate that the moisture has been widespread and beneficial. The rains extended to Manitoba.

From Next Prosperity

The Canadian Pacific Railway reports from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta have received copious rains during the week. Conditions are very favorable and the crops are fine.

The Lethbridge sub-division does not show up well, the only good district being Coalhale. At Grassy Lake Tober, Barnwell and Chin the crop is fair, but poor at Winnifred, Rowland, Bassano and Portage Springs.

In the Stirling, Coutts and Athabasca sub-divisions, crops are mostly fair. At Rosteed, however, after 55 hours' rain during the week, the crop is good.

North Country's Outlook

The north country is in fine shape. At Carnarvon, where there is ample moisture, the crop is stated to be excellent, very good at Biederd and Stettler, Erskine, and good at Veteran, and Legsair. Consort, Meeker, Kirkcaldy, Compeer, Pamlier, Major, Bowpen, Clive, Erskine, Bashe, Gadsby, Halkirk, Custer, Federal, Castrose, Obston, Bawlf, Daysland, Strome, Killam, Red Deer, Rosebrook, Wetaskiwin, Leduc, Strathcona, Sylvan Lake Bonnie and Kendal. This covers the whole of the north with the exception of Tees, Alix, Ridgevalley, Longbank, Blackfalds, Lacombe and Millet, where the crop is fair. In no case is it stated to be poor.

Calgary District

In the eastern portion of the province, the crop is generally fair to good but it is stated to be good at Brooks, Piney, Gleichen, Namaka, Chancellor, Langdon, Patricia, Duchess, Rosemary, Bassano, Standard, Tudor, Highlington, Arrowwood, Acme and Knowlill.

Compared with last week's report the whole situation, particularly in the south and north, have been much improved owing to the splendid rains of the past few days.

1905 Stettler's 20th Anniversary 1925

In commemoration of the Twentieth Anniversary of the founding of Stettler, we deem this a fitting occasion to pay a slight tribute to those pioneers who laid the foundation for the best town in Alberta, and who, by their unfaltering faith in the future of the Stettler district and Alberta as a whole, made it possible for us to enjoy the prosperity which we have today; and, although we were not privileged to be present at the birth of the town, (coming here some four years later) yet our faith in the future has always been like theirs. Our district, in common with other new countries, has met with adversities, yet we believe that by application and industry and the exercise of our best talents, Stettler and district holds unlimited opportunity for those who apply these principles with undaunted courage. During these years our town and district has made wonderful progress, still we are only in our infancy and we will undoubtedly share in the prosperity of the great development that is dawning in Western Canada.

During the Old Timers' Re-union Celebration, we will be given an opportunity to meet a great many of the early pioneers of the district. Some will be absent, owing to the distance that separates them from their homes. Others will not be with us as they have passed to the Great Beyond. Let us not forget them entirely on this occasion, remembering the noble work and sacrifices that they made for the good of the town and district while living in the community. We extend a very hearty welcome to the Old Timers visiting Stettler at this time, and can assure you one and all that it is our wish to make your visit with us as pleasant as possible.

Distribute your risks

"A" insurance company does not put all its eggs in one basket. It distributes the risks it takes in order to distribute losses also.

The capitalist does not invest all his money in one industry, he spreads his investments in order to reduce the risk.

The farmer who diversifies his efforts by mixed farming also lessens his risks. He is a far better banking risk than the man who stakes the soil by growing grain alone.

The Bank of Toronto stands ready at every point of contact to the utmost development of mixed farming.

LAUNDRY STARCH

Did You Ever Stop To Think?

Dr. F. R. Watts, Secretary, Shoe-makers, 1925-30, Board of Commerce

WHAT every time you take a vacation you buy

WHAT every time you take a vacation you are tired

WHAT the dollar can still command for cash.

WHAT the DOLLAR can buy whatever you want, but it is an expense for all.

THAT all should think over the disadvantages of the credit system and the advantages of the cash system.

THAT your investments are offering you very exceptional bargains at the present time.

THAT when you get more quality for your money, you are really getting long term gains.

THAT the advertisers make their wants understandable.

THAT there are "dark horses" in every land.

THAT the value of these items are going up and it continues to be so.

YOU SHOULD STUDY THE ADVERTISED GOODS TO LONGER

WHAT wealth is a service and a cost.

YOU INVESTIGATE, THE STRONGER YOU TURN THE LIGHT OF INVESTIGATION UPON THEM, THE BETTER YOU WILL LIKE THEM.

Prosperous looking customer: "Now, Mr. Hardhead, you will do, be sure. I expect to exchange it for a new one before the day is over."

VALUE

Value means what you get for the price you pay!

With the Chevrolet you get chassis design typical of the highest priced cars: an improved dry disc clutch providing astonishing ease of gear shifting; a rear axle construction of the finest type with one-piece pressed steel housing; durable Duco finish in beautiful colors; long semi-elliptic springs providing wonderful roadability and comfort in riding.

This combination of quality, comfort, utility and economy provides the greatest automobile value in the low-price field.

DONALDA

Mr and Mrs Aagard Vibe return last week from their trip to the States they have been visiting friend and attending the Centennial of the Lutheran Church

Mr and Mrs Eriksson entertained a number of friends to a Sunday dinner, among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. W Reid, Mrs. Ottinson and Mr. W Wilson

A number of young people motored down to Lacombe on Sunday for a brief visit with Miss Lena Stillstrom, the latter's popular operator in the telephone office.

Mossrs Guy Ingram of the Bank Staff have just been transferred to Calgary. We extend to him our very best wishes and congratulate her upon her promotion.

The concert, announced in the advertising columns of the Donalda Herald some time ago promises to be a very enjoyable affair. Quite a few artists have been secured and the program will be a very interesting one. Everyone should make a point of attending.

Rev. Mr. Hughes, who is taking for the present two weeks vacation, Rev. W. J. Howard of Forestburg will conduct the morning services. A special service and suitable music will be rendered at Sunday School at 11 a. m. Rev. Wallen at 3 o'clock and Donalda Union Church at 7 p. m.

Pickup—Flash

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, July 29th, last at the home Mr. Margaret Lash, when her daughter Margaret Lash was united in the bonds of Holy Matrimony to Mr. Frederick Pickup of the Prairie Grove District, Rev. Wilson then L. L. M. Baptist, pastor officiating. In the evening the guests present were their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Pinch of Lacombe and Mr. and Mrs. Goode of Red Deer, all were delighted with the bountiful supply of the good things of the season. The happy couple left on the following day for their future home in Pickup, Sask.

The wedding ceremony took place on the lawn in front of the house, where a beautiful arch covered with flowers & vines was located. Robert Flash led the bride to the altar while the groom was just arrived accompanied by a little flower girl Margaret Flash and Jack Flash. Miss Pinch of Lacombe and nephew of the bride sang the strains of the wedding march beautifully rendered by Mr. Ruddick.

While the register was being signed Rev. Hughes sang "The Garden of Tomorrow" and by special request "The Lo. of a Perfect Day."

After a most tempting breakfast, luncheon was served, addet shortly the hearty congratulations and goodwill and the the happy couple left immediately for the noon train on Red Willow and will commence their honeymoon by motoring on their return to Calgary, Banff and on to the coast, where they shall fill in the time for a couple of months. The large number of costly and beautiful and useful gifts bear testimony to the popularity and high esteem in which the bride is held. Upon their return they will take up their residence in Mr Frederick's home at Pickup.

Fielding Never Forget A Face: Never In Fact Forget Anything

Hon. W. S. Fielding, occupies unique position as Canadian politics. Broken in health, and disappointed in his last movement. When the question of securing him an annuity came before the House of Commons a few days ago, the attitude of those members who have long been his political opponents was unusual enough to call for comment on return he is held by I annoy almost all parties and classes.

A government official, for years in constant connection with Hon. Mr. Fielding in his work as a cabinet minister, has been quite an admirer of the unassuming man.

About the beginning of the present session of parliament at Ottawa, an old friend of Right Hon. W. S. Fielding, a member of long standing, called to see the veteran minister at his home. The friend was asked to join those the Fielding who had also sat in the legislature for a long time. I quite forget the name of the friend, but he was known as "Parental Cary," and it is quite possible that you may see a reference to it. At that time you and I were taking no part in politics, but we are doing now—in a subordinate way, of course, but we are interested in the affairs of state and especially in Hon. Mr. Fielding. You looked at the old gentleman, perhaps, as I did, and said "Judging, on you see that man-ister? Well, then, he's not." Parental Cary, and so it turned out.

The M P had forgotten all about the incident, but Mr. Fielding had not. He never forgot anything.

In the session of 1907, three years after the incident, he was on terms with the said gentleman, and he called for Richard Cartwright: "Mr. Whitney, Mr. Foster, both the Conservative leaders, and it was in this way that I was introduced to many of those persons, and it was in this way that I was introduced to Mr. Fielding's friends, whom he always remembered, and whom he always helped.

Soon after breakfast one morning the party were standing in the hotel rotunda waiting for the motor cars to take them to the city hall, where the mayor of Ottawa was expecting them. A corpulent gentleman, a pleasant face and glasses, walked into the office and said "Mr Fielding, you may not remember me, but I had the pleasure one day, years ago, of Mr. Hugh Brown, looked at her for an instant, and then said: "Why, of course, you are Mr. Laurence, from England, representing a home banking concern. I met you once at Hector McDougall's hotel at the Grand Narrows in Cape Breton."

The next day after lunch, when the party was again waiting for motorcycles, in a petty, commonplace looking gentleman, approached and asked Mr. Fielding if he knew of the monster bank at him and at Hawkshaw he was known as a very generous, unconcerned: "You are Mr. Shelland, you are a large planter in South Africa, you are interested in Georgetown, British Guiana." In such cases the visitor had "touched" the right man.

Cutting Down Expenses

(By Erwin Greer)

(President Greer (alleys of Automobile Engineering, Chicago.)

Are you one of those motorists who are afraid to take long trips for fear that something will happen to your car that you won't have time to repair? You needn't be for all we know about motor vehicles has been carried by observation.

Some fellows seem to be in already having engine trouble, while others are constantly familiar with their vehicles as to know exactly what to do when they are confronted by the slightest trouble.

It is not sufficient to know that the automobile with which you motor is equipped in observing when the engine is running, it must be definitely known that the correct gasoline and lubricating oil is under their control.

The amount of electrical current developed by a properly functioning generator is practically constant, but the amount consumed by the various accessories depends entirely upon the condition of the storage battery and the number of accessories in use.

It is not a good economy to run a storage battery that is not fully charged.

AN EXCITING CHASE

An exciting chase by the East Red police resulted in the apprehension of a number of Indians who had been engaged in a Wife-beating Bout at Hobbema on Saturday last. The Indians were brought to Wetaskiwin where they were fined $10 and costs or 10 days in the guard house. The police had to use their guns in order to effect the capture.

It makes money on the farm
Of course a farmer retiring to a well-earned rest it has been said, "He made a lot of money on that farm." The fact is that he made no more money than his neighbour, but he saved a great deal more.

One Good Cow is worth Two Poor Ones

RELIABLE statistics show that the average cow produces only 3,000 lbs. of milk and 100 lbs. of butter in a year.
By the careful selection of better-grade animals for your herd and better feeding, the yearly production of milk and butter can be doubled easily, resulting in increased profit to the dairy farmer.
Our Farmer's Account Book provides for a record of transactions pertaining to cows. Ask the Manager for a copy.

Settler and District Celebrates 20th Anniversary

Judging from the comments from [illegible] today, the celebration was a success, and we are not going to try to go over it in detail. The [illegible] was appropriate [illegible] Mayor [illegible] Stettler as the [illegible] Mrs. Mac Rose and Mrs. [illegible] "God Bless Them." Mr. Rod Mac [illegible] M. P. P. and [illegible] Also to R. B. Matchinar, Past Master of Stettler in 1906.

NOTES ON THE RE-UNION

Our statement was incomplete in last issue, in stating that the first guest leaders to come to Stettler [illegible] were Miss Kate and Miss Dutts Ramsay and the Misses Erickson. To these we must add the name of Miss Martha Pyper, who arrived with the family in the latter part of 1906.

A study of the list of Old Timers in the paper, gives the interesting information that the oldest Old Timer living in the district at present is Joe Murray of Buffalo Lake, who came here in 1875, or, exactly fifty years ago, and has been resident in her township and farming during that long period. The next oldest Old Timers are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Chaloner, of Buffalo Lake country, who came here in 1876 or 49 years ago, and who have lived in the district, and mostly on the same farm, ever since. Then come Mr. and Mrs. Tom Chaloner, of Stettler, who arrived in 1877 or 48 years ago. Next we have the well known Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Gray, who arrived in 1880, and have lived for a long period on the west side of Buffalo Lake. After the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Beebe, settled in the north-west settlement, and after that was over by becoming a resident here. E. H. Hamilton, of Content, and a first year resident of Stettler, as a pioneer dated in 1882, while there arrived Joe Hawkins, J. H. Wyatt, A. Grubbauer, and F. Whitehead, all of whom are living in Stettler and vicinity. The years 1883-4-5 and 6 brought to the district many of the old time settlers their names in this paper sometimes, and their names will have held the mind of the fore. This is a remarkable showing when we consider that the town started only in the fall of 1906, and indicates that there were many settlers here before a near neighbor was established, and that they are still here and going strong.

The feeling among all the Old Timers was of the most optimistic kind, and many of them and old friends here whom they had not seen for several years. That is the benefit of a Re-union it brings and friends together again, and when they part they can say that Stettler district is as good as any in the world.

Addresses Of Next Of Kin Are Wanted

His Excellency the Right Honorable Lord Byng of Vimy, Governor-General of Canada, will visit Stettler on the 17th of August and will unveil the War Memorial, at that time.

The G. W. V. A. of Stettler will look after the arrangements. Mothers, Widows, Brothers and Children of those whose names appear on the Memorial Tablet are requested to have the addresses of those as soon as possible with the Secretary of the Association by sending in the names and addresses to the Secretary, Box 444, Stettler, that we may communicate with the next of kin.

CLIVE A. SWAFFIELD,
Secretary-Treasurer.

RURAL RESIDENCE CHANGES

Bee-keepers of Central and North-ern Alberta held a gathering in Edmonton the past week, and made preliminary plans for an organization in this part of the province, to affiliate with a provincial-wide organization. The gathering was addressed by Dr. Malcolm Bee-Keeper Inspector, Mr Pellett made the prediction that in the near future Alberta would be shipping honey to the world markets by the carload. He believed that Alberta, by proper cultivation of soils was than that it has been grown. Mr. S. Squire, provincial apiarist of the province, is also of the opinion that Alberta is a natural honey country.

Is Fixed Speed Limit Illogical?

"There is a platform of command in the negative phase on speed and it is generally of it on it's positive side," said G. A. Hodgson, who recently returned from the annual convention of the New York Automobile Association, which he attended as one of the Ontario Motor League delegates. The N. Y. S. A. A. is affiliated with the O. M. L. and grants it's delegates voice power Mr. Hodgson is a past president of the Motor League and has taken a leading part in it's public safety campaigns.

"Without speed we would have a static—worse—a dead world," he said. "Therefore, saving time is saving and amplifying life—and in the field of individual transportation the motor vehicle is the greatest of time-saving devices.

"It seems, therefore, not surprising that when twelve of the leading contemporary American artists were invited to portray "The Spirit of Transportation," with one or two exceptions, they chose the motor car as the dominant note in each painting.

"Speed, therefore, is essential to safe, traffic conditions (witness, especially, the aeroplane) but it is generally admitted individual safety and reliability depend more on the driver than anyone at all times and under what conditions. While limits it is an infinitely complex one, we have the experience of those we seek to regulate. Because of these we are convinced that the solution by enlightening the masses and not by restricting the freedom of the individual.

Shattering Pigs From the Sun

Guessing pigs, especially white ones, are very subject to sunstroke if allowed to run in groups or rage without shade. An effective shade has been provided at the Experimental Station at Bindloss in the following manner. In the spring of 1917, carragana seed was sown in twelve rows, four feet apart, across the rear of the pig pastures, and fenced to keep all stock out. The ground was kept carefully hoed till 1920, when further work could not be carried on because of the thick root system and the branches, which, by this time shaded the ground sufficiently to smother weed growth. In 1917 the plants were thinned to one foot apart and the thinnings sold to a nursery at 1 cent each, which netted $120.00. In 1922 the fence was removed, and the pigs allowed to use the shelter. It is to be now for the third season, and affords a very efficient and artistic shelter. Cattle, sheep and horses must be kept away from carragana because they seem to relish it as much as grass. Mature bugs will also eat it if the pasture is not available.

Family Re-Union Held At Pine Lake

A very enjoyable family re-union and picnic was held at Pine Lake, Alberta, August 9th, by Mrs. A. E. Olson with her family and grandchildren. Those present were:

Mr. T. W. Bambaise, Moreton, R. I.; Mr. and Mrs. C. Bambaise and sons Alfred and William of Big Valley; Mr and Mrs. I. W. Olive and family, Ernest and Marilyn of Stettler; Mr and Mrs. Joseph Harbison and family, Dave, Josephine, Mary, Joe, Elizabeth and Janet of Botha. Mr and Mrs. A. E. Olson and family, Donald and Norman of Clyde, Alberta. Mrs. W. E. Hawley and daughters Patricia and Lydia of Salmo, B. C. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bright and son Robert of Tees, Alberta.

All the members of the family being present with the exception of Mrs. C. Olive of Boston, Mass.

Appropriate toast was tendered by H. L. Olive in honor of the absent one, followed by singing "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

After enjoying a tork y dinner and all the good things to eat, with all the trimmings, the remainder of the day was spent in games, etc., after which the whole party proceeded to Mr. Harbison's ranch to pass a very pleas ant evening.

Mrs. Olive is one of our old time residents having come from Moreton, N. B., twenty year ago.

Memorial Day Songs

The Committee in charge of the School Children for Memorial Day, August 21st, desire the parents to have the children memorize the following verses. The verse of O Canada first and last verse of Lead Kindly Light and the National Anthem.

O Canada, our home and native land,
True patriot love in all our sons command
With glowing hearts we see thee rise
The true north strong and free.
And stand on guard Oh, Canada.
We stand on guard for thee.
Oh Canada, Oh Canada,
Oh Canada we stand on guard for thee.

Lead Kindly Light, amid the encircling gloom,
Lead thou me on.
The night is dark, and I am far from home,
Lead thou me on.
Keep thou my feet, I do not ask to see

So long thy power hath blessed me, sure it still
Will lead me on.
O'er moor and fen, o'er crag and torrent till,
The night is gone,
And with the morn those angel faces smile
Which I have loved long since, and lost awhile.

God Save our Gracious King.
Long live our noble King.
God Save our King.
Send him victorious,
Happy and Glorious.
Long to reign over us.
God save our King.

O Canada
Our home and native land,
True patriot love in all thy sons command
With glowing hearts we see thee rise
The true north strong and free
From far and wide
O Canada we stand on guard for thee.
God keep our land glorious and free
O Canada we stand on guard for thee
O Canada we stand on guard for thee.

Lead Kindly Light, amid the encircling gloom,
Lead thou me on.
The night is dark, and I am far from home,
Lead thou me on.
Keep thou my feet, I do not ask to see

STETTLER'S EIGHTEENTH ANNUAL EXHIBITION WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

The 18th Annual Exhibition was held in Stettler on July 30th, 31st and August 1st, and the attendance was larger than in many years. The Fair Association is an educational institution and have been working for eighteen years with that end in view of encouraging the diversity of the products from grain to livestock, as well as ladies' industrial as if household products. The Fair Board have done valuable work during this time in encouraging the development of the best kind of stock and the highest grade of grains of all kinds.

Stettler is well suited for a first class Fair, as it is on two lines of railroad, and the track roads in the vicinity are in good condition. The Fair Ground is the finest equipment that can be found in the province, and has cost many thousands, and at the present time is in splendid shape for visitors.

Most noteworthy was the display of the cut and cattle shown by [illegible] particularly in the stocking strains, [illegible] In the latter [illegible] accommodate the best [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

HEADED by Yoho Hall, under secretary of the Japanese Alpinists' Club, the party of Japanese Alpinists left Jasper, Alberta, for a twenty-five days' trip into the Columbia Ice-field, one of the most famous regions from the mountain climbers. Three trips will take them in the footsteps of the Athabasca and North Saskatchewan Rivers, and are endorsed will be made to climb 10 east Alberta, a virgin peak which has so far defied all efforts to conquer its higher summit. Members of the party state that if the territory lies up to their expectations they will devote hundreds of Japanese climbers to the Rockies in the future, and the equipment assembled will be of the best.

Alberta's Freight Rate Case

The Province of Alberta will present a united front to the Railway Commission on the question of freight rates when the board reconvenes it's enlarged investigation into that question.

At a conference held in Edmonton last Wednesday at the invitation of the Alberta Government, at which representatives of the Boards of Trade of Edmonton and Calgary and of other interested bodies were present, the following presentation to the Commission, Alberta's counsel in the inquiry will be R. B. Woods, K. C.

(1) That the standard of mileage basis for rates should as far as possible be on the same basis all over Canada.

(2) That the distributing town tariffs should continue as at present, namely 84 per cent. of the standard mileage basis in the West.

(3) That the charge for any commodity to Calgary and Edmonton from Eastern points should not be greater than that charged from the Lakehead to Winnipeg.

(4) That the basis of export rates on grain and flour applicable to Fort William should apply to the Pacific Coast.

(5) Exception in part rate to do away with present anomalies.

(6) Adjustment of export rates on cattle to Pacific Coast to develop further markets for the primary products of Alberta and for necessary reductions in import rates to meet the requirements of the Province.

(7) Adjustment of class rates on the charter C. R. R. Mileage.

(8) Adjustment of rates so between distributing centres.

The matter of details in regard to equalization of rates generally and the meeting of commodity rates outside to the needs was left in the hands of a small committee consisting of the Chairman, Mr. J. H. Haines, Secretary of the Calgary Board of Trade; A. Chaud, Supervisor of Traffic for the Alberta Government; and Mr. S. B. Wood, Counsel for the Province of Alberta.

A thorough discussion of the many points at issue took place and an acceptable solution reached by the conference in all cases. All interested expressed themselves as well pleased with the results of the meeting.

Beggar—"Oh, sure, I wasn't always poor."

Lady—"No yesterday, you were dead and drunk."

The Small Town Republic

By Kathleen M. Brumpas

An hour ago, on my way home from the Stettler Stampede, I passed a small gathering of youthful humanity. They, too, were on their homeward way!

As the car sped by, in a little shred of dust, we caught a glimpse of dimply, grime-streaked faces, torn coat tails, dirty shirts, sore-toed bare feet, chubby chiefs fluttering wanly in the night breeze; a weary, but supremely happy throng, but, oh, such a happy little gang.

If ever there was a "small town," that bunch had. There was no mistaking it. Every person present was one of the dirty young faces we so passed and never saw "them, converted at an exciting ways of brand brimmed hats and a wild wierness that proclaimed to the roadside.

Amongst that little crowd of wouldbe cowboys were my own two young sons.

"Hey, mother," they pulled, as we slowed down for a moment's chat, "we won thirty dollars between the six of us!"

It might well have been five hundred dollar—instead of five dollars for all the pride in their eager voices. Thirty dollars between six doesn't sound very much after the big city prizes, but to those young cowboys, five dollars apiece, won by their own prowess on the field and in the saddle, seemed a fortune indeed!

I could not help thinking, during the three brief days in progress—a little Stettler, what a very definite part you play in the scheme of things. Fair and Stampede actually hold—in many country people scheme of an opportunity to go to the city, even for some big event such as a fair, but they can get into the little meets; local town. The big Stampedes at Edmonton and Calgary were not intended to be assimilated, but in comparison, the "Big Stampede" at Stettler and like small towns, was just as wonderful and just as thrilling as ever the city event could be.

There was, out at the Fairground a very real spirit of enthusiasm in enjoyment that was thoroughly contagious. You felt that everyone was having a good time. Despite the heat and the crowd and the noises, it was a real holiday for most of them and they meant to make the most of it.

The Elks saw to it that the children had a good time. That first afternoon, several hundreds of dollars were subscribed in order that the kiddies might eat and drink their fill and bedeck themselves with ribbons that amounted to an advertising world theirs powers in the various sports and games.

The second two days catered to the elders. Contrary to general belief, most farm people are not very fond of the Matinee horses, steer riding, calf roping, wild cow milking and the like. Monday's there is little ranching and these feats of courage, are more a feature of ranch B's than of farm B's. From master eight-year-old to grizzled, gray-haired Grandpa, ten thousand and enjoyment in the performance were unalloyed.

It was amusing to listen to some of the comments on the grandstand.

Long Words In Court

The inability of illiterate witnesses to understand the questions put to them often makes trouble for the court. Experienced cross-examiners learn to simplify their English to the point "prior" and "posterior" for "before" and "subsequently" for "after." "Recalcitrance" is another word frequently overworked, but to be used with care and only when it is certain that the witness understands its meaning. In a murder case, a negro was asked if he had been "simultaneous" in the matter of prior importance. He answered promptly and decidedly: "No, boss, dat's it—terbly sinful."

Then to further emphasize his statement, he added in another form a repetition of what he supposed it to mean:

"Respec, sir. Please! Ah's a dry-cleaner, boss, an' might a-cut a-dash, sir!"

More variety in the use of words was displayed by the lawyer who asked the nervous witness: "Are you married?" "No, sir," was the reply. "Have you ever been married?" "No, sir." "Then you mean to tell me that you have never been married?" "Yes, sir." "What was the name of the woman you married?" "Mary Ann Smith, sir." "Then you have been married?" "No, sir." "Will you please explain what you mean?" "Well, sir, I was married to Mary Ann Smith, but she died, sir." "Then you were

Round the Country

The Department of Agriculture at Ottawa has issued its report for August 1st, and while it is generally optimistic, reporting that there was no such serious damage as a good deal of the press has stated, yet the report is not encouraging. Taken as a whole the report is not as favorable as that issued by the department on July 1st. The most unfavorable part was where it dealt with the Province of Alberta as a whole and read the last report of 1927 was 19 bushels per acre and 1928 was 17 bushels per acre.

The report is generally accepted that there will be a shortage of wheat in the Province of Alberta, and that the shortage will be made up by the Province of Saskatchewan. This is going to be a good year for the farmers of Saskatchewan, and the Province will be benefited by it. Alberta as a whole will not be benefited by the shortage of wheat in Alberta, but the individual farmer will be hard hit.

The staff is to be congratulated on the efficient manner in which they have conducted the Provincial Exhibition. Nothing could be said about the management, but favorable comments on the Exhibition as a whole. There is no doubt that the Exhibition was a success and one of the best ever held in Edmonton, and Alberta as a whole will read the last report of 1927 was 19 bushels per acre and 1928 was 17 bushels per acre.

Meeting Of Stettler Board Of Trade

...TRAVELLING OF MEMORIAL FRIDAY, AUGUST 31st, 1928

Mayor Sharpe offered the proposed vote of the Legislature, the Governor General, Lord Byng, Lady Byng, and parties accompanying to Stettler and district on Friday next, 31st August, and, personally on his own behalf, and on behalf of the Board, expressed a desire to thank the G. W. V. A. for their co-operation and assistance in the matter. There was no doubt that there would be a large attendance of visitors, and he hoped that the Board would do all in its power to make their visit a pleasant one.

Mr. Bowker also thanked the G. W. V. A. for their co-operation and assistance in the matter. There was no doubt that there would be a large attendance of visitors, and he hoped that the Board would do all in its power to make their visit a pleasant one.

...PROPOSED OLD TIMERS' CELEBRATION

Mr. Mowry drew some of the fact that the Old Timers' Celebration was the proposal of the Old Timers' Celebration Committee, and that the Board had not been approached in any way. Mr. Mowry then asked if the Board would be prepared to back the Old Timers' Celebration Committee in the matter.

Mr. Bowker moved that the Board would be prepared to back the Old Timers' Celebration Committee in the matter.

...BOARD OF TRADE BANQUET

Mr. Bowker moved that the Board would be prepared to back the Old Timers' Celebration Committee in the matter.

...STETTLER PLAYING MATCH

Mr. McCamis moved that the Board would be prepared to back the Old Timers' Celebration Committee in the matter.

...BOARD AND RIGHT

Mr. Bowker moved that the Board would be prepared to back the Old Timers' Celebration Committee in the matter.

...SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 1

Mr. Bowker moved that the Board would be prepared to back the Old Timers' Celebration Committee in the matter.

Keep Still or Get Out

(By Erwin Gosser)

President Emory College of Auto Courtesy, Kentucky, Georgia.)

Back out of dirt or dam the car!

Why hasn't at least one of us ever been arrested for crazy by their sympathetic judges before? And why isn't it that there are not actually laws or ordinances forbidding whatsoever about automobiles, in general, for that matter? Well, I'm about to tell us what to do, or the reasons for some know how to drive, or at least directing or crimes in the way we handle our machines? And now wonder when you see a little story about to friend safe and sound after a trip that you have just taken or had a ride with, if you don't feel like saying "Oh Boy, I'll pass."

You are about to find you have a chance a street car line. A block away is trolley or approaching but there is sufficient time for you to say to your friend Wife pulls, "John, stop! A car coming!"

And because you are a normal Boy or "Man" you don't immediately step on your old smith-one-cross pedal before the motorman can observe in the analyze the situation. It is only because you are an old timer at the driving game that a certain thought is reversed.

With all courtesy due the wife we realize that she didn't intend to place you in danger. She merely wanted you reckoned to take that moment the fuel in the travelling street cars. an hour requires thirty feet to come to a stop and touching the lady about to be made of the sport, what street could say about funny husbands would be funny. In some cases the husbands have taught them to view in drive, how to drive all repeated "Watch your self Baby."

To you noted women are far better drivers than men, that statement is always coming to them and in an emergency.

So to husbands and wives, and all other back seat drivers: Keep Still or Get Out!

Stick together and fight this dangerous foe. Summon a police officer or dismay our local auto driving under the influence of either.

And to those of you who do not drive, remember the necessity of a car requires some to mind that a driver's mind is on the business in judgment differently from the back seat. Have confidence in the driver and a little patience with his mistakes. Remember and other occupants of the car are human.

Respect the philosophy and master the art and you will be told to KEEP STILL OR GET OUT!

(LAURENCE WET AND WISDOM)

Nearly all cars of motoring people have been tried in Chicago and most of them have been prevented Toledo Blade.

Then there are selfish autoists who will park — indifferently that space-saving ranch for 20 cars is taken up by 12 or 15. As we pass in the number of motor cars — ought also to pass in all roads. Are you a selfish autoist? Then and continue as ass. Ottawa Journal.

The motorist about is beginning to fall in the head which I remember a lot of citizens around it all never be able to do. — Detroit Free Press.

A Friendly Bank

HE was a farmer of sound character and ability, to whom he offered for a loan to further develop his farm it was readily granted.

With that loan he bought more cattle, machinery and seed. His farm prospered and his profits were doubled. After selling his crop he paid back the loan and had a balance left.

This couples he wisely deposited in the Bank of Toronto. Later still, he sought the capital investment control of his Bank of Toronto manager.

That was years ago. He is now retired, comfortable and prosperous.

But he still comes in for advice on banking and investment matters. For the Bank of Toronto as a good friend—a friend that gives unstinted help and a unfailing interest. A friend that has earned the trust and cordial good-will of thousands of farmers the Dominion.

Round the Country

The Management created by the War Veterans in Stettler is commencing to reap the rewards of a wisely planned scheme. Their Live Line at the Post, is now in close bond to the veterans, and to the town and country. As long as the farms re-main, it will remain Future guarantee of the events of the Great War and the achievements of the soldiers from central Alberta who went overseas. The deeds of the Canadian army will form the basis of much Future teaching in cities and patriotism.

Rupert Brooke, not long before his death at Gallipoli, wrote a sonnet, which embodied a presentiment of his coming in the following lines:—

"When I am dead, think only this of me:
That there's some corner in a foreign field,
That is forever England."

English literature is rich in sentiments of that kind, and in equally appropriate words, the man who left Alberta, never to return, might have said:—

"When I am dead, thank only this of me:
That there's some corner in a foreign field,
That is forever Canada."

Forever Canada. These words are in memory of the boys who went from this province to the battlefields of Europe, and who never returned to Alberta, during the seven years since the signing of the armistice, has enjoyed the blessings of peace and prosperity. Compared with the residents of Europe, Alberta has been blessed so much of, and our lives have fallen in pleasant places. In fact the worst time in a distant nightmare, and our dwell is only a memory.

Mankind in truth have a remarkable faculty of forgetting things that are not pleasant to contemplate, and there is no danger that in giving honor to our natural born or that re-past, we forget also the benefits of peace, which were conferred on the country by the men who went to war.

The Canadian Legion of the War is the result of the thought of the men who came back from the battlefields, and who realized the value of unity and organization if they were to profit and emphasize the sacrifices of their comrades who fell. Pride In Your Store

We often hear the expression "things are not now like they were in the old days." Of course this is true. In the old days farmers came to town with a pair or horses, now they come to town with an automobile.

In the old days a storekeeper might perhaps neglect the appearance of his store; today the successful storekeeper at present suffered to do so, he must have his store spick and span and show his personal pride in his business. In the old days you knew the enterprising salesman farmers by their clothes. The horses were well combed. They were sleek, and smooth and groomed well. These farmers took pride in their horses appearance. Today it is a well groomed motorcar. They were the first to adopt the motorcar, and are now in order, clean and shiny. You can tell the prosperous farmer by the condition of the car as often indicates the type of man who owns it. You rate higher as business man those who drive cars that are kept in good condition.

Perhaps you yourself have a Ford car which you use as a delivery car. If your car looks the "Sam Hill" people will not think that perhaps you had no time to clean it after yesterday's rain and mud. They just say, your car looks like "Sam Hill" and they judge your store accordingly.

If a merchant has pride in his store he will naturally see that every part of his store equipment has a good appearance. A store in which the counters, shelves, and the screen when it takes no pains, and the screen when it takes no pains in his store, make a favorable impression on the mind of the investment worth while to the investor. A store that is not kept clean and well painted, and whose fixtures are not kept clean and shining fixtures which other men, no better than the first

SUCCESSFUL CALF CLUB

An outstanding feature of the Lethbridge Exhibition recently was the exhibit of baby beef in which class there was three entries. The animals were all of a very high class, and the competition was keen

—O—

Perhaps one of the reasons why the calf club movement has been so successful is the fact that the boys are encouraged in every way possible by the business men of the district. Take for instance the Lethbridge Exhibition. Every year the Lethbridge Herald donates a prize of $25 for the best calf shown by a member of the club. This year the prize was won by Master Jack Mackinnon, a boy of 12 years of age. The calf was a Shorthorn steer and was purchased by the boy for $25 when it was a calf. He fed it himself and showed it himself. The calf was sold at the auction sale for 15 cents per pound, bringing the boy $75.00 for his calf. Besides this he received the prize of $25.00 for the best calf shown by a member of the club. Not bad for a boy of 12 years of age.

GADSBY NEWS

We were sorry to learn of the death of little Evelyn Smith, aged four years and nine months, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ethelbert Smith of Lea, Alberta, who passed away Thursday evening at the Wetaskiwin Hotel here. The child had been ill for some time but the parents thinking her illness was just an ordinary case of children's summer complaint were little interested in her condition. However she didn't improve and on Thursday Dr. Bagley brought her to Gadsby for medical attention. The child however was beyond human reaching help. Dr. Bagley was called on their arrival, but made and last use of no avail and Evelyn died an hour later

Mr. Wallace, of Castor was the undertaker. The funeral service was held at the Gadsby United Church, the local pastor officiating, and the body was laid to rest in the Gadsby Cemetery

Those remains to mourn her loss the father and mother and five children

Mr. Booth expressed gratefulness to the people of Gadsby for their many kindnesses during their bereavement.

Tuesday, at 3 p. m. a special meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held at the United Church for the election of officers and the enrollment of new members. We are pleased to report that several new members are enrolled. Although Mrs. R. H. Smith was elected as president; Mrs. R. H. Snook as Vice-President, and Mrs. Hall Jones as Secretary-Treasurer. The next regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid will be held on September the 3rd. A hearty invitation is extended to both town and country ladies to be present at the Aid.

H. F. F. Calhoun and family left Thursday by motor on a holiday trip to Calgary and Banff.

BOTHA NEWS

Crop conditions are rapidly maturing as per can barely be called general. By the end of the week however, every farmer should be on the binder and Saturday is the merry month for the Ladies' Aid to be busy with the work which they have been waiting all year with good weather the district should be visited by a real good rain.

The stand is good on all parts of the district well in the advance of bushels. Men are planning for a big yield and the type of men dropping off here for work is far above the average of previous years.

The Women's Institute will hold their regular meeting on Friday afternoon of this month. Thursday afternoon at 3 p. m. September 3rd. All members of the Institute are urged to attend.

Meeting of Retailers Held Last Friday

lems which confront the average merchant in his business. He cited instances where legislation in many cases worked a hardship. These errors were being attended by the association of course, and would no doubt eventually be eliminated. He dealt with such things as early war measures—the sales tax, the stamp tax etc—and showed the need the association felt to stress the unfairness of what seemed somewhat fool-ish measures, when figured by today's needs.

He outlined a comprehensive picture of the workings of the Dominion organization in protecting the interests of the retail merchants all over Canada, and pointed out that the bond body could only function to the best advantages when properly supported by the smaller units which went to make up the total. The individual merchant was of course, the real mainstay of the whole association, and only in so far as the individual backed up every effort put forth could the whole organization be the success it desired to become, and of benefit to the individual members which it hoped to achieve.

Before closing his interesting speech Mr. Hardman cited several instances where great benefits had accrued to small merchants from the labors of the body as a whole. Competition should be met on fair and co-operative established lines. Fighting competition was in many instances worse than business suicide; the ultimate result of which was to make the consumer pay more than he should. Mr. Hardman urged the members to co-operate in all matters of common interest, and to attend the meetings of the association. A vote of thanks was tendered the speaker on the part of the purchasing public. Just as soon as that confidence was restored, the mail order house bogey would begin to disappear. The have-to-feel prejudice which many merchants carried must be shed, and co-operation must be made to mean much more than an empty word.

The speaker went fairly into the Treasure Trove Act, and showed his hearers that even the remedy for this was mainly in the hands of the merchants themselves by co-operating so as to make their votes heard when occasion during with these matters were before parliament.

Quite an ovation was extended to the speaker at the close of his remarks and a number of questions asked were explained by him.

In rising to advocate the meeting Mr McKay, the new organizer, exclaimed, that this was by way of an intrusion into the association, and had relinquished a the good business appointment to take up his sphere, as he considered that an extension of the merchants interests above the town of Stettler was needed. He complimented those responsible for the happy medium of get-together and said he looked for 100 per cent. membership in this province within a short time.

He was fully entertained with the fact that quite a number of merchants desired very little more than a here living from their enterprise though conditions as laid down by wholesalers and others, but felt assured that by co-operation and the spirit of "live and let live" all would ultimately benefit everyone as well as retailer In pointing the rules of the association to the merchant, Mr. McKay gave a number of cases where the bond of co-operation had saved money for them and also had enabled them to retain their community fellowship.

At the close of the meeting, after short discussion and several questions, a committee was formed consisting of P. T. Talley, W. Dunlop and W. F. Hibbs to interview the merchants with the objective of having a large membership. The branch has started off with 17 or 18 members. It is hoped that number in two weeks will be increased to additional members. For the following week Mr McKay will return here this week to assist in the work.

Erskine News

Miss Dora Horwich left last Thursday morning for an extended visit with her cousins, Dorothy Koepke, who is employed at Bentley Lodge, Alberta.

Mr. Clarence Gillespie, of Stettler, has been appointed to the position of the Intermediate room of the South Ward School, to fill the vacancy caused by Miss Gilkeson's resignation. Mr. Gillespie was delayed a few days, and his place was ably filled for the first three days by Mrs. H. S. Everards.

Mr. G. F. Bergman is with us once more and our fine crop is disposed of. Gus reports that on the trip from Minneapolis the Erskine crop ranks with any of them, as per usual.

Prospective farmer movers to support "greener pastures" please note: Gus likewise reports his wife and family in good health.

"Doc Toodles" has actually started to work, and has deserted his bachelor quarters for the time being. He is setting up shavers for Mr. E. M. Clark. E. M. says he is quite efficient at it, and will make an expert hand in time.

One of our number managed to trade off a Chevrolet Touring car for a Ford. Ford, or otherwise, we think, to avail himself of closed car comfort in a Coupe. Apart from a few near accidents in trying to stop the thing, now almost passing his self-starter, the engine does not stop, and other time at most knocking the happiness out of the driver, things have been going all right. It's no use, Mr. Henry Ford—it will have to be asked to change its mode of transmission.

The first threshing machine to get going in this district this year will probably be Mr. Chas. Wilson's. Charlie expects to start up on Mr. Homer Foster's place Thursday.

Now that Erskine has definitely won the Cup and Pennant in the Buffalo Baseball League, it is high time we got together and arranged a little spread for the boys. They are playing an exhibition game with Mirror one and Ruth Green.

It is expected that Dr. Jackson, a recent graduate of Ontario will be here this week to establish a medical practice. We wish him every success.

Next Sunday a Labor Sunday, an appropriate message will be given by the pastor on Sunday, September 6th, 11 a. m. Science Hotel.

3.30 p. m. Red Willow.

7.30 p. m. Union Church, Donalda.

There will be choir practice in the Union Church on Thursday, September 10th. Let all who sing come.

Holidays are now over. Back to work and be happy. This is or should be the motto of children. Vacation for the months of July and August has come and gone all too soon and for our work

School has commenced Monday was the opening day with about seventy per cent enrollment, a pet, owing to the harvest operations.

Many friends are glad to welcome back Principal Bruce, after a year's absence. He will teach the twelfth grade alone with grades ten and eleven.

Mr. Hooper of Camrose is teacher for grades seven eight and nine While Misses McKay and Graham have charge of the Junior and Primary room respectively.

The High School as well as the Public School buildings have all been renovated throughout and brightened with a new coat of paint The work was done by our local contractor Bert Kelsey, assisted by first class

Miss Hortence Osborne has had the misfortune of getting down from a horse, thereby sustaining a somewhat serious injury to her foot and ankle necessitating her to go to Stettler Hospital for surgical treatment is now doing as well as could be expected.

The first meeting of the Quarterly Official Board of the United Church of Canada for the Donalda Circuit will be held at Red Willow on Tuesday, September 8th, and a full attendance is urgently needed at this time.

Among those who have applied for admission to Camrose Normal School are Rose Beauregard, Annie Parker-

FOX WILL MEET REDDICK HERE FOR LIGHT-HEAVY CHAMPIONSHIP OF CANADA

On September 17th the fight fans of this district will have the opportunity to witness the greatest fistic event ever attempted in the West.

Jack Reddick, the Canadian Light-weight Champion of Canada will defend his title against Bob Fox, who has of late been fighting in the East in a sensational style and putting all opponents away by the knockout route.

Last Monday night Fox disposed of Bill Thomas, a Scranton miner, who was hailed as a second Jimmy Harkey, and considered one of the best men in his class.

To dispel any doubt that might be in the minds of the fans as to whether Fox can make the Light heavyweight of 175 pounds, we publish the following telegram from Fox to a friend in Stettler:

Telegram

Buffalo, N. Y. Aug 31st, 1925

I was not Bill Thomas by knockout in second round. Thomas weighed one hundred-two. I weighed one seventy one—I will have for Stettler on or about the fourth of September. Regret I cannot.

—Signed Bob Fox

This letter card is being promoted under the auspices of the Stettler Elks and they are now busy arranging some very attractive preliminaries that will be in keeping with the main

What They Think of Fox Down East

The Buffalo News has the following to say about Bob Fox after witnessing his performance against Bill Thomas:

Bob Fox will appear on the card of the Velodrome Club at the Rhert Stadium next Monday night in a 6 round contest against Bill Thomas, a Scranton miner, who has been likened unto Jimmy Harkey. Bob Harkey, at present, who is another young Buffalo boxer of Buffalo Lou Fox and family, with a young baby left and a Canadian with skill and hitting ability. Fistic experts who have seen him in action even during those two brief spells are predicting a brilliant future for one of the Canadian colony, where as they say, "men are men," out.

The comment in connection with the Jack Reddick-Bob Fox fight to be held at Stettler, Alta., on Thursday, September 17th, calls for Reddick to [illegible] a forfeit of [illegible] appearance with Harry Rosh, sporting editor of The Calgary Albertan, while the Elks' club of Stettler must post a guarantee of $500 to fill their part of the contract.

In this contest—one that will attract fistic fans from all parts of western Canada—Reddick will be defending the light-heavyweight championship of Canada, a title he won a couple of years ago, through a victory over Soldier Jones. Since then Reddick has had his ups and downs, but is expected to retain his crown, if, as a rumored youth with much promise, but with careful conduct and proper training, will continue as one of the ring-workers in his division. Fox has been battling with much success in the States the past few months, so the contest should be a thriller.—Calgary Albertan.

WEDDING

Gregory—Stringham

The Baptist Church was crowded on Wednesday morning, September 2nd, to witness a very pretty wedding, when Miss Stringham became the bride of Mr. Gregory.

The bridesmaid, Miss Gladys Stringham, sister of the bride wore a very attractive custom of peach silk with hat to match, and a bouquet of carnations.

The groomsman was Mr. Lewis Brandsaeter, brother of the bride. As the bride took her place at the altar, Mrs. Gillis sang "Until," and during the signing of the Register, Mr. F. Plunkett of Edmonton sang "For you Alone," both were very accomplished pieces.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion by the Ladies' Aid Committee of the Baptist Church, this being here for the first time leader of the kind.

After the ceremony, the bride's parents held a reception at their home when a letter from guests particularly of a musical nature.

The bride was given to the bride, at the front, and as a bridesmaid and the bride gave the address, a very neat gift Miss. The happy couple left on the afternoon train for Calgary en route for points in the Western States. They will take up residence near Seattle, where the groom has a position with the Great Northern Railway.

The bride's travelling dress was a Navy Blue, with hat to match. A large crowd armed with a plentiful supply of confetti assembled at the C. N. Station and gave the newly-weds a very hearty send-off.

SOUTH AFRICAN NATIVE ANCIENT HUMAN TYPE

Anatomists Greatly Interested in Find At Capetown

South Africa has yielded another cranial curiosity which is attracting attention among the anatomists and antiquarians almost equal to that attracted by the discovery early this year of a fossilized skull at Taungs, Bechuanaland, described at the time as representing something midway between man and the great apes.

What the body of a native was discovered at the anatomical school of Capetown University it was found to have a typical "chignon" skull very closely identical with that discovered in the Transvaal in fossil form in 1918 and traced to the ice age of probably 15,000 years back.

Anatomists emphasize the interest and importance of the recurrence of a type of man hitherto unknown except in fossil remains.

Heavy Luncheon Often Eaten the Disposition Of School Teachers

Diet is Important Item and Lack of Care is Apparent in Teacher's Frayed Nerves; Avoid over-Consumption in Schools

Two teachers went into a restaurant to enjoy their noonday meal. Both were tired with school and mentalness, conflict with young personalities, and both were not in appetizing mood because of the grim and tasks of the classroom.

Miss Sim-ill talked feverishly about her work and found a sympathetic fellow-sufferer. Miss Dyspepsia Proud ordered a heavy meal. She was a pupil of Miss Worried-Thin.

Miss Proud ate heartily of the heavy meal. Miss Worried-Thin ate sparingly of a light lunch.

Miss Proud's nerves were soothed by her indigestion. Miss Worried-Thin's nerves were irritated by her wholesome personality, for she felt well and realized gratefully the joy of lightness.

Miss Proud's will at time probably becomes "a heartsomic sort of pro-ject," later to be a doctor for her nerves, or have a general breakdown and complain about her hard teaching lot. Either, also cannot perform the empirical cure—as people who have lived and taught for years.

It is cells of various shapes and sizes which make up the tissues, the muscles, the fat the teeth, the skin and every organ of the body. The cell is the most wonderful chemical laboratory in the world. It is the cell that takes up the food and extracts what we require and changes it to living matter. There are millions of cells in the body, each to be supplied daily with oxygen from the air, hormones and enzymes from water and many different chemicals from the food. All these cells have to form a great variety of acids, alkalis, proteins, each to be supplied with the absolute amount to the part of the body which it is to repair.

Round the Country

Mr Bentley has done more in for a great deal of evidence for his extension of $20,000,000 bushels for the 1925 wheat crop. It is supposed that he is trying to boost prices for the Wheat Pool, and is going to be on the safe side of any rate. However, what the producer wants is not theories, but facts, and if we have more wheat than 400,000,000 bushels the world should know about it. The last news bulletin sent out by the department speaks of four years' shortage in succession, with one average—frost, rust, the drought areas, and disappointing yields in Saskatchewan. These are the only things mentioned and to say that they represent our whole condition would be a very false picture.

Here in Calgary, we have three thoughtful, capable bankers and oilmen, who have never had the wind and water bushes mentioned. They know for their good points and live on oil-stocks themselves we have the idea that Alberta is a country of know-how, and instead of taunting its for its points of our country we talk about the "frost" belt, the drought area and the shortage belt. The department of agriculture is certainly not setting much of an example this year. That department should not boost our own boost but it should say something else as a whole about the good crops that we have for and with the U. F. A. however would be foolish to talk a boom and after pressure, even Bentley, while Mr Greenfield is improving each day.

GOLF

The second annual Golf Tournament of Buttler Golf Club will be held on Thursday and Friday, September 17 and 18, giving all golf fans the opportunity to have two days of golf as well as seeing the keen competition between Tom and Bobbie on Thursday afternoon.

Here and There

Canadian land sales during the week ending Aug. 8, 1925 amounted to $203,370, which brings the total for the year up to $3,071,000.00. Of this sum $185,350.827 represents the value of bonds sold in Canada; $21,-970,200 in the United Kingdom, and $13,519,000 in the United States.

The port of Montreal is well on the way to handling the largest grain movement on record, according to the Montreal Gazette. Elevator capacity has been increased to 19,000,000 bushels, and the total number of cargoes loaded in the port to date, as compared with the corresponding period of 1924, is 50 per cent. By August 6, 288 boats had loaded here with grain, as against 192 in 1924. Of this total, 60 sailed in August 70, 1924, and 68 in August 70, 1923, the year when the opening of navigation at the 1925 season, and their tonnage was 1,204,000.

The total number of students in Canadian universities and colleges in 1924 was 40,000, or about one in eighteen of the total population between the ages of 20 and 24, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Of the total number of colleges, the total number in 1924 was 35. Of the total are agricultural, two technical, two for the deaf, and four for pharmacy, one for veterinary science, and fifteen classical. Three divisions called for higher commercial studies, colleges of art and six military colleges.

During the coming winter Canada will see the debut of a new transcontinental highway, the Canadian Government Highway, to Western Canada. This summer of two million dollars has been spent on sections of the highway, which Bonaventure, connecting each Province. These divisions are fixed to an agreement entered into by the Prince of the Canada and, the Provinces of Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, and Ontario. The highway will be available in the transportation of lumber, the agricultural crops of our country, and the manufactured goods of our industrial centres, and where other methods of transportation have been found inadequate, and also make room when other methods of transportation are found inadequate. It is recommended to Ottawa and will be of the motor car tourist, thinking to coming the winter.

Mr. Basil Paterson of Chinook, Mont., is visiting his mother, Mrs. R. A. Paterson in town at present.

A Mathews car, costing about $7,000 was in town on Monday, and it's equipment was much admired by those who examined it. The car was in the charge of a party who were touring the province.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Roberts have returned from their motor trip spent the holidays. They visited many of the cities, in Brandon Calgaries and Washington, and also spent time in the interior.

The weather this week is ideal for harvesting, being warm and dry. This will give an opportunity for the late crops to mature, and all the grain in town is now cut, and stacked. There is considerable high frost in the district, except in cold cases.

The Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. Todd on Tuesday afternoon, September 8th, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The topic of meeting is Hollands and kitchen utensils. Every one is to be accounted with the name of a good substance.

The worst trail in Alberta at present for motorists seems to be portion of the main travel road from Edmonton to Lacombe. Other sections of this road around Ponoka have been gravelled and the improvement is a marked.

Mrs. J. A. Adshead returned from England this week, after a visit there of seven months. Mrs. Adshead left here last February and was on time to see Spring in the Old Country. Mr. Brisbane's plans to meet Mrs. Adshead in London on the Thames, and Mr. Adshead's visit to Scotland, Ireland, Wales, and also visited the lake country, and had a most enjoyable time.

Regarding immigration, he thinks that more new shall be sent to English papers by the immigration agents, as they are an exception to those who are aware of Canada or Alberta as they have the table to play at now. Come and enjoy a game on a lovely table.

Mr. R. H. Scott of Calgary office of the Red Cross Society was in town on Friday and Saturday of last week, interviewing Mr. Dan Ryan, who is secretary of the society for Stettler, as to the probability of putting a Red Cross Tag Day on successfully. He said that he had found the Stettler people ready and willing to support the society in their efforts to help others.

Fall Millinery opening will take place on September 11th and 12th, at Mrs. Martin's Millinery Parlor.

9-3-2c

Mr. F. H. Thistlethwaite is spending a few days with friends at Lacombe.

Miss Margaret Kennedy has returned from a holiday in Banff.

Messrs. Gange and Harry Unknown have returned from Calgary where they spent a fortnight's holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wills spent the week-end at Edmonton and attending the Press Convention.

Members of the former Methodist and Presbyterian choirs are invited to attend practice in the United Church on Friday evening.

The site of the new abattoir, which the Town Council has decided to build on the pound corner, has been changed to the south-west corner of the next quarter south of the present site. The change is said to be due to the fact that the present site is not easy of access, and is difficult to approach in the winter.

The Stettler Building Fund and Building Bureau has been sold to Messrs. Wood Bros. Mr. Wood will be in charge here, the new firm taking possession on September 1st. The new owners are experienced in the meat business and should do well as they are purchasing an old established business. The business here will be in charge of Mr Thomas.

TO THE POINT

In a criminal court, a jury, trying the case of conduct of a clerk, were about to retire when the judge stated that if any juror wished to question any witness he might do so.

"Would you like to ask a question?" the juror asked.

"Yes, your lordship. Would you please tell me if the prisoner we have been trying really stole the watch?"

OFTEN HEARD THAT WAY

"Young Jim doesn't seem to amount to much, does he left college."

"No, you see his college education made him too smart to work and not smart enough to get along without work."

THE NATIONAL BILLIARD HALL

Sept. 1st, has one of it's tables equipped with New Monarch Billiard Cloth (Bex Style.) Stettler Billiard Fans have now the table to play on now. Come and enjoy a game on a lovely table.

CHURCH NOTES

UNITED CHURCH

The Rev Reuben of Bankview United Church, Calgary, (formerly Presbyterian) will preach in the United Church here on Sunday next, September 6th at 7.30 p.m. Mr Reuber has been pastor of the Bankview Presbyterian Church for fifteen years, and has been very successful there. There are a few people in town who have attended Mr Reuben's church in Calgary, and they will be glad of an opportunity to hear him, speak very highly of him.

Although Mr Reuber is coming primarily to renew old friendships and meet the people for us, yet the Church Committee has requested Mr. Reuber to take his services on Sunday morning and repeated in the vacancy in the United Church here. Therefore every one interested in the United Church, both members and adherents, are urged to attend the services on Sunday next, that they may give a congregational expression of the Congregational meeting on September 6th next.

A Five Minute Frosting of Cake Chocolate

Here is a white a three-layered pastry is called some luscious frosting to be used in it's accompanying article. Simmer a cup of chocolate and a cup of cream together until it is smooth, remove from the fire, add a cup of sugar, a pinch of salt, and a teaspoon of vanilla. Beat with a fork but not by any means of the egg beater. Spread between the layers and on the cake. It is said to be delicious when made with cocoa instead of chocolate, but I have my own opinion about the substitution of the oil for the cocoa butter.

Some cooking authorities recommend frosting quickly and easily made by melting the chocolate in the top of a double boiler, and the butter from Calgary. They were accompanied by Jack Hall, who had visited the city on business. Mr. Hall is a brother of Mrs. Hall of this district.

The result of the operation is fair enough and it is hoped that Mr. Hall will be able to leave for home shortly. Fortunately Mr. Hall's parents are visiting from Illinois and they will be able to assist a little. Rumors from the fire say that the loss is quite. This makes the fourth building which is burned down in this district in the past few years.

In the district a man has always to contend with and particularly is this so when he is up against it. The good folk living around the Bay have this week had their share of it on the crop from across the crop and reducing the yield. Nevertheless, the folks are not to be kept down by the same unexplained cause. Last week the family was laid up with scarlet fever. By the end of next week the end of the period of service is that one is able to do something for the other fellow.

Mrs. Herman Van Sickle of Brantford, Ont., is visiting at the home of her sister Mrs. H. A. Hartley, for a short time.

The American is Champion Talker

Of more than thirty and one half million conversations through 56,176, 121 telephones and 67,313,301 miles of wire during 1927, the United States proclaimed with twenty and one half billions in a battle of telephone duels with the rest of the world, including telephone and Tel.graph Company.

Citizens of the United States talk more on the telephone than any other people on earth—half the conversations per person per year, the statistics arrange. Denmark is second, with a rate of 76 talks, Sweden third with 53.6, and Sweden fourth, with 46.

The statistics—solid indexes that the mentality of the Latin races has been greatly exaggerated. France is fifth, with 43 talks per person.

Belgium is fourteenth and its ability is slightest. Russia, said by some to possess the greatest love for distance talkers in the world, is one-seventh, with four conversations per person per year.

It appears that racial characteristics have less to do with use of the telephone than the country's wealth and industrial development, supply and distribution of the electric current and number of apparatus and electrical power.

New York is tenth among the states of the world in the number of telephones per hundred inhabitants, with only 19.5 compared with 13.7 for the United States, 1.1 for the world and 25.5 per hundred for San Francisco, where telephones are thicker than anywhere else. Canada holds second place, with 20.3. Stockholm fourth, with 21.1, and, in order Washington, 24.1, Chicago, 23.5, Denver, 22.7, Los Angeles, 22., and Toronto, 21.

It is surprising to find that such important cities in the world industry as Manchester, Amsterdam, Osaka, Japan, Buenos Ayres, Brussels, Antwerp, Glasgow, Liverpool, Prague, Manchester, Marseilles, Birmingham, Turin, Milan, Shanghai and Naples have only five telephones or less per hundred inhabitants. Milan, the foremost industrial city of Italy has only 17,000 telephones for 750,000 inhabitants or 2.3 per hundred.

Sixty-three per cent. of the world's telephones are in the United States. Germany is second, with 7.5 per cent., France third, with 3.7 per cent., Canada, and 2.45 per cent. in France.

Telephone conversations have risen in Canada under private government control than in seven other countries where the exchange rates permitted comparisons. United States rates averages were $13,696,609. In the United States the gross telephone earnings are given as $724,665,000 or $40.10 per telephone.

No cent was opened for the sort of by-elections in any of the public provinces, except in Saskatchewan for North Winnipeg, E. J. McMurray, the leader unfortunately died. Then the cent applied no change in public opinion.

The fourteenth parliament contains if it's members a larger number of men any of the previous ones to be entered parliament for the first time. One hundred and five members were entirely new to parliamentary procedure and experience in the House. It also contained more young men. It may safely be asserted that the average age of the members was the lowest in our history. Young men are generally naturally conservative. The Progressive party, who have a large number of members, are not. But all the young men did not belong to that party. One of these who did not was the prime minister. His was well below the average age of the members of the Conservative parliament. He was younger than any member of his cabinet. He attained the position of prime minister at an earlier age than any of his colleagues. He was also the first prime minister to gain the position of the country. It may also be noted that he was the first man who had the ability to hold that post who was not a lawyer.

There were many of the members of the fourteenth parliament to whom this was not familiarity with the House. Seven out of parliament from 1921 to 1925 were not members of the House in the session, 1926 and 1925.

Perhaps the outstanding feature of such a wide working confined private was that of only 6 on the highest of 1925. The imbalance of the Conservative party under the leadership of Mr. Meighen. In part of 1925 the Conservative party under the leadership of Mr. Meighen. In part of the house. But a combination of the Conservatives and Liberals as on a full vote would leave no majority for the government.

Naturally a speedy dissolution of the house was frequently predicted. But Premier King stood upon the matter of political tactics.

The fourteenth parliament will be remembered as the first federal parliament to meet in the new accommodation among it's members in the person of Hon. Agnes Macphail, M. P. for Grey province for Southeast Grey!

The fourteenth parliament was the number of presidents. There were in the House of Commons, in addition to Mr. Speaker Lemieux, Mr. Speaker Sproule and Mr. Speaker Marcil.

An Apple A Day

Eat more fruit and keep your skin clear would perhaps be an apt slogan for Canadian fruit growers to adopt. In this connection possibly no fruit would better fill the bill than apples, of which a bull ranged by the Fruit Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, entitled "Canadian Grown Apples" says "From a dietetic standpoint the most important function of the apple is that of furnishing mineral salts and organic acids; but it has an important nutritive value as well, furnished by the carbohydrates present. As the fruit ripens starch changes to sugar. The apple has a medicinal value also, especially if eaten at the beginning of a meal or between meals." The bulletin further remarks that no housewife should be without a box or barrel of Canadian grown apples, and proceeds to give a list of the varieties that should be used at different times as follows:

September—Duchess. Alexander. Malden's blush, St. Lawrence and similar varieties.

October—November. December (seventeen). Wealthy, Snowdrop, McIntosh Red, Northern Spy, Hubbardston, Stimson, and similar varieties.

January—February—Baldwin, King, Wagener, Greening, Rock, Pewaukee, Ontario Jonathon, Yellow Newtown, and similar varieties.

March April. May—Spy, Golden Russet, Ben Davis, Park, Arkansas, Rosebury Russet, Spitzenburg, Rome Beauty and similar varieties.

SORRY HE SPOKE

As Pat passed the hospital asylum he planned up on the shady side and surprised to find that it had come over a block, when he thought it wanted at less 2 ten minutes to that hour

He enquired of an attendant standing at the door if the clock was right.

Fox In Great Shape For Coming Bout With Reddick

"Fighting Bob" Fox, the idol of Stettler fistic fans arrived home from the East last Tuesday and lost no time in getting down to hard work for his coming match with Jack Reddick, the Canadian light heavyweight champion to be held at Stettler on Thursday, September 17th.

Fox's apprenticeship in the East has greatly improved him so he should prove a very stiff and extra tough customer than he did a year ago.

He is very chatty on his feet and packs a terrific wallop in either hand and works like a well oiled machine.

The Stettler Elks under whose auspices the bout is being put on have left no stone unturned to give the fight fans of Alberta the opportunity of witnessing the greatest boxing card ever staged in the west. Besides the main bout between Reddick and Fox they have matched Young Corrie the featherweight champion against Young Polonuk of Edmonton, Tommy Rogers of Calgary vs. Wahoham of Calgary, welterweights. Pickering of Donalda vs. Symes of Stettler, Young Jackson vs. Young Oliver, both of Stettler, who were very unusual with the crowd when they bouted here last July.

Alberta Government Telephones Contest

Stettler Wins Second Prize in Province Wide Contest

Prize winners have been announced in the fourth annual building and grounds contest of the Alberta Government Telephones. This is an annual contest in which the various exchanges throughout the province compete for a silver shield and cash prizes. Judging is on the improvement for the year appearing grounds and building. In addition to the main contest there are subsidiary contests for best outdoor, best interior, and best advertising sign.

The judges, Messrs. A. M. Mitchell Auditor of the Government Telephones, and C. G. Greff, Provincial Publicity Commissioner, announce the following results.

MAIN CONTEST

First—Strathmore Agency, managed by A. McPherland, silver shield and $70.00 cash.

Second—Stettler Agency, managed by Herbert Allen, $50.00 cash and diploma.

Third—Louise Exchange, Calgary, managed by C. W. Chamberlain. $15.00 cash and diploma.

Though there are no more prizes offered in this contest, the fourth, fifth and sixth placings were as follows:

Sixth—Yukon Agency, managed by Roy Graves.

The other contestants were: Wetaskiwin, Daysland, Sedgwick, Alliance, Innisfail, Rimbey and Coronation. Camrose, Sedgwick and Medicine Hat Agencies competed for interiors.

The subsidiary prizes were awarded as follows (the prize in each case being $10.00 in cash):

Best Advertising—Coronation Agency, managed by Mr. Shaw.

Best Exterior—Calgary North Hill Exchange.

his is the fourth year in which the contest has been conducted by the Government Telephones. The shield was won in 1922 by North Hill Exchange, Calgary, in 1923 by Innisfail, and last year by Red Deer. Stettler has been in the first three winners for three consecutive years, the only agency so far to establish that record.

In the main contest this year there were 38 entries, all but 13 being eliminated by the judging done by the district superintendents. The finals were judged by Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Greff.

All of the offices visited showed buildings, and the results were ample manifest improvement in grounds and proof of the value of the contest. The work of building up gardens and flower beds and making the buildings attractive, and originating advertising campaigns is entirely the work of the staffs of the various agencies.

Fenn News

On Sunday, August 30th, the community was favored with a visit from His Lordship, the Bishop of Calgary who confirmed one new member to the Church. Harold Longpree. A very big crowd turned out to welcome the Bishop and pushed the Church to it's doors.

Weather conditions have been far from favorable the past week. Some tenths of an inch of rain having fallen on Friday night and Saturday morning. While this will delay the harvesting and threshing for a few days, it helps to put the snowy-Caller more equal, ring cruft and corners than he did a year ago.

Crops are turning out very well in this district. Some excellent yields are looked for at threshing time.

Elmo and John Crawford leave for Stettler on Monday, September 7th, where they will reside in future attending High School there.

DONALDA

Harvest has been set back considerably on account of the heavy rains, but the farmers are very thankful that there is no frost to do any damage as yet. There has been some grain threshed in this immediate vicinity and the quality of the wheat is bringing the highest grade. The yield will be above average this year in most of the communities. The hay is abundant and also of good quality. There has been a good deal of the land summer-fallowed, and what with the general precipitation the pasture as well as the cultivated lands ought to be in a first class condition for next year. How grateful we should be for the bountiful harvest that our All-Wise Creator and Providence has bestowed upon us.

Kelly Bear is also observed in connection with the Donalda school at all the approximate. Bruce Vets. Red Wheat on Sale Union A. S. on Sunday September 27th and at Science Hound the following Sabbath, October 4th. A special program is being prepared for this day.

The Death Of Wm. J. Kent

(Grand Valley Gazette)

With startling suddenness came the death of Wm. J. Kent, which occurred in St. Joseph's Hospital, Sudbury early Sunday evening as the result of an accident in the Mond Nickle Company in the mine at Frood where he had been foreman for several years and dearly loved by all his staff.

The late Wm. Kent was of a bright and cheerful disposition and loved by all who knew him, he was a kind neighbor and a devoted friend, helping many in times of sorrow. He was in his 47th year and a son of the late Robert Kent. Besides his sorrowing widow he leaves one daughter to mourn the loss of a kind and loving father. The brothers and sisters are: Mrs. E. S. Wilson, Toronto; George, Jacob and Robert of Caledon, Alberta, Mrs. W. H. Whaley of Bowling Green, John of Guelph and Samuel of Edmonton. The funeral which was largely attended was held on Thursday at 2.30 o'clock from Jackson's funeral parlors to Park Lawn cemetery. Services being conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. McDonald of St. Andrew's United Church. The deceased was a member of Nickle Lodge A. F. & A. M. and of I. O. O. F. No. 55 Brass mines, and the services were largely attended by members of the two Lodges.

The pallbearers were his two brothers-in-law Thomas and Robert, three brothers, John McAllister, Gar'del Thompson, Samuel, Ross and Captain Carmichael of the Mond Nickle Company.

Floral tributes which were many and beautiful were donated by the following, showing the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

Wreath, Members of Kent unit, the brother and sister of Caledon, Alberta; I. O. O. F. No. 55 Brass Mines; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Thompson, Sprays —Mr. and Mrs. W. H. A very pleasant afternoon was spent at the home of Mrs. A. G. Sherrett, of Wall Lake on August 29th, for their monthly meeting. The meeting was opened by the reading of the Farm Women's Creed, by Mrs. C. Brown, minutes were read and business conducted.

The president, Mrs. S. Price, who represented the local at the recent convention held at Camrose gave an interesting account of the work that is being done.

The bulletin for the month, referring to the Egg and Poultry Roll as given by Elizabeth T. Wyman was read and enjoyed by the members.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Maclean on September 17th.

GOLF

A number of Stettler golfers attended the tournament at Castor on Monday, (Labor Day.) Those included Dr. and Mrs. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Duckworth, W. F. Wales, C. L. Wills, F. C. Barnett, Penny Griffith and Clint Wilkinson.

Most of the boys had to return on Monday night, but a good percentage of prizes were won. Wills reached the finals in the championship flight and was beaten for the trophy by Bryant of Castor. The finalists played 72 holes during the Tournament.

Jim Duckworth won third prize in championship flight and White won second prize in the second flight, losing out to Hartwood of Consuelo. Brennan of Castor won the prize for the lowest score for 18 holes with an 81. Brennan, Wills, and Hartwood, made the lowest scores for 9 holes, each with a 44. Penny Dillon of Coronation and Brennan of Castor play off for the first prize in the Consolation. Fine weather featured the tournament and it is expected that a number from Castor and Coronation will attend a similar event in Stettler on September 17th and 18th. The Castor Tournament had 48 entries and was quite a success.

RATES GRAIN RATES TO COAST

Reductions in grain rates from Alberta to the Pacific Coast which will mean hundreds of thousands of dollars in saving to the farmers of the province, have been placed in a round of an order by the Board of Railway Commissioners combining grain rates west-bound with those eastbound.

The announcement came shortly that the Railway Board has made the grain rates west-bound identical with all eastbound rates which became effective September 2nd, 1925. [illegible] grain [illegible] as a result of the order. The Pacific railroads [illegible] the new basis of rates. The reductions will range from [illegible] cents per hundred pounds, additional, that will export via Pacific ports. Non-export grain [illegible] will be 3½ cents rate per pound, additional, that will [illegible] 20 cents of Butler 12 pounds will be 24c, 13 pounds 26c, 14 pounds 28c, 15 pounds 30c. Due to the 20 cents per hundred pounds rate for the first pound and 5c for each additional pound, that is, 15 pound would cost 80c. Prizes for the other flowers may be had at the Post Office.

Ducks are said to be scarce this season by those who know, and there are those who know because they are entirely about. It is said that the crews are responsible for the shortage of game birds as they destroy their nests in the Spring. The duck season starts on September 15th and ends December 14th. Not more than 20 ducks in one day, and not for the season can be taken, and this account seems too liberal. The limit of 20 ducks a day seems to the writer, distinct. Ducks are not so plentiful but that one local nimrod seems will shoot more than one or two ducks per day. Probably some of the pot hunters are not aware that it is illegal to shoot from an automobile or a horse drawn vehicle. Prairie chickens, Hungarian Partridge and [illegible] grouse cannot not be shot until [illegible]

Dead on a Lonely Road

(By Rivin Grove)

(President Grove College of Automobile Mechanics, Chicago.)

Don't get excited over this title reader. One might suppose that I intend writing of the villain who kills your engine on a dark road that "was Well" way to put over the "Dead on Arrival" [illegible] I write. What I refer to is the blank spot which will lay down and die when you are miles from a service station. If you haven't had such an experience you're bound to yesterday). Instead of speaking the world of your engine I'll content myself by giving you a few pointers on what to do when you should go about [illegible]

The first thing to do—look into the gas tank. If there is no gasoline you can expect [illegible] from the carburetor, so the person you have with you. Let's hope there is gas, but understand that gasoline in the big tank may not mean gasoline in the various tank or the carburetor, so [illegible] the carburetor—you found the trouble. If there is gasoline it won't flood up on the gas line [illegible] which means the particle that is causing the trouble. If not there is nothing else to do but pull the gas line back and trace the impediment that way.

But if you are positive the fuel is flowing freely and still the engine won't start the trouble may lie in the ignition system. If the starter won't turn the engine look to your battery and the terminals. There sometimes corrosion and break off. This is easily repaired.

Now about the primary circuit: Remove the distributor head, turn the switch to the "on" position and then move the breaker points back and forth with the fingers. If a spark is seen why you are all right there. If you don't get the spark why turn the engine over by hand a couple of times and try again. No spark yet? Then the trouble is in the primary coil connections, switch and so on.

A spark plug with the terminal still [illegible] can be uncovered, left on top of the engine, which is then turned over by hand. If the plug fires all is well. If the plug doesn't fire the trouble must be traced further. Only by testing the high tension ahead of the distributor (removing the high tension coil wire and holding it about 3/16 of an inch away from it, positive the engine is crranked) the test will be told. If a spark jumps the gap the high tension or the set of the coil is not right your trouble will be found beyond the coil.

So, if the carburetor is full of gas, and the wiring appears O. K. the balance of the engine to start is probably caused by some timing or valve derangement. In this case, old fellow you're totally out of luck unless you happen to be an [illegible] mechanic.

But it can be one time the trouble will be found in the gas line or the ignition system.

Deadwood, Toughest Of All Mining Camps

(By Ed Howe)

Deadwood has just come back a half century by leap over the days of it's gold rush. Today a staid, sedate city, one of the busiest South Dakota cities, nestles among the centre of the mineral industry of the Black Hills, Deadwood fifty years ago was a crude, tough settlement in the mountain-rimmed Indiana it's pure gold nuggets in the eyes of the Government, it's made the rude of the old shotted, and it's now preoccupied in the frenzied struggle for new gold, and a good flow virility, for Deadwood was the wildest, most reckless, most [illegible] mining camp the United States ever knew. Gold was discovered in the Black Hills by Horatio [illegible] Bees, party of General Custer, in July, 1874. Custer notified the United States Government that the Black Hills were included in the Sioux land for which negotiations were then in progress, and ordered suppressed. Before the end of the year, however, [illegible] rushed for [illegible] and shot in the streams of the Black Hills country.

Long before June, 1876, when the [illegible] of General Custer's report was given to the Government, thousands of adventurers made their way into the region, says the New York Sun. The Indians resented this [illegible] on their lands and made their opposition to the intruders and to the Government's efforts to [illegible] them in other reservations very [illegible] existence to the Sioux to believe and the prelude to the defeat of Custer on the Little Big Horn on June, 1876. A street fight in Deadwood [illegible] of the fastest of Whites and Custer in August, 1873. It was [illegible] by Wild Bill Hickok, who [illegible] Deadwood was [illegible], a numerously [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Indian Learned In Ancient Lore

Has Brought to New Orleans Fresh Stores Possessed Vast Knowledge

Transported from the Mexican territory, Indians, as bad as they are, the region once peopled by the ancient Maya tribes, has been presented to the faculty of Tulane University, New Orleans, as perhaps the most interesting "exhibit" discovered by Franz Blom, Tulane archaeologist on recent Mexican and Central American explorations.

Mr. Blom, who, with Oliver Farrar, his assistant, arrived on the steamer Sarasota after completing a six months' expedition, announced the finding of 24 ruined cities previously unknown. 72 monuments believed to have been erected by the Maya Indians and numerous specimens of Maya architecture.

Lenzo, who has just seen his first ruined city and to whom a taxicab means a wagon, was used by Mr. Blom to explore a vast hitherto unknown area and is considered a host of ancient people. He is expected to furnish material for study of some of the secrets of lost tongues of early tribes in the Maya region.

An Interesting Discovery

South American Palm Seed is Found in Saskatchewan

An object regarded as an oddly shaped stone resembling a petrified ostrich was found by Alfred Brosin, farmer, of Cork, Sask., in 1913 while he was digging a well.

Through the agency of Miss Katie Smith, teacher of a school near Cusack, Dean W. J. Rutherford, of the College of Agriculture, Saskatoon, has ascertained the object found by Mr. Brosin to be a seed of a palm tree found principally in tropical climes.

Professor E. T. Dickson, professor of Geology of Macdonald College, Quebec has confirmed this report, identifying the nut as fruit of a palm actually a native of Brazil. It carries and breeds extensively as vegetable ivory. Mr. Brosin found the nut was covered with a thin shell or husk. This seems to have protected it from the ravages of time, for the nut, the seed of the palm is in perfect preservation. Professor Dickson has identified the nut for museum purposes. It has hitherto been found only in Brazil.

Professor Rutherford also has communications from other scientists relative to the discovery, and it is probable that further investigations will be made in the locality where the nut was found.

"Valley of Ivory" Is Goal of Duke

A three-year research project to verify an ancient legend that the lost "valley of ivory" or "elephant graveyard" where all poor elephants are supposed to retire to die, has been undertaken by the Duke of Bedford.

The "valley of ivory" has been a subject for romance and mythology writers have contended it is nothing more than a variation of the fabled "valley of doves," where the Arabian prophet has dropped that real known superior. Stabled. It will be remembered that all Stabled had to do was look up as many pewels as he wanted and then secure several trans-continental trips, eagles or other troops.

The finder of the "valley of ivory" is ready to collect all the ivory and he wants from the piles of tusks distributed by supposed them, by centuries of dying elephants and secure transportation facilities for them. The finder will not be so easily transferable as Stabled and a pack not the value of three is not worth a high toll postage for it is reported there are countless millions of tons of ivory awaiting the finder.

The "valley of ivory" is really believed in by South African natives, although there is considerable difference of opinion and not a little vagueness as to its exact location. The story is in fact not confined to South Africa, for the natives further east, in the Congo, elephants are also convinced that dying elephants have a graveyard place they go in order to expire mercifully and they "notify this to" by saying, "Why, afternoon, do you think I am about elephant, even to the sergeant major?"

Others say that these elephants are two about three times as long as the ordinary elephant. Here then is a new opportunity of meeting them in the flesh. Another of the legends is that of a certain elephant "graveyard" and still protects.

The Duke, however, is an experienced hunter and he has been deterred from search for the ivory valley by any fear of meeting elephants. There is real game enough to be found in Africa, and he has no intention of "going after" elephants. He is going as well as a hunter, but as a naturalist. Further than that, he has not confirmed the report, identifying the nut as fruit of a palm actually a native of Brazil. It carries and breeds extensively as vegetable ivory. Mr. Brosin found the nut was covered with a thin shell or husk. This seems to have protected it from the ravages of time, for the nut, the seed of the palm is in perfect preservation. Professor Dickson has identified the nut for museum purposes. It has hitherto been found only in Brazil.

Professor Rutherford also has communications from other scientists relative to the discovery, and it is probable that further investigations will be made in the locality where the nut was found.

According to the local versions of the story, a herd of elephants, many years ago, driven by intense curiosity, he followed the track of a rich elephant, and after penetrating through a dense forest, which was nearly as dark as night, for five days, he came within sight of an opening he knew to be "graveyard." At this moment he was surprised by an elephant "sentinel" which threw him down and was about to trample him to death when a native rifle shot killed the elephant.

The native was so narrow that the elephants could not reach him although they hunted him valiantly, and he was able to lay and watch them at their work of "burying" their dead. He came to have seen as many as seven several miles in extent and it was entirely covered with ivory tusks and bones. Around the edges of the space were aged and extended elephants, and in the centre were the younger ones. Then, when a huge rain passed himself up with the tusks of the dead, and lifted his trunk toward the sun, trumpeted loudly as if giving a farewell salute, then it sank down and died.

Terrified by his experience, the old native crawled away under the lee of the tusks and dead elephants, reaching open country again. Unfortunately he omitted to take note of the direction, and when first telling the story expressed doubt as to whether he would ever be able to find his way back again. In any event he has not been able to do so, and the ivory graveyard has not been found, and all the ivory in the world would not tempt him to take another.

Whether he finds my ivory or not the Duke of Bedford hopes to bring back data which will be profitably received by the scientific world.

He declined to say whether in the event of discovering the alleged fabulous store of ivory he would devote any of it to placing himself on the throne of France.

GADSBY NEWS

Lieut.-Colonel Kemp who has been in charge of the Military District No. 13 since last March, will leave with Mrs. Kemp and family for their home in Montreal early next week. Mrs. Kemp has been visiting in Gadsby for the past month and more, and by her charming personality has endeared herself to many friends in the town.

The Duke of Bedford is a keen sportsman, his chief hobby being shooting, and he has had many adventures in the course of his travels. He has been presented with the skin of a lion which he killed in Kenya, and has also shot a rhinoceros and a hippopotamus.

The "valley of ivory" has been a subject for romance and mythology writers have contended it is nothing more than a variation of the fabled "valley of doves," where the Arabian prophet has dropped that real known superior. GADSBY WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Owing to the correspondence on the hall fly Women's Institute having to meet on September last month, there was a report of the last month's meeting sent in by paper as we will continue the meetings in that regard.

Gadsby on August 10th, 1925, again with 14 members and one visitor present and the Roll Call was answered with a recipe for a "favorite salad."

Mrs. G. McTaggart and Mrs. Arnold were appointed directors, and Mrs. Rogers on the Rack committee to take the place of three members who recently left town. It was decided that the Institute would have a book of recipes printed and each member being donated and boxed by a member.

A committee was also appointed to have forks placed on the windows and doors of the Town Hall.

Mrs. Foote from south of Gadsby, who was a former president, gave a short, but encouraging address, and was heartily welcomed by her old friends.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Porter and Mrs. G. McTaggart.

At the next regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid, Friday, October 16th was chosen as the date for their annual children supper and concert. A more detailed announcement will be made later.

The regular choir practice will be held on Thursday evening of each week at 8 p. m. We would be pleased to have more members join the choir. Mrs. Shaw has been secured her place as organist, after Mrs. A. Hewsey had so willingly and kindly presided at the organ during the months of July and August. Mr. B. Benson is the choir leader.

The Board of Trade will hold their next meeting in the Union Hotel on Monday, September 14th, at 8 p. m.

Mr. J. P. Chase of Bow, Idaho, who at one time was agent for the Hay-Spokane Co. here, is a visitor to the town and community. He is the guest of Mr. Alex. Cruickshanks.

Mr. R. H. Graham of Lacombe, is the guest of F. C. Draper.

The Quarterly Official Board Meeting of the Methodist church will be held at the Gadsby Church at 8 p. m. on Tuesday, Sept. 15th. A full attendance of the members of the Board is desired.

Rev. an Goodall, continues steadily at their weekly shipments of stock on the range.

IRELAND

Beet sugar making is to be pushed by an Irish industry and the first beet sugar factory is to be established at Carlow, between North Cork and the Thurles district of Co. Tipperary. The Government is already ready to encourage the growing of the beet by the grant of a fertile tillage district, a land railway service linking the factory with the ports. The promoters of the movement in North Cork, Mr. Thomas Dillon and Mr. Odlum, state that the area would be most suitable for the purpose.

Polaco-straining carried on to a terrible extent in West Galway, one of the results of the system of the crime of manslaughter for which Sarah Keane and her son, Patrick Keane, were indicted. After the trial had been in progress for a time—the taking of evidence being slow work, as the witnesses spoke Irish and their statements had to be interpreted—the male prisoner pleaded guilty and the remainder of the case was taken up by the jury, it was admitted. Patrick Keane was found dead in a ditch, and his mother, named Matthew Connolly, who died as a result of the blow. Mrs. Keane's counsel said that there admitted having drunk a pint of potteen, but denied that it was the cause of the "shaking drunk." Patrick Keane had also been drinking to a certain extent. Mr. Justice Hanna sentenced him to sixteen months' imprisonment, dating from the time of his arrest, and ordered that on his release six months' bonds he should enter into bail to be of good behavior for two years.

First Japanese Women Bandit

Young Student's Robber Leaped For Adventure and Excitement

The first woman bandit in the annals of Japanese crime has been arrested in Tokyo, and the police are investigating the case in the hope that it may lead to the capture of her confederates, according to a Reuter message from the capital.

The young woman is a university student, and the police say that she is the daughter of a well-to-do family. She is said to have been actuated by a desire for adventure, she set out for the night in male attire, armed with a revolver and a cutlass in a Chinese coat, carried as a rug, and a Japanese sword, and with a number of cartridges. She is said to have carried the cartridges on the pocket.

She made a reconnoitring round and was evidently nearly every night for three months when her career of banditry was cut short by the police. Her usual procedure was to accost middle-class persons in unfrequented highways at a late hour and when she attended victim passed, she sprang round them with a dagger, the orthodox weapon of the Japanese robber or highwayman, and demanded money.

Although crimes have been committed by women in Japan with women as accomplices, this is the first instance on record of a woman bandit working alone.

Supplies For Far North

Relief Ship Sails For Hudson's Bay Posts in Arctic

With foodstuffs and supplies for the Hudson's Bay Posts in the Arctic regions and Hudson's Bay, the steamer Peverit, of the Interprovincial Transport Company, under charter of the Hudson's Bay Company, has sailed for carrying stores to replace those of the Bay Edition, the supply ship having been held in Quebec. As she will no longer 7 other Institutes, we are informed, she will be away a long time in the east. Lunch will be served at noon and the conference will begin promptly at two o'clock.

It was decided by a vote of the meeting to invite Dr. Laidlaw, Deputy Minister of Public Health to give a lecture in Gadsby some time in the near future on Child Welfare, or Mental Diseases, as both if they prefer it is hoped all who can will take action. As this will be a public lecture it is hoped that everyone will attend this able speaker on a subject that is of such importance to us. The date of the lecture will have to be arranged for, and will be announced later.

THE OMEGA CIRCLE

The Omega Circle held their regular monthly meeting on Thursday, September 3rd, at the home of Mrs. Ross Collins. The meeting was opened with the Lord's Prayer, followed by the reading of the minutes. Mrs. R. Collins was re-elected president, Mrs. G. Hoover was elected Vice-President, and Mrs. Everett, Secretary-Treasurer.

It was decided that they would hold their annual Bazaar in the Gadsby Town Hall on the afternoon of November 20th, for the purpose of raising money to carry on the work of the Omega Circle during the winter. Donations of such will be very much appreciated, and may be forwarded. These can be left at either of the places that are given in the President Mrs. Collins.

BOTHA NEWS

The recent rain has held up cutting and threshing in these parts but with the fine weather changing we are in the present time there should be a goodly number of crops all over the next few days. Cutting in the Zenith district is nearly over and some are already threshing. Yields apparently are going to be a little above the average but after all it is a matter of grain each. The quality however, so far threshed seems to be excellent. Botha district this year will bear out it's contention held for a long time that this is the best farming district in Central Alberta.

Mr. H. McKee returned on Monday from spending a few days visiting his son at Rocky.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rennie spent the week-end in Calgary where Mrs. Rennie was called due to the illness of her father, Mrs. Rennie returned on Monday.

Egerton Ray who underwent an operation for appendicitis a week ago is progressing favorably and hopes to be home in a few days.

The McKay baby who is at the hospital in Calgary is improving and we trust better than when it entered the institution.

Mr. and Mrs. Meredith of Edmonton are renewing acquaintances in the Botha district. On Sunday last Mr. Meredith played two violin selections in the Zenith Church, during the service, which were very much appreciated.

The regular monthly meeting of the U. F. W. A. for United Church will be held on Friday afternoon, September 18th, at the home of Mrs. C. T. Anderson. All ladies of the congregation are invited to attend.

September 17th is Rally Day in the United Church and a special program is being prepared for that day. It is hoped that all records for attendance will be broken at the services.

The Pradson Mercantile Co. shipped in and disposed of a carload of mixed fruit on Wednesday last week. The variety was good although the quantities of some were rather small. The quality of the fruit was excellent.

Mrs. Marion McLaughlin returned to her home in Prentiss after spending her vacation at the home of Mrs. Dan Bender.

NOTE—Parents and Teachers are urgently requested to see that all children are given an opportunity of attending this Special Matinee on Saturday afternoon, September 19th.

This picture is one anyone will enjoy, but one that children will be a long time forgetting, and owing to the appeal which it has for children, the management are making every effort to have them all see it.

The sum of 10 cents will admit any child to this matinee, which is pretty hard to believe when the size of the picture is taken into consideration.

What The Central Alberta Cream Pool Has Done

TO THE DAIRY PRODUCERS:

The Central Alberta Dairy Pool was started at Olmond [illegible] but as it is commonly known has carried on nearly for 10 months.

Many of you are members and proud of the results.

On June 1st you received a 7 cent per pound Butter fat Dividend and on September 1st, 4 cents.

This means that your purchasing power has been increased to this extent above the regular price paid for butterfat.

This has been made possible by co-operatively concentrating a large volume of cream at one economic point, and then making it scientifically processed and orderly merchandized by efficient management.

Many arguments have been used by those wishing to frustrate the design of the Pool and discourage the producers, but the results of every conceivable nature have been offered but the loyalty remains unquestioned while the membership increases.

The savings effected clearly demonstrate that the ELIMINATION OF your Dairy Products is the way to SECURE THE MAXIMUM RETURN. WE PLAN TO CARRYING EXCLUSIVE OVERHEAD LEADERSHIP SELLING VOLUME AT CENTRAL POINTS AND LEARNING TO SELL THESE PRODUCTS YOURSELF

As the membership expands a consequent volume is assured with the result of larger business for distribution.

We are approaching the Winter season with it's increased cost of production and to insure yourself of the full value for your cream.

"The Mikado"

Stettler is home it's first taste of real comic opera when Gilbert and Sullivan's comic opera "THE MIKADO" comes to the Stettler Theatre for one performance only, on Wednesday, September 16th. The cast and production honor of Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado" has made it one of the most popular pieces that has ever been produced on the stage. Besides that have charmed the core and won a permanent place in the hearts of thousands who have seen it in the cities of Old Japan and the shores of praise that has come to the company though their performance is the same manner as of a brilliant operatic event.

Brandon Brothers, well known producers throughout the United States and Western Canada, are sponsoring "The Mikado" and in honor of the 40th anniversary of the famous gem, they have assembled a cast of fresh young voices and a most beautiful production and it is no abnormally cheap. No one in Stettler has ever heard a more perfect rendering of this Gilbert and Sullivan masterpiece.

The producers, the principals, the chorus and the orchestra find that a proper presentation of "The Mikado" demands a high degree of ability. It abounds in comic that will live on; "The Flowers that Bloom in the Spring," "Three Little Maids," "Tit Willo From School" and the famous "Madrigal" are just a few of the many melodies that will be whistled for many generations yet to come.

The presentation of "The Mikado" by such a reputable company in Stettler is an event that comes only once in a decade and amusement lovers and theatregoers should be glad to grab this opportunity. The coming majesty of the Stettler Theatre is lauded and patrons are advised to make reservations well in advance.

SEATS ON SALE THURSDAY

(Big Valley Times)

William Hall-Dalwin, a highly respected and well known farmer of the Ramsay and Rowley districts, died on Monday morning last at the Drumheller hospital, death being caused by a general break-down in health, which overtook the deceased about one year ago.

The late Mr. Hallwrite was born some 63 years ago near Bradford, Ont., County, Ontario, and came to Alberta from Simcoe County, Ontario in 1907. Two years later he located on his late residence, five miles south of Ramsay, being one of the first to take up land in that district.

The deceased was one of the best known farmers in Alberta, his long and active association with the United Farmers' movement bringing him before the public on numerous occasions. He always took a deep interest in the community life of the district, while the all the real pioneers he was to be numbered among the early settlers.

The sorrowing widow and eight children broke down pneumonia different trips to the hospital.

Deceased is survived by his widow three boys, Andrew, William and Robert, and two daughters, Mrs. William Baldwin, and Mrs. E. H. Rowley, all residents in the Rowley district. The funeral is being held this (Wednesday) afternoon at 2 o'clock to the Rowley Cemetery, Rev. W. E. Thomson, of Drumheller Knox United Church officiating at the funeral services.

New Reloading Loan

Announcement has just been made that the Dominion Government has concluded it's financial plans for this year by disposing of a new issue of $75,000,000 three year 4 1-2 per cent. bonds through a strong Canadian syndicate, consisting of Wood, Gundy and Company, Dominion Securities Corporation, A. E. Ames and Company Limited, and the National City Company, Limited. The bonds are being offered to the public through practically every local dealer and stock broker in Canada, and through the chartered banks.

In arranging for it's long term financing in Canada, rather than in another market, the Government has followed the policy that has been already rightly allowed to during the last several years, the Victory Loans of 1917, 1918 and 1919 having been planned entirely for the Canadian market and the Refunding Loans of 1922 and 1924 having been offered in the same manner. The present issue—much as are your note issue—have been placed on a strictly cash basis, there is a demand for such bonds is so strong that each borrowing is substantially cheap. Three short term notes, however, are of interest only to the large financial houses.

It is understood that the proceeds of the new issue will be used for refunding purposes, including the redemption of $62,000,000 of war bonds, which fall due on December 1st next. In this matter also, the Government has been very wise-free bonds by the usual tangible issues is being followed.

The new issue should prove exceedingly attractive to Canadian investors. The maturity is fifteen years—in other words, those bonds issued by the Government of the old the 1941 maturity Victory bonds which were issued in 1919 and which have become very popular. At the price of 97 1-4 and interest, the bonds will yield the investor an interest return of over 4 3-4 per cent, which is considered quite attractive by those of the success of the 1920 and 1924 Refunding Loans, it is felt in financial circles that the present issue will be quickly snapped up. Investors for years have fortunately ceased to have purchased the 1925 issue of Refunding Loan bonds have had the satisfaction of watching their bonds rise in value by more than four points, while those who purchased their four years also witnessed an improvement in the market. It is a fact that all Dominion of Canada bond issues floated since the conclusion of the war are now selling at a substantial premium over the original issue price.

In conclusion, the new issue, should no point upon which concern has been felt in the past, namely, the effect of the highest grade of bonds have been consistently lowered during the last few months and from all indications the volume of new bond issues will be unusually light during the remainder of the year. There will be no more Dominion Government financing, while most of the Provincial and Municipal loans have already secured their requirements.

The best advice to prospective investors, therefore, is to enter their applications as quickly as possible. It is understood that this can be done through any bond dealer, stock exchange broker or through any branch of any chartered bank.

No Dividend Here—If there's anything in this talk about the members, Mr. Speaker, they don't get it in the shelter line. Reginald probably over looks and slowly shut the door.

COUNTY TIRED OF IT'S STAY HALLOWE'EN TOO LIVE FROM HIS OUT OF JAIL

A man who has spent 3,140 days in Nelson County Jail, New York State, is small comfort for the cons offenses was finally forcibly evicted from there in an order signed by a county judge. The Union county board of freeholders decided it was costing too much money to support him.

The offense for which Thos Reginale, seventy- nine, of Hinsbeth, N. J., has been so many times in non-one part of his wife, Maria, who is eighty-four. Reginale has spent nearly six years of the last ten serving six months' and three months' sentences on this charge.

Each time Reginale was arrested he seemed to welcome the jail sentence. He always pleaded guilty and ordered the prosecuting attorney with testimony, in hope of getting a longer sentence.

He pleaded with officials for permission to remain in the jail. He said he dreaded going back into the world to make a living for himself and his wife. He insisted he would do no more to support her if he was freed now than he had done before.

But the officials were deaf to his pleas and defiance. He was escorted to the door of his home and told to make a living for himself and his wife. He insisted he would do no more to support her if he was freed now than he had done before.

SCHOOL NOTES

A total of 112 school fairs will be held this year throughout the province under the auspices of the provincial departments of agriculture and education. The interest being taken in these fairs is as keen as ever, and a large number of children participate. In the Edmonton school fair district 14 fairs are being held, in the Vermilion district 15 fairs, in the Sedgewick district 12 fairs, in the Olds district 20 fairs and in the Claresholm district 55 fairs. In1924 there were approximately 186,000 entries in the school fairs, which gives some idea of the large number of children competing. The fairs are under the general supervision of the field crops branch of the department of agriculture.

The "Grand Old Man" Is Defended By "Tay Pay"

FAMOUS ARTIST SKILLED IN ARTS OF THE RIVIERA

NEW YORK.—Ann Goldthwaite seems to be the girl could go a famous Montmartre and studios whose words are, as found in the Metropolitan Museum of Art and who answer other calls to her portrayal Mrs. Woodrow Wilson 1st, and Cardinal Gibbons.

Many know Miss Goldthwaite's name as a sculptress but few are aware of her intimate Dantes knew of her as a painter of unusual beauty and one of her favorite designs for pageantry subjects is given.

Captain Peter Wright's scandalous accusations upon the moral character of Gladstone has brought T. P. O'Connor M P., dean of the British House of Commons, to the defense of the grand Old Man. Mr O'Connor ought to be in a position to speak with authority for he sat with Gladstone for many years and was on friendly terms with him. He says of that the lying legend of Gladstone's relations with women through whom the whole nature of the statesman was distorted by a party in power, seems, and never was believed for a moment by persons who knew Gladstone well. The conduct of conscience upon its nonconscientious This was due to his fervid evangelical nature. He yearned as an uplifter, and particularly he desired to uplift fallen women. He would stop to speak to them in the street to give them a word of advice in the hope that the process of uplift might be that he would bring about other topics. Gladstone was warned that the evil minded might infer false impressions but he paid no attention. In fact it was his wound Wilson by his collar, called a pollution and gave him other names.

Wilson was tried at the Central Criminal Court and Gladstone appeared in person against him, with the result that he was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment with hard labor. It was characteristic of Gladstone that he pleaded that the criminal's sentence should be curtailed. Lord Morley records of this act "there was no a crabby wisdom in it or a jot lower. But, then, what are people Christians for?" His biographer then proceeded to tell what was Gladstone's attitude toward charity and religion and said that "he kept a careful account of his charities. These ran from 1837 to 1847 and from there it grew so that from 1847 to the end of 1880 he had devoted to objects of charity and religion as a free matter, a thousand pounds and more in the twelve months of every year." Gladstone's own words are "I spent more than £1000 a year on charity." Gladstone's own words are "I spent more than £1000 a year on charity." Gladstone's own words are "I spent more than £1000 a year on charity."

The pioneers intended. As a rule they were extraordinarily those who were better and merely pursued the everlasting subject when they saw a man in conversation with a prostitute. But sometimes they pounced by saliva. And Mr. Gladstone's sentiments in this matter, a fair set, were of the Rescue of Commerce who was an undoubted gentleman and who, because he had spent a good deal of money and time on

Summary of Business Outlook, Sept. 1, 1925

Because of the extremely peculiar part which agriculture plays in the business life of Canada September 1st might be regarded as the most important day of the Canadian business year. By this date, a large percentage of our crops has been harvested, a good idea can be formed of the crop returns which the farmers will receive. This year the season is commencing under favorable auspices and the prospects for Canadian business are the best we have had since 1918.

Crops in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces are in excellent condition. In the West, a wheat crop approximately 180,000,000 bushels larger than the preceding one is being harvested under ideal conditions, practically every acre that was sown will yield a good return per acre, and the weather conditions are favorable for the completion of the harvesting operations. The yield of coarse grains is also very satisfactory, and with an addition to the area under cultivation, the purchasing power of the Western Provinces, whose principal source of income is derived from agriculture, will be greatly increased. Prices for agricultural products generally are somewhat lower than they were a year ago, but the decline is not as great as in the case of many other commodities, and the purchasing power of the farmer is still relatively high. The fruit crop

A tourist in Ohio asked a native what was the principal product of the State, and the answer was "Men."

Most of us, if asked the same question in reference to Alberta, would answer "Bugs, Wheat, Cattle."

We could not very well say "Men," because we still work on the principle that one bug is worth two children.

If you think this is not true, figure out the amount of time that the average grown to his bugs and compare it with the time that he gives to his children.

Our "Principle" product must be the one on which we spent the most time.

THE PUPILS

With the re-opening of the schools comes the annual problem of indoctrinating pupils, from the start, to take an interest in their school work. This, of the whole operation is not so difficult, but as school progresses there seems to be an inevitable tendency for pupils to slacken up, take an interest in matters outside their school duties, and either of these acts is serious enough to the parents of children, very having their home-work attended to, school whenever possible and generally to play-hot with their own and educational opportunities. So far as the public school is concerned there is no problem along these lines to entertain, but the high school furnishes a lot of food for thought.

The problem is not one which Very hardly alone is concerned. Free all points in the province and elsewhere comes the same complaint. Sometimes we cannot help but think that there is some consequence of the conditions. It may be that the boys and girls of today are no better or no worse than their predecessors, but they are very young by, not even any worse than we, ourselves, were. Nevertheless, when we think of the consistent neglect of liminal work which characterized many of the pupils of the Vegreville high school last year, we cannot if ever in our wood days were quite as bad as those pupils have been.

Education means work, real work. There is no use trying to spoon-feed pupils, especially on the high school level. Unless pupils can demonstrate a willingness and capacity for industrious and hard work they do with a lot of honest application of their own the best teachers and text books will do them nowhere.

For this reason, in our opinion, it is hopeless folly to send a boy or girl to high school when they have passed and emphatically made it known that they do not want to go. Sending children of that type to the high school is worse than useless. When a boy attends high school he is pressed, and he knows why he is there. Most of these do some-good work, even in the most unwilling of these have no chance unless their ambition is kindled by application. The boy who has still not found to go to high school will never apply himself with any degree of success. The boy who wants to go will never make good unless he does so mind is an unsound work and not an unsound extravagance either.

In Vegreville we have had two boys uplift on our hand and too small to out of any other Boy and girls who are called out to attend the school knowing are sure to get the habit of night-hawking They are perfectly willing to support the plans of their well-workers with other pupils of their own. The consequent result is disharmony after awakening is taken up with matters which can be learned on school time.

games, parties and the like to which invitations are extended to those children from people who should know better. Such supposedly don't. We state emphatically that no high school pupil should be seen at a public or semi-public dance at any time under any conditions as this or any other town. Even parties should be a very rare occurrence All children are prone to overstep the pleasures of social life. If a dance or a party is coming their attention is diverted to it both before and after. School work suffers, and does not help but suffer Yet people with the very best children full of their exuberance.

Consider the constant round of gaiety which exerted the pupils of the Vegreville high school during the last school year. People who should have known better were arranging dances and parties for practically every week in the school year. In fact these people were lumped off at the rate. At once, these people get really responsible for this condition were ready to blame everyone but themselves. Parents, of course, were the only people for a certain share of the responsibility. PRAIRIE HOSPITALITY

(By Kathleen Redman Strange)

One thing, perhaps above all others, that has helped to make life pleasant and comfortable on our farms here on the west has been the ever-ready stream of visitors who come and go here from time to time unexpected.

When a friend asked me the other day what impressions on the first few months of prairie life returns, I decided, after a moment's thought, that it was the country we found so very friendly. Not that it occasion to very friendly, for large numbers of people call at once in the way of social visits, but the kind sense of the hills of Prairie-ality.

Country hospitality, however, is intangible matter of spontaneity, by a spirit of generous reception and friendly welcome. We are so glad to welcome folks for the outside world, we too, we cannot do too much for them because they monetize very per- ...ve. Their very presence is a ...ence and a pleasure, however ... ...ay be the state of the ... ...ality.

Due to the nature of our work we have a regular stream of visiting to-operators.

There is, for instance, the Record of Performance Poultry inspector, who puts in his appearance usually on a stranger each time, at least once a month by some competitor, recording and so forth. These gentlemen are always among our most welcome of guests for they bring to us considerable of real assets in the way of counsel in the matter of the hobby of the poultry business.

She Never Seems Bored So She Is Very Popular

Mrs. Baldwin, wife of the British premier, has become very popular in a quiet way among the various social sections of the Old Land. Natural by there must be a reason for this outside of the fact that she is the wife of the country's leader.

A normal investigation seems to reveal the reason and a very simple reason it is. Mrs. Baldwin is never bored. Whether it be interviewers, receptions, bazaars, garden parties or committee meetings, she is always a sympathetic.

She is in addition a great champion of the British women, though not a militant one like disapproves of militant methods. Nor are her campaigns along political lines nor her activities for political power.

Her interest is in much more homely but equally important affairs. Spends a great deal of her time in such non-spectacular pursuits as giving away clothes to people who need them.

She has no particular pet charity, but anything and everything looking toward the betterment of conditions in mother and child is sure to enlist her support.

Discussion of the subject in a favorite topic of conversation, she admits. "I may misbehave," he says, "when I am away from home, but never with Mrs. Baldwin."

Don't Make Mistakes Twice

Profiting by mistakes has become one of the most important features in the average car owner's motoring, just as it does in general. Any person who has had any experience at all at motoring can tell you that.

If you don't make some mistakes in owning and operating your car you are unique. If you don't make those mistakes some for something you're not wise.

Most auto owners are beginners in one line when they start motoring, maybe it should be studied more fully in order to see wherein it can be of service to other motorists, is debatable.

Suppose you make the mistake of buying a car that is not suited to your needs and requirements, you certainly have made a mistake, but there is no excuse for it. Discussing your trials and experiences with others who have had a dangerous experience that some person has made, will save yourself the trouble of making the same mistake yourself, whenever you are given a piece of information upon you, it would be well if you do.

Right now there are thousands of car owners who do not know that they are getting trouble is just around the corner, they do not know that changing the crankcase oil every 500 miles is more than mere custom. Had these people taken their mistakes at first hand lesson they would, in all probability, have completely overhauled the possibility of taking their mistakes at future hand. They would not be getting anywhere near as much out of their motoring to-day.

Freak Parties By Americans Thrill London

American women, millionaires, and other crazy for titles, are giving Mayfair the time of it's live just now. American fortunes rank from mere production and the supply of raw materials to Great Britain, all but a few at top-top prices have vanished from the know half the time—except some of May-ers at fancy prices.

They are on looking for all fresh novelty, extravagance, latest stunt, and sometimes, lose a opportunity such a revel is broadcast widely as London morals was not worth the old "red dog" before the war.

The list of American guilt presents at this present has reached all records, and one cannot go to a dance or dinner, a tea or tea party in any really fashionable house was a-days without running across two or three "peppy" and beautifully turned out daughter, of wealthy trans-Atlantic parents.

The heirs and younger sons of marquises, earls and dukes are the quarry snubbed down by American mothers for their delectable girls. And the items hold out are not only a substantial marriage settlement, but the gifts themselves, who are invariably fresh from the most expensive fitting schools, full of social ambitions and with all the feminine attractions bestowed by mother nature and cultivated by highly paid friends, hairdressers, modiste and milliners, not to mention the beauty experts.

It is since, which is to have it's coronation in wedding bell—in October, succeeded in a coup which eliminates the added risk of the Duke of Marlborough's accomplished. The son of 21 year old, and by an American girl, and the girl a wealthy American woman, whose social place and position a wealth have come to the war given her an established place in English society, heard the young man say that his wished most of the girls he met were as pretty as the American girls he had recently encountered.

Several of moment he was a rank- ed man. The wily intriguer decided instantly in Mrs. Van Blank, of New York, the American fashion result, to send along her lovely daughter with a short time—she had a prospective titled husband for her.

Fate favored the two young people were thrown together at private- on the entertainment, and every wo- ...ment was given a free of best- ...ed to wear as a small dress or- ...nment.

ONIONS IN THIS RAINY DAY DISH

Take four fillets and tie them to hold them in position. Slice thinly a large Bermuda onion. Put a tablespoonful of butter in a steel frying pan. When the pan is hot, dip in the onions, season with pepper, salt, a tablespoonful of sugar, a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce in a tablespoonful of water. Cook until onions are mashed down and begin to cook, then lay in the fillets, cover and cook until the fillets are done, lift to a hot dish and smother with onions. Garnish with toast sippets and parsley. Serve peas and baked potatoes on the same plate.

What The Central Alberta Cream Pool Has Done

TO THE DAIRY PRODUCERS:

The Central Alberta Association or "Central Cream Pool" as it is commonly known has worked six months for it's members.

Many of you are members and proud of the results.

On June 1, 1 you received a 2-cent per pound Butter-fat Dividend on or September 1st, 4 cents.

This means that your investment has been increased to the extent above the original investment of Butter-fat.

This has been made possible by operating economically a large volume of cream at our central station and by the scientific, commercial and efficient management of the Association.

Many unnecessary duplications of these services are thereby eliminated. The cream is collected, tested, graded, handled and shipped in the most economical manner possible. Every patron is treated alike and receives the same prices and benefits as every other patron. Your business is handled with the greatest possible care and attention.

Co-operation has made it possible for the Central Alberta Dairy Producers to be served only by the ELIMINATION OF UNPROFITABLE PLANTS CARRYING EXCESSIVE OVERHEAD CONTRALIZING VOLUME AT CENTRAL POINTS AND LEARNING TO DO IT ALL THAT PROFIT IS TO BE HAD.

The qualifying indicated that the men were pretty evenly matched, but that the Castor ladies would have the edge on the scores.

Messrs. Ebert and Northwood of Coronation arrived late, and for this reason the First Flight was made up of eleven players, the second of four and the third flight of four. The results of the play-off were as follows:

First Flight

Preliminary Round—Ebert defeated Northwood 2 and 1; Maiber defeated Hartlett 4 and 3; Brennan defeated White 2 and 1.

1st Round—Brennan defeated to Ebert; Maiber defeated Barnett 4 and 2; Begert defeated White 2 and 1; Carter bye (Coronation). Dunkerwick defeated Dillon, one up.

Semi-finals—Ebert defeated Maiber 6 and 4; Begert defeated Dunkerwick on the 20th hole Dunkerwick was 3 up and 3 to go at one time of the game, but was tied at the 18th and won two more holes to decide.

Second Flight

Wife defeated Northwood 3 and 2, barring Four Stettler players in this competition, Wills, Sanford, Barnes and White. This will be played later on.

Second Flight

Finals—Lee defeated Parr 5 and 3.

Third Flight

Ladies—First Flight

First Round—Mrs. Carey defeated Mrs. Sharpe; Mrs. Parr defeated Mrs. Barnes; Mrs. Dorrance defeated Mrs. Cwighton; Mr. Fredericksen defeated Mrs. Anzier.

Semi Finals—As the ladies in the semi-finals were all from Castor, they decided to play off at Castor.

Ladies—Second Flight

Mrs. Sharpe defeated Mrs. Gillespie and Mrs. Prosser.

Mrs. Begert defeated Miss Brown.

MOUNTAIN DIFFERENTIAL MAY EXPLAIN JOKER IN GRAIN RATES MUDDLE

Railway Commission Evidently Added 30 Percent for Mountain Haul, Says Union, in Analysis of Rate Structure

Revised Tariffs of Two Railways Received in Calgary; New Study Actually Under Way

Many Alberta Points Affected; Second Hearing Likely; Union Not Unfriendly

Alberta is still at a loss to understand the exact meaning of the new freight rates on grain and flour for export moving east and to Vancouver which went into effect Wednesday in accordance with the order of the Board of Railway Commissioners which was supposed to have removed "anomalies" and "discriminations" from the rate structure.

While the Prairie Provinces by the united action of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways, of the same tariff schedules, this is something of the unknown to any one interested in the matter anywhere on the prairies, and even in Ottawa, where the rates were framed, when asked to explain the joker in the new tariffs, officials of the railway commission declined to do so.

Alberta is not alone in the dark. Even the railway officials themselves are not sure what the new rates mean. Here are some of the questions which are puzzling them:

Why is the mileage basis for the mountain section of the Canadian National Railways 30 per cent higher than that of the Canadian Pacific Railways, when the two lines run practically parallel through the mountains, and when the C.N.R. has the shorter line?

Why is it that the rate for export grain moving to Vancouver is actually lower than it was previously in September 15, at many other points there has been practically no change in rates and at the remaining points the rate is actually higher than it was almost negligible?

Unified Interpretation

Although Saskatchewan has joined with British Columbia and Alberta in standing behind the new rates, it is understood, on the face of the order, that the Saskatchewan rates are actually higher than the previous rates on the railway lines.

R. B. Bennett, K.C., Edmonton, will represent both Saskatchewan and Alberta at the hearing of the appeal at Montreal on September 29 it was understood that the railway board had decided at a conference between Mr. Bennett and the railway Commissioners of the various provinces, on Thursday of last week, to hear the appeal.

Railways Considered Undefended

"The only complaint on analyzing the rates, that I can come to, is that the mountain differential was taken into consideration. The matter has yet to be decided upon by the commission. The railway companies evidently took the order to mean that rates for export should be based upon the pressure—consist differential," Mr. McKinnon said.

The illustrative: The rate from Calgary to Vancouver, based on the present mileage basis would be 17.5 cents per hundred pounds, not as the commission scale of 13 cents approximately 30 per cent higher than the present rate, this works out at 21 cents per hundred pounds, the rate now effective by the railway companies.

Effect of Hearing

The effect of the hearing of the appeal on Sept. 29, will do one of two things, either confirm the new tariffs, even if they oppose subject to Alberta, or leave the old rate schedule in force before September 15.

If the commission differential has caused the drawing up of the new rates it will not be dealt with by the railway companies until protests will have to be dealt with at the investigation. Such protests will be made not only in Canada, the date of which has not been announced.

Alberta has filed her rates case and a hearing may be held late this month or later. Her final judgment is not expected before some time next year.

It could appear to the farmer that the order of the railway board that the railway companies should not charge more for grain and grain products from Calgary to Vancouver than from Calgary to Fort William, Port Arthur, or Duluth, or Calgary to Fort William, or Duluth, and everywhere understood that the same rate to Vancouver from Calgary as to Fort William for export would be established, and that the rate which has not been established are not on this basis. For example, Wilkie to Vancouver, 560 miles—a 24 cent—against Wilkie to Fort William, 906 miles, is 20 cents. Acme to Vancouver, 18 cents, Acme to Fort William, 21 cents against Gwendolen to Fort William, 906 miles, at 19 cents.

Explains Rates Unduly

No plausible explanation of the whole rates unduly as far as equalization is concerned is advanced by Will Acheson, chairman of the railway committee of the Calgary Board of Trade, and a freight rates expert. Mr. James has devoted considerable of his time to a study of rates matters, which accounts for the very slight reduction as compared with what was expected in the maximum differential.

"I was greatly surprised at the announcement of the decision of the Board of Railway Commissioners on September 29 it was under that the railway board had decided at a conference between Mr. Bennett and the railway Commissioners of the various provinces, on Thursday of last week to hear the appeal. Mr. Bennett, of the latter, no range," he stated on an interview with The Albertan Wednesday evening.

The Storage And Transportation Of Seed Potatoes

Improper storage of potatoes results in the loss of thousands of bushels annually. The careless handling of potatoes at harvesting time and again in the spring when they are being prepared for planting, also has a serious effect upon the market.

Bruises further influence the subsequent storage of potatoes. These are improper ventilation, humidity, depth of pile and sound stock at harvesting time.

Potatoes should be stored in as cool a place as possible without freezing. A good average temperature is between 36 degrees F. and 40 degrees F. Good ventilation is essential to assist in carrying off excess moisture, particularly where potatoes are stored in large heaps. Control of temperatures and ventilation can be obtained by many factor flaps, wall ducts and air shafts. Too dry an atmosphere causes shrinkage, therefore a certain amount of humidity is necessary. In a slight year careful grading should be practiced. Potatoes showing any disease are to be placed in storage. Large, overgrown potatoes, or those of poor conformation are also to be separated and sold first. Potatoes by which washing machinery or damage bags. Potatoes should not be removed from the field in a wet or dirty condition, as these elements increase the possibility of rot in storage. In harvesting, care should be taken to avoid cutting or otherwise damaging potatoes, since it is often impossible to detect cuts which later are rot-producers.

A grower's reputation does not extend beyond the town where he lives and his good. The use of clean bags is a factor which should not be overlooked. Second-hand bags are good, providing they are free from rot and are thoroughly cleaned at a time. Salt or fertilizer bags should not under any condition be used.

Directly or indirectly the grower is responsible for the survival of the stock in sound condition. Frost is to be the greatest enemy. Precautions must be taken that the stock is not chilled during the trip from the car to the warehouse. The loss of all one straw and blankets in the cold weather is serious. A number of the railway cars straw and paper will prevent the possibility of freezing. Careful handling at stations where no heated cars are available is also of the utmost importance. It is not unusual for several potatoes to be left in a car, damaged by rough treatment during loading in the car before the possibility of loosening during transit. It is always advisable to arrange the time that they will reach their destination so that delivery will not be made when the weather is severe.

Crossed Trousers

The time was—and some people who are still without gray hairs can recall it—when trousers were crossed lines. These that were made to order were delivered by the tailor carefully wound into cylinders about the circumference of a cream or whisky. Ready made trousers were then, as now, marked up to piles at the clothier's. Customers could be seen measuring, fore and aft, but at the customer's request the considerate clothing merchant would turn them over and see that they would be as smooth as the modern article when they were delivered. There have been different stories at different times as to how the crease came into vogue. This is the way Le Figaro of Paris, recalls it: "For many years, so many that men's trousers had had down the middle, front and back, the crease that is absolutely indispensable to every right-thinking person. Do you know the origin of that apparently unexplainable fashion? It was a surprise of love. Seventeen years ago, the Count de Cravon filled the role of mutual arbiter in France, as Brummel once did in England. The day of the count's marriage his valet brought his trousers sharply creased. The count, not informed this, put them on and went to the mairie. Only after the ceremony did he, to his great astonishment, observe the crease. There was much discussion of it. Some thought it ridiculous, others thought it the effect instantaneously ordered trousers with a crease—and the fashion was born."

BREAD PAPER INDUSTRY

As result of continued experimenting in the manufacture of paper and paper products from waste straw in Alberta, which have been conducted under the direction of the provincial government, the government is now ready to announce that it has supplied to the province of Alberta, a complete plant to be installed at the city of Edmonton for the manufacture of paper products from straw.

The government experiments conducted in the manufacture of such an article, and the experiments made have been of the pre-war importance not only to the province but to the general commercial development of the province.

A special report on the experiments has been made by Trade Commissioner Stansbury, to Premier Greenfield.

Investigations were made also all known experimental processes for the manufacture of pulp from straw, and finally some two years ago the Government made arrangements for laboratory tests of the Burke-Wing process in the Pulp and Paper Laboratories of the Forest Products Laboratories Montreal, under the joint supervision of Mr. E. Parke Cameron, superintendent of the Laboratories, and Mr. John Burke-Wing, who was co-inventor with his father in the process.

As a result of the success which attended the tests carried out in Montreal, the Alberta Government erected at a cost of $100,000 a well known pulp and paper engineer to make a local survey of the conditions which were necessary for the successful operation of a plant in the province. The following points were considered:

1. Availability of water within an economic radius.
2. Availability and cost of coal.
3. Availability and cost of salt and sodium sulphate.
4. Labor conditions.
5. Water and freight facilities.

An exhaustive report on these subjects has been received by the Government covering a number of points in the Province. This report together with all technical reports and data compiled at the disposal of groups of capital who may be interested in the development of this important new industry.

ANNUAL CONVENTION

Convention No. 3 will, in the Vernon auditorium, Department of Calgary, on Tuesday, October 6th, 1925, at 10 o'clock a.m. It's promise of high grade reports, as will the figures on the August Peg

The figures are based on the certificates of reports from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, and the Provincial Department of Agriculture. It is shown that the estimated yield of August was 245,220,000 bushels. This total, however, includes approximately 15,000 gallons of spirits produced by the Hudson's Bay Company from wheat, oats, barley and rye, and which is not included in the total shipped from the country's bulk terminals. Therefore, the total was about 245,205,000 bushels, which is approximately 14,370 bushels for August or 480 barrels per day.

AMERICAN AND CANADIAN PROSPERITY

By S. J. Smallwood

Keep partnership close before your mind the fact that I am not trying to make a case—not trying to prove anything. I am merely out to help believers who desire to know certain plain facts very obvious facts concerning financial conditions in the United States and Canada. I shall, therefore, refer to Bruce Bay's and other estimated authorities. If your previous conceptions are those that you have been afforded to ignore facts—stop now go back and read and digest the opening sentence the front line anyway. On the other hand, if you are interested in getting at the bottom of things, read on. I am not crowding the figures here brought forth. They are open for any body to see.

1.—BUSINESS AND FAILURES.

Mr. Hodgson in his opening speech had to do with business failures, especially in manufacturing, increased when his government went out. That may be true enough. Government policies and business of political parties of the country show very manifest influences. A good rain in June is frequently the matter of more vital importance to western Canada than a cabinet shuffle, though it may receive more attention. However, it is doubtful if any be worth while to look at a few figures. Dun's Review over the signature of Mr. Hodgson was now at the helm—the following figures are from statements by Mr. H. King is to be debited with the failures since that date, that is not an unreasonable price to pay for the time to Mr Meighen.

CANADA BIG ENOUGH!

What has happened since? In 1923 the number of failures had increased to 1,310, in 1924 they stood at 1,245 —the decline had commenced now. In 1925 to August 1st, 1,000. This year shows a 5-6 further improvement. If the rate continues the 1,245 months of this year with the two months ending October 31st, 1,867. Last year's figures were 1,245. Thus a decrease of 622 failures. Now, in 1923 the liabilities were $30,000,000. This year they are $20,000,000. Last year they were $24,000,000. Thus a decrease of $4,000,000. Now, in 1923 the assets were $17,000,000. This year they are $12,000,000. Last year they were $14,000,000. Thus a decrease of $2,000,000. Now, in 1923 the assets were $17,000,000. This year they are $12,000,000. Last year they were $14,000,000. Thus a decrease of $2,000,000.

2.—AGRICULTURE AND PRODUCTION.

Mr. Hodgson in his opening speech had to do with agriculture and production. He said that the United States was a country of great natural resources, and that it was a country of great natural resources, and that it was a country of great natural resources, and that it

Caring For Cuttings Of Trees and Shrubs

Cuttings should be taken from healthy plants and not from parts which give an unhealthy appearance. Cuttings from trees such as willow, Russian and Northwestern poplar shrubs roots from either old or young wood, while cuttings from fruit other trees, shrubs root more readily and make better growth when taken from well matured shoots of the current year.

Cuttings of willow, poplar and Tatarian honeysuckle as well as grape berries and currants should be taken previous to the fall, they may, however, be taken in the early spring before the buds start. Cuttings should be from old to eight inches in length. A set day before Provincial is a convenient place to start over a cutting. They bought are placed over the top the short 4 inch out, thereby permitting of easy sowing.

Cuttings should be planted as early as the Spring as possible. Planting at an angle of forty five degrees and with two buds above the ground has been found satisfactory, provided the soil has been well tilled around the cuttings. During the planting process, the cuttings should not be allowed to dry out. A simple method of preventing drying-out is to carry cuttings in a pail of water when planting.

A very practice is to set the cut tings in a small plot in the autumn and to transplant to a permanent location following spring. When this method is followed, the cuttings are set in the small plot in rows eighteen inches apart with six inch spacing in the rows.

Helpful suggestions on this subject may be obtained by writing or calling at the nearest Experimental Farm.

SEVERAL GOOD RECIPES

STRAW OR HOE

OF SUMMER SQUASH

The small squashes may be baked whole, the long yellow ones cut in two or three pieces as may be desired. But I want to cut in pieces and in one dish, then cook them quickly in unsalted water until tender. Drain a moment or two to permit some of the surplus water to escape, season with butter, pepper and salt and a little sugar. Serve hot. Squash is sometimes cooked in the shell with mashed butter added.

The Boston bean grown with yellow stripes is the only squash that may be found. Slice in thick slices, pare, dip in egg and in cracker crumbs and fry in hot fat, like raw plant. Its texture is so delicate, that it is a new comer in this way of it can be baked with cheese.

SERVE RICE APPLE

HOT OR COLD

Wash and boil three quarters of a cupful of rice in three cupfuls of milk allowing it to become very tender, and absorb all of the milk. Meantime, pare, quarter and core six tart apples and poach them until tender in maple or plain sugar syrup; when done, lift syrup rich and heavy, add to it a half and drain the apples, cook down the cupful of raisins and candied fruit and cook to minutes, then arrange the rice and pour the syrup over all. Serve hot or cold. Plain or whipped cream may be served with the rice if desired.

RIPE POPULAR

BEET WINE 'II

Take 10 pound of beets and 2 gal lons of water Boil five to 6 hours and then strain. Add 4 pounds of sugar and when the liquid is almost heat add 1 cake of yeast. The juice of 3 oranges and 2 lemons and a half a package of raisins should be added to this. Let stand 11 days and strain.

BEET SOUP OF

"LITTLE BI SOIA"

Boil, peel, then grate two large fresh beets; add to them a quart of vegetable stock or veal broth, juice of a lemon, and a teaspoonful of sugar Season first, then simmer. Then add the juice of a grated raw beet squeezed through a damp cheese cloth. Bring up once, then add a cupful of beaten sour cream. Serve hot or cold, with fluffy beaten white of an egg on top.

CHESTNU - STUFFING

IS STILL IN STYLE

Peel and blanch a pound of French chestnuts, then put them on to cook in half milk and half water. Cook until soft, then put through a puree sieve. Make a stuffing of cupsalt, pepper, salt, a little sugar, a little apple sauce and the chestnut puree. Stuff the steak, brush over with butter and cook in the oven, basting with melted butter and lemon juice. Serve on a hot dish garnished with parsley and lemon quarters.

CAULIFLOWER SOUP

REQUIRES MILK

Trim and boil two heads of cauliflower until very tender, then rub through a puree sieve, add butter, pepper, salt, a pint of milk, a part of the cake stalk flowers were boiled in. Simmer and add a little white roux.

SARDINE RELISH

COLORFUL DISH

Open drain and spit boneless sardines put on an oil. Cover the sardines with a marinade of the juice of a lemon, juice of an onion, a shot of garlic, a little pepper, salt and a teaspoonful each of olive oil and tarragon vinegar. Let stand for one hour. Chop a little fresh watercress, work in the same soft butter. Butter the toast strips with this, then drain the sardines and place a halves on each toast strip. Place a little thinly sliced gherkin pickle at one end of the strip and a radish rose at the other.

WHITE SAUCE

1½ cups milk.
2 tablespoonfuls flour.
2 tablespoonfuls vegetable fat.
1 tablespoonful salt.

Melt vegetable fat, blend in flour and salt, and stir in hot milk slowly. Cook until thick.

THIS IS SPANISH

SPRING SALAD

Sliced young onions, sliced radishes, sliced cucumber and tomatoes, all mixed and add to the bread in small thin slices and arrange them in the bottom of a salad bowl mounting them with oil and mayonnaise then with vinegar. Sprinkle with cut vegetables, season with more dressing and let stand in a cool place several hours. Serve with additional chilled dressing if desired.

Man And The Earth

A little sun, a little rain,
A soft wind blow ing from the west;
And seeds and fields are sweet again,
And sap is warm within the mountain's breast.

So simple is the earth we tread,
So much with love and life bur frame;
Ten thousand years have dawned and fled,
And still it roams in the same.

A little he , a little trust,
A soft rapture, a sudden drugs.
And life as dry as desert dust
Is fresher Dan a mountain stream.

WHEAT POOL STARTS CAMPAIGN TO SECURE 10,000 NEW MEMBERS

Campaign Now Under Way on Different Basis, With Contract Until End of Year and Canvassers Will be Paid For Their Work—Delegates and Local Secretaries Are Eligible To Participate and Receive Commissions.

Alberta grain growers are advised that the Alberta Wheat Pool has inaugurated a new campaign for membership and that this campaign is being conducted on a different basis than others in the past, either in Alberta or in the other two prairie provinces.

The pool idea had it proper experience. Here the original plan was worked out. The legal details in connection with incorporation, the organization of associations, the membership agreement and the by-laws, were first considered in Alberta, and, when carefully perfected, were the basis for the organizations subsequently brought into existence in Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Much of the success of the pool method of marketing in Western Canada is attributable to the infinite care that was exercised in Alberta at the beginning to perfect the details of organization and the work on hand. Alberta paved the way. The wheat pool here has since two notable progress. It has won the confidence of the people of this province. Those who entered it at the beginning are satisfied, and thousands more have waited to see how things would turn out have since been so impressed that they have joined the pool for the balance of the term of the contract namely, until the crop of 1927 is marketed.

Canvassers to Be Paid

The success of the last two years has encouraged the executive of the wheat pool to undertake a new campaign at this time. This campaign is now begun and it will be carried on until the end of the year. In the past all canvassers [illegible] were paid by the pool. This year [illegible] will be paid [illegible] for their work. [illegible] will receive [illegible] for each new member secured. [illegible] will be paid [illegible] for each new member secured. Round the Country

Dr. Ansgar states that the call he received while attending the Liberal Convention at Camrose was due to the fact that the Conservative Party then was held in the same hall two days before and the hall had not been fumigated.

We note with much pleasure that Mr. Harold Mackay sailed for Calcutta from here last week to take up a responsible old tomato re-union, which took the place of the one that were unable to attend a Stettler this summer.

There is one thing however, that should be announced for Home it is that the business of our settlers are exactly the same now as when they left the old country." When we see the list of bankrupts in the towns here below, we are compelled to believe that Alberta settlers are most unlucky or fool managers ever sent to this province. If you want a reduction from duty it pays.

GRACE'S CRICKET RECORD IS BEATEN BY PROFESSIONAL

There are those who have seen all sports and have plugged more games than seemed their product in the hope of them all. To these, of whatever sport and to all loyal Englishmen, there was a thrill in the news that Jack Hobbs had broken the batting record of Mr. Grace which had been accepted as over a period of more than half a century. That Hobbs was likely to do this became apparent a year or so ago to the majority around the pavilions in Kent and Australia, and when he did a cheer went up from the Oval that was heard in Brixton Road. That he had done it against the best bowling and fielding that Australia could produce made the performance all the greater. Grace had established his record in the days when the game was played on a bumpy wicket, when fast bowling was unknown, when the batsman had to stand up to the crease and block everything that came down, when there was no restriction as to the number of balls an over, when the bowler had to pitch the ball and not bowl it, when the batsman was not out if the ball hit his wicket, when the batsman was not out if he was caught off his own bowling, when the batsman was not out if he was caught off his own bowling, when the batsman was not out if he was caught off his own bowling

Sale of Jumbo to P. T. Barnum Fought in Court

Forty years have elapsed since Jumbo, the largest and most valuable elephant ever kept anywhere, was killed by a freight engine in the G. V. R. yards at St. Thomas. Famous on two continents, the death of Jumbo on the night of September 15, 1885, startled interest both ways on the Atlantic. Throughout England, where he had become a national favorite during his 17 years' stay at the Royal Zoological Gardens, he dealt brought shipments of sentiment and the name of St. Thomas was heralded to the ends of the earth. Throughout America, where the famous showman, P. T. Barnum, by liberal expenditure of printers' ink, had made the name Jumbo synonymous with the largest, Jumbo's death was another topic for tearful words. For newspapers reported that, without announcement to The Journal Printing Company The full size of Jumbo, in correct every respect. The Barnum and Bailey public was excluded on the Mann property on Wellington avenue, and for a day, commencement were placed in the front. Thousands attended the funeral. Following the evening exhibition of the day and by Jumbo and his keeper, Scotty Bowman, Jumbo was conducted from the ring. Realizing the impending danger, the circus employees rode frantically down the avenue in the direction of Jumbo's normal course. Jumbo was the largest elephant ever seen, and was imagining he was in the Royal Zoological Gardens. Jumbo was the largest elephant ever seen, and was imagining he was in the Royal Zoological Gardens. Jumbo was the largest elephant ever seen, and was imagining he was in the Royal Zoological Gardens.

Turning his quietly, Scott started home to the train from the trunk yard, waged, keeping close beside him, with Pete Thomas following at his heels. They had gone about 30 yards, within six car lengths of the end of the standing train, when the engine crew-men, who had been busy at the other end of the train, saw the mammoth Jumbo. The crash of the animal ere-ation sounded like terrific roar, the like of which was perhaps never heard outside the jungle itself. In the instant as the engine struck him the unfortunate beast was brought to his knees and the engine and part of the first car passed above the body. Terrific, sadly and painful brutes; his all four immovable hide was torn, his tail ripped to shreds; his feet torn and blood issued from his mouth. He was not instantly killed, living for 15 minutes after being struck, says Scott, but he was in a dying condition when the train came to a stop. Jumbo was doubled to be Mr. Barnum's property.

Mr. Scott, the American associate to the Court of St. James, in a speech before the public banquet in London, also fully remarked: "The only thing that ever stood between Lord and Jumbo." The London Illustrated News says: "Jumbo can fill the heart with pathos." Punch, one of the pictures of Jumbo and Pet, and poetry for several weeks. CANADIANIZATION

Hon. L. S. Yard

I was asked the other day what was meant by the word "Canadianization" and I was at a loss how to answer. I have come more to the conclusion that when we use that word we have it in our mind a vision of what a Canadian of the future should be. This is a rather vague definition, but it is the best I can formulate. We mean that we want to have the children born in our land, and the younger who come to us, to be, in the most eminently worthy of the high heritage to which they have been called, and to be honorable citizens of our land. He honor words can be used to tell of this land of more than these.

This land the God brought thee into a proud land, a land of breadth and of water, of fountains and depths that spring out of valleys and hills; a land of wheat and barley and vine, and fruit and honey; a land in which thou shalt eat bread without scarceness, thou shalt not lack anything in it. A land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou shalt dig brass"—and I might add, and, he is say more of the world what that we, and the strongest who cannot be, should be the strongest in the interest of men of various fit for such a land.

Canadians have been loaded with misconceptions in this department. We have been going to refer to an event which stands out pre-eminently; an event so eminent that we would thought to it, except as it relates to us, or our friends.

You will, perhaps, remember what Charles Beale in that wonderful book "Where the Best is Used," calls the educational morals, you will remember how he describes this greatest miracle which is performed so often that we have ceased to notice it as such, and yet, should it only once fail, the world would be plunged into despair, and death—he refers to sunrise. The great Canadian event I wish to mention is, the birth of a child.

Whether the new born infant boobs into the face of a European or Chinese mother, or of our own race matter, makes no difference as to the potentialities which lie in the event. A child has been born in Canada, and, matter to what race it's parentage belongs, it must be Canadianized. It is our duty to see that every child has equal chances, equal rights in education, and every possible advantage in the shelter. If this is not our aim, then our efforts at what we call Canadianization are as sounding brass and tinkling cymbals.

The greatest event of all time was the Birth of a Child, and that Child came to earth to show that all the sons of men are equal. Until we have this, all our attempts at nation building will fall short.

Why should we wish to Canadianize the child born in our land, and the stranger to our shores as well? From after? Are we, who are of Canadian birth from a possible that we feel we want the children and the stranger to become like us? Have we ever asked ourselves in what do we enroll that ourselves? I understand as has been found in the process of the absorption of the foreign born into our national life. Why should we demand that before this is done we must take from the adult foreigners should lay aside their former modes of life and accept our standards? Such a hence do we get the idea that we have all to teach and nothing to learn? If it true that some [illegible] we have much to [illegible] that we [illegible] to [illegible] and [illegible] to [illegible] those who [illegible] to [illegible] speak in kindly terms. To respect our [illegible] in our institutions, if we uphold [illegible] To economize our abode, if we hold some before those in the form of good dealing, upright conduct, and [illegible] respect. We can, and should teach them to secure better sanitary conditions, so that there will be less wage an infant life. The foreigner we has shown no disposition to strip [illegible] potential responsibility, and it should be our duty to lend to a high conception of family life.

The Canadians are not analphabet, and so we are not critical of ourselves; but when we compare, we should ever welcome, rather come to the conclusion that we are a little above the average. This is the conclusion we are not to assume toward the foreigners We have many privileges, he has some and we may need. We disregard the fact that he comes from a civilization other than our own, and that there must have been something in his environment to create in him a consciousness.

Then there is the [illegible] that we are a great land of [illegible] and water, of fountains and depths that spring out of valleys and hills; a land of wheat and barley and vine, and fruit and honey; a land in which thou shalt eat bread without scarceness, thou shalt not lack anything in it. We are a loyal people. We are proud of our traditions, our history, our pioneers, with their records of endurance and bravery; we read Canada as books and magazines in preference to all others; we honor our early poverty and delight in it; we do not belittle our glorious heritage; we will not give our country anything it had some when we go abroad; we will not even decry our country; we will declare to the last that though the thermometer is low we can feel the cold, and that when it rains we do not mind it, that the land is not to be compared with any other, all these things we will say to the last.

We will not be ashamed of our record; neither will we try to talk the only other people. We will not even borrow a tin an, after a journey around the world. We will not even pleasant reading, and I hope we may try to believe it, if believing is really true.

The last before us of wishing into one great commonwealth the many peoples represented in our land, is great; but, if we set ourselves to the divinest work, I could like others to think we are, it is accomplished. What do we need to bring the nation whole? To quote the pilgrim of the state?

We need

1. The authority of honest deed;
2. The homely old fundamentals of soul. We need to be taught that we have to make God the common burden, and the public weal to be a thing to be served and respect as the noble right above the unsafe hand. We need the faith to go a smooth day power to be alone, and vote with God.

And, it shall come to pass, if then shall brethren dilligently unto the voice of the Lord, thy God; to observe and to do all his commandments, that the Lord, thy God, shall set thee on high above all the nations of the earth.

Have Done Well Here In Alberta

D. H. Wood, of Eagle Hill, near Olds, Alberta, and wife are from Everett, Washington in 1912, and in 1911 went onto their present farm. Of their progress Mrs. Wood writes as follows:

"We started with 480 acres, all raw land, but 70 acres, and poor buildings. We had our ups and downs, buying cattle and shipping, grubbing clearing and breaking, one set of and repairing the place starting up again and having to stock up on horses, cattle and machinery, going to the States, [illegible]

"Now, however, we are [illegible] up again and intend staying on the farm. I am confident Central Alberta is made to do that anything else. United States can offer. We have 640 acres of land here in all, 320 cultivated, with good buildings, good water, shelter, fencing spring, an pasture and can raise good grain crops. We are located half a mile from school and one mile from the post office and general store.

"We have the best chocolate bunch land, good roads and good neighbors, all of whom have telephones, autos and good outfits.

"We need American settlers, and I have always done everything I could to encourage them coming here. Through my efforts, quite a number of them have already located in this district, and more are coming this fall."

Regular Meeting Of Board Of Trade

The regular meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening, October 19th, and proved to be an interesting meeting of an hour's duration, from 8.30 to 9.30 p. m. Owing to the absence of the secretary, Mr. J. Wright was voted secretary pro. tem. and the meeting opened with the reading of the correspondence.

CORRESPONDENCE

A letter was read from the Canadian Genetic Association to ask Bentley Board as member of the Canadian Council of Agriculture in London at $100.00 per annum. The offer was respectfully declined as the local Board could raise up only $90.00

The Calgary Board of Trade sent in asking for support for a resolution passed by the Calgary Board that a financial expert be chosen when an additional member is selected for the Public Utilities Board of Alberta. In this connection it was considered by Mr. Coley that while we have a number of financial experts on the town there would be a small chance of one of them getting the position over the lower cities, therefore it was moved that the letter be filed.

Mr. Earl Port of Broadburn, B. C., wants some sheep, and wrote the Board to find him a consignment who will sell him some pure-bred; but had probably forgotten about the sheep sale at Lacombe last week, and the local Board would rather see sheep coming into the country instead of going out. However, anyone having sheep to sell can get in touch with Earl.

A letter was received from A. Reid of 5028 Michigan Avenue, St. Louis, Mo. (the home of the big browser) wanting to start a brewery in this district. He wished to go in touch with some brewery in Bentley district to see how much the brewer would require per year. Secretary Wright replied that there was no brewery in Alberta, also that breweries are so common in Alberta as hostlburgers in the U. S. A., and the secretary will give him the names of two or three breweries in Bentley district, such as the Silver Spray, the Yellowhead and the Calgary Brewing Co.

A letter was received from the Trade Commissioner of the Province of Alberta regarding the manufacture of paper from straw, going into the industrialization of the subject, and the letter was handed over to Dr. Hagyard who is investigating that subject.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Messrs. Blair and Deming reported that sale of some plates with letter-ing "Stettler" inscribed was going very slow at present and that the stock would have to be held over until next spring, when it is hoped that all local auto owners will invest in the same and thus advertise the town.

Mr. Coley gave a summary of his interview with Mr. Drewes of Stettler Flour Mill stated that Mr. Drewes was putting out the best brand of flour and that householders in the district should ask for Stettler Flour. Mr. Drewes was doing a big business grinding for the local farmers, and the mill was as asset to the community. Enquiry from the district was better than reduction of taxes or a bonus of any kind.

Mr. Blair of Blair and Morton reported that the Board of Trade labor bureau at his office this summer was as successful that the time of himself and partner was largely taken up in getting men work in the district. He handled men passed through the office during the season, and got the information they required. These men secured jobs in the district extending from Erskine to Castor and from Big Valley to Donalda.

A vote of thanks for Blair and Morton was moved by P. T. Colley and seconded by Tom McFarlane and carrie unanimously.

ANNUAL BANQUET

President Willis introduced the subject of the annual banquet which is generally held in the fall. He had interviewed Premier Greenfield a Hon. Brownlee while in Edmonton recently and both expressed themselves favorably in regard to attending banquet and give speeches. He knew of no better attractions than the Premier of the Province and the Dean of the University.

The members present considered that a banquet of this kind would be attended both by dwellers of the town and country and a committee was appointed, consisting of C. L. Wills, W. F. Bungay and Chas. Sanford to take up the matter in hand. The date will be fixed, suitable for the Dean and tickets will be sold in advance.

OTHER BUSINESS

Mr. Blair introduced the subject of the Board of Trade and in advised that the time should be established for these Alberta business men to meet some time to-day for the purpose of getting thoroughly [illegible] and the secretary was instructed to write the Calgary Board of Trade on this subject

The condition of the main highway from Spring Lake school to Fenscomb of town was then discussed and was reported to be [illegible] of the worst [illegible] Drain [illegible] the worst part and in the country. The secretary was instructed to write to Mr. Ainsworth, the road engineer about the matter.

RED CROSS DAY

General Ryan gave an address on Red Cross Day, which will be held this year on Saturday, October 31st, and asked for donations from town and district. Seventy five per cent of all local donations will be spent in town and district, and the balance will go to support the sick children hospital in Calgary. After some discussion it was decided that the Board of Trade put on a Tag Day and a committee was [illegible] of Messrs. Webster Wood and [illegible] make arrangements. At this meeting the donations, the [illegible] McFadzean and Colley, a vote of thanks was tendered to Guy Ryan for his work in connection with the Red Cross. The meeting then adjourned, and the next meeting will be held on November 19th, for election of officers for the coming year.

OBITUARY

The death occurred at Ramsay, on Thursday, October 15th, of a pioneer of Ramsay district Mr. Duncan McPherson, at the age of seventy-two years. [illegible] was born in Glengarry, Ontario, and [illegible] went to Victoria, B. C., and was taken to Ramsay where he had been confined to bed since that time.

The late Mr. McPherson was born at Orangeville, Ont., in July 1853, and for many years engaged in farming and in successful pursuits in that district. He came to Ramsay district in 1910, and owned north east of the town, near the old Imperial ranch. In 1918, he retired from farming and took up his residence in Victoria, B. C., where the stroke occurred in May 1922.

The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon, October 17th, the services being conducted by the Rev. J. T. Gordon of Big Valley. The pall bearers were Mr Tolman, Mr. J. Gilchrist, Mr. Lindstrom, Mr J. McNaughton, Mr. Thos Gibson and Mr. Wm. Watson. List of flowers included wreaths from Mr and Mrs. Moyse, Mr. and Mrs. Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Banks, Mr. and Mrs. Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Clemens, Mr. and Mrs. Sauve, Mrs. R. T. Lman, Mr. and Mrs. McNamee and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. Green, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. C. Thomerson, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fairbairn, Big Valley Lodge, A. F. & A. M. No. [illegible], sprays from Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fish, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fairbairn, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. McClelland, Mr. J. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. Aker.

The late Mr McPherson left a wife and four sons and three daughters, Will McPherson of Denver, Col.; Ed. McPherson of St. Paul de Metis, Ward and Rowe McPherson of Ramsay, Mrs Harry Scott of Ramsay, Mrs. Stewart Corbett of Orangeville, Ont., and Mrs. C. L. Willis, Stettler

The deceased was highly esteemed by all who knew him, and was a good neighbor and a most successful farmer. He was a Conservative in politics and an elder in the Presbyterian church for many years.

[illegible] OF TRADE

[illegible]—Plasters and family wish to sincerely thank their many kind friends and neighbors for their great kindness during the long and trying illness of husband and father, the late Duncan McPherson.

Progressives Hold Political Meeting

A meeting on behalf of W. T. Lucas, the Progressive candidate was held in the Theatre on Tuesday evening. The attendance was fair for the open-air meeting about two-thirds full and the meeting started at 8.30 p. m. with Mr. R. Price in the chair and the speaker, Mr. A. J. Sanders, M. P. P. for Mr. Red Provincial Treasurer, and Mr. Lucas, the candidate.

Mr. Sander and Mr. Reid did not take up much time, the former speaking about five minutes and the latter about half an hour. Mr. Reid dealt chiefly with the immigration problem, and advocated a vigorous colonization policy of immigrants as the only way to reduce taxation, and to save the prosperity of the West.

Mr. Lucas spoke for over an hour and a half on several most of the questions of the day in reference to the federal campaign. He outlined the records of both the old-line parties on the tariff question, and showed that the Conservatives had always been the high protection party. The Liberals, he claimed, were more strict in their [illegible] Conservatives and never [illegible] anything on the tariff.

He illustrated this by saying that when Mr. McMaster introduced a resolution in the trade [illegible] House, the Liberals voted him down and the 35 Progressives supported him. Mr. Lucas favored a tariff [illegible] free trade as possible.

He said that the trouble with both the old parties as that they would spend money needlessly and increased the big elevator at Prince Rupert which would not pay for itself in years to come

The speaker spoke against the Australian treaty as it would be the means be declared of making Western Canada the dumping ground for Australian butter and eggs, and those destroy [illegible] wholly in favor of the country raised [illegible] supported the claim of Alberta [illegible] Saskatchewan for the same freight rates westward as eastward, this equalization based on the fact that the C. N. R. can carry freight from Edmonton to the coast at less cost than it can carry it from Edmonton to Fort William, owing to the less grades westward.

Mr. Lucas spoke for some time on immigration which he declared to be our chief problem. He immigration policy was worth anything without [illegible] from all classes. In fact the principle of co-operation was the secret for the solution of all our problems, most of which were connected with the soil. He did not believe in giving the railways a free hand in selecting our immigrants, but stated that there should be a strict selective policy

Another much needed reform for western Canada was a system of rural credits, and he was in favor for the western farmer, and some such system as is current in Australia or New Zealand or the United States should be established here. The Progressives were working on this question and he hoped that a system would be evolved in the near future whereby money could be obtained for not more than 6 per cent for agricultural purposes.

The speaker believed strongly in [illegible] and said that an aristocratic body like the Canadian senate was an anomaly in this country. It was a mistake to have this body hold office for life in the first place, and if that principle was embodied in the constitution, it should be changed to make the senate elective.

In conclusion, the speaker gave some opinions expressed by eminent members of the old parties that the Progressives were an example to other members of the house, and asked for support for the election on October 29th.

After two or three questions were disposed of, the meeting closed with the national anthem.

TREATY HITS BUTTER HARD

P. Burns and Company With Other Firms Urge Farmers to Protest Cut in Duty

Reduction of duty on Australian butter, provided for in the Australian treaty, will mean that the western farmer will receive three cents a pound less for his butterfat at a season of the year when he most needs the money, according to a letter sent out by the creamery department of the P. Burns co. to patrons in the province

The letter conforms with letters sent out by other firms in the province engaged in the produce business, John Burns, manager of the company, informed The Herald on Friday

The Letter Read as Follows

"Our Dominion government and the Australian government have just about completed arrangements to reduce the duty on Australian butter coming into Canada from four cents a pound to one cent a pound.

"Australia produces a large surplus of butter for export during the winter period and this reduction of three cents per pound in the Canadian duty on Australian butter, means that the western farmer will receive three cents a pound less for his butterfat at a season of the year when he really needs the money the most.

"If you wish to protest against this reduction of duty, write D'Arcy Scott, secretary of the National Dairy Council at Ottawa or write to us and we will see that action is taken on your protest.

Waverly Women's Institute Report For October

On October 7th, the Waverly Institute met at the home of Mrs. Tom Burford with Mrs. Eaton as joint hostess, 21 members and 4 visitors being present. Meeting called at 2 o'clock by president.

Minutes of last meeting read and accepted.

It was decided to have our annual chicken supper at Secretary's school on November 20th with a view of everyone being finished threshing at that time. A splendid report of the conference at Gadsby, was read by our delegate, Mrs. Cooper.

A financial report of our annual picnic, held in July, was read, which made us feel rather [illegible] but hoping for better success next year.

A paper on [illegible] Year [illegible] was then read by Mrs. [illegible] which was enjoyed by all present.

Our next meeting to be held at [illegible] when a pleasant and instructive afternoon is anticipated. Mrs. Anderson's motto being Pantry is [illegible] were suggested to be [illegible] Indian.

Meeting then adjourned, after which tea at the close of the meeting.

Stettler Women's Institute Meets

The meeting of the Stettler Women's Institute was held on Wednesday evening at the home of the President, Mrs. Melver.

There was a number of visitors present in addition to the members. The Secretary read a letter from the Town of Stettler, expressing the Council's warm appreciation of the splendid work accomplished by the Institute in connection with the fixing up of the Stettler Cemetery.

Dr. Caldwell gave an interesting and very practical address on Child Welfare. At the conclusion of the address, the doctor was asked numerous questions which were [illegible] to the entire satisfaction of everyone present. Community singing and an [illegible] Mrs. Anderson's motto being Pantry is [illegible] were suggested to be [illegible] Indian.

Meeting then adjourned, after which tea at the close of the meeting.

TOLD AFTER SUPPER

(Red Deer Record)

A visitor to Red Deer a few days ago was a man who had established in this vicinity somewhere a period in history after the war when Admiral Kolchak was leader of the "Whites" against the Bolshevik forces. Among his duties was the following great episode:

For some time after the Bolsheviki had secure power in the heart of Russia there was enormously and chaos in the outlying parts of the country and as long as particular Power held sway over the hands of the people there was little or no protection from those who threw off a thirst, and consequently the number of murders and robberies was enormous. Kolchak was the first organizer of the resistance movement against the Bolsheviki and one of the superfluous processes. They made up a large army and were able to cope of the double terror with only about four years of fighting and several deaths. Into this train they rounded 2,200 poor miserable prisoners, Finnish and Russian, with only a few soldiers between them and a possible uprising. They were very little ventilation. The doors of the cars were locked on the outside and the train was then started off down the line with no definite destination and only one purpose in view, namely until there was no longer any prisoners remaining. Every time the cars stopped and the doors were opened, the unhappy occupants were forced to step out in line the train was stopped and Bolshevist who should request that the dead were "Red" or "White" and then that ended it against the opposite party. Sometimes the Whites would select any of the Bolsheviki's friends and then the Bolsheviki would select one of the Whites' friends to be executed. The train crew were also forced to participate in the executions. Every morning when the train stopped the corpses of dead Reds were taken out and buried. Then the train would start on its journey again. Finally the train reached Omsk where the prisoners were released. Only 200 of the original 2,200 were left alive.

Hoseine, has father being the owner of a factory in Moscow. The Bolshevist revolution of 1917 found him confined there and for about 20 years. The factory was one of those which Lenin ordered to be confiscated. The factory equipped Russian support. It was there being before 1917 a factory of Russian afforded the workmen a fine working place. They began to form cells, councils, as was done all over Russia, and took over the factory. The managers then sold the Bolshevist newspapers their other interest and the workmen began to run the factory. Hoseine was elected president of the factory council. Under his direction the factory was run successfully for a time. Then the Bolsheviki began to interfere with the affairs of the factory. They began to force their own men into the factory council. Hoseine refused to allow the factory to be run by incompetents. He was called to Moscow, and there was given a choice between being shot and being sent to Siberia. He chose the latter. He was sent to Siberia and was put to work in the mines. He was there for about two years. Then he was released and was given a position in the Bolshevist government. He was sent to Persia as a representative of the Bolshevist government. He was there for about two years. Then he was sent to Germany

We note the following from district newspapers in regard to our outside affairs.

"Mr. Lemon states that he would have liked to visit all boards in his constituency, but owing to the very busy threshing season, it was thought advisable to ask members of the Local exec to co-operate and attend the nearest point of meeting."—Camrose Canadian.

"Mr. Stuart stated that he supported the high tariff policy of his leader, Mr. Meighen."—Viking News.

"The cutbank oil has remarks, it was plainly seen that Mr. Thomas would assist the government in prosecuting legislation favorable to the agricultural interests of the West."—Viking News.

Mr. Lemon is tied up to the party policy of the U. F. A.

Mr. Stuart is tied up to the tariff policy of the manufacturers.

Mr. Thomas is tied up to the agricultural interests of the West.

If the Australian Treaty fixes a duty of one cent per pound on Australian butter coming into Alberta, what is it that Alberta creameries would have to pay the Alberta farmer for butter fat? Does that mean that the Australian farmer is able to ship his butter to Alberta, pay the long transportation charges, and sell it here for four cents per pound less than the Alberta farmer or his home market? It looks to us, and the Alberta farmer knows it.

In the report sent out by the West Coyote's Association of Alberta regarding the sheep sale at Lacombe last week, the following occurs—"With a threatened game law to prevent a shot at any at feed, and with the great crop under a heavy blanket of snow, which might last until Spring; any fair ewe, who were anxious to purchase sheep, were forced to delay their buying. The greatest difficulty was to find the sheep for the sale on the occasion, and it resulted in the supply."

The Wool Growers' Assn. could not resist the opportunity of boosting the government of Alberta, by the usual attempt to make out that the province was built a heavy blanket of snow that might last until Spring, thus affording their sale. Central and northern Alberta was not under snow at all, and there has been no snow on the benches of the province, where snow falling the first week in October, lasted until the next Spring. The theory that they who was affected by the snow in southern Alberta is mollified by their own statement that "the greatest difficulty was to find sheep for the sale on the occasion" for reasons of the supply."

But the mansion of Alberta will take every means to broadcast the West Coast-ers' report throughout the western Provinces.

United Church Notes

The District Convention of the Women's Missionary Society has been postponed for the present owing to illness of the District Superintendent but will be arranged for a later date.

The holiday season is now over and all organizations have again taken up their activities for the year. Good work in the Sunday School Department of the United Church and the increase in attendance have increased so rapidly that it has been necessary to divide the two classes to another meeting for the C. G. studies. The teaching corps by Mrs. Gandin and formerly used as a dollitary class has been fitted up for use, at present with chairs, organ and organ, and the three teachers of the primary class and Junior girls' class are holding their own Sunday School services. Parents wishing to attend services in the church can leave their children there as their pupils to church and call for them as their way home, knowing they are receiving every attention.

DONALDA

Threshing has at last got away to a good on-up, the weather being quite ideal. Many report a splendid yield.

We are very sorry to learn of the serious accident of Clarence Erickson who was unfortunate enough to have his leg broken while driving the motor truck for Burchell's sawmill, yesterday. Dr. Jackson is in attendance.

The song of Mr. Ed. Strom, which has been missing since last Friday, has not yet been found and up to the present no trace, beyond finding his horse on the bank of the Battle river about two miles east of here. The cause of his disappearance is at present a mystery. It is hoped that he is in the mountains, having drank himself into oblivion, or from a team still operated by a Mr. Lafleur, who has contracted and will attend as reported, to spend a few months in the peaceful wilds of Saskatchewan. It surely must be disappointed upon our return to find that another settler has entered the quarter and other things in strong detail which would surely or possibly end with a lecture. The greatest evil to combat the vending and using the standard of our commons, without us and we are assured Mr. and Mrs. Strom are on a Christian nation (re-corrected on such) alcohol. We are sure that all will be with us to enjoy the liberty, comforts and safety and happiness of the rich farmer of this country.

Mr. Scott, local Conservative candidate, addressed a fair sized audience in the new hall Monday evening. Mr. Hamilton presided as chairman. He made a very interesting speech in which he dealt with the problems of the national exposition, the canadian and immigration policy of the present government and the trans-continental line that has proved such a boon to this section of dominion. He then explained that one fact that the present government is attempting to construct the Hudson Bay railway north to James Bay, that would be completed at the present time, although the Sir John A. Macdonald government cut had wisely pushed forward in a time of early beginnings and then

Quiet Talks With The King

King George is more accessible to his subjects than the majority of them believe. Many "informal" audiences are granted of which the general public know nothing about.

It is not good form to tempt a bachelor upon His Majesty; nor is it etiquette to start a conversation on any topic, however near to one's heart it may be, without first securing the King's pleasure. But there are privileged people who may visit Buckingham Palace without any formal convocation, and who have informal audiences to King George. They form an exclusive circle—almost the entire membership of an audience may be counted on the fingers of both hands—and they are known as "The King's Friends." Their most important work is taken to them. A little time and all times are convenient to the King to receive such visitors.

It is no unbroadcast thing that a Boy returning from some overseas dominion shall call on His Majesty. The King likes to hear at first hand the difficulties and encouragements that have been met with. Sometimes the visitor will be received a short time by the Royal host, has with apologies, begun to abbreviate his story, when upon with a pressed question of metaphysics. He Majesty has shown his knowledge by home as full a story as pos-sible.

King George takes a real interest in social and religious work in all parts of his empire, by whatever church or factory it is undertaken.

Probably one reason why the DELIGHTFUL habit is here to stay is because it is so beneficial. It keeps the mouth clean, the breath sweet, the appetite keen. It helps digestion. Teeth and Gums are given the exercise they should have.

THE UNITED FARM WOMEN OF ALBERTA

Calgary Bulletin—1925

Dear members of the U. F. W. A.:

The time has come when I must write to the provincial president. I have written to her on the same subject of the wife's work in the home ought to recognized.

Perhaps that subject was one of very great importance to women, but nothing else that they have contributed the same benefit to mankind. If, and that such a radical change from one present institution would need a great deal of educational work before we could accomplish very much. I commenced to introduce a Bill, if some could be found to back it up.

I felt that until we had some concrete piece of legislation before the people who were asking for the change it would not be discussed intelligently, and many would not understand the need for enacting the change asked for.

The Bill as it stands was drafted by a Calgary lawyer, Mr. Geo. Bean, K. C., who first has been interested for a long time convinced of the need of some legislation. Mr. Bean is a man married woman more protection than the law at present, and has most unselfishly offered his time and services in this connection.

My Bean is a believer in the principle of Community Property between husband and wife, but he has framed this measure on this subject in Calgary.

The act which he drafted as a basis for discussion embodies a principle entirely new as far as I know, and I am convinced, and it's their purpose may be the means of bringing about some other government as it would bring about exactly whether the principal if adopted by other governments, would help the married women's economic position.

When introducing the Bill in the House, and asking that it be read a first time, I intended to make it clear that it was not a Government measure, and that it was in any sense a party measure. I explained that I had neither discussed the Bill with any of my colleagues, and that when it to any of our members with the exception of Mr. Bean, and that the Bill was of a character entirely outside of political opinion, and that I had no intention of that occasion to make a speech further than to explain

Owing to the extra busy time at which this picture is coming, we will show it for one night only, Saturday night, October 31st.

Botha News

Farming operations are progressing rapidly and the elevators are busy. Threshing is in full swing in all parts and the yield is turning out well. Grades are not as high due to the [illegible] and one but are better than expected in many cases. If the weather holds good for another two weeks it is said that 75 per cent of the threshing will be completed. Naturally everyone is anxious to see the sunshine finish their rows before the snow flies.

The C P R station is now open every morning to meet the train. This is much more convenient than the old stage.

The young people of the United Church held a social evening at the hall a week ago and plans were made for the opening of the [illegible] SALT work. A good crowd was entertained and refreshments were served by all.

Mrs. Ginsky Wilson is stopping at the home of Mrs. Chas. Stapleton and is attending Rock school.

Information comes to hand of the sickness of the former Richardson home by Mr. Bas. Hamie. The only cause can be cure of your home these days is to own it. Real estate is brisk.

Mr. John W. Thomas, the Liberal candidate for the federal constituency of Camrose, is out campaigning and from all reports is being splendidly received where ever he goes. Liberal Associations are being formed and an enthusiasm expressed that's entirely unique in the 1921 election. It seems that the reaction against the class system of government is gradually but surely taking place.

Mrs. Wm. Cunningham accompanied by little Fern returned home last week from St. Louis where she has been visiting.

Mr. Jackson has vacated his home and is now living over the hardware store.

Rev. Thomas Powell, Superintendent of Missions in the United Church of Canada was a visitor here on Thursday last for a few hours looking over prospective sites suitable for parsonage purposes. The Rev. M. E. Wiggins of Halkirk was also present assisting in the work.

The Intermediate C. G. I. T. met at the home of Mrs. Sam Stork on Friday afternoon last and organized their group for the winter sessions. The following were elected. President Ada [illegible]; Vice-President Lou [illegible]; Sec-Treas. Vera Preddey; Pianist, Gwendolyn Preddey. Meetings will be held at the parsonage every Friday afternoon at 3.30 and Mr Stork and will have charge until arrangements are made for a leader.

Mr. Wm. Preddey left on Monday last for Edmonton where he has secured employment with the Canada Cement Co. Mrs. Preddey and family will remain here for the present.

Mr. Wm. Cunningham motored to Camrose on Saturday last and spent the week end with his family returning on Monday morning.

Mr. Ed. Ross and children arrived from Edmonton last week and are now busy getting settled in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hallker moved to Halkirk this week.

The girls are meeting in the town hall every Tuesday evening and hope to have a popular culture class organized soon. Miss Porter is president of the class.

Mr. C. Reichmeyer little boy, suffering from an attack of appendicitis, was taken to Castor hospital Tuesday night.

During to the fact that the Progressive political meeting was not advertised the attendance on Saturday night was very small.

Gadsby News

We are having another very fine spell of threshing weather which is being taken advantage of. There is a lack of help on many of the threshing outfits. However, if the weather keeps fine—only for a week or ten days most of the threshing will be finished. North of town some farmers have reported having had an average yield exceeding 30 bushels per acre. Most of the wheat is grading 1 and 2 here.

The Chicken Supper and concert held day evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid was well attended and a great success. Who says that the business men of Gadsby cannot give entertainments? The Ladies' Aid wish to make a public expression of their gratitude to those who made the evening such a success by their liberal donations of provisions, time and talent. The co-operation of both town and country folk was very much appreciated.

Dr. A. S. Tuttle, principal of the United Theological College, South Edmonton, will be at Gadsby to give a lecture on "A Religious View of Evolution" on Saturday, Oct. 24th, at 8 p.m. at the United Church, instead of Monday, Oct. 26th, as announced. Dr. Tuttle will be with us also on Sunday, Oct. 25th. He will preach at the following places:

11.00 a.m. Brighton school.
2.00 p.m. Prairie Grove school.
4.00 p.m. Westwoods school.
7.30 p.m. Gadsby United Church.

Dr. Tuttle gives a very practical and thought provoking lecture on "Evolution". Those at all interested in this timely subject should hear his message.

We are very pleased to note that Gladys Harris, who is the daughter of Mr H. J. Harris, the caretaker of the Gadsby cemetery, has been awarded the Governor-Generals medal for the highest standing in Grade VIII examination in the Canadian Inspectorate. Gladys is now at Bawlf, where she took her Grade VIII work. But as she took the work of the first seven grades in Gadsby our interest in her progress is much greater, not materially we are assured that the foundation work of the Gadsby school must be quite up to [illegible].

Mrs. C. Stovell came in from Mr. Fisher's to spend the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Cudmore before leaving for Edmonton Tuesday morning to join her son and daughter-in-law who understand are taking up their new [illegible] there.

Mrs. A. E. Egan and children arrived in town the latter part of the week and are now busy getting settled in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hallker moved to Halkirk this week.

The girls are meeting in the town hall every Tuesday evening and hope to have a popular culture class organized soon. Miss Porter is president of the class.

Mr. C. Reichmeyer little boy, suffering from an attack of appendicitis, was taken to Castor hospital Tuesday night.

During to the fact that the Progressive political meeting was not advertised the attendance on Saturday night was very small.

Celebrated Their Golden Wedding

It is not often that we have the privilege of chronicling a golden wedding in this vicinity, but such an unusual event occurred on Sunday last, October 25th, when Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage and their residence at Liberal, ten miles north of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were married in North Cay., Ont., Oct. 24, 1875 and after a 20 years' residence in Michigan, came to Liberal in 1903, where they took up the homestead on which they have resided ever since. In the early days they did the only stopping house in this vicinity for travellers overland from Lacombe, and during the twenty years they have lived here, they have made a host of friends, who will wish of their golden anniversary with much pleasure.

All of the family were present except Ralph, who had to leave for his home in Ontario a couple of weeks ago; those of the family present being the four sons, Mark, Walter, Duncan and Reginald, and the daughters, Mrs. J. Fairfax Mrs. Jack Daves of Seattle, and Mrs. Howard Stovell of Wetaskiwin. Thirteen grandchildren were also present, with the sons and daughters. Guests from the town and country included Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Barnett, Jr., and Mrs. G. M. Welty, Captain Green, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. David Lyle, Colonel and Mrs. Rohrer, Mayor and Mrs. Sharpe, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lee and Mr. and Mrs. H. Page.

A banquet was served from two to four in the afternoon, and the occasion was a most pleasant one to the veteran couple.

It is sincerely hoped that they will be able to celebrate the Diamond Anniversary in 1935.

STOCKER SHOW

More than 1,000 head of cattle were disposed of at the auction sale held at Calgary this week. The high price of the sale went to J. J. Walters of Tilley, whose animal won the grand championship of the show, and was sold to Burns Co., at the rate of $7.10 per hundred. St. Walter's cup for Shorthorns which won the reserve championship, was sold at 27 per hundred. George Bros. of Big Valley received 27 per hundred for a group of five steers. A carload of 30 steers owned by Usher Bros. of Scollard, went for 26.50 per hundred.

WEDDINGS

Miss Esther Langton, who has resided in the Penn district for many years, was married on Monday, October 26th, to Mr. Pat Fraser, who is also well known in this community. The bride was beautifully dressed in grey [illegible] with accessories to grey fur coat and coat, and grey velvet hat, and was accompanied by her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser were also present at the ceremony, which took place at St. George's Church, Stettler, after which they left on a motor trip to Edmonton.

The young couple intend making their home in Big Valley, where Mr. Jones has a position at the Big Valley Trading Co. The good wishes of the community go with them in their new life together.

Stettler—Anderson

At Inverness, B. C., on the 21st of October, at Bonhill farm home, Wilmer, B. C., the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Bonhill, Miss Beatrice Anderson, daughter of Mr. Charles Arthur Anderson of Strathcona, and Mrs. Mary Ann Anderson, of Brentwood, Vancouver Island, was married to Mr. Glenroy Sanderson Stettler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson of Stettler, Alberta, by Rev. Mr. Hall, of Victoria.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. F. Smith, B. A., of St. Andrew's Church, Victoria. The bride looked well in a tunnen silk gown with trimmings of white satin, and was attended by Mrs. Bonhill, as matron of honor, while the bridegroom was supported by Mr. Robert Bonhill of Stettler. The groom invited Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stettler to attend over 100 bushels, which proves that crop [illegible] is not overstated.

H. G. L. Strange left on Monday to speak before a special meeting of the Rotary Club.

Mr. G. M. Forman, Dominion Poultry Representative of the Live Stock Branch accompanied by Mr. McCann of the Edmonton Journal, were in this district during the week. Mr. McCann is taking pictures of the various poultry plants and flocks for his paper. Mr. Forman is very gratified with the progress of the poultry business in this area and reports that there are some of the best flocks and the best [illegible] anywhere in Alberta.

Several strangers have been noticed in the vicinity shooting, and report shooting continues to be good. Game this year has been plentiful.

CHASED BY A MOOSE

Herb Lake Trapper Has a Narrow Escape From Infuriated Animal

Fleeing out of fear, noted Rob Nicholson, well known trapper of the Herb Lake, Man., district, from a snarling and possibly mad moose he was attacked by an enraged bull moose.

Mr. Nicholson was cutting wood some distance from his cabin when he saw a moose approaching. As it is seldom these animals attack a man the trapper took no notice of her. He acted looking up he saw startled to see the moose charging at him. He dropped the wood, grabbed the axe and managed to side-step the infuriated moose. Dodging from tree to tree he was able to get close to his camp and there secured a rifle for the purpose of shooting in a few feet. Mr. Nicholson grabbed his gun but by the time he got to the door again the moose had disappeared. Later the animal was seen in the vicinity, but failed to come within gun range.

G. M. To the Craft, by Bro. Wor. Brother Morrison, replied to by M. W. Brother Taylor, P. G. M. The Poplar Warbler kept considerable list of toasts.

In addition to the toasts, vocal selections were given by Brother Gunderson of Edmonton. Community songs were also given between toasts.

A lodge of instruction was held on Monday afternoon and evening, and was attended by about sixty members of the Order. In the afternoon, the Lodge was opened by members of Apollo Lodge, after which D. D. G. M. Brother Stevens took the chair. The members of Alix Lodge exemplified the work, and were highly complimented by the Grand Master. The evening session was taken up with general business, including the election of the two D. D. G. M.'s, Wor. Brother Manlio of Alix being elected to this position.

Addresses were given by the Grand Master and the Grand Secretary, which were much appreciated by the members.

Preparation of Soil For Hotbeds

Soil for hotbed work requires preparation. It is to give the best results. The little attention is paid to this preparation by the majority of gardeners and to this may be attributed much of the difficulty encountered in the production of healthy plants. It costs very little more to prepare the soil properly than to follow the more common method of using the same soil year after year, and the difference in the results obtained. Under normal conditions. It is always possible to water, but the moisture supply in the soil is dependent upon it's condition.

A mixture of rich soil should be obtained as early loam soil. Cut sods into the soil thoroughly with shearers layers of manure. For cutting the soil should be done either in the autumn or during the month of April, at any rate the pile should be left standing out of the manure, when the whole pile or the part required may be cut down and piled in a convenient place for the hotbed work in the following spring. This method of preparation will provide a soil with general fibre, which is very essential, and which contains sufficient plant food for ordinary work. If the soil is not considered rich enough for intensive work, more manure may be added or commercial fertilizer used to supplement the manure already present in the soil.

While the recommendation of the sand is satisfactory, if the procedure has not been followed, it is often possible to obtain sandy loam soil from the surface of a field that has been ploughed a few years in a three or four year rotation. This soil should be obtained in the fall, and piled in a convenient place, and if not rich enough in plant food, commercial fertilizer may be added to suit the special requirements of the garden. Sand is not necessary, because in a well prepared soil, manure is used in sufficient quantities, manure is used in sufficient quantities, manure should make the soil in fairly good condition for the purpose.

Manure is not convenient to obtain in sandy loam, and heavier soil has to be used, clean sand may be added to the soil, preparation for a year, however,

Round the Country

We have received a letter from Mr. L. W. Erickson, giving some details of his trip to California, before the fire. He said "the scenery ride in San Francisco was fine and the way to San Francisco was long and monotonous. The country was more like between Penn the hotel dirty one or Hudson green over all the unwanted patches. It was my first trip on the Pacific and I did enjoy it very much. Los Angeles is a nice city, but I don't see any reason why people should go there to live. The streets are scattered around considerably. Talks with John Turner, Sawyer and Jim Bentley and A. B. Ray and also saw one of Tom Hunter for both a day. Caught 7 Bighorn in the mountains. Am back to Salt Lake City now and will start for home on the Denver & Rio Grande line of the Pacific Railroad Book of Los Angeles, Audrey Gamble and will be in Edmonton on the 4. W. Raymond was looking good, and is gained and well. Geo. Bagley looks as he always was. I was pleased to see him. Am sorry I did not see Mr. Mason. I believe that they have enjoyed my trip but I think my trip to Seattle will stand out in my memory more prominently than any other part of it. I had no picture there that my right arm is not permanently paralyzed, so I had to have it fixed, apparently from the effects of the three days of the Old Timers' reunion."

Our thanks are due to Mr. Walter Pyper for sending us a sample of "Pyper Pep" cereal. Mr. Pyper informs us we are the first to receive a sample. Hollywood Wheat Cereal Co. Ltd. If correspondence with Calgary was made by Stettler Chamber of Commerce, we would be the fastest in Canada. There are other countries who may have to be written to before Los Angeles gets a reply. Perhaps we should have sent a telegram.

The rest are not much better as any book from a small town who is good looking will appreciate the interest in the chance of getting a job.

In fact countless young men, young women and old women, will read the other part, grow up trying to reach the place of the major realm of a big town.

The moral, of course, is—"Stay at home and look after your job."

HIGH ALL SHOP YALL

We cut out a paragraph from The Los Angeles Record, which is entitled "What Happened?" It has to do with taken in the Dome of Commerce, and is as follows:

STATE TAKES ALMOST HIGH ALL SHOP YALL IS

PHOENIX, Oct. 12.—City, county and state taxes that totalled $1,000,000 in 1911, will amount to $5,000,000 in 1925.

The total tax bill for California is three times that amount, or $15,000,000 than the total value of all assessment rolls.

The total tax bill, excluding federal taxes, is $1,250,000 more than all California's mineral products, gold and oil.

The state tax bill combined with the county federal taxes, amounts to $120,000,000, to $220,000,000.

These are tax facts quoted in a statement from out the camp of Governor F. W. Richardson by Merle D. Vincent, local oil millionaire and former Richardson supporter.

That is going some, in a rich state like California. If taxes in Alberta, almost equaled crop values, we would be in a bad way.

Conquering Canada and the United States, the Hon. Clifford Sifton says "As a matter of fact, we have no such wide-spread distress as they have had in the United States. In twenty three middle and northern States, from ten to fifteen per cent. of the farmers were actually driven from their farms permanently by circumstances, hopelessly insolvent."

The United States government pointed out hundreds of millions of dollars into over-due channels of relief, loan associations, banks, and agricultural financial organizations, to save the internal land economics. Even description, how to submit success. We have had no such conditions as I speak of. The country, we have experienced two years of unusually favorable crops, and the States is safe to say that there is one first-rate per cent. more actual farmers and more actual deposits than ever in Canada. It is my deliberate opinion that we have in Canada are the best off of any people in the world.

Lord Fairfax Was Washington's Friend

Starting in the basement of an old Episcopalian church in Winchester, Virginia, the other day, workmen excavating the bones of Lord Fairfax, who was a friend of George Washington, found the bones of a woman as well as those of the nobleman. The woman's bones were found in a leaden coffin. When Lord Fairfax died in 1188 the body was interred in an old country church in one of the interior counties of Winchester. In 1850 the coffin was removed and placed in the family graveyard beside which he had endowed, but no one knew whether there was a bonding the exact spot of the Fairfax sepulchre or not. Lord Fairfax was a man of many accomplishments. He was a surveyor, a soldier, a statesman and a scholar. He was a friend of George Washington and was a great friend of Thomas Jefferson. He was a friend of Lord Fairfax's friend, who is buried in the same graveyard

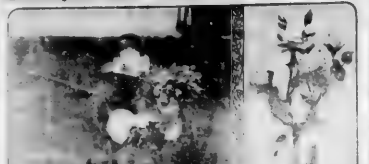
Great Soprano Greets "Grand Young Man" of C.P.R.



Mme. Schumann-Heink, famous singer, is shown with Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railways, as she greeted him on the arrival of the Empress of Britain at Quebec. Mme. Schumann-Heink was a passenger on the liner.

HERE is Colonel George B. Hunter, of the C.P.R., who was one of the first questions asked by Marie Dressler, the famous motion picture star of yore, when she visited Montreal on October 14th, 1935. She expressed regret when she learned that the Dean of Canadian journalists was indisposed, and she sent him a message of sympathy. Col. Hunter was with her when she first met Charlie Chaplin, to be lovely to the movie queen as the youngest of Colonel Sam sent Jessica Lemont, Colonel Hunter was Jessica's godfather.

When Jessica was last in Montreal on March 12th, 1935, Colonel Hunter conducted her around Canadian Pacific Windsor Station. Since that time the song in many countries, being hailed everywhere as a golden contribution to the gaiety of nations.

Miss Lemont's visit to Montreal was a personal trip to see her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lemont, who live in Montreal. Then the summer comes along and pays it, and when the summer pays then taxes how can they be expected to pay their bill.

Campaign is Launched On Income Tax

Business-Wide Campaign Launched by Retail Trade Bureau Against Tax System

A Dominion-wide Campaign to have the federal income tax system overhauled has been launched by THE RETAIL TRADE BUREAU OF CANADA, the Head Office of which is Ontario. All county meetings have been held in Saskatchewan, Alberta, Manitoba and the response to the call for assistance has been most encouraging.

In an interview in which he outlined the general purpose of the Retail Trade Bureau of Canada was opposed to the existence of the Income Tax, Mr. E. H. Trowern, Dominion Executive director and Secretary of the Bureau in Ontario, pointed out that one of the main faults with this tax is that it is evaded here and thereon out of the people "All men are not honest," he said "and they never, they are not honest persons. Any system of taxation—and do not care where it is or what it is—that depends on the honesty of people is not in a correct aspect in which our income Tax is calculated and is directly into taxation. The fundamental is wrong. The manner in which our Income Tax collected during the fiscal year 1921-22 was $101,... 1922-23 it was $73,745,... and 1923-24 it was only $58,... 1924-25 it has undertaken a re... 1925 it was $74,... 1926 the tax is falling... 1927 it was $... 1928 it was $... 1929 it was $... 1930 it was $... 1931 it was $... 1932 it was $... 1933 it was $... 1934 it was $... 1935 it was $...

October, November Worst Months For Skidding

(By Press Bureau)

(President Great Collects of Automobiles Compared)

October and November stand out as the worst months in the year for automobile accidents. Records of the various state motor vehicle departments show that nearly half the motor vehicle accidents occur in these months. November took more lives than October.

AEROPLANE FOR WOMEN

A dainty little aeroplane designed especially to appeal to feminine taste has appeared in the London market. It is being sold for 200 pounds ($1,000). It is a one-seater and is built, the manufacturers say, "for the woman only."

The Royal Aero Club of Great Britain has issued flying certificates to seven women.

(Ill-ld Over From Last Week)

The same old story has to go over this week in regard to the weather. It is cold and stormy and has been the most they can in their threshing. Bro. Rose says he is pressed for time to press last week should help considerably even though it be rough. The estimate of some competent authorities is now that the end of the threshing done at present.

It is not natural on a program of the Hanna-Gyro Teachers' Convention that three of the former teachers of the Botha school were the officers of that Convention. F. F. Tracy was President, J. B. Copeland was Vice-President and Miss M. Baxter was Secretary Treasurer. A notable record for one school.

The death took place of Mrs. Charnley of the Leith district on Monday afternoon last. Mrs. Charnley had been ailing for nearly a year and on closing cold on Friday, consulted her doctor, with the result, that in spite of

Round the Country

The Regina Chamber of Western Canadian Literature has been formed and is now in operation. It is the first literary province of Saskatchewan. The Chamber has a high spirit on the Western Canadian flatcar has been constructed by Saskatchewan and Alberta, mostly the former.

Sir Stephen was coming strong there, followed by the Liberal brethren. Hamilton mentioned his search for power and everything but that of the Government. He intimated that would suspend the Writ to the strongest method and help to the fullest. Then Sir Stephen Mackenzie, in the interests of Reconstruction, the greatest whose possessed anywhere in the world, with the result that not a single Conservative was elected, but on the contrary fifteen Liberals and six Progressives. In Alberta he did a little better with a following of three, but his chance of building a high tariff government in that direction was gone forever.

Not that the Progressives helped out any. It was the spirit of a Progressive convention in Quebec to denounce that part the country into the Province B is to save, with a Liberal government. If there had been no Progressives in the field throughout the Dominion, the Liberals would almost certainly have had a majority of their own. The Progressive good intentions that they came into the field to protect the farmers from special privilege has left the country into a land that would be unsound. Furthermore they have shown that tariff rates as they are at present are satisfactory to any section of the country. They can thank Premier Meighen and the Liberals of Quebec and that the farmers of the West have got from a tariff a lot less than they would rob today if they could.

When the economy is put ... into effect from one end of the country to the other, Mr. E. W. Wood gave an interesting address stating that there never will be good business until the farmer is prosperous and support only good business. Perhaps he was not far wrong. Hon. Dr. Hughes how to get prosperity in a hurry. Let us have a ... in business there are ups and downs, and none of them have a monopoly. In fact the present depression is world wide. Mr. Wood, and Mr. Irvine and other 'group' parliamentary leaders. It should add a few cents to the pound, whether it adds to the country and their followers in getting Ottawa connection immediately. Here is an ideal government for the country by the group system.

The Liberal Home Conservatives and eight Progressives are elected so far in Alberta. If there had been no Progressives in the field the Liberals would have twelve Liberals and three Conservatives. Under the framework every Liberal would have been a low tariff advocate, and it is hard to say what some of the Progressives are. Former Conservatives like Dr. Lucas of Camrose and Mr. Buttrick of Vegreville may vote for a low tariff because they have to, but they might give Mr. Meighen every chance to show a wedge into the low tariff party by indirect attack, until he gets power into his own hands. Then the high tariff party would be in control.

There are things that might give food for thought to the farmers of this constituency. They might ask themselves, what is the good of a group system which creates a stalemate? Can the efficacy of the Government under the low tariff party a non-existence issue. We know where Liberal stands and where John Thomas stands, but no one knows where many of these stand when it comes to a vote. What is the difference whether the low tariff party is Laurier or some other question then for tariff, if they be defeated?

A reformers, compact government is a necessity. The great need at the present time is for Members who know where they are, and who are of such character that the government or opposition know where they are, when matters of importance come up.

Mr. Meighen has been severely criticized for the manner of the conduct of the election that would compel the West to send to the strongest method and help to the fullest. Then Sir Stephen Mackenzie, in the interests of Reconstruction, the greatest whose possessed anywhere in the world, with the result that not a single Conservative was elected, but on the contrary fifteen Liberals and six Progressives. In Alberta he did a little better with a following of three, but his chance of building a high tariff government in that direction was gone forever.

Not that the Progressives helped out any. It was the spirit of a Progressive convention in Quebec to denounce that part the country into the Province B is to save, with a Liberal government. Edmonton, Alta.,
October 31, 1925.

Dear Sirs:—

I am writing you to learn whether or not the Ladies' Hockey Team is for your town which would like to become a member of the Ladies' Branch of the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association.

A Provincial Trophy, which is now held by the Fireside Club of Calgary, will be donated for annual competition. We would like to have all towns entered by December 1st, whether or not they are to be games in the Northern Alberta League.

It is likely that a Junior League will also be organized if enough entries are made, and if your town cannot enter a team in the Senior Section, we would like to have a team which would like to enter the Junior Section.

Please write me and let me know if you are interested and send me the name of the A. A. & A. and information in regard to fees, etc., will be forwarded on application.

Would you kindly communicate the above to the Ladies' Hockey Team interested in organizing a Ladies' Hockey Team and let them in reply as to early a date as possible.

Yours truly,

Autumn Birds' Nests

(Red Deer News)

It might seem almost like a deliberate reversing of the seasons to see birds' nests now when we look, gaze about, and still make best appearance of this time of the year.

This is a good time to look for birds' nests though and the falling leaves have gradually revealed many of the nests that have been in spring and summer days.

The little bird home, which we know was somewhere in that bunch of brush, and which we often sought for in vain, now shows up clearly amongst the bare twigs.

A downright silliest human or hundred of poplar leaves had effectively hidden it from our inquisitive eyes.

In every bluff we can now see the nests of numerous many of those we sometimes think.

The maligned common house-wren with its nest of twigs, grass, feathers, hair, from a distance, like a huge cobweb's deposited the branch of a tree.

If you have ever tried to get your hand into one to find the eggs or young, you will know that it is quite a job to find a way through the rough, prickly mass.

The old birds have things arranged with a front and back door, so that Mrs. Bang doesn't need to turn around inside, which would spoil her long black hair.

In company with a number of bowler Conservationist called poplar hawks we have examined the robin's nest with a little—the mother's nest to need your eyes.

After spying the old nest, it is carefully gone over, the voyages of winter storms repaired, and a new lining of soft strips of bark, etc., provided for the two or three large eggs.

This is done in early May just as the trees are beginning into leaf, and at this time the nests often contain a few twigs of fresh, green poplar leaves.

It seems an odd fancy for members of the home to have a handy, and modern wonder wing.

Along the edges of the sloughs in the willows, there are dozens of robins' nests now visible.

Supported on the upright stalks of last summer's cattails, they are a beautiful example of handicraft making.

The nests are made of dead grass and twigs, and are lined with the mother's color where they are most difficult to get at. Soft, downy wool and twisted around the supports that the nest is built on. The whole construction that will sometimes hold together for years.

If we are interested in such things, we will see many other nests during the coming winter months.

Some of these are surprisingly close to ourselves or hospitals.

The little northern hare and their quite unconcerned, knowing that the nests are safe from harm every protection.

The Elks' Band is making good progress in their rehearsals, and has had eight or nine practices in all during the past few weeks. The membership is about 15 at present.

The weather, which has been cold over the week-end, took a turn for the mild conditions on Monday and Tuesday with a fall of rain. Heavy snow today (Thursday) is making good sleighing.

This is the time of the year that firms are a source of danger. Look out for your hot stove. There is enough room to quench your fire-extinguisher in the shop.

Tonight (Thursday) will take place the annual banquet of the Trustees and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Church and the Baseball Boys at Lander's Hall, the former at 6.30 p. m. and the latter at 9:00 p. m.

Mr. H. A. Smith has sold his hockey shop to Bert. Wood of Brooks, who took possession this week. Mr. Smith will take a holiday at the end of the month before deciding where he will locate.

Hallett has passed out as usual in the Senior Basketball pages. There was perhaps less damage done to property than in former years owing to the vigilance of the town overseer. A number of windows of the stores were smashed up with soap and paint, and some of the more obstreperous boys spent a couple of hours under lock and key during the evening.

The monthly W. C. T. U. meeting at the home of Mrs. Hamilton on Thursday afternoon was a very interesting meeting. Mrs. Graves gave a splendid paper on the subject of Provincial Convention. Mrs. Combs only gave a resumé owing to the shortness of her time and important business. A pleasant feature of the meeting was the presentation of a life membership pin to Mrs. Hamilton. Mrs. Hamilton has been a very faithful officer since the organization started in 1921.

Mendames Legg and Robinson made the remarks and the presentation. Lunch was served. Two new members were secured.

Red Cross Day in Stettler on Saturday, October 31st, was a fairly good day for the cause as around $100.00 was collected, the majority of this in amount in cash and some of it in grain. Of this amount, 25 per cent. will go to the original Children's Hospital in Calgary, and the balance will be expended in the district. Corporal Ryan reports a generous response from the majority of those who were called on, but 175 coppers were received, most of which must have been individual contributions. This is a fine example for some towns where the amount of "chicken feed" is left out in the hundreds of coppers being useless. Mr. Ryan wishes to thank all donors for their contributions, and also the ladies who gave for their assistance in making the day a success.

SHORT STUFF

I wonder what my next way to say what it is that I call it. Not goods for which my life I not, not sight nor smell, but the sense of disapproval of those and stripped to barenone, let's say our soul is just a-quivering. Certain writers use phrase to cram, the cap, perfect meal as in a shoe, "by Gosh, said he." I am in that perfect mother's street feeling, mean, I should say that perfect lawyer, if lawyers or hell I need not go one step above, one step below; it only means that I should know, that I should look on all my ids and with it not what might have been. If that can't make sufficient dent, I'll be a long for pure-bones. But if I can find the right feature, I'll think with joy of each good action. A thing that leaves and finds, I wish, yet surely I am more than this. My need is indeed to action too. I am a thing that will to do, not action, with endless pauses, nor yet pain. I register through the nose, to breathe or hell I may not stop, I must be up and on my way. I eat to live? as I guess, and a bit of both to meet my need. With heart of love is we and you, with mind to know and will to do of God made power we'll all come through.
—JOE ADAMS

CATTLE

BEEF—There heavy butcher steers at Calgary this week from $4.25@5.50, with most of the offerings going at the far cut level; choice heifers $4@4.25; good $3.40@3.90; common $2@3.25; medium cows $3@3.50; choice cows $3@3.50; good $2.50@2.75; common $2@2.25; canners $1@1.75. Choice bulls were not selling as well this week, some at $2.25@2.50; medium $1.75@2; and canners at $1.25@1.50. Choice butcher calves $4@4.50 but most of the sales were made at $4; common lots $3.50@3.75. FEEDERS AND STOCKERS—Choice feeders $3.50@3.85; stock steers $3.10@3.40; stock heifers $3.25@3.50; stock cows $2@2.50.

BEEF—The market at Edmonton was slower this week, and the demand was about on account of the number of plain cattle being marketed. Choice heavy butcher steers $5.25@5.60; choice light $4@4.50; good $4.25@4.75; medium $3.50@4; common $2.50@3.25. Choice heifers $4.75@4.85; good $3.90@3.75. GRAIN

Large quantities of wheat continues to be offered on the Winnipeg market, and prices are showing a little each day. During the short period of grain trading, sellers were turned to threshing, which has been held up a couple days. This last may be a step toward the cut in harbor values which is expected. CREAMERY BUTTER—No change has been made in quotations yet, but when the Australian and New Zealand shipments arrive there will probably be something stirring. Dairy Butter market quiet, no exports. CHEESE—Market is steady and trading active.

EGGS — POULTRY

EGGS—Receipts are extremely light especially since the cold weather. Storage supplies most of the demand and the dealers paying as high as 40c to get new laids. POULTRY—Shipments are restricted chiefly to old hens and cockerels, some of which are in poor shape; dealers therefore holding and fattening before shipping.

HAY

Weather conditions and harvesting are keeping the market quiet. Some

Field Inspection Of Seed Potatoes

The acreage inspected this year for certified seed potatoes was considerably below that of 1924, which, however, was not unexpected.

The area inspected throughout the country—not including British Columbia—was approximately 13,500 acres, which is slightly more, or seventy per cent, passed the two field inspections. With an estimated crop from this acreage of 175 to 200 bushels per acre of the Irish Cobbler variety, and 225 to 250 bushels of the Green Mountain variety, there will again be a large quantity of certified seed potatoes available, sufficient for extensive planting in Canada next season, and for extensive export to other markets where the favorable reputation of Irish seed has become firmly established.

As an indication of the merits of certified seed potatoes, it will be interesting to note that comprehensive information has recently been collected by Mr. H. C. Moore, of East Lansing, Michigan, on the results obtained from station by communicating with the few certified seed potatoes, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

of Canada and the United States and that the average increase per acre in favor of the certified seed was 66.4 bushels, and in Canada alone, 88 bushels. This information, and the knowledge, through personal experience, which large numbers of growers have acquired during the past few years, warrants the statement that there is no doubt about the quality of seed which has fulfilled certification requirements.

Some outstanding features as a result of inspection for certified seed are, the general improvement in cultural practices, followed by the growers, who enter their fields for inspection, practice of the methods recommended for their control, and the honest efforts they put forth to comply with rather inspection standard when preparing their crops for sale. These features are of great assistance to the efficient conduct of the inspection service, and are much appreciated.

Any growers interested in the above work, or desirous of securing a supply of certified seed for planting next season may secure further information by communicating with the few certified seed potato, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

WHAT TO DO WITH SUMMER THINGS

Cut tennis ball in half. Grow fur inside with hair brush. Makes a beautiful set of ear muffs.

Take down porch swing. Set the swing on floor in parlor. You can keep baby behind it all winter.

Bore two holes in edge of light strainer thimble, fastening wire for oil polish. Buy small pin strips.

Save nuts in baseball bat. Fill the hole with lead. Use bat on first man saying, "Is it cold enough for you?"

SCHOOLS OF AGRICULTURE OPEN

The provincial schools of agriculture at Vermilion, Olds and Claresholm have opened up for the 1925-26 term, with an attendance which will total upwards of 250, when all students have arrived. The schools are anticipating the heaviest registration in their history. The parties of British boys who are to train here under the Hendley scheme, have been distributed with 16 at Claresholm, 16 at Olds and 32 at Vermilion.

BOYS LIKE CHICKENS

Some forty boys and girls between the ages of fourteen and eighteen years are "boys" and girls' poultry clubs from eleven different districts in the central and northern part of the province, will attend the third annual swine club show which will be held in Edmonton on November 5th and 6th. In addition to exhibiting the pigs which they have cared for during the past season, these farm boys and girls will take part in two judging competitions.

Doll Contest News

Last year the Independent Furnish ed $5 Dolls for the girls of the town and district, and those in every institution that more girls will get dolls this year, so they have started in earlier and other contributors are more favorable. This office has made no attempt to collect subscriptions all summer in order to give all girls a chance. In the fall. The girls know that our Dolls are the best to be had on the market and we have had no complaints from anyone during the past year.

What we get out of the contest is a number of new subscribers. The old subscribers will pay anyway, whether we give away dolls or not, but our subscription list is invariably increased when we put on a contest of this kind.

The doll we are giving out the year for $60.00 worth of subscriptions is the same one as last year, but the dress is pretty, and the contest is of a different colour. A picture of this doll will be given in next week's issue

The following are the names of the candidates who have received receipt books from this office this week:

Brown Ainslie, Hewlett Hailes, Ida Gelhaus, Gladys Baltzer, Edith Hills, Bruce Bickle, Hazel Baxter, Heidi Yeoman, Wankford St. Pierre, Elsie Norrish, Bobby Morris, Hazel Longshore, Violet Estes, Helen Bess, Catherine McCartie Merle Todd, Margaret Thompson, Robert Lee, Francis Stapleton, Lois Smith, Bertha White, Glen Campbell, Knite Bamborough, Irene Viney, Louise Carwarine, Ruth Berry, Anna Cornelissen, Elizabeth Bach, Jean Hoch, Allen Brown, Emily Trotter, all of Stettler

Curling Meeting

A meeting of the curlers was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening, November 9th, with a good attendance of those interested. President Mashin and Secretary White took their places at 8:30 p. m. and business was proceeded with.

A discussion of finances was the first matter on the programme, and it was decided that the best way to have a good balance was to increase the list of membership, and collect the fees by Dec. 2nd. With all fees collected the club could declare a surplus each year.

It was moved by Blair and Griffith that J. Duckworth be chairman of the membership committee. Mr. Duckworth to choose his own committee for the membership drive.

The appointment of the Ice Maker was left with the executive committee to deal with, and it was also moved and carried that the ice maker pay fees the same as other members.

It was decided to sell a general meeting on Wednesday evening, December 2nd, and at this meeting the report of the membership committee will be handed in, also the report of the executive committee.

The Superintendent was instructed to collect at once all outstanding licenses and dog taxes and the Secretary was instructed to have all outstanding licenses and taxes cleared up immediately to be taken in both cases if payment is not made.

Moved by Councillor Baltzarsen and seconded by Councillor Dennis that we adjourn to the call of the Chair. Carried.

STETTLER WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The November meeting of the Stettler Women Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Stannard, Mrs. Mabel, on Tuesday evening, November 3rd. Miss Hodgson furnished enjoyable music for the meeting. Mrs. W. F. Price who had charge of the topic gave an excellent and most comprehensive paper on Immigration which well merited the close attention given it by those present.

Miss West, a Red Cross nurse, was present and addressed the ladies having reference to the formation of a nursing class. She pointed out the great need of housewives along this line, not to take the place of the trained nurses and doctors but to or-

WEDDINGS

GODWIN—BOUGH

On Sunday evening, November 8th, a very pretty wedding was solemnized in the St. Edmund's Church, Big Valley, when Miss Gertrude Allen Bough was united in Marriage to Mr. Jack Godwin, by the Rev. W. E. Herbert. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride was attended by Miss Ethel Godwin, sister of the groom, and Mr. Ernest Godwin, brother of the groom, was best man. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Bough.

Basketball Notes

A number of interesting Basketball games were played on Friday evening last.

The school games were divided into a number of leagues. The High Schools coming unders Series 'A' and the Public Schools under Series 'B.'

In Series 'B' girls; Halkirk won from Stettler, 11-4. Dunvale won from Botha 20-6. In the final game Halkirk defeated Dunvale 11-10.

In Series 'B' boys; Dunvale won from Stettler 18-8. Red Willow then won from Botha by defeating Dunvale 26-6

In Series 'A' Girls; Botha lost to Dunvale in the game of 22-4. Stettler then won by bye and in the finale were defeated by Dunvale 35-9.

In Series 'A' boys only two teams entered, Dunvale and Stettler. Dunvale won by a score of 21-8.

The Camrose Normal Ladies then defeated the Stettler ladies 20-6.

The final and best game of the season came when Camrose men clashed with Stettler Men. This was a fast and exciting game from the first blow of the whistle. At the end of the first period, Stettler was leading by two points. At the end of the second period Stettler still held the lead. In the third period Camrose staged a comeback and by some brilliant shooting on the part of Shearer, they themselves and Strong starred for Camrose the game, the score being 23-16. Camrose. The Stettler team played a clean game throughout, no one in particular standing out.

The above games are a sample of what could be done if the people would take an interest in basketball. We have an ideal place to play, if people of the vicinity would be interested, one of the rinkers might be organized, and there is no reason why basketball should not be one of the games of Stettler.

There are two periods each year, one between hockey and baseball and one between baseball and hockey, in which there is absolutely no sports for the children and the young people. Basketball is a fast, clean game, so why not make use of these periods and keep the boys and girls out of mischief by playing basketball.

Rev. V. F. Hellmuth of Medicine Hat, visited the Church of England Church here last week-end. Mr. Hellmuth was on his way home from Calgary where he attended the recent Church Synod.

Wm. Tennes and W. H. Brewster are Calgary visitors this week.

Mrs. and Mrs. T. Dandenault are happy over the announcement of the arrival of a baby daughter last Saturday morning.

Only the school of immediate residence will be allowed to have Santa Claus visit, the rest being asked to remain away, as it would be practically impossible to visit them all.

Grace Marshall was in Edmonton on Saturday last, where she attended a meeting with Provincial officers, Women's Institute branches in connection with a proposed visit to Edmonton after a prominent visit to Erskine.

The Hunters has rounded the Pass and are now on their way home to the Erskine district, bearing with them their quota of game.

A. B. Dawson was at the east last week on a few days last week.

Hay was cheaper and 30c. had to be paid for this weather.

Mrs. Ed. Bow has moved into her house recently vacated by Ed. Hoodless.

School was closed several days last week to permit Miss Gould to visit her parents at Edmonton, who are leaving for the coast.

Jim says that a convenient gallon has been created, and may be taken advantage of by anyone interested in this particular form of measurement.

Our observers have been watching the weather to see if it is right, for all the different Hallowe'en specials. Mr. Frank, at the Erskine Hotel, says that he has been able to tell that Hallowe'en was coming on the 31st, by the clouds in the sky, but he is not a Weather Prophet.

Mrs. Carroll of Lanning, Minn., who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fricke, since last August, left for Carnation Monday, where Mr. Carroll is at present working.

Edith Clark who has been treasurer in the Alexandra Hospital, Edmonton, for the past few months, returned home last Monday afternoon.

Married—On October 20th, Miss Vida Clark to Hal Wright. Ceremony was performed at the home of the parents of the bride, by Rev. R. Simpson of Jarvis.

Miss Inez waiter entertained a party of friends in honor of the event, at his newly acquired domicile, on College Avenue, last Saturday night. After numerous congratulations had been extended, dainties and coffee were in order of the evening, followed by the hearty singing of that delightful old melody Carry Me Back To Old Virginia.

Married—On November 7th, at Ann Arbor, Michigan, Miss Ruth Hamilton, daughter of Mrs. Hamilton, Erskine, to Mr. Ernest Hunter, also Pearl Hunter, to Miss Ruth Hamilton.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters must be brief. Letters must be signed. The name of the author and his address of the writer will not be published, but are required not necessarily to make public. Publication is of course a matter of the judgment of the editor.

Editor of the Independent:

In his letter of last week, Mr. Peats is trying to make out that I am unable to make calculations as the rest of the majority. This points possibly have a grain of truth in it that that is, I doubt when an contractor in the Y. M. C. A. for the last fifty or ten years, or other building; a rather better-class building.

His statement that boys who cost you are aggressive is true. But it is also true that they are overbearing to 99 per cent. false.

Mr. Peats' remarks remain much like that of the Socialist school which advocates and practices the principle of contract-shooting, collectivism and equal distribution of wealth.

Yours truly,
A. E. Cooper.

Union Hall

Last wonder some men head up the agricultural experiment stations? We have an occasionally good crop in, some a chance some summer to have a couple of the best fellows in the All and call thereon any time we happen to need a fall or two.

Lewis and Fred Weber report the finishing of the Lewis Hall district. Just across the Content bridge, halfway after their claims along the river. They are planning to move in and there they looking after some this spring and help out on the place. Lewis is single, and Fred is married. I'll be very much surprised if both of these claims don't look fine before the frost is on and I'll be very much surprised if they don't be the best of half.

Jim Summers of the B. C. Coast, spent a couple of a refreshing week of good food liveliness last week. Jim and Mrs. Summers are pretty in terms of the white-fleece, but is afraid of a long haul, and feels he has not got the time to devote and give them the proper attention, that possibly they should have. We have been hoping that he will again see his way clear to make a trip back to the old South of the Hunt of Union.

Mrs. Ed. Hall, Mrs. Wm. Hall and children, Mrs. A. E. Hall and sons Jack and Bert, Mrs. Ed. Hall and Mrs. H. L. Potter of Daughter Mildred, Sunday-ed at the Bud and White Farm.

Geo. Summers returned home on Sunday from Bad Wilton, where he has been attending the steam engine of Tom Lees' threshing outfit.

Wm. Lees had very good outfit-ay that wedding bells will ring in this township in the very near future. We will extend congratulations even if it is early, for no one deserves a helpmate in life more than the two Georges.

We have that the exertion is over and everything is peaceful once more, let's all turn in and support the candidate who was elected. Whether it suits us or not. We are living in and enjoying a free country and always re-member majority rules.

We wish to congratulate the school board on the very extensive repairs which have made at the school recently. A new chimney has been built from the basement up, and the furnace overhauled. The room room also has been repainted; a washing room for pupils; a reception room for holding friends which after the dances which are held in the hall on Saturday by the Good time Club. We feel this is the proper thing for the school board to do, as the Union Hall School is the only one in the district which is owned by the Municipality of the Holy Redeemer. Union Church 7:45 p. m. The pastor will be the preacher of these services.

On Monday, December 7th, Rev. A. Peats, B.A., is referred minister of the Union Church, will give an address at 8 o'clock. Mr. Peats gave one of the most outstanding messages at the last Conference of the Methodist Church of Calgary, last week. It is to be hoped that from far and near many be privileged to hear him.

The Lecture of St. George's Church will be given in the Parish Hall, on the 16th, at the Parish Hall. Tea will be served.

LETHBRIDGE COAL MINE

The Lethbridge coal mine, which is the first coal shaft on a large scale to be held in Alberta, takes place on December 11 and 12, with a consider-able number of entries. The acreage in ours in the province that is to be offered at $1,000 per acre, chiefly in southern Alberta. This is compared with 47,000 acres last year, and 32,000 the year previous.

Red Willow

Mr. Hargrave was here calling on old friends. He came in his old automobile with his present change of car.

The Women After Hotel, Jean Hargrave and Dorothy Payne who are attending Provincial Normal, are home to spend Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Payne spent a few days last week visiting at the Hilley ers.

Miss Mary Hilley who is attending Agricultural College spent the week-end at home.

The teaching is still going on at a great rate in this district. For the benefit of our correspondent they will be about through in a couple of days.

The C. N. has favored us with a good supply of cars that are being loaded rapidly.

The Ladies' Aid are busy, preparing for their Dance which is to be held on Saturday November 24th in the Red Willow Hall. Supper will be served at 9 p. m. You will be served at 9 o'clock.

They have a beautiful variety of articles to please every one.

Everyone will be held here Dance as usual and the Lord's Supper will be served at 9 o'clock.

We are glad to note that Mr. Mc-Murray has so far recovered from his recent illness and that he is able to be about town.

Mrs. McMurray is prepared to help anyone with their sewing from now on.

Mr. Roy Rivers from Mr. Pearl Peats is here visiting his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Lyons spent Tuesday with Mr. Burton.

DONALDA

Where are you going? To the Ford Supper and Dance held in Sharpe's Hall on Saturday, November 24st. Donalda is to be served, don't you know it. Some-fish of Home made articles at three o'clock to the afternoon and a big hot supper from 6 to 8 p. m. Then a dance to follow. Good music. The Ladies' Aid bid you come one and all.

Mrs. C. Splyhach is visiting her father, Mr. Martin in Edmonton, who has been in hospital for some weeks. We hope for a speedy recovery.

Mrs. A. Gray and Mrs. Wm. Gray are visiting in Edmonton. A social evening which was very much enjoyed by all was held last night. At the close it was decided to hold a social evening every Saturday night.

Solemn Mental Ladies' Aid will hold their annual Harvest Festival on Friday, November 23th. Best of supper and program served.

Mrs. A. C. Anderson and Joan are spending a short vacation at Edmonton. Pleas visiting her sister.

Threshing is almost over. There are a few, however, that have not quite finished. Grain is moving quite fast to the elevators.

We are glad that Mrs. J. Clemens, who has been quite ill the past few weeks is improving slowly in health.

The wedding took place in Edmonton on Tuesday evening by the Rev. Mr. Hargrave, of Christ's Church, the contract.

The marriage of Miss Alice Ann Wilkinson and Mr. Roy Tench, both of Stettler, took place at Edmonton on Wednesday afternoon, November 7th. Mr and Mrs. Tench, who will live on the Tench farm, are the recipients of the best wishes of their many friends.

Miss Alberta Kraft and Mr Charles Green were married in Edmonton on Tuesday evening by the Rev. Mr. Hargrave, of Christ's Church, the contract.

Mr. Henry Smith left on Wednesday on a trip to Seattle, and other Coast points. He will be away some weeks and may locate at the Coast.

Miss Alice Hale of Calgary Normal School was a visitor in town on Saturday.

Dr. Kennedy has his father visiting him this week, from British Columbia.

Mr. John Smith, Inspector of High Schools, was a visitor in town this week and spent Tuesday and Wednesday at the local schools.

Mrs. W. R. Nelson and family of Lee moved into town for the winter, and the children are attending Stettler School.

The W. M. S. of the United Church will hold their meeting at the home of the President, Mrs. Colley, on Thursday, November 15th, at 3 o'clock.

The monthly meeting of the Stettler Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Hooper Carder.

An interesting missionary program was given. The business, who volunteered the latter in her usual hospitable manner, served a dainty lunch at the close of the meeting.

J. F. Hill of Calgary is a business visitor in town this week. Mr. Hill is identified with Calgary Fat Stock Show, and with Calgary Exhibition.

G. Staley, formerly of Gadsby, now of Okanagan Valley is in town this week, and has been a visitor to his farm south of Gadsby.

The C. P. R. waiting rooms are now heated and are open for the general public. They are heated by steam and make comfortable and convenient apartments for the travelling public.

Mrs. G. Everbeardy left this week to care for Portland, Ore., and will do the driving herself. Mrs. Everbeardy is an expert-owned chauffeur, being accustomed to driving her car here Mr. Everbeardy will not leave town until December.

Miss Cornelius Norgate is meeting with unusual success in her Christmas Card business this year, acting as agent of the Independent. Her former customers state that the cards they bought from her is more varied than ever before.

The weather this week has been very dull, cold, and about the usual round of the fall season. If there had been no snow conditions would be ideal for outdoor sports, but with a few more warm days to more will disappear.

Threshing has been going on consistently during the past week, but lately frost prevented it from being made. The yield is running high, ranging from 25 to 60 bushels for wheat, but the grade is tough owing to dampness.

A party from Re-Ster, consisting of Mrs. Hyde, Miss Bennett, Miss Lawson, Mr. Robinson and Mr. Collis gave some entertainers at the social Evening Women's Institute on Wednesday evening, and some community songs were also put on by Miss Rodene and Mr Neff.

A meeting of carriers was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening and it was decided to make a canvass for subscriptions for the purchase of uniforms for carrying messrs. It was also decided that Miss Rodene could also use the rink each afternoon during the

The annual Teachers' Convention was also held during the same time, with an attendance of about twenty teachers, and on Friday evening a joint banquet was held in the Odddfellows' Hall, when ladies were set by the Ladies of the United Church for one hundred and fifty guests. The program consisted of various toasts and community songs and was one of the most enjoyable functions held here for some time. Owing to lack of space the report of these events is held over until next week.

The program for the re. cup was interesting and instructive and will be given in detail by the secretary in next issue.

CHRISTMAS EVE AT EIGHTY DEGREES NORTH LATITUDE

(By Henry Ellis the Navigator II.)

First pioneer of Spitsbergen North-scotland 1906-08. 80 degrees 30 L. 20 polar bears. Twenty five years experience as Explorer, Hunting, Whaling, Hunting, and Trapping.

By the aid of my diary and a few written reminders, I had reckoned out that at last we had reached the 80th Parallel, Greenwich Time but I didn't mention the fact to my four men until after our afternoon coffee at 4 o'clock. Then I informed them in a matter and matter-of-fact way that "Christmas Eve was here." There was a few moments silence though we had been expecting some kind of a celebration. We two Arctic men, Fridtjof Nansen, Roman, Lars and I, remember that it was the 24th of December at this same time last year. I was 150 degrees south on my North Cape on Spitsbergen. Also I was on a hunting trip, and had killed a polar bear, which was very lucky that day. Then we had a feast. Now there were two graves outside the house, which we in the interest of that day, Nansen and I, dug in the earth. Our first Easter lightly washed the graves with snow and covered them with the dead white. I climbed up the side of the mountain, and looked down on the graves. Then I went down to the house and got some large blocks of stone, threw it down the mountain side and covered the graves. I then made a glimpse of the Arctic Ocean looking like a flat, grey desert. Then I went down to the house and thought of all the brave men I had met and had to say good bye to, and had to wrest from the North Pole it's secrets. Then I thought of Nansen. Nansen I then would be able a new hero. And just opposite to it, to the left, I thought of Peary, the first man. Down there is in connecting with the Arctic Ocean, Smith Sound, Kane Basin, Kane Sea, Robeson Channel, Nansen climbed in repairing sills, and Peary. These constituted my first Arctic Ocean. Then I thought of Cook, and Nansen was very complimentary, and Nansen was very complimentary, and Nansen was very complimentary

Board Of Trade To Have A Smoker

At an informal meeting of the Board of Trade on Monday evening, it was decided to close the door for the Board by having a smoker on Monday evening, November 30th, at which the officers for the next year will be elected.

Refreshments will be served at this social event, and the old time clay pipes and tobacco will be distributed for the occasion. A couple of good speakers will be on hand to give the members some information about affairs in general and some other matters will be taken up of interest to the members. The committee in charge are President Willis, Chas. Bamford and Horace Sharpe, and a fee of fifty cents will be charged or one dollar and a quarter, the latter to include dues for 1926. This will be an interesting event, and it is expected that all the 150 members will take tickets and get their membership cards for next year. Several prominent men from out of town members are expected to attend, and there will be a number of visitors.

NO COARSE GRAIN FROM PEACE RIVER

Seeding to Include Only Variety Produced in Cabinet Gift

CALGARY, Nov. 10.—The Alberta wheat pool will not operate a pool for coarse grains this year, it was decided at the board of directors of the wheat pool held in Calgary Saturday. It was decided that the number of contracts received in response to the inquiry sent out by the board regarding the desire of Alberta farmers to coarse grain pool was not sufficient to warrant the operation of such a pool for the present season at least. Accordingly all contracts signed by those wishing to have a coarse grain pool have been declared null and void by the board's decision will be sent to every farmer who signed a contract under the provisions terms of the proposed pool.

U. F. A. Notes

A splendid meeting of the U. F. W. A. was held at Mrs. Bickle's home on Saturday, November 7th. A goodly number of visitors were present also most of the members. After the social business Mrs. Gamble gave a paper on 'Books.' This paper was well prepared and much enjoyed.

A little reading on Thanksgiving was given by Mrs. Sis.

Arrangements were made to serve at the District Provincial political Convention to be held in Bentley at an early date.

Our regular meeting will be held at Mrs. Bickle instead of Mrs. Johnson on account of the different arrangements. November 21st. at 2.30 sharp. All Committees bring Reports.

Mrs. Bickle, Sec.

MANY USE PHONE SERVICE

Since the inauguration of the continent-wide telephone service from Atlantic, the commercial end of the new service has developed rapidly, and many calls are now being put through every week for points as far east as New York and Montreal. The bulk of the traffic is however for points on the Pacific Coast, and in the western and Middle States.

Fenn News

The big event of this past week was the dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Legge at their home on Friday night, November 13th. A big crowd turned up and music was provided by Mr. E. Crawford's radio (an old time dance program from Calgary.) after which a volunteer orchestra supplied more up-to-date tunes for the rest of the evening. Everyone had a splendid time and we are indebted to Mr and Mrs. Legge for starting the ball rolling in the way of winter festivities.

Next Saturday night, November 21, a party will be held at the home of Mrs. Longson at which the members of Fern Community are going to show-er the newly married pair, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Jones. Everyone is asked to make a special effort to turn up with their gift and an enjoyable time will be spent entertaining the young couple and wishing them God-speed.

The following Friday we hope to hold a Chicken Supper at Jempes Schoolhouse, December 4. Adults will be charged 50 cents each and children under 14 will be charged 25 cents each. A splendid feast will be provided and a program of music to entertain the guests. Come early and stay late. Funds to be used by the U. F. W. A. to send a delegate to the next Convention.

The next meeting of the U. F. W. A. and the U. F. A. will be held at the home of Mrs. Bob Wallace on Wednesday afternoon, December 9. This meeting is important as officers will be elected for the forthcoming year. A big membership is desired for 1926, so make an effort to be present and bring a prospective member with you. The U. F. A. fills a big position in the lives of country people, every one should form a social point of view.

Mrs. Ben Wallace was a week-end visitor in Stettler.

Mrs. E. Assmer, Miss Bess Legg and Miss Ruby Legg were Penn visitors for the dance.

Miss Wilson of Stettler spent the week-end with Miss Ruby Craighead.

At Penn presently known. We shall soon have quite a number of Fords.

The new provincial poultry pool is now in operation. At present the amount consigned to the pool is to be marketed through the provincial government marketing service, which service will be continued as it the past between Edmonton and the provincial department of agriculture, and will be prepared to market any products consigned to it.

Welsh Male Singers Here December 2

Very great interest will be taken in the announcement that the Bluebird Welsh Male Singers will come to Stettler on the night of December 2nd, under the auspices of the United Church Choir. Tonight Saturday Night's musical event concerning us the Bluebird Welsh Male Singers, and that the mellow resonant quality of the ensemble and especially the wonderful sweet and appealing quality of the high tenor filled every listener with admiration. . . . The singing and dynamics of the chorus and its well matured parts of both could but fail to win critical admiration—and some of the soloists are of rare distinction not only in quality but in art of voice production.

The criticism of Mr. Charlesworth is repeated by many other competent musical people, and there is no doubt but the visit of these distinguished singers from a land noted for its wealth of music will be eagerly anticipated. Stettler is one of the few places outside of the cities to which the chorus have consented to come, on this, their third American and Canadian tour

Born—To Mr. and Mr. Walter Dornfield on Thursday, November 12, a son.

A Trail Rangers Group of the t. E. T. program of Alberta is fast becoming organized. Already six meetings have been held, the Wetaskiwin group of Jones our Great Father and Guide, who, when a boy, grew in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man. Luke 2:52. Mr. Beaver, who will be glad to know of other boys between 12 and 14 years of age who would like to come and join the Trail Rangers.

We are delighted indeed to see our Basketball sidelines return from the Bowden Inspectorial Tournament last week returning with the two Shield trophies. We wish them every success in their endeavors to lend in every activity.

Let us not forget the dates of the Scientific Mental Ladies' Aid Bazaar, Supper and Concert in Stettler, December 17th and Red dillow, L. A. S. on Saturday, November 28th, when to bidding its Bazaar and Afternoon Tea, beginning at 3 p. m. You may find your Xmas gifts at these places.

Messrs. H. A. Ford and W. E. Portwine are taking at the Rural Municipality convention which is being held in Edmonton next week.

What might have been a serious fire early Monday morning at the High school was narrowly averted. The fire originated in the basement through an unknown cause. The janitor first detected it and tried to extinguish it alone, finding it impossible he gave the alarm to the fire hall and ran to the seat his. Soon, an early morning brigade set to work and the fire put out before any damage was done.

The United Church Campaign is now on, the whole church is united and rolled to rally at this time in order to reaching its spiritual and financial objectives. We are very fortunate in having Rev. and Mrs. Captain Brengle, F. B. C. S., returned missionary from China who will preach in the United Church on Sunday, December 7th. It is to be hoped that an overflowing congregation will greet and welcome this couple on a Canadian missionary.

The services on the evening Sabbath will be held at Bonne Vista, Red Willow and the Union Church at the regular hours of divine worship. Everybody is cordially invited to attend these meetings.

Mr. R. W. Kerner is paying a business visit in Edmonton this week.

The Second Meeting of the Quarterly Official Board will be held at the Union Church on Tuesday evening, November 24th, it is to be hoped that every Official Board will be held at the present no regular business is to be transacted.

Hockey Meeting

A meeting to organize the Hockey Club for the season of 1925-26 was held in the Town Hall on Thursday evening, November 12th. The attendance at the meeting was large and it is very encouraging to the hockey enthusiasts if the town. There are a number of hockey players in town and with the nucleus of the old team still intact, there should be ample material for a senior and junior team for the coming winter season.

It was therefore decided to put the provincial senate of association, so as to get into the provincial play-off at the end of the season.

The following officers were then elected:—Honorable President, A. G. Fox, President, Dr Kennedy; Vice-President, Walton Olive, Secretary, Penny Griffith; Manager, F. C. Barnett; Trainer, J. C. McIntosh, Executive, F. C. Barnett, Cess Bamford, Cliff Wilkinson.

The senior hockey will take a big part in the winter sports and a number of good games are expected this season.

WEDDINGS

PANTER—LEACH

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Monday, October 26th, 1925, at the home of Mr. Ray Valley, when Mr. T. W. Panter, of Ray Valley was united in marriage to Miss Ethel Kathleen Louise Leach, of Dundonet, Saskatchewan, By Rev. J. T. Gordon. Miss Edna Jackson of Stettler, acted as bridesmaid, and Mr Ralph Humphreys, of Ray Valley, supported the groom, both of whom were presented with gifts by the bridal couple. The bride's gift to the groom was a beautiful wrist watch, and he was the recipient of a fountain pen from the bride

Mr and Mrs. Panter spent a short honeymoon in Calgary, and have now taken up their residence in Ray Valley The hearty congratulations of many friends are extended to the happy couple.

ROSS—MARRIOTT

A wedding of local interest took place at Innisfail, on Wednesday, October 21st, when Pte. H. E. Scallon, principal clerk of the Epiphany Mission, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ross, and Miss Louise Marriott, both of Hatchburn, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at St. Mark's, Mr. Scallon's first charge in Canada, by Rev. T. H. Hebert, incumbent of St. George's, Stettler, with Rev Orton, rector of St. Mark's, assistant. At the conclusion of the holy communion which immediately followed the wedding service, the bride of the parish was the guest. The altar was beautifully decorated with roses, the gift of Mrs Cox; they were taken immediately after the service to the hospital, where they were presented to Mrs. Orton, wife of the rector, who happened to be very ill at the time.

H. Scallon is well known throughout this district. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brand Scallon, of Lower Malvern, Worcestershire, late of Great Malvern. Having been assistant pastor and secretary of the large college in that town for two years, he came to Canada in 1912, his first charge being that of St. Mark's, Innisfail, but in 1913 he took up residence at Hatchburn, where he has held the position of priest-in-charge of the Epiphany Mission. Originally known as Gough Lake Mission. Miss Marriott is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Marriott, late of Smilford, Leicestershire, England. She came to Canada in 1907 to assist in the work of the Epiphany Mission. The bride was given away by Miss R. E. Cox, secretary of the Sunday School by Dean, for the diocese of Calgary, while Mr Dyson, an old time friend and parishioner of the groom, acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Scallon returned home on Saturday of last week. They will take up residence at Hatchburn. They are receiving congratulations of a host of friends, not a few of whom reside in Stettler.—Home Herald.

Friends in Big Valley and Stettler districts will join in felicitations to Mr. and Mrs. Scallon.

Health

To promote a well-nurtured and healthy race and temperance organizations.

SHORT TERM IS PART ADOPTED AT THE WORLDS CONVENTION

Possible

We, the members of the World's Women Christian Temperance Union assembled in our Twelfth Convention, realize increasingly as the growth of the movement throughout the world, and in all victories won over the baneful alcohol trade. We recognize that the liquor traffic is upheld chiefly by means of its political influence of power. In the love of God and humanity, without distinction of race, color or creed, we unite in this World Organization for the purpose of studying the question of the liquor traffic and of the political methods employed by those dedicated to its support, in order to arouse the body of conscience and the moral sense of the people and to the love of every soul, the practical principles of Christ, and the power of Christian prayer.

We believe that the liquor traffic is the greatest enemy of home, of the child, of the race, of government and of the Church of God, and that it is the duty of every Christian to oppose it by every means in his power.

We recognize that the liquor traffic is the chief cause of poverty, of crime, of insanity, of vice, of disease, of industrial waste, of the social evil, of the white slave traffic, of the violation of the Sabbath, of the desecration of the home, of the slums, of the prisons, of the asylums, of the hospitals, of the gambling evil, of the political corruption, of the graft, of the waste of the world's resources, of the destruction of the world's wealth, of the poverty of nations, of the poverty of individuals, of the poverty of communities, of the poverty of the world, of the poverty of the Church, of the poverty of the Kingdom of God, of the poverty of the Christian Union, is realized in the vast living out of the Gospel of the Golden Rule of Christ.

We support the organization made by the General Opium Conference of the League of Nations, that a commission be appointed to study the problems connected with the limitation of opium production and the suppression of the illicit traffic.

We confirm belief in a single high moral standard for men and women, pledge ourselves to support a consistent, live purity program for the elimination of the social evil, to secure the strict enforcement and enforcement of laws which will promote the moral and physical health of the race.

Law Enforcement

We pledge our supreme effort to aid in the education of the public on the paramount importance of law enforcement and to support officials committed to the strict enforcement of legislation against the liquor traffic.

Citizenship

We stress as an imperative duty of the extension of women for the privilege of citizenship. We pledge ourselves to seek to secure in homes and schools such training in the fundamentals of citizenship that young people will realize the importance of all government and their personal relation to it. We urge women to initiate and support acts that will protect innocent and children in the home and in industry and to guarantee by election to office of men and women who champion the principles of purity, political equality and the abolition of the liquor traffic.

Peace

We believe that all nations should substitute themselves permanently for the settlement of international disputes by means other than war

GAY DEBT

Because of brevity, ordinary slang is often the soul of wit. Get Hep—is to the point. Not long ago the Ottawa W. C. T. U. passed a resolution of indignation. Result: The Ottawa Electric Railway removes 4.6 feet above at the expense of the advertising contracts. GET BUSY

BATTING ON PROHIBITION

Not long now an American convention will listen to the efforts of Pussyfoot Johnson to the effects of Prohibition in the United States. Recently I was in the company of some few liquor Americans. They were rehearsing the usual arguments "in favor of liquor as nefarious. I interrupted with the query. Are the [illegible] dollars getting over into the American banks? Rather than they do before Prohibition was the law of the country? There was somewhat a pause in unanimous admission that they did. To extinguish the liquor traffic on that extent settles the question for me I said.

If the law manage to have drinking in their families it means that their more prosperous and better citizens. At the foot of the social and financial ladder where the sons of celebrity second. The following under the above title, is an editorial expression of the views of many of the best men throughout the country:

Resolved: That it is necessary in order to bring the Eighteenth Amendment to the people before it has had a chance to prove its worth. We ask that the vote stopping the issue licenses to remain in force for the next year, and that the money now brought before the people be used for the purpose of education [illegible] where other influences have in the past been used to defeat the purpose of the Eighteenth Amendment. We believe that the real enforcement of prohibition rests on the people themselves and that the [illegible] can not be enforced. Let us [illegible] to see to it that the [illegible] is enforced. We believe that this is the only [illegible] to vote on over if put to the test.

DISCOURAGED OF SUCCESS

The glow of life created on The star of Hope fades. Its light is dimmed. We count our success often, By the depth of darkness. No hope of earth divide us. In Christ and Christ alone. And all in His dear Name.

The shelter of Eternal Love. To Him who knoweth best. In Him self-confidence.

In prayer we kneeled down, In weak and helpless mood. The Saviour "Follow Me."

Master, give Thy blessing, And guide us on the way In obedience of service Thy will be done, we pray. Let not Thy kingdom tarry, But hasten on its way.

PROMISES OF THIS TIME

Through playing decks and decks on the steamer Empress of Britain, and by demand on institutional position I seems to have a peculiar fascination for men of letters. A friend who spent a week with Alfred de Musset on the British coast complained that the poet spent almost the whole time trying to Mr. Lewis Hind tells of a whole afternoon which he and Joseph Conrad and make pebbles skip across the waves. H. G. Wells spent on the beach at Sandgate engrossed in the same pastime.

Britain's Mystery Battleship Launched

The Nelson To All Accounts will Be An Addition to British Navy

In England the battleship Nelson which was launched on September 3, has been called the mystery ship, because the facts sit of her barrage over the armor of her belt, deck, bulkhead and gun positions, her secondary batteries, torpedo tubes and speed have been kept a secret. It is known only that her displacement will be 35,000 tons; her length 702 feet, her beam, 106 feet and her draught 30 feet, and that her main battery will consist of nine 16-inch guns, are more than are carried by our most powerful three ships of the Maryland class. The Nelson is one of the two battleships the other being the Rodney which the Washington Treaty allows Great Britain to build that they may take the place of the King George, Ajax, Centurion and Thunderer of 1927. The day are Jutlandor navy contains the most formidable battleships, the Hood and Rodney. They are superior to our three Maryland in being faster by two knots an hour, 25 to 27. That is their most marked advantage. They are larger by 6,000 feet, but at only the same beam. The Japanese ships are furnished with extra torpedo tubes, the Americans with two. There are the same batteries, eight sixteen inch guns. In secondary batteries the Japanese seem to have advantage in twenty 5.5-inch guns compared with twelve 5 inch guns for the American ships. This advantage does not seem to be offset by eight 5-inch guns on the American ships. An open 5 inch gun might double a sea-faith the two Helmets, a high the British Admiralty will have in commission in 1937. It may be considered more powerful than the best of Japan and of the United States.—Letter in New York Telegram.

WHAT HAPPENS ALMOST CONFIRMED

Almost one hundred per cent. of the boys who in the report last year of Alberta's Child Welfare Commission were found to be in trouble with the law, were found to be living in homes where there is a very unsatisfactory one. The child of home has been torn by death, divorce or some cause, 10 less to the care, and the consequence of neglect is unfortunately all too frequently the beginning of a career of crime. Such is the report of Mr. Justice Ewing, and he should know, for he is a Juv. dge.

Choice light calves $@3.50; medium $2.50@3.00; heavy calves $@2.50; stock heifers $@2.50; stock cows $@2.25.

BEEF.—The good quality stock is moving fairly freely, but the heavy receipts contain a considerable number of poor stuff which is a drag to the trade. Choice heavy steers $@3.50; good $3.00@3.25; good $4.25@4.75; medium $3.50@4.00; canners $2.50@3.00; Choice bulls $2.75@3.25; bologna bulls $2.25@2.50. Choice cows $2.50@3.00; choice heifers $3.50@4.00; stock cows $@2.50; stock calves $@3.00.

FEEDERS and STOCKERS.—Real top feeders are scarce and are selling around $3 with others graded down from $3@ 2.50; medium $2.50@3.00; common $2.00@2.50; stockers $2.50@3.00; choice yearlings $3.00@3.50; stock cows $2.25@2.75; stock heifers $2.50@3.00; stock calves $2.50@3.00; common $2.00@2.50; canners $1.50@2.00; Choice bulls $2.50@3.00; good $2.25@2.50; medium $2.00@2.25; common $1.75@2.00; canners $1.50@1.75.

SHEEP.—Prices at Winnipeg up and down A little each day and it does not look as if wheat will go much higher than it is now, 10 less to the acre, and the consequence of empty is satisfactory all round. Let's organize a Save-Stettler-Wheat Club! Let's organize

HOGS.—Prices at both Calgary and Edmonton remained this week the former quoting $3.75 today (Thursday) while the latter prices ranged from $3.50@3.65 for light steers with 10 per cent. premium for heavy.

SHEEP

Receipts are heavy at Calgary but prices are unchanged. Edmonton quotes $3.50@3.65.

GRAIN

Prices at Winnipeg up and down A little each day and it does not look as if wheat will go much higher than it is now, 10 less to the acre, and the consequence of empty is satisfactory all round. Let's organize a Save-Stettler-Wheat Club! Let's organize

BUTTER—CHEESE—EGGS

CREAM.—Prices are higher and quality is reported as being show; prices quoted at Calgary are as follows: No. 1 cream delivered at Calgary 21c; No. 2 delivered at Calgary 20c; No. 1 cream delivered at country points 20c; No. 2 delivered at country points 19c.

CREAMERY BUTTER.—Demand is active for all kinds of creamery butter. Fresh creamery prices are as follows: No. 1 prints 22c; No. 1 bulk 20c; No. 2 prints 20c; No. 2 bulk 18c.

POULTRY—Live

HOGS.—Receipts are very light and most of the cheaper stocks are supplying the demand, although the better classes still be all cleaned up by about the 15th of December. B. C. shipments are on local market and are attempting to start trading with local shippers. Prices are: Selects $3.75; packers' over Thanksgiving holiday trade is over, but shows no sign of letting up and still steady until Christmas. Prices are related to hold ready to their turkeys and geese for a while yet.

HAY

Prices have been raised for upland hay delivered at the Calgary market and quotations are now at $16@18 per ton. Feed oats and green feed are holding steady on light supply. Some shipments of hay have been made out from the southern part of the province to points east and west of Alberta but the available quantity is limited.

POTATOES

Local dealers have jumped their prices to $20@22 per ton in an effort to secure some deliveries but the growers are holding back since reports have circulated that the United States is short and buying from Canada.

HIDES

Market is very quiet; cowhides .7c, still weak, no change has been made in quotations.

FURS

Handling of raw furs is slow for receipts have not started to move yet. Manufacturing business active.

WOOL

Local dealers are still quoting the market at 16c, 1 c. h. Calgary for the best grades. Eastern markets firm, but Alberta sheepmen who not different between the price offered them here and the one in the winter must not forget to reckon in the duty and freight charges.

THE ORPHAN SISTERS

The two girls were still just a little interested in each other's presence. They have been brought through the adobe of your nineteen years in the world, and you are perfectly safe with a relative in the world, and then to be confronted with someone they had lived was your own twin sister, is almost a little hard to believe. Jessie and Susan, at first had a great deal to talk about—their busy accumulations of their mother, their lives during the years of separation, and their present friends, and plans for the future. The twins very strong, very attractive for a month or two—though they were rather the very kind of girls either, the novelty of the situation had worn off and they discovered that they had little or nothing in common.

Helen had been brought up by a rich, overbearing, indulgent old lady, Mrs. McCary. As a result, the girl was very well educated, very refined, at ease very well refined and impressive. McCary had given Helen everything she could possibly want—wonderful clothes, trips abroad, and a brilliant society life. Everyone liked Helen—she was considerate of her self, but she was that attracted one; but she was not at all spoiled. She was [illegible] and she was [illegible] and she was [illegible] and she

"The Fool" Coming To Stettler Theatre

Daniel Gilchrist, the poor curate of a fashionable New York Church, constantly asks himself: "What would happen if a man tried to live his life as Christ would have lived it?" He earns the title 'The Fool' because he gives away his private fortune and eventually his pseudo religious principles in pseudo regard materials.

Gilchrist announces his Christmas sermon will deal with Capital. The sermon, hearty-desire fetter cause him not to attend the men of money, Dener's reply is to arrange a service that the sincerest service-wisdom would. The Gilchrist followers, the banker James Care Jewett, hands him next his sure and permits herself to be dragged into a loveless marriage with Jerry' Goodfield, the rum son of the enormously rich senator warden.

Gilchrist thereafter makes his home in his little mission near the Overcoat Hall. The housekeeper's waterfront, called "Overcoat Hall" because the 'down-and-outs' who go there leave with Gilchrist's overcoat over their thin rags.

Goodfield sends Gilchrist to his cabins as stoker confidante. Jenny betrays Joe Hennar a drunken brute of a coal checker and turns his wife to New York. Hennar suspect Gilchrist. At a party, scene in Goodfield's mansion, Gilchrist entitlement plan is turned down. He returns to Hennar has moved to New York to pursue his wife and get Gilchrist. He lands a rock in an attack on the minister. Gilchrist is being savagely beaten when Mary Margaret, who looks on through horror stricken eyes, forgets her crutches and makes her way to his side. This miracle saves all present and they fall back.

Jerry Goodfield accuses Clara of stolen. He returns to being Gilchrist. He works himself into a frenzy that he tells preparent. Clara flees to Gilchrist and offers herself to him, but he puts aside the temptation and makes her return to her stricken husband.

Another Christmas comes to Overcoat Hall to find Gilchrist happy in the sublimity of victory, gazing over the myriad of twinkling lights of Manhattan with Wife Mary Margaret —now wholly cured—standing at his side.

"BAREE, SON OF KAZAN"

By "James Oliver Curwood" A Stirring Drama of the Snow Lands

Synopsis

Jan Carvel kills the murderer of his father and escapes to the Canadian woods. He reaches Fort Le Bois where Rush McTaggart is the company factor. The Indians know McTaggart as Nagoo Wabooe—The man devil. McTaggart has inflicted his evil attentions on Marie, the daughter of Pierre, a trapper. Carvel helps the girl to escape from the factor and incurs his lasting enmity. Marie has the protection in Baree, her faithful dog. McTaggart pursues the girl to their cabin, traps the dog and has Marie at his mercy. Jim rebukes Baree which McTaggart has designated as an outlaw because of his half-wild animal. Pierre returns to the cabin and in a fight to save his daughter is killed by the factor. Marie flees to the snow covered woods and the factor burns the cabin to hide his crime. McTaggart tells the natives that Carvel killed Pierre and made off with Marie. The posse pursues Carvel and McTaggart takes the girl and tries to escape across the icebound river. Baree, the dog, comes to the rescue, attacks McTaggart and Carvel rescues Marie.

THE NAVY LEAGUE OF ALBERTA

To Rev. Fred Coates, of the Navy League of Alberta who has been in Stettler taking up subscriptions to the Sailor Magazine and donations to the Navy League, wishes to thank the citizens of Stettler for their very kind assistance and co-operation. The sum of Sixty (60) Dollars has been subscribed to the Navy League by the people in S' ler.

The Navy League of Canada is relieving the widows and orphans of one man of the Marcantile Marine of Canada who were killed in the Great War.

The Alberta Division of the Navy League of Canada is required to raise $6,000.00 as its quota to the Annual Budget, and the whole amount to be raised in Canada is $250,000.00

Alberta has raised about $4,000.00 of its allotment and is trying to raise the balance by the end of the year

Erskine News

Quite a number of Conservatives and others from Erskine attended the Conservative Convention held in Stettler last Friday afternoon. The Erskine voters were also well represented at the evening political meeting held in the I. O. O. F. Hall which was addressed by A. A. McGillivray, K. C. Conservative leader. President Edwards occupied the chair and in a few compact terse phrases introduced the first Speaker who commenced operations in a commercial capacity this way—"I am not a politician but a business man" and went right on to show how the country was governed by a large assembly of politicians. Immediately following the meeting a dance was held at the Corbett Hall which was attended by an enthusiastic crowd whose only cards issued the invitations to the dance. Everybody present knew each other, and where the various political views of the different parties differed was conveniently forgotten. Everybody danced and chatted to their heart's content. Owing to the fact that the Warwick delegation have recently joined the Carlow Club, an early adjournment was necessary. The was much to the regret of all present.

Miss Fin. Cameron of Lacombe, visited Miss Pearl Pare, last week-end.

George Welsh left for Calgary last Sunday evening where a short visit will be spent prior to leaving for Woodstock.

The Local Mayor of Erskie was a visitor to Stettler last week. His Worship is feeling very well indeed despite the rough and tumble rather experienced this fall, and he would feel better still, if reasonable local atmosphere was created without the necessity of travelling such a long distance. As remarked near the wicket down his Worship's face, as he deplored the fact of so much sunspots in the wheat; when we are supposed to be living in a dry country, and charged the promoter of our present Marathon social system, as being from Colombia.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Pearse and son Lionel were Stettler visitors last week.

Conservatives Held Convention Last Friday Afternoon

Mr. Blair Chosen as Candidate.

The Conservative convention to choose a candidate for the provincial election was held in the Town Hall on Friday afternoon, November 13th, and there was fair attendance of delegates. The convention was opened at 3 o'clock with R. H. Moore in the chair, and Mr. A. J. McKillop, the Conservative organizer, was present to give a brief address on organization matters. Mr. McKillop gave a summary of the movements already made and stated that a candidate would be placed in each riding of the province.

Nominations took place immediately after the address, and the following names were put before the meeting: Mr. Wilson, Gadsby, Dr. McNaughton of Camrose; H. A. Blair of Stettler and A. L. Fenton of Big Valley.

Each of the above named addressed the convention on the first two withdrawing in business reasons. Mr. Blair and Mr. Fenton both accepted, and pledged support to the candidate selected by the delegates. The convention was an open one and the chairman a moment that all could vote who could take a neutral pledge that they would support the Conservative candidate. An announcement of each of the first. Blair was the unanimous choice. Mr. Blair is well known here, having held the position of Mayor of Stettler and president of the Board of Trade.

Immediately after the nomination the election of officers took place with the following results: Hon. Geo. S. McGillivray, President; Dr. Stephen Van-Pree, Dr. Stephen; Secretary, L. H. King; Executive—Thos. Culverwell, A. L. Stewart, Gregory Gordon, Stettler; Albert Hunt, Gadsby; Stettler; A. L. Westcott, Big Valley; Robert Ross, Rumsey, G. Pres., Rumsey.

The Convention adjourned at 5 p.m. in the evening a ... was held in the Stettler Town Hall, at which the candidate and Mr. McGillivray were present and gave addresses.

Mr. McGillivray's address covered much the same ground as he has followed since becoming leader and will be given in detail in next issue. He made a good impression with the audience, and has developed as a speaker since his residence in town.

Corn Belt Moves Further North

The corn belt was definitely established 200 miles further north on Wednesday, when what is destined to be known as the Alberta Provincial Corn Growers' Association held its first convention—vote were there in Lethbridge with more than 2,000 cans of cold-pack corn on exhibit, running from the oil cultivated substances covering territory from Manitoba Hat to Lethbridge, north to Carmangay and to Bassano and south to the Montana border.

Mr. Bentley has too backing of the show which was enormously successful, brought the corn belt definitely to Alberta, but it has also demonstrated the fact that as the feeding of stock from now on is to a great extent to the ... of the producers that southern Alberta, as well as Southern Alberta. It is significant that this section of Alberta, through cultivation and accordingly hopeful, swept the boards of prizes at the corn show. Hon. Geo. Bentley addressing the ... Wednesday afternoon, emphasized the hope that by for this economy in the raising of corn, and pointed to the example of Kansas which has his popular and dependable these times, until finally practically everything was found to a great extent to be in the form of corn.

The first attempt to grow corn in Alberta was made at Bassano, a crop north of Medicine Hat. This was five years ago, when the department of agriculture put seed for farmers in that district and encouraged them to try it out. At Wednesday's corn show Bassano exhibitors were there and ... Eh k Reve, manager of the Bassano Board of Trade for 5 years, was a big factor in the success of the corn show, and the photos were shown directly to the territory known as the Bow belt, which is under the direct supervision of Jas. Murray of the department of agriculture and who is responsible for inducing many of the farmers to get into corn growing.

Provincial Convention

Following the show a provincial corn growers association was organized, with the following officers elected: A. Bentley, president; Dr. Stephen Van-Pree, Dr. Stephen; Secretary, L. H. King; Executive—Thos. Culverwell, A. L. Stewart, Gregory Gordon, Stettler; Albert Hunt, Gadsby; Stettler; A. L. Westcott, Big Valley; Robert Ross, Rumsey, G. Pres., Rumsey.

The Convention adjourned at 5 p.m. in the evening a ... was held in the Stettler Town Hall, at which the candidate and Mr. McGillivray were present and gave addresses.

Mr. McGillivray's address covered much the same ground as he has followed since becoming leader and will be given in detail in next issue. He made a good impression with the audience, and has developed as a speaker since his residence in town.

The Meaning Of Depreciation

(By Steven Greer)

(President Greer College of Automotive Engineering, Chicago.)

The subscriber had just finished describing the system in use at his shop and the part he intended purchasing—"Now, Mr. HAMILTON, about time?" he completed. "Nearly everybody replied the lady. "though you have not told me about when it comes to depreciation and to an.

Motor car depreciation is a thing that is subject to infection and affects a large number of automobile. Such has been the case since the first year's depreciation is 40 per cent, the second year, 20 per cent, the third year, 15 per cent, the fourth year, 10 per cent, and the fifth year, 5 per cent.

For instance: A car better at Stettler would at the end of the first year be worth about $600; at the end of the second year, $360; at the end of the third year, $216. Here the curve begins to flatten out, for the fourth year the car would be worth $129.60, and the fifth year $77.76. If used and driven for the sixth year, the car would be worth $69.98 and at the end of the seventh year, $62.98. This depreciation holds at the end of the eighth year, or the third or next, but the car would be worth $56.68 at the end of the ninth year, $51.01 at the end of the tenth year, and $45.91 at the end of the eleventh year. This depreciation is the point at which repairs and replacements are fast assuming so great that the cost per mile is far beyond the car's standard.

To have often heard a man say: I wish my car would last forever, I would not have to bother with replacements." But that man, whether he knows it or not, is paying as high as thirty cents a mile to run his car.

Obituary

Charles L. Wilbur

Charles L. Wilbur, son of Alexander and Phoebe Wilbur, was born in the old st his home in Eugene, Oregon, state of New York, July 12, 1850, and died Dec. 10th, 1927, at Stettler, after some four months and six days. His father was one of the early settlers in Strawberry Point, coming here with his family in 1856, and was a conspicuous pioneer here up to the time of his death in 1876. The son, of his loved ones his remains were consigned on Sunday last to the family plot in the Strawberry Point Cemetery.

Mr. Wilbur is survived by his loved wife, his daughters and their sons, viz: Mrs. E. M. Hall of Alberta, Canada; Mrs. J. F. Sudary, Alberta, Kansas; Mrs. C. C. Schrivings, Kansas City, Missouri; Mrs. Wm. Sillan, Eugene, Oregon; Mrs. B. E. Jones and Mrs. Ida M. Hall, Portland, Oregon, and Messrs. Charles, Clarence and John Wilbur, of Alberta, Canada. Two sons have preceded him in death.

He also leaves surviving him his brother, Dr. Edwin Wilbur of Alberta, Canada, and three sisters; Mrs. C. G. Bush of Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. F. H. Thompson of Lakewood, Florida, and Mrs. A. J. Skinner of Strawberry Point, Iowa, besides that their children and many friends to mourn his departure.

Mr. Wilbur was an energetic business man during all his mature years, being engaged in farming and dealer in horses and live stock. He was a long his fibbed daily with long hours and active efficient service. The early settlers and old-time residents of this community are rapidly crossing the border Line into eternity. He one had a wider acquaintance during his residence in our community than Charles Wilbur. Peace to his ashes."

Full-hearted were his few remarks! Clyde Hobson, Lee Hobson, Robert Wilson.

"The Timber Wolf"
With Bert Jones
THE STORY

The trees murmuring in the wind speak messages of comment to men: to the few women who come to the lumber country the leaves whisper their tender thoughts.

Bruce Standing, lumber of his daring, is known as the Timber Wolf. The owner of Deverell House, Bake Deverll, has run things as he pleased. In the hotel cafe Joe Terry, an old prospector, displays gold nuggets which he dug from a mine. To Terry the interlopers from Ireland, Deverell and Sheriff Tagmart all the old men.

Standing is threatening a case for bringing liquor on his land, on a report of which two of his loggers, bo'sailed, have almost killed a other boy by falling a great tree in it. Deverell's daughter Mary, a student of forestry, rides by in a stage coach. She upbraids Bruce for beating the white boy peddler, and he, still raging, roughly orders her off his place. By way of farewell she slaps him.

Billy Winch, knowing that Standing had stolen Terry, rides to tell Bruce of Joe's imprisonment, blanding from Joe after beating Taggart and then gone to Deverll House. There he interrupts the fond welcome that Deverll is giving his fiancee. After a battle Bruce takes Renee with him forcibly, but not until she has wounded him with Deverll's gun.

Standing attacks Deverll's gang at the mess and proves the cowardice of their leader. At last Renee's growing admiration swings her sympathy and affection to Bruce. He refuses her friendship because he feels that since she stole the map from him, she a Deverll's sort. Renee is about to leave for the East when Bruce leaps into the stage coach. The mourning of the trees have spoken their message to him—of conquest and Renee answers with a message of her own.

"Baree, Son of Kazan"
By "James Oliver Curwood." A Stirring Drama of the Snow Lands

Synopsis

Jim Carvell kills the murderer of his father and escapes to the Canadian wood. He reaches Post Loc Bain where Bank McTaggart is the company factor. The Indians knew McTaggart as Nepee Wellico—the man devil. McTaggart has inflicted his evil influence on Marie, the daughter of Pierre, a trapper. Carvel helps the girl to escape from the factor and insure his lasting amity. Marie has one guardian in Baree, her faithful dog. McTaggart pursues the girl to their cabin, traps the dog and has Marie at his mercy. Jim releases Baree which McTaggart has designated as an outlaw beast and adopts the half-wild animal. Pierre returns to the cabin and in a fight to assist his daughter, is killed by the factor. Marie flees in the snow covered woods and the factor burns the cabin the hide his crime. McTaggart tells the natives that Carvel killed Pierre and made off with Marie. The pursuers surrounded Carvel and McTaggart takes the girl and tries to escape across the icebound river. Baree, the dog, swims to the lastiere, attacks McTaggart and Carvel rescues Marie.

Board Of Trade Meeting, Luncheon

The last meeting of the Board of Trade for the year took place on Monday evening, November 30th, at the Oddfellows' Hall. There was a large attendance, of members, over 60 being present.

President White took the chair a short time after which and called on Mr. Hoff and Miss Bolster to conduct the singing of some community songs. These two performers, who are quite adept at this work, soon had the audience singing and evoked a pleasant and hilarious atmosphere.

Miss Lawson then gave a reading which was much appreciated, and the ladies of the United Church served a delicious supper, consisting of coffee, cake and sandwiches.

After luncheon the president gave a brief how address on the work of the past year with commendation for the next term. A summary of this address will be given at next week's meeting, owing to several of the members not being present.

Mr. R. D. Ballentyne was then elected secretary pro-tem, and a business session followed.

The election of officers took place with the following results:—

President—C. L. White.
Vice-President—J. A. Vanderlooi.
Secretary—R. W. Brown.
Executive Committee—J. W. Olney, H. E. McLeay, Jack Kemp, James McElmo; H. A. Hoar; W. Dunlop and C. S. Webster.

The fee for 1926 was fixed as usual at one dollar, and during the evening about fifty members paid in their fees for next year.

The secretary then read the financial statement for the past year, showing a balance on hand of $67.80. The audit be published in detail by mail in due.

It was decided to hold the first meeting of the next year on the third Monday in January, when a social will be addressed by a speaker from the Department of Agriculture on Field and Farm Competitions.

Interesting speeches on Board of Trade work were given by Messrs. Kemp, Olney, Webster, H. A. Hoar, Jack Kemp, R. Kemp, Dr. Bell and Mr. Gaines, Mary or Tremeiller and Bert Stevens.

Presentation to E. F. Brotherly

At the close of the business meeting of the Board of Trade on Monday evening, Mr. E. F. Brotherly, in behalf of the members of the Board, presented Mr. Brotherly with a leather club bag.

Mr. Brotherly was called to a close at the head of the hall, and the following address was read by Mayor Evans on behalf of the citizens, the clerk the Board of Trade, Dr. Goodlad at the same time presented Mr. Brotherly with a leather club bag.

November 30th, 1925.
To Mr. Ernest F. Brotherly:

The Citizens of the Town of Stettler assembled tonight are here for the purpose of expressing their deep regret at your forthcoming departure from our Town to Edmonton.

Your presence among us for so many years and your direct identification with our progress has made us all regard you as one of our fixed institutions and thus the shock has been severe.

We know you have, in spite of increasing grey hairs enjoyed yourself while among us and have been but a successful business career and we sincerely trust that the enjoyment and success will follow you in your new field of endeavor.

On behalf of the citizens of the town of Stettler we would ask you to accept the accompanying purse as a slight expression of our regard and hope for the future happiness of yourself and Mrs. Brotherly.

On behalf of the Citizens
(Sgd.) R. W. BROWN,
President of the Board of Trade.
(Sgd.) C. S. WEBSTER,
Secretary to the Board.

Mr. Brotherly was taken by surprise by the presentation, but in a few appropriate words he thanked the citizens for their kindness and spoke of regrets in leaving the town, of which he had been a citizen for fifteen years. He had done well here, but wished to see more of the world, and would travel around for a while before settling on another location. He spoke very highly of the town and the citizens of Mrs. B. Pelon.

All members are requested to attend the meeting.

A program will be announced next week.

Doll Contest News

Our first lot of dolls has gone out in the form of votes and election and the next shipment of forty-eight dolls will be in this week, probably Friday or Saturday. Each girl who has nominated her last should bring it in and if she doll with the color of hair and dress that they want in the last yet here we will try it again for her.

There are a number of new girls trying for dolls this week. Hand votes are hopping up and down and we can see beginning to wonder where all the girls come from. In fact we have come to the conclusion that the country is made up of girls.

Gadsby News

(Held Over From Last Week)

Mr. J. Hendrenp who has been away for the past two months on a trip to the old country returned to Gadsby on Tuesday evening for Vancouver, Kenora he will spend a few days at Calgary with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hennessy.

Mr. George Crosby of Rosbyrn who arrived in town Thursday afternoon from the Vermilion district with Rev. R. Hinds horse and buggy, left on the return trip Tuesday afternoon for Rosbyrn.

We are pleased to learn that Mrs. G. McTaggart, sr. is improving in health and is now with her daughter Gadsby.

In addition of congratulations under provocation of Mrs. Martin's chauffeur we have to say read for Miss G. Campbell and a presentation consisting of a beautiful Chinn Tea Service was made.

Miss Martin acknowledged the gift in suitable terms. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by the large party who were present.

Stettler Taxis Boys

On Monday the 16th of November, the Taxis Boys of Stettler met in the Union Church at 7.15 p. m. After the usual business the boys were treated to an excellent talk by Mr Price on the subject of A Aim or Life.

His talk took the form of a story of a colored missionary from Africa, whose name in his was to become in Kwelan, as Stettler is to us. It was a very interesting story, which drew the attention to make a motto for the boys. We have a certain object in a Society, and lessons are given to instruct the boys, so we want to do so.

Our Mayor, Mr Neff, gave us a splendid speech based on Mr Price's talk which the boys now enjoyed very much. The meeting closed about 8.30, and the fellows went home with wonderful ideas concerning the two lectures.

The Taxis boys wish to thank the Stettler business on who so liberally responded to the Financial Campaign for the boys work of Alberta.

Presentation

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held at the home of Mrs. Thos. Lee on Monday evening, November 23rd, to offer our congratulations to Miss Edith Martin upon her approaching marriage to Mr. Hughie McLeod.

The first part of the evening was devoted to the ordinary weekly meeting of the Society of which Miss Martin is a member. Following the various games and amusements were indulged in, and beautiful refreshments were served by the ladies.

In addition of congratulations under provocation of Mrs. Martin's chauffeur we have to say read for Miss G. Campbell and a presentation consisting of a beautiful Chinn Tea Service was made.

Miss Martin acknowledged the gift in suitable terms. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by the large party who were present.

Canada's wheat crop this year produces about 4 bushels of wheat for each man, woman and child in the world.

Canada's exports of furs for the year will amount to almost $20,000,000.

Canada's total trade with the United States for the first 8 months of 1925 was $1,000,000,000.

According to G. F. Tennant, superintendent of the Saskatchewan Branch of the Employment Service of Canada, about 12,000 harvest hands were brought into Saskatchewan and distributed over the province to harvest and thresh the 1925 crop.

A Scotchman, of Regina, ordered two sponger spanned poppies from a shop agent in Liverpool on October 8th. Thirty days later they were delivered to him either a voyager and weighing 2,000 tons, the shipment going on the road of 100 miles a day. This establishment is not for sport.

Contributing a record for Canada of 1,000 pounds of butter fat, 1,057 of the records of all grades were mentioned on the basis of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Western Canada on November 15. The nearest approach to this figure was the 1,000, the highest recorded on October 15, 1924, in the year of the program. The record was then increased.

Reports received at Canadian Pacific Railway headquarters indicate that four more accidents occurred in cases where motorists passed their trains already in the process of crossing levels. This makes the total of accidents of this kind up to thirty for the year. In all four cases the automobiles were damaged while the motorists escaped with minor injuries.

Eighty-seven block horses, valued at about $100,000, shipped in 60 cattle, arrived at Montreal last week from Buffalo. Twenty-five of the animals were prize-winners at the Buffalo Exhibition which has closed last week, and were on consignment to the Montreal Horseshow Pen Branch at Timmins, Ontario.

Famed Blue Grass Hills of Kentucky, make a Wonderful setting for this love thrilling Race Horse story.

Two Big Races by Real Horses.

Synopsis

The story unfolds in narrative form. It is told by the horse herself, while she is being raced, and is within the grasp of Victory, stumbles and falls. She bears the defeat heavily. Having become lame from the fall, she is sold with the other horses by her owner, a proud Southerner, and finally falls into the hands of Two Italians, who use her on an exposure wagon.

Her colt finally upholds family traditions, comes out victor in a race with forty in one against her.

There is considerable Comedy caused by M. J. Flavell McDonald, a fine actor. The whole cast under Jack Pratt's direction do wonderful work.

Zenith News

The Zenith W. I. held a [illegible] banner in the big Community Social on Friday, November 27th. They had solicited and contributed liberally from Mrs. Burdett's Kitchen in China, whom she has been since the beginning of the century. The work was very successful and the ladies realized over fourteen. The money from to help educate Chinese girls for physicians, a work much needed when we consider the thousands of children annually sold in the Orient.

On the following evening the Community Social was held in the hall to Rev. E. McDonald who is leaving for Pennsylvania. The hall was tastefully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers, with potted flowers for the ladies of the church, with potted flowers and other "good things" loaded on to a basketful of which [illegible] Mrs. Hall was loaded with the [illegible] of the hall, and many of the [illegible] were also there. A pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation to Mr. McDonald by the ladies, while the gentlemen presented the pastor with a box containing an over-shoe, gold pen and pencil. A good program was also provided by local talent.

Doll Contest News

The shipment of 60 dolls is now on hand and the drawers of the dolls this year are much advanced. In fact one of the girls who won a doll last year is anxious to borrow this year's complement that she can make a dress of the same kind. They are the nicest dolls we have ever had.

Some of those who have won their dolls are Gladys Baldwin, Stettler; Mary Grisdell, living east of Stettler; Winnie Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Richards, Penn; Calderwood, McCarthy of the Elite Studio, Stettler; Yeomans of 3 Miller, Editor of Stettler; daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom. Heath, and Madeline Chapman daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Chapman of Botha.

Mrs. Rudenacht has some girls in her district for dolls, and does not know how many yet.

Lilian Harrison of Botha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Harrison, has also completed her list, and will be in for her doll this week.

We have also heard from Catherine Drennan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Drennan of Gadsby, who is well on her way with her list.

Emma Johey, Annie Armstrong, Alice Johnson, Elsie Herrick, Mildred Scott, Hazel Longshore, Lois Hewson, Dorothy McGhan, Merle Todd, Jean Herb, Mary M Carkindale and Phyllis Kasula have all reported subscriptions to the Independent office this week, and there are a number of girls who have also made goals, but are keeping them until their list is complete. All names of new subscribers should be sent in at once so that they can get the paper

Fenn News

The big event of last week here was of course, the Chicken Supper, which was held in the hall on Friday night and was a great success.

A splendid supper was served to all who enjoyed the splendid "eats" that the ladies had provided and supper was over from 7:30 till close to 11 o'clock. Clarinet, piano and [illegible] provided the best portion of the [illegible] and many were the delectable side dishes that completed a sumptuous meal for the hungry guests. There is no doubt but every woman knows how to put up an appetizing supper when they set their minds to it, and such a meal as was enjoyed at Fenn on Wednesday would have been hard to duplicate anywhere.

The evening finished with a program of music and [illegible] Mrs. H. Lockwood and Miss May Hick gave an amusing duette impersonation and the latter played "A Little Melody," was very creditably rendered by Mrs. C. Hanna, Rose I. Lord, Mrs. E. Legg, Miss Edna Crawford, Mrs. Lockwood and Mr. I. Crawford.

Mrs. Foley sang very nicely, and Mr. D. Walker and Mr. J. C. Campbell gave a few selections. Mrs. Woods of Stettler gave a short speech [illegible]

A sum of $40 was realized and it is to be reported that the U. F. W. A. [illegible] in order to send a delegate to the forthcoming Convention at Calgary.

Mrs. Scrogge is a patient at her home on Friday, December 11th.

We are now looking forward to the school children' Concert, date of which will be announced shortly.

Mrs. Legg of Stettler was a visitor in Fenn for the concert, accompanied by Mrs. Woods.

We are sorry to hear that Lucy McCready is on the sick list and trust that she will soon be convalescent. Mrs. McCready is nursing a case of the little girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Webber have rented one their new homes at Fenn. Let us hope that this is the beginning of a settlement in this district. We [illegible] are also building a house [illegible] Mr. Webber is a carpenter by trade.

Mrs. F. Chalmers is also on the sick list and has been confined to bed for [illegible]

Mrs. R. Rudde and Son wish to thank all those that so kindly assisted them in her and husband's illness.

Just becoming a [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Regular Meeting Of Stettler School Board

Minutes of regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Stettler School district, No. 1476, held in the Town Office, on Thursday, December 3rd, 1925, at 8 p. m.

Present:- Chairman Aamgor, Trustees Cunningham and Hughes.

Minutes of last regular meeting confirmed.

The Gadsby Women's Institute

The regular monthly meeting of the Gadsby Women's Institute was held in the rest room on Saturday afternoon, December 5th and the chief item of business was the annual election of officers. Mrs. Bowley, having filled the presidential chair for two years felt that it was time to relinquish the position. Mrs. Hotchkiss, the secretary, also tendered her resignation and both these ladies are very fully accepted, as they have worked hard to make the Institute a success, and have proved both popular and efficient.

The new officers elected were:

President:- Mrs. E. Parker.

1st. Vice-President—Mrs. J. Brady.

2nd Vice Pres.- Mrs. T. Crowley.

Secretary—Treas.- Mrs. E. Blair.

Directors—

Mrs. E. Kruger.

Mrs. A. Anderson.

Mrs. Proctorow

Mrs. Hodnett.

The yearly report was read by Mrs. Hotchkiss who summed the activities of the Institute for the past year, chief of which were gifts to the sick in the community, Red Cross work, and buying curtains for the stage.

The total amount of money taken in during the year was $254.00, and the balance now on hand was $65.75.

Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Todd served refreshments.

Gadsby News

(Held over from last week)

Mr. D. Drennan returned from Edmonton on Saturday.

A branch found at the Hall on Saturday, and is now in the possession. The owner may receive same by calling.

The Ladies' Aid are having a Bazaar at the Hall on the afternoon of Saturday December 12th. There will be a sale of goods, fancy work, home cooking and produce; a tea served for the ladies, and a tea served during the afternoon. Donations of goods, fancy work, home cooking and produce will be gratefully received. The proceeds will be applied on the Church debt.

The death of Mrs. A. Mitchell, on Wednesday, December 2nd, came as a shock to the whole community. Mrs. Mitchell was taken ill only a few days before her death, and was thought to be quite well enough to be left alone on the Monday afternoon, when she was found unconscious. Medical aid was called for, but she never regained consciousness, and passed away on Wednesday afternoon. The funeral was held on Friday afternoon, and was largely attended by friends from Gadsby and Stettler. The following children survive her:—Mrs. Hall, Gadsby; Mrs. Hall, Stettler; Mrs. Hall, Gadsby; Mrs. Hall, Gadsby; Mrs. Hall, Gadsby could not be better expressed than in a gift that will be appreciated for years to come.

The Spirit of Giving

A Bank of Toronto Savings Account makes a lasting remembrance. It is truly considerate—for the joy of receiving is the least of the pleasure to be derived from a gift of this character.

WEAKNESSES OF DEMOCRACY

Dean Riggs and Premier Baldwin Discuss Them

(By Glenn Frome)

The newest and smallest nation to the confederation of nations known as the British Commonwealth is about to be born.

In Dean Riggs the Chief of Republic has produced a godly, brave thing in democratic statesmanship. And the other farmer he has sought to bring the country into a responsible relation to his environment.

Democracy has been a sort of political religion with Americans; it has seemed for us to be almost a divine invention. We have often declared our faith in it as a religious creed. We have hardly needed democracy's defenders to state—unfortunately in the cover under which democracy's enemies creep in, to name it may do as good to follow the Dean Inge's declaration of the contrary. Here are our creeds in his indictment as I remember them:

First, that in the normal run of human affairs the majority of men are more likely to be right than wrong, and that when a crisis has arisen the instinctive decision of the majority of men is more likely to be right than wrong.

Second, that democracy may easily become an instrument and an system—and of a mean group of men.

Third, that democracy is the only system of which every individual is personally responsible for the form of government under which he lives, and that, therefore, democracy is the only system which tends to make individuals responsible for their own actions, both as individuals and as citizens.

Fourth, that democracy may easily become an instrument and an system—and of a mean group of men.

Fifth, that democracy is the only system of which every individual is personally responsible for the form of government under which he lives, and that, therefore, democracy is the only system which tends to make individuals responsible for their own actions, both as individuals and as citizens.

Sixth, that democracy is the only system which tends to make individuals responsible for their own actions, both as individuals and as citizens.

Seventh, that democracy is the only system which tends to make individuals responsible for their own actions, both as individuals and as citizens.

Eighth, that democracy is the only system which tends to make individuals responsible for their own actions, both as individuals and as citizens.

Ninth, that democracy is the only system which tends to make individuals responsible for their own actions, both as individuals and as citizens.

Tenth, that democracy is the only system which tends to make individuals responsible for their own actions, both as individuals and as citizens.

Eleventh, that democracy is the only system which tends to make individuals responsible for their own actions, both as individuals and as citizens.

Twelfth, that democracy is the only system which tends to make individuals responsible for their own actions, both as individuals and as citizens.

Thirteenth, that democracy is the only system which tends to make individuals responsible for their own actions, both as individuals and as citizens.

Fourteenth, that democracy is the only system which tends to make individuals responsible for their own actions, both as individuals and as citizens.

Fifteenth, that democracy is the only system which tends to make individuals responsible for their own actions, both as individuals and as citizens.

Sixteenth, that democracy is the only system which tends to make individuals responsible for their own actions, both as individuals and as citizens.

Seventeenth, that democracy is the only system which tends to make individuals responsible for their own actions, both as individuals and as citizens.

Eighteenth, that democracy is the only system which tends to make individuals responsible for their own actions, both as individuals and as citizens.

Nineteenth, that democracy is the only system which tends to make individuals responsible for their own actions, both as individuals and as citizens.

Twentieth, that democracy is the only system which tends to make individuals responsible for their own actions, both as individuals and as citizens.

Notwithstanding the fine weather of the last few weeks, some of our people are seeking warmer climes for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Preston, Jr., and Vera, expect to spend the winter in the Yakima Valley.

Walter Boysen, our popular young ball player is also spending the winter at the coast, at Vancouver we believe.

The Women's Missionary Society will hold their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry Prudence, Friday afternoon, the 11th, instead of Friday the 12th. A short Christmas program and one of time while the ladies work on their Christmas gifts, will be the main feature of the meeting.

A social invitation is extended to all members and others who are interested in Women's Missionary Society Work.

The teachers and pupils of the Consolidated Schools, are busy with preparations for the annual Christmas entertainment which will be given Wednesday evening, December 23rd. There will be the usual big tree, with a display near for all the children and if the pleasant weather holds and the roads stay open, it is the wish of the various committees in charge, that every one turn out and help make this an especially fine time for all the kiddies as a start for the Christmas Season.

The decorations for the Christmas Tree may be left at the post office in an email parcel so as likened as possible to this matter, as we are expecting the Mail to be packed to capacity that night and it takes lots of room and nuts to feed them all.

The members of Sunday School Boys and Girls class of our Sunday School will be pleased to learn that Mrs. Hamilton and Miss Dunlop are to be their teachers this winter. How then do the crowds of Hamites and Hamiltes do it? Oh, we hope to see all of our boys and girls back in Sunday School again.

Mr Sonda is incorporating the Hay Meadow, this is a big undertaking for Mr. Sonda's previous experience in that line, has shown him to be a very capable leader.

Mr. Thomasson was a visitor to the Bow Island District last week.

Mrs. Botha Bond has resumed operations since the threshing is over and are going strong. They expect to give a Concert during the early part of December. Watch for it. Something will be on and we'll watch.

Harry Isom has not as yet sold his good sole for this year. But Mr. Isom had better hurry.

Mr. Friends are ask the question, If he is in with your hair, Oh! left hand or that hand over there.

Well I may—enter there

He's sleep is on Alberta Avenue, Take my advice, don't obtain, As he will wreck a man in vain

Union Hall

Threshing is nearly completed. The big Twin City rig is finishing up the J. Anderson job, while the Gaddis outfit is at E. Talbot's. This leaves on the threshing with no for 1925.

Walter Dahl has returned here from North Dakota where he was employed since June with the Bear Paw Coal Co., operating a Remedy Oil Pull Tractor. This it is one of the large sort featuring Co's in southern Alberta, operating around 1,000 acres. Threshing is completed in the average yield but owing to bad weather was somewhat damaged in the early part, consuming the majority of wheat to go through.

The Box Social and Dance put on by the Goods Point Ladies Aid on the 4th was by far the best time ever put on in the School, both for a good time and for a financial success. Some 70 boxes were disposed of by Auctioneer Hodge Easton, who has promised us the strong arm of the law in a small town which reasonably insured a reasonable amount result.

Paul Reiter, who plays the violin and who with Mrs. Harris, is the pianist of Jos Sandland, with the pint of the Lake Dance bands, and came over this part of the hill with a organization that would please the Great White Way Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandland, who played so he did as a former hill, the part of a village, held his assembly of honored guests as he tried to run a powerful horn.

This is the same show that these popular players will present at Stettler, and I guess without saying that a capacity house will greet them.

An added attraction well worth mention, is the Vanderville acts which are introduced between the acts of the plays, this intermission eliminates all waits between acts and there is not a dull moment from the first to the final curtain.

On Thursday night, December 17th, the play will be Geo. H. Cohan's Humorous "75 Minutes from Broadway," with all the original songs and music played.

The seats for both performances are now on sale at The Palace Pharmacy, so be avoid wasting in line, you can select to book will in advance.

Erskine News

J. Van Buggen shipped in a carload of sheep from Calgary and will take up farming on section 27 in the Easton district.

Mrs. H. B. Edwards entertained the Bad Dust on Tuesday, when during an enjoyable afternoon tea was served.

Mrs A. McAllister of Havin, leaves on Saturday morning for the Pacific Coast, where a brief holiday will be spent.

The approach of the Christmas season usually encroaches a busy season on the post office, for a few days prior to the actual Festive day. The mail last Saturday was rather pressed.

Our rink reports are still busily engaged drawing ways and means, date of the opening curling rink has not yet been decided.

Mrs. F. C. Boehm left last week for Washington.

Mrs. D. A. Barbee who has been employed at the Lakeview Hotel for some time, left for Edmonton last Monday.

Jim says: "The hand-on collision on the Lacombe boulevard last Saturday was merely a case of George meeting himself coming back.

J. McKenzie visited Calgary for a few days last week.

A. Ott, who has been farming on the Morton farm, sold all terms, for ground rents, the remainder of the growing season and will move to his new location in Stettler. We are sorry to see our friend leave the Erskine district.

C. C. Coberson, Hoth Prairie, visited a few days this week.

A. J. Cole has gone on to Calgary where he has employment for the winter, has been ailing for some time.

T. Brannens and J. Van Buggen have finished their threshing operations.

Mrs. Bowes, of Stettler, visited on Tuesday morning. The proposing of the community is considered by canvassing motives.

WEDDING

HILTON—SODDER

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr and Mrs. James Sodder, 1307-19th Avenue, West, on Thursday evening, December 3rd, at 8 o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Agnes L. Sodder, became the bride of Mr. and Mrs. A. Rod. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Bye, the Rev. A. C. Bryan officiating.

As the wedding march was played by Miss Helen Sodder, the bride entered the parlor on the arm of her brother, Mr. C. Sodder, who gave her away.

The bride looked very charming in a gown of peony crepe-back satin, with hat to match and carried a shower bouquet of Bride roses and Killarney of the valley.

Miss Helen Sodder, sister of the bride acted as bridesmaid, and was prettily attired in satin and crepe, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

During the signing of the register, Miss Fanny McKellar sang very sweetly, "I Love You Truly."

After the ceremony a very dainty buffet luncheon was served to the immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom present. The bride's table was laid beneath a large white wedding bell with white streamers. In the centre was a beautiful three tier bride's cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilton left on the midnight train for Banff and Calgary, the latter where the honeymoon will be spent. On their return they will make their home at the groom's farm near Stettler.

MAKING OF CUTLERY

From the very early times Sheffield, the old name for the country around Sheffield, England, was renowned for it's cutlery. The Romans, Chaucer, who lived in the latter part of the fourteenth century speaks of the cutlery of Sheffield, and even the Pilot Bridge, was the Sheffield cutlers to make this knives, which

Doll Contest News

Another list of girls interested in putting dolls into trade, and naming them are Emma Jolley, Ina Anderson, Irene Anderson, Marion Dexter and Dolly Gish all of Stettler. Mary McCutcheon of Red Willow; Dorothy Nesbeen of Stettler, Wilma Hammon of Stettler and Jean Mack of Stettler.

A number of girls are completing this list this week, and there are still several days before Christmas for those who are just starting.

Among the new girls this week, who have been heard from at this office are Ida Gothman of Stettler, Hazel Bertsons of Stettler, Dorothy Wilson and Annie Bonfield of Bolin. To date the district of Bolin is making quite a record during the past few days.

There is no way that we know of that a girl can get a ten dollar doll free except through the Independent. Ten dollars means a lot of money but that is what you would have to pay for a doll of this kind. Twenty dollars worth of subscriptions are easy to get, and the doll is all hers for yours. Those who get dolls last year say that the dresses are never the poor, so we are giving the pens of information can for the benefit of the girls who have not seen these dolls and wish to get one for Christmas.

Mr. Ras. Collins was a visitor at Lacombe recently

DONALDA

Christmas preparations are the order of the Day All the appointments are making special preparations at the Donalda Hotel. Proprietor, Mr. Wilbee and the Union Church Sunday School at Donalda. Rehearsals are started on Monday next.

Mrs. W. E. Porters, secretary-treasurer for the Provincial Board of Directors for the Provincial Board of Directors for the part of this district is about very busy these days collecting taxes for the Red Cross Society in the province and this is a very splendid cause that we should feel for the District and assistantly for a wide awake official.

A very pleasant surprise was tendered to Miss Bardsley, Secretary of the Union Church Sunday School on Friday afternoon last when a number of the lady friends met at the home of Mrs. Wilbee to spend a very pleasant afternoon and for the District and splendid work that Miss Bardsley has done during the past year and a half. A suitable remembrance was presented to her, with the hope that the many years will meet with success and greater joy and satisfaction. We are sorry to know that she has to leave us and we regret very much.

A women society planned.

Born to—A son and a daughter.

GADSBY NEWS

The Ladies of the Oregon Circle entertained their husbands on Wednesday evening, when a very enjoyable time was spent. Miss Scott the travelling organizer for the Chautauqua was present and gave a very detailed account of the organization, its growth and the details involved in the formation of a branch of education.

A committee was appointed to confer with the Alberta Chautauqua Association with a view to having it visit Gadsby in the future date.

Mrs. Scott, one of the business men of Gadsby, was given a surprise by the members of the Ladies Aid on Friday evening, December 11th, the occasion of the tenth birthday of their ability to entertain by the presentation of a beautiful cake, the handiwork of the ladies, and by the presentation of a purse, containing a generous amount of the Dominion Bank notes. She was delighted with the surprise.

The concert which was the first effort of the evening's entertainment, was most enjoyable. We could have wished that the hall had been filled to capacity, but still outside from the town there was a very good attendance. The concert was opened up by a selection by the Gadsby Orchestra, which was followed by a solo by Mrs. Bell. The pretty home of the manager was then visited by the Bell Orchestra, also very.

On Monday evening, December 14th, the Board of Trade held their regular meeting, the attendance numbering at 10th Oxford Hotel. Among the matters of business, perhaps the Chief at home on the Sunday farm, north west of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford are now residing in the Jackson House. Mr. Rutherford is negotiating with Mr. Jackson for the house.

Cheque "Artist"

(By Valley Times)

A case of forgery has been reported in which a number of local people, parents or boys interested, and although the cheques were made out for small amounts, the names and writing are perfect. It is also reported that the cheques were made out in the Royal Bank of Canada, Lethbridge, and that they were received at the bank by a young man who presented them. The bank officials detected the fraud. The alleged Bank, and advised them of the fraud, and a description of the man who presented the forged cheques, but it was learned that he had left Lethbridge by a car and driven to Warner where he had boarded a train for Calgary.

On Saturday morning, Tommy Gerlach, who was working for K. W. Adkinson during the busy season, discovered in such a check of one of the cheques which had been made out to him by Mr. Harvey. This check was for $25 on the Bank of Montreal, Edmonton, and was signed by "G. Wallace," in favor of Gerlach. Being informed the check was a forgery, Gerlach is getting it cashed by a friend, at the City Cafe, who deposited it in the Lethbridge Bank here. The money has refused it as Harvey and was returned with the notation "No Account."

INCREASE IN EXPORT OF DAIRY PRODUCTS

Our exports of butter for the first 9 months ending with September total 24,020,000 lbs., valued at $12,300,000 as compared with 10,920,300 lbs. valued at $6,502,742 in the previous year. Our exports of cheese for the same period are 101,685,356 compared with 115,-365,000 lbs., valued at $21,566,111. Of

The milk powder the exports were 5,047,000 lbs., valued at $04,113, against 1,747,500 lbs., valued at $360,000 and of milk, condensed, canned or preserved, 13,300,100 lbs. valued at $1,070,350 compared with 42,134,800 lbs., valued at $4,173,571. Of cream there was an export of 200,000 lbs., valued at $33,-336, against 30,000 lbs., valued at $3,-710. We thus have a gratifying increase of the export of all dairy products for the twelve months, ending with September last of 2,450,150 lbs., valued at $4,510,064 compared with the of previous twelve months.

BOTHA NEWS

After an extended visit in the States, Miss Pearl Watt, arrived home on Thursday last. Miss Watt has been visiting relatives and friends in Minneapolis at the J. A. McKay home. She returns very much improved in health with the weather in town and other states.

Rev. Mr. Sunday preached very acceptably to a large congregation on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

All of our people who have parties in an Sunday evening, the people may not be deprived of Sunday School. Let us get together the entire community from church and Sunday School, and have a good time. Everyone, in a most satisfactory manner. W. H. Kirkwood left Saturday morning for Edmonton, where he will visit his daughters for Alberta, and will spend the winter. Mr. Kirkwood is one of the best citizens in Olds and we are sorry to see him leave, but wish him success where he intends to locate.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Rowson, were witnesses to the ceremony. Rev. I. H. Hodgson officiated.

The happy couple receive the best wishes for a long and happy voyage of life from their many friends. After the honeymoon is over Mr. and Mrs. Baker will reside in Red Willow.

Several car accidents have occurred recently, no one of which being of a very serious nature. We simply re-mention the way that some people drive.

Following a short, but severe illness the infant child of Mr and Mrs. Bailey, aged 8 months, died from an attack of whooping cough and bronchial pneumonia, on Thursday morning, December 10th. The funeral took place on Sunday, December 13th at 1:30 p. m., at the residence of the parents. The deepest sympathy of the neighborhood is extended to the bereaved parents. A beautiful floral offering and the large number of friends at the service testified to the high esteem in which the brief life of the baby is held. Interment was made at the Donalda Cemetery. J. I. M. Hodgson officiating.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express deep appreciation for the kind kindness and help during the time of sickness and bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob. Smith.

DONALDA

A pretty, church quiet wedding took place at the Union Church parsonage on Thursday, December 10th, when Miss Pearl V. Henry of Gadsby, was united in marriage to Mr. Russell E. Baker of Red Willow. Miss Stella Henry, younger sister of the bride and Mr. R. E. Rowson, were witnesses to the ceremony. Rev. I. H. Hodgson officiated.

The happy couple receive the best wishes for a long and happy voyage of life from their many friends. After the honeymoon is over Mr. and Mrs. Baker will reside in Red Willow.

Following a short, but severe illness the infant child of Mr and Mrs. Bailey, aged 8 months, died from an attack of whooping cough and bronchial pneumonia, on Thursday morning, December 10th. The funeral took place on Sunday, December 13th at 1:30 p. m., at the residence of the parents. The deepest sympathy of the neighborhood is extended to the bereaved parents. A beautiful floral offering and the large number of friends at the service testified to the high esteem in which the brief life of the baby is held. Interment was made at the Donalda Cemetery. J. I. M. Hodgson officiating.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express deep appreciation for the kind kindness and help during the time of sickness and bereavement.

Mr. Rose Bowbeardy left last week for Portland, where he will join Mr. Bowbeardy, and then travel to Florida for the winter. The departure of Mr. and Mrs. Bowbeardy is regretted by all. The members of the Stettler Rotary Club presented Mr. Bowbeardy with a leather secretary, so that he will have no excuse in keeping up correspondence with his friends in town.

The stores are replete with Christmas candies, and many visitors are in town each day from surrounding points. The merchants are making special display in their windows and many of them are artistic and original, and reflect much credit on the salesmen. Dressers, in fact a look around the stores will convince any one that there is no need to go to the city to buy Christmas goods, as they can be obtained cheaper here and the stocks are as complete and of as good quality variety in all standard lines. Don't forget to patronize your home merchants and the consequent benefit will be yours.

There will be English services for men in the Presbyterian church on Sunday next, by Rev. Louis Lemaire of Daysland.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN

BY MRS. BESTON, LAKE SOCIAL

LIBERTY, DOP PERSONAL LIBERTY, TALK BUSH OF PROHIBITION

When the mayor of St. Paul, Minnesota, Mr. Arthur A. Nelson, became editor for a day, of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, and used around he give the people a paper in which one grievance arose was given the place of other importance, it came to create prominent space and serious consideration to the question of prohibition. Mayor Nelson was evidently in favor of prohibition, declaring to be not a question of personal liberty' but of "social liberty." Because he wrote article on the subject, on a prominent page of the paper, which was the convention, appears an article—"Prohibition, a Parallel and Contrast to Slavery Public—by James Wallace, Bible instructor at Bar Island College. The city office's stand on the matter of the Eighteenth Amendment and its enforcement is set forth in the following clear-cut way:

"Prohibition as a general experiment is social control. The object is to do something for social benefit by abolishing intoxicating liquor and is a method of which intemperate humanity. It has been the uniform experience of mankind that the use of intoxicating liquor is detrimental to society that because we have learned there is no way to compromise with this evil, it must be dealt by by the root and not forth."

The mayor further stated that the Eighteenth Amendment was adopted "after it had been tried and found a failure." A large part of this statement is untrue and a part of the truth has been twisted to suit Wash ton conditions of a temporary nature. Before any one comes to personal liberty it must be perfectly clear in that form it is a menace. Prohibition will never satisfy everybody, but it is essential to a well-being in all states there can be no question of its obligations to see whether the offender is opium war or alcohol. It is a mistake to talk about personal liberty when the true issue is social liberty.

"Surely there is no excuse for discouragement if in six years it has not been possible completely to root out an evil which has existed for generations. Nothing has happened which was not announced in advance. Prohibition is not a failure. It is in fact enough of a success to be the envy of other peoples and to call forth many expressions of admiration."

ABSENCE OF SALOON HAS MADE TREMENDOUS CHANGE IN AMERICAN CITY

Commenting on the changes that had occurred in the United States during his absence of eight years in that country, Dr. Charles F. Johnson of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, wrote in the Continent:

"The most stupendous change we noticed on returning to America this year was the absence of the saloon. The American people seem not more than half to realize what a tremendous change the absence of the saloon means to an American city. This was the first fact we noticed at once on landing in San Francisco. When we left, eight years ago, saloons were everywhere. We do not realize the magnitude of that one city day were without seeing a saloon or a single individual under the influence of liquor. The same thing was true of Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, Portland, Cheyenne, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Chicago and the other cities which we visited, until it was forced by registered on our connection that the saloon was actually dead. Other impressions in for two such liquor still brought and sold and drank in the United States. But in spite of the absence of the saloon, the hotel bar and other devious means by which men are able to satisfy a degraded appetite and profit content to play with fire, the mighty fire stands out above everything else: The saloon is gone from our land."

BROADWAY'S HOST OF SMILING PROHIBITION DRIVE (LIMES) THIRTY RECRUITS

The most sweeping prohibition drive yet waged on Broadway was made on Friday last week by deputy United States Marshals, prohibition agents and police detectives on order of District Attorney Emory Buckner, served commissions on thirty cabaret and restaurant chiefs. These were the best known night resorts on and near the famous thoroughfare, and are only the beginning of the clean-up that Attorney Buckner intends to make. Mr. Buckner announced his intention of publishing one hundred of the hundred and fifty-one names, merely as a beginning, and says he is determined to close them.

Welsh Songsters Won Big Audience

VERSATILE PROGRAM

Welshmen Fond of Lion, Club Sunday Entertainment—Many Items Encored—Musical Classics

(Mentioned Classics)

In a program of uniform excellence, frequently touched by those high lights of sound achievement, which have given them a widespread and well-merited reputation, the Rhondda Welsh Male Singers last night entertained an audience which filled Wood ner Hall to capacity.

The concert was given in aid of the Lions Club Welfare Fund, and will be repeated to-night, with a complete change of programme.

Last night, for a wide variety, and of and genuine musicianship of the choir completely captivated the audience who called for encore after encore, in which they were not disappointed. The opening strains of "Men of Harlech," the well-known Welsh air was received with enthusiasm by thirty cabaret chiefs. These were the best known night resorts on and near the famous thoroughfare, and are only the beginning of the clean-up that Attorney Buckner intends to make. Mr. Buckner announced his intention of publishing one hundred of the hundred and fifty-one names, merely as a beginning, and says he is determined to close them.

Lights Will Make Big Improvement

(Big Valley Times)

The electric light system for Big Valley will be a credit to any town among the much larger municipalities of the province. It has been a long time in coming, but it is now a reality. A large new plant has been installed and a staff of men are employed to operate the system. Residences and business premises are now being connected with the service and it is expected that by the end of the month the whole town will be lighted by electricity. Big Valley is to be congratulated on the enterprise shown by the town council in all the larger towns, and the citizens will be rewarded when they see the same as is now adopted all over the North American continent.

No excuse is being spared to make the pole line the best available. The poles are 35 feet long, of British Columbia Cedar, and the crossarms the also of the best material.

The Northwestern pole trye now under way will handle the street lighting circuit and the street fabric will be completed and on by an electric motor switch.

Mr. Griffith was quite confident that the lights would be turned on by Christmas eve, and that the transmission would be entirely satisfactory. This result will result in a larger improvement to the appearance of the town that most people can realize at this time.

PRINCE'S HERD WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

The famous shorthorn bull "King of the Fairies," former herd leader for the herd of the Prince of Wales' Ranch near Rich River, Alberta, was awarded the world's championship at the International Livestock Show at Chicago the past week. Other prizes also went to Alberta winners in both shorthorn and grain exhibits, but a complete list of these is not yet available. The Prince's herd was considered to be U. S. professor for 8,000.

A mentioner's luck drew very cordial applause was the "Rhondda Memorial Song," by Dr. Parthers. The rythm of the martial music is so unmistakably evidenced.

Reverse members of the choir showed distinctive soloists of a very high order. Stephen Jenkins revealed a rich and powerful voice in his rendition of "I Love You More," which was followed by an equally pleasing number by David Jones and Evan Evans, "The Bells of Aberdovey," during full justice to the tender theory of the charter and contributed a very high standard of performance throughout the programme. Thomas Owen showed the audience with his interpretation of "Calon Lan" (Welsh) with the Harlep," from "Puritan," Another singer who received a high place was Walter Evans, who sang "The Desert," by Hammond. The emotional power, resulting from the theme of this the most fine in the quiet in its pathos, was splendidly faced by the caverns, were interpreted with a depth of musical feeling that drew well-merit of applause. William Phillips sang "Your Tiny Hand is Frozen," from "Bohème." The well-known Parted air was pleasingly rendered throughout, and was followed by an encore. Messrs. Owen and Evans then sang a duet entitled "Come and Barbaire," in which the superior quality of the two was warmly received.

Rev. J. G. Goddard Inducted Into The United Church

The members and adherents of the Stettler United Church met in their Church Friday evening, December 18, the event being the induction of Rev. J. G. Goddard into the pastoral charge of the Church.

Rev. Alexander Stewart of Castor, had charge of the service, and with him was associated Rev. M. E. Wiggins of Balfour. Rev. Stewart gave an inspiring address telling upon all to consecrate to God those talents they might grow in Christian character. His remarks were mostly words that fell to the minister elect, and the congregation. Rev. M. E. Wiggins addressed the minister and congregation. His address was an interesting presentation of the task overpowering the minister and the people.

Rev. H. Page and Mr. F. T. Colley then took charge of Mr. Goddard introducing him personally to the congregation. Mr. Goddard has been pastor in a very cordial welcome by his parishioners and by the citizens of Stettler generally. A congregation that turned the United Church to its utmost greatest Mr. Goddard Sunday evening. With a spirit of hopefulness and expectancy has taken hold of all and many things are hoped for through his ministry.

Doll Contest News

Judging from the returns so far, there will be between fifty and sixty girls who will get dolls in this contest, for Christmas. It is impossible to give the complete list this week, as a number of dolls will go out after the paper is published, but the list will be published in next issue.

All towns are represented in this vicinity, and there will be about fifteen more dolls go out this year than last, showing that the girls appreciate the quality of the dolls we are giving as prizes for subscriptions.

The contest will close on Saturday, January 16th, and this will give ample time for all who have not completed their list to do so in the next two weeks.

The Independent wishes all girls Merry Christmas and a Happy time Soon, as well as Subscribers, their relatives, brothers, sisters and cousins.

DONALDA

A typical Christmas blanket of snow is falling, which seems to make more realistic this festive season. We welcome the snow. We welcome Christmas and all the jags and meanings it has for the world. As the writer happens to be your correspondent, he takes on the privilege of extending to all readers and friends the joys of the season.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS and A HAPPY NEW YEAR. May into all hearts be re-created the spirit of Peace and Good Will, and may we carry the lofty ideals of Christ a teachings in all that we do and undertake as the To-day commemorates "Earth's First Christmas Morning." Thank you one and all for your remembrances during the past year, again wish you all "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Among those visiting Edmonton this week are Rev. C. Johnston and Mr. S. W. Kerrone.

Two very serious accidents occurred in this district, one a car accident and the other a shooting fatality. The car which was driven by Mr. Hayden's eldest son, who is with three other boys, Alfred Lonn, Bill Dare and Bill Anderson, all of Red Willow, were returning from Donalda and as they were turning round a bend at Mr. J. Tom's place, the car left the road and crashed into the trees, injuring Dare and Hayden so seriously that they had to be taken to the hospital in Stettler, where they are under the care of Dr. Lonn and Dr. Kennedy. From all accounts the patients are doing as well as could be expected.

The other accident was the shooting of Mr. Adam Gleason of Red Willow, which took place on the farm of Mr. Lonn. The shooting was accidental and was given out that a gun which he was carrying was accidentally discharged. Mr. Gleason was taken by Rev Acker and Dr. Kennedy to the hospital at Donalda. Much sympathy is expressed for the entire community.

A large number from town and the surrounding districts attended the Christmas Concert held at Black Vista Hall last night where they all listened to an extremely well arranged program.

The teacher Miss Sandberg is to be highly congratulated as well as the pupils for the very excellent program given. Mr. Geo. Colyer thanked he did not expect a chance to sit down as a practical chairman. A happy spirit pervaded the whole evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ulbret, ... Mr. and Mrs. Lonn, Mr. and Mrs. ... at this time of year ... Mr. and Mrs. ... Mr. and Mrs. ... Mr. and Mrs.

How To Water House Plants

The plants which we grow in our homes are of a very diversified nature, some naturally grow under a tropical or sub-tropical environment others in a temperate zone, some delight in the full blaze of the desert sun, or hot moisture, the Cacti others in the shade of the forest, the ferns and some of the palms, require a light position and for these available little hint of vegetable matter thereon, while others require a heavy loam soil. Many can endure without much moisture at the roots, others must have a more abundantly or they will soon show a yellowish tinge. In spite of all these things, wonderful results may be achieved when one is conscious of our lesser or the evident of these requirements when the plants of a collection do diverse have to be grown under practically one condition, that which the living room affords.

Plants require air, warmth, moisture and food for their well-being, but in and this you will deal only with the province of moisture, for now a days, and rather less than days. Depending upon the kinds of our plants. To know best and how to water the plants in knowledge of prime importance otherwise result, success will not be possible.

We should not forget that as the various kinds of plants are potted in a... of others to... into these soils will vary in their power to retain moisture; some will hold it a week, others perhaps only two days. Depending out the drought further, we soon find that the plants thrown growing in the same sized pot and kind of soil as others, do not show upon the soil's moisture in the same as to others. This may be due to one or both of two conditions (a) having smaller leaves and either transpiring less or (b) having a reduced rootage (this) they do not give off as much moisture as those with large transpiring surfaces. Remember of the former class. Cactus of the latter, Coleus and large leaved Begonias. (b) Being newly potted or having a good root system, they do not need the soil as moisture as do plants which are pot-bound—the soil being filled with roots.

The better the soil used and the more friendly the plant is potted, that is the more it will promote the soil, the less will be its power to retain moisture. The... [illegible] ...ing soil, [illegible] ...ing soil, [illegible] ...potted under the latter condition will use a rule, not require as many applications of water during a given period as under the former, root action is more free and other things being equal.

Usually we pot Ferns and Begonias in light soil containing a lot of decaying leaf mol. Geraniums, Coleus, Amaryllises and similar plants in a soil in which loam predominates, and perhaps we put the latter a little more firmly. To plant a of the Cactus family, for instance, they will be more thriving Cactus, and also remember, each to the loam and which it is plentiful, you need not be so careful not to the Ferns and Begonias, except that a little more [illegible] ...broken lime rubble is added to the soil, thus making it all the more porous and non-retentive of water.

Ferns, Begonias, Geraniums, Coleus and Amaryllises thrive in rich soils of assorted different natures and all will and will or more readily thrive in lack of water as the root than will the Cacti, because the latter plant having storage rods for moisture, think rainless and are even, through which the moisture can escape do not require so much. The ground of this being that by nature they are adapted to hot dry desert sands. A way to kill Cacti quickly is our house is to water them as freely and as often as we do our Geraniums. A way to have them grow to perfection is to water them only when the soil in which they grow is almost to the dry stage and only then.

The proper time to apply water to our plants with the exception of Cacti or succulents is just before the surface soil is dry so to speak the fullness of the plants is at, or when the soil is merely moist, the best stage. Some dry-ness, and then to water as before, so as to thoroughly saturate the ball of the earth, the water passing in plentiful contact with each particle of soil and each tiny rootlet. The best way which thought not reliable, is to feel the plant pot with the hand, or to tap the pot with a hard object and observe by a knife handle or the knuckle of the finger If the pot rings, the soil is fairly or entirely dry. If the sound is dull there will be plenty of moisture in the soil.

If the pot rings there will be air spaces in the soil from which the moisture has been withdrawn. If it does not ring, there are spaces are fill of with moisture. Where then would be the chance of applying water to a soil which is still nearly saturated? To do this would be but a waste and... are with our plants because simply a sudden condition of the soil and perhaps also an acid condition would result which in time the plant would succumb. In the case of Cacti even when the pot rings somewhat when tapped, it is not always wise to apply water, the enormous quantity in their cells being sufficient to tide them over for a few days even when the soil has become dry.

During the Summer, growing plants will require more water than during Winter, and this may be applied practically at any time during the day or Winter however the plant should properly be watered only on the warmest days and preferably before noon, so that all superfluous water will drain away from the pot readily. The water used should be of the temperature of the room. It need not necessarily be said that the pots should not at this or any other time be allowed to stand in the water which has drained from the soil. Besides all of these, in Women, it is desirable to allow the water to remain in the saucers or pedestals.

Whether newly potted or not, the... recommended is a great way to assist the... the moisture of the soil. When, however, it is contemplated to apply fertilizers, to the soil, this should only be done when after potting the soil is well-established. For the feeding roots thoroughly permeated with the soil and not before. Fertilizers... [illegible] ...to the... [illegible] ...should be applied in a liquid form, and in accordance with directions given by the manufacturers. Bone meal is a good... Farm Help Can Be Secured

S. Puddington, Local Supervisor of the Land Settlement Branch of the Immigration Department, at Edm., Town time to time, to furnish Old Country farm help, many of whom have been in the country a full season and are experienced workers.

It is recognized of course, that big wages cannot be expected for the winter months, but satisfactory pay otherwise is all these men expect.

Should any farmer wish to procure a man for the winter or remainder of season, if he will please get in touch with Supervisor S. Puddington, a base address at Stettler, if letter or by phone the Supervisor will endeavor to fill the farmers' requirements as soon as possible.

No charge is made for this service, and if the man for any unfair cause or other one will be procured. Every endeavor will be made, however, to see that the man furnished is reliable and will be spoken of by his previous employers.

BOTHA NEWS

Plenty of snow Saturday night and Sunday to make sleighing and to give the Christmas feeling.

Our Rink commencing the Women's Institute Banquet, supper and program has been delayed last through no lack of appreciation of all there. The proceeds from the supper and Bazaar is estimated to $110.00.

The play put on by twelve Botha ladies was a decided success and very much enjoyed by the large audience which filled the Hall. "Clubbing a Husband" brought out the spirit of the Modern Suffragette, her ended in complete humbly to "Men Folks." To Miss Wright's training and management, the success of the play is largely due. Miss Wright has been very successful in training Botha talent and it would be unfair to mention one without a mention of all, which time and space forbids.

We regret to report the illness of Mr. Ross Snyder.

Miss Eva Herman, Riverdale Miss Dorothy Rappel (Calgary) and Mrs. Dorothy Rappel of Rocky Lodge; are spending the Xmas holidays.

Rapid progress is being made with the skating rink which has received its first coat. About another seventy three tanks of water should put it in good shape. In the meantime join the outdoor skating parties, but do not forget the rink.

The Erskine correspondent extends to you and yours the best wishes for a Merry Xmas and a Bright and Prosperous New Year.

RED WILLOW

We are glad to note that Bill Reed and Lenie Sauder are improving.

Mrs. Ben Sherwood, wife of Rev. Sherwood, wedding friends and relatives Mrs. Geo. Sherwood.

A special service will be held next Sunday, December 27th, at 8 p. m. Rev. Hughson will illustrate his sermon with Lantern Slides. Every one is cordially invited.

Miss Baird and Jean McDonald are home from Calgary College to spend the Holidays.

Mr. Harold Campbell left for Vancouver, Monday. It is whispered around that he is to bring a bride back with him.

We have an A1 fire builder for our church services, so are assured of it when in several homes on Sunday evening at 7:30 sharp—Don't hesitate to walk into any of your neighbors homes that have a radio at that time, you will be welcome and are sure to hear a good service.

Thursday night, A Big Holiday Dance and Friday and Saturday night another Big Picture show "The Pony Express" in the Hall.

Wishing you One and All a Very Merry Christmas and a Glad and Happy New Year.

GADSBY NEWS

The Gadsby Branch of the W. W. A. held their Annual Meeting on Saturday, December 12th, in the Public School Chambers. The attendance was very disappointing. Only about 10 farmers being present, when Secretary Hitchcox read his Annual Statement. This was accepted and Mr. Hitchcox thanked for his report. President Stewart and Secretary Hitchcox tendered their resignations, which were accepted with regret. Mr. Rowland assumes the arduous position faithful attention for the past 4 years but increasing business claims made it impossible he should not to be retained. The position of President for 1926 will be filled by Mr. Harry Ross who steps up from the Vice-Presidency and Mr. W. E. Anderson will be the new Secretary. It is a wise move to elect younger members, whose enthusiasm may communicate itself to the membership generally, and in these two officials we have also two of our most up-to-date and enterprising young farmers.

It is a matter for sincere regret that there seems to be a great lack of interest among our farmers in regard to the work of the U. F. A. as carried on in the locals.

It may not be a perfect organization as no human institution ever is, but there can be little exception taken to the statement that it is ever in the field in the farmers' interests. Its officials do their best, as the aim is, to promote his economical and political welfare. That they have achieved a large measure of success is a matter of history.

If you do not consider they are on the right track, brother Farmer, come into the movement and show us, and our officials at Head Office, how to do it better.

Helpful criticism is always welcome, and there and no more truly democratic body exists to-day than our U. F. A.

We have had a very fine year in 1925, despite the drawback and damage caused by bad harvest and blizzing weather, and we are all optimistic for 1926.

In wishing my neighbors a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year, there is one thing I would advise, or recommend seriously helping them to make 1926 a Banner Year for them in business then this, to Join your Local U. F. A. and do your part in solving the economic problems of your industry.

Stettler got off with a good start by scoring two goals in the 1st period, and they kept their advantage all throughout. In the second period, however, Edmonton scored 2 goals in succession and Stettler rose, making the score at the end of this period 4 to 2 in favor of the locals. This stamp on the part of the locals was probably due to too much individual play, resulting in the loss of the puck when three forwards were down near the Ed ... goal. In the 3rd period, the local team displayed more combination and again demonstrated their superiority by scoring one goal to their opponents none, making the final score 6 to 3.

Mrs. D. Wallace is holding a dance on New Year's Eve at her home to welcome in the New Year.

A large number of Fennites were Stettler visitors previous to the event. They were preparing for Christmas. Family parties were the order of the day.

Mr. Hereldsel of Stettler spent the Christmas holidays with Mr. and Mr. E. Best.

Some of our young "sheiks" are home on vacation. Clarence Galdberg and Dena Fleishman from Olds and Robert Strange from Calgary. Mr. Goldberg held a housewarming for Clarence on Thursday last, at which a large number of local boys and girls were present.

Harold Humphrey has left for a visit to the Coast. He expects to return in about a month or six weeks.

Weather is now reasonable and not at all unpleasant, despite some cold winds.

GADSBY NEWS

Wednesday evening, December 16th, the Teen Runnie and Trail Rangers camp assembled at the dam, with the girls as guests, for a skating party and weiner roast. The weather was fairly mild and apparently all had a pleasant evening.

Christmas concerts are the main interest of the day. On Tuesday evening December 22nd, at the Gadsby School the staff gave a very enjoyable concert at the Town Hall consisting of recitations, choruses, instrumentals, drills and dialogues. The adults contributed the school program by a male quartette. Then to the great delight of all the kiddies, Santa arrived on the stage with all his customary parcels to see that each kiddie got a Christmas present.

Mrs. Christianson of Leo, passed away very suddenly on December 16th, from double pneumonia. The funeral service was held at the home on Friday, December 18th, at 1 p. m., service being held to rest in the Gadsby Cemetery. The sympathy of the whole community goes out to the bereaved ones.

Banff Stages Big Winter Classic

A world-championship Dog Derby to the "Top o' the World and Back" will be run for the first time in the history of dog-mushing at the Banff Winter Carnival this year, according to plans now being made by the Carnival committee under Provincial Constable Cuthbert of Calgary to the Great Divide and back in Banff will be the longest dog race in the world and will exceed the famous Derby by 250 miles. The Mountmorris Trophy as contested for in 1925 will be the prize.

Starting from Calgary, the dog teams will travel on a height of 4,500 feet over a distance of 180 miles. This must be the Great Divide, the backbone of the North American continent, which in the Canadian Rockies centres at Alberta from British Columbia. The contestants will then return to Banff via Lake Louise, covering the distance of 175 miles. The course will be over the most rugged country in America and will be the most gruelling test ever put to dogs and men.

Considerable dog derby will be made at the Banff Winter Carnival from now on, and those who have already signed up for the race are Jim Mills with his team of famous silver-grey huskies, and the 19-year-old boy who has been driving the Stoughton Trophy and will have a team of his own in the race. Jack Dempsey, the champion of all the dog teams, will be present to join forces with the Banff classic. It is expected that the Banff Carnival will be one of the most successful ever held in the history of the Rockies.

Complete attendance in this grade was necessary and the following were absented for perfection:—
President, Mr. Harry Ross; Vice-President, Mr. Fred Nelson; Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Ed. Mauch.
Mr. Mansfield Stewart was elected to go to Calgary to the coming Provincial Convention, as a delegate from this Local, and every effort will be made to pay his own expenses, except his railroad fare, as if you want to boss somebody worth while, don't miss the first meeting of this local after the Convention.
Application was made by Mr. Boyer, principal of Gadsby School, to be submitted as a member of our local, and was accepted by everyone present.
The Local was very fortunate in getting the services of one of Mr. Bauer's ability.
Let's make our efforts worthy reject your support in the coming year, for it is only by the aspect of its members that any organization can carry on, and given the right support your Local U. F. A. can do a great deal of good, but denied this support it may as well fold up.
If you are behind with your dues see the Secretary and become paid up member, if you have never belonged to the Local U. F. A., we are always glad to sign up new members.
Don't forget the next meeting to be held on Saturday, January 9th, 1926. Come one, come all and help put God on Local on the map.

Winter Care Of Colts

The care and management of colts over their first winter is of the greatest importance during the whole of their future lives. Many colts are stunted in their growth and rendered unfit for use and value for the rest of their lives through neglect during the winter months. Colts require to be treated from the first as companions to the mare and not as animals to be left entirely to themselves. Many colts are allowed to run with the mare from the time of birth until weaning time, and are then taken away from the mare and left to shift for themselves in a paddock or field and are expected to do well. Nothing could be more unfair than this and it is the cause of many a colt's stunted growth. Colts require to be handled from the time of birth, and if they are to be of any use when they are two years old they require to be handled and broken in when they are yearlings. Colts should be kept in good condition to carry on as much as possible from birth to maturity. The winter months are the most important of the whole year, and the colt should be given a warm, dry, well-ventilated box stall, with a good bed of straw. Colts should be encouraged from the time of birth to eat crushed oats and bran, and this should be continued throughout the winter months, increasing the quantity as the colt grows older

The months of the storm is that one of the worst in the history of the country. Not that the trade is changed to Dead Horse.

Business in town was rushing during December, but fell off a little during the two weeks preceding Xmas.

The reasons for the variation may be summarized as follows:

1. The Bell Wilson sale early in December, when the whole country was canvassed with advertising posters, brought many people in to town from a distance, some from as far as Stettler.

2. The Xmas Concert and Dance at Union Hall, which was largely attended by people in town, a distance from as far as Stettler.

The Value Of A Mulch For A Winter Protection

Snow is one of the most important factors for winter protection, but, unfortunately, in some part of Canada, it does not come soon enough to afford the necessary protection from severe frosts or sudden changes of temperature for certain plants that are desire to grow, but does it remain long enough to protect the plants from sudden temperature changes and hard frosts in spring.

Where one is not sure of snow coming early and remaining late in the winter it is advisable to put on a mulch of some kind. Straw is one of the best materials for this purpose, but many other materials may be used with good effect. Especially on strawberries, both there and in the East, is straw valuable to protect from sudden changes of temperature in winter where the ground is bare and also to delay growth in spring until danger of severe frosts is over. Straway manure applied just before winter sets in also makes a good mulch for herbaceous plants, as it protects both the roots and crowns and helps to hold the snow.

Mrs. W. Dunlop was in Edmonton this week visiting with friends.

Mr. D. A. Prescott is visiting friends in town.

The skating rink is crowded during holiday week with the school children, especially in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Wickson are spending a holiday of a few weeks at Vancouver.

W. A. Armstrong of Botha left today for a two months holiday to the Coast.

Mr. Henry Harding is visiting his parents on an extended stay in British Columbia.

Mr. Edwards has his brother from Calgary as a guest during the holidays.

A. B. Clark returned from Edmonton on Tuesday where he had spent the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mackellar spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Hill, of Calgary.

Kenneth Tibbenham, Jack Dunlop, and Courtenay Patrick are attending the Boys Parliament at Edmonton.

Mrs. C. E. Morton returned on Wednesday from Edmonton where she had been visiting her son for the past week.

Miss Tibbenham is the guest of Mrs. Hall for a few days. Miss Tibbenham is a former resident of Stettler.

Miss Ella Mair came up from Three Hills last week to visit her parents during the holidays. He is working in an elevator there.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Schoenfeld and family have left for Vancouver, B. C., on a holiday to spend the Christmas season with Mrs. Schoenfeld's parents.

Harry Hanson of Botha, has taken over the meat shop of Mr. Schoenfeld and will take a position with the business of the National Electric Shop.

Season tickets for the skating rink are now on sale at the rink office. Adult tickets $3.00 and Children $2.00. These tickets are good for admission to the night rinks and are a good investment for the whole family. Get your tickets and join the fun.

Carl Van Kleeck and Erik L. Smith of Stettler signed away on C.P.R. freight on early morning train on Christmas day and were landed in Innisfail. Mr. E. R. Arjans, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Norton.

The happy couple returned home on Tuesday.

Stettler Junior Hockey Club are entering into the amateur competition for the province of Alberta, known as Class "B" competition. The players consist of C. Pearsall, N. Price, W. Duckworth, J. Wilson, H. Cameron, F. Fraser, D. Hough, K. Thibenham, E. Wilson. The schedule has not yet been announced.

The curlers opened the season on Christmas day with some games of the present occasion and with three instead during the day the time was pleasant, during the afternoon and evening. Since then there have been games every night, and schedules is well under way. There are eighteen rinks engaged at the present time.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. A. M. Campbell who had not big enough to accommodate was improving in strength as well as could be expected on Wednesday morning and is now in a position to receive visitors.

Mrs. Edwards has left for Vancouver where she will spend the winter months with her daughter, Mrs. Hall.

The Christmas tree entertainment given by the Sunday School of the Presbyterian Church was a success in every way. Everybody was present and the programme was carried out in a manner that reflected credit on the children and those who had charge of the affair. Santa Claus, who appeared in full regalia and distributed presents to the children, was also present. The Junior choir rendered several selections and reflected much credit on their leader. Miss McDonnell also assisted with a solo, with a recitation by three of the head school teachers.

THE VALUE OF OIL

TORONTO GLOBE.—When we are told that at the present rate of consumption, three to enough coal in the world to last for seven thousand years, and the supply of oil is estimated by engineers, it is rather encouraging to observe how we are rushing into the use of oil. We are not satisfied with burning it up in motor cars, we are also burning it in locomotives and Lloyd's report for 1924-25 shows that the gross tonnage in 1925 of steamers fitted for burning oil fuel was 17,004,122, as compared with 1,810,203 in 1914. Motor vessels listed in Lloyd's Register during the year 1924 are those with oil engines, number 61. The gross tonnage of oil tankers in 1925 was 3,384,200, as compared with 1,474,581 in 1911. All of which helps to intensify the battle for control of the world's oil resources.

MARKETS

THE EXAMINER'S REVIEW OF PROVINCIAL MARKETS

December 29th, 1925.

CATTLE

BEEF—Calgary market value: were firm this week and the top heavy fed steer steers were bringing from $6.75 to $6.90; choice light $6.75@6.85; good $6@6.50; medium $4@4.75; common $3@3.50. Choice heifers $6.50 @6; good $4@4.25. Choice cows $5.50@5.75; good $3@3.50; medium $2@2.75; common $1@2. Choice bulls $3.50@3.75 medium $1.75@2; common from $1.25 up. Choice light calves $4@5.50, with real top once making as high as $7; common lots $2.50@3.50.

FEEDERS and STOCKERS—There is a good demand for feeder steers and they are being bought from $3.50@ $5.25 with some bringing a little more; stock steers $5.25@5; stock heifers $4.50@5.25; stock cows $3@3.50.

BEEF—With the holiday season over last week the receipts at Edmonton are over-ready large enough to establish a market but choice heavy butcher steers are bringing from $6 @6.50 with some first-rate stuff hitting $7; choice light $6@6.40; good $5.50@6; medium $4.25@5; common $3.50@4. Choice heifers $4.75@5; good $4@4.50. Choice cows $5.75 @6; good $5@5.50; medium $3.50@ $4.75; common $2@2.50; canners $1.50@2. Choice bulls $3.50@3.75; good $3@3.25; common from $1.50 up. Choice light calves $5.50@6; good $5@5.50. FEEDERS and STOCKERS—The supply of stockers and feeders during the last week has been limited but the top feeder steers are worth from $5.50@5.65; stock steers $5.75@6; stock heifers $5.50 @5.90; stock cows $3@3.

HOGS

Thick smooths brought $12 on Monday's market at Calgary; today's prices are $12.35 and a 50 per cent. premium for bacon.

Lousy load lugs on the Edmonton market have been selling at $12.15 off cars during the past week, with the business going at $11.90; 10 per cent. premium being paid on all bacon hogs.

SHEEP

Calgary marketing conditions are about the same as last week, and prices unchanged.

At Edmonton a little firmness is being displayed and top lambs are worth from $12@$12.25.

GRAIN

Prices at Winnipeg seem to be governed largely by the Argentine situation. Reports state that the private country elevators are handling heavy deliveries from the farmers.

BUTTER — CREAM — CHEESE

CREAMERY BUTTER—The make at both the centralizers and the country point creameries is very light; importations are being made from Manitoba on. Vancouver market is reported to be waiting for the next shipment of New Zealand butter which is expected in the 15th of next month.

DAIRY BUTTER—Receipts are light even at the country grocery stores.

CREAM—Deliveries are light because the cows are drying up and there are not as many farmers shipping as there was about a month ago. CHEESE—This market is firm and active.

EGGS—POULTRY

POULTRY—As far as the jobbers are concerned the holiday rush for turkeys is about over although there are quite a few shipments being handled yet. EGGS—The mild weather has brought a large supply on the market and some of the dealers are experiencing difficulty in getting rid of the number they have. B. C. shippers have been inclined to leave this market alone during the past week.

POTATOES

Dealers are quoting $30 per ton for the top grade, but most of the loads have big and little ones mixed.

HAY

Country point dealers are finding it a little harder to get hay now than they did a few weeks ago as farmers are leery of the feeding season. Prices unchanged.

HIDES

Market still weak and receipts are heavy. A good demand is being supplied with horsehair, but hardly any is being marketed, it being the wrong time.

FURS

Coyote pelts are inclined to be a drug on the market as there is no demand for them. Inquiries are be-

W. C. T. U. COLUMN

AT THE YEAR'S END

If you are going to do anything for that time is worth while in this splendid year, 1926, you will have got at it in real earnest by very soon now. Only a few more hours and it will have ticked out for best business and we shall have to write 1926 at the head of our page.

It has been a good year to many of us, no doubt in many ways. It has had unmentioned blessings and sweetness and in it we have had our achievements and our successes that are not altogether unpleasant to contemplate. If we have had our failures and disappointments it may be that we are not a crowd to think too much about them, and that is probably all for the good.

And yet this ought to be a good time to sit at least a little honest and earnest thinking about life and to success and failures, its responsibilities and its duties. It is true that we couldn't be to much of the past either to rejoice over its successes or bemoan its failures, but it must be the part of wisdom to think about it just the same. The end of the year ought to be a good time to think a little about the trends and tendencies of life at least and that is quite a wholesome exercise if not indulged in too often or too strenuously.

It might be a very arresting and excellent exercise for today, as the year grows on toward its end, to look back over the past months and see what I can learn from them as to where my life is leading me. It his trends and tendencies, and what these are is truly important. And a little time in earnest thought can hardly fail of making some real revelation to me. I have been so busy all the year that it is quite possible that some things have missed me that it is very important that I should not overlook.

Introspection, if carried too far, is a vice, and a very bad vice, too. But the fact is not many of us in this day are at all inclined to carry it too far. Indeed it would almost seem as if it is the one exercise that we are not indulging in at all, and that we are missing much through our failure. At the end of the year it might not be a bit amiss that we should think a little about the ends and aims of living—a big subject and well worthy our thinking about.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL A CRIME ANTIDOTE

Regular attendance upon Sunday School during the period of character formation would cause the criminal courts and jails to close for there would be no 'raw material' to work on. This is not a platitude from the pulpit. It is an expression of belief of a judge who has had long expert-ence. In the eighteen years that he has sat on the bench in two courts, Supreme Court Justice Lewis L. Fawcett, of Brooklyn, has had more than 4,000 boys less than twenty-one years arraigned before him, charged with various degrees of crime. But of this large number only three were members of a Sunday School at the time of commission their crimes. Asch, says Justice Fawcett, as he is quoted in the New York Herald Tribune:

"Even then three exceptional cases were included in character and devoid of heinousness, so that they are essentially worth mentioning. I do not hesitate to oppose the conviction that attendance by young men at Sunday School or other regular religious work, with its religious atmosphere, is especially preventative against crime, and worthy of careful study by those who are dismayed by the increase of crime on the part of the young men of America.

"In 1906 suspended criminal sentence, only sixty-two of the young men were brought back for violation of the conditions of the parolee. In each suspended sentence case I insisted upon return of the youth, if he was a Protestant to a Sunday School; if a Roman Catholic, to attendance at mass, and, if a Jew, to attendance at a synagogue or temple. In each instance I had the earnest co-operation of the minister, the priest or the rabbi, and in each case I saw to it that the young man had a job to go to as soon as he was freed on parole. In virtually all of the suspended sentence cases the reform was quick and, I believe, permanent."—The Literary Digest.

"America is saving $2,000,000,000 a year through Prohibition. I believe in the policy of going dry."— Lord Leverhulme.

IF YOU HAVE A FRIEND WORTH LOVING

If you have a friend worth loving,
Love him. Yes, and let him know
That you love him, ere life's evening
Tinges his brow with sunset glow.
Why should good words ne'er be said
Of a friend—till he is dead?

If you hear a creeper that moves you
By his humble pleading tone,
Join it. Do not let the rocker
Have before his God alone.
Why should not your brothers share
The strength of "Nice or three" in prayer?

If you see the best taxes falling
From a brother's wavering eyes,
Share them. And by kindly chatting
Own our kinship in the skies.
Why should any one be glad
When a brother's heart is sad?

If a silvery laugh goes rippling
Through the sunshine on his face,
Share it. 'Tis the wise man's saying—
For both grief and joy a place.
There's many a sunbeam in waiting
Of which no human laugh has been.

If your work is made more easy
By a friendly, helping hand,
Say so. Speak out honest and truly
Let the grateful warm tide flow.
Be a brother sunbeam now
Failed for a word of cheer!

Scatter thus your seeds of kindness
All enriching as you go—
Leave them. Trust the Harvest-Giver
He will make each seed to grow.
So, until the happy end,
Your life shall never lack a friend.
—The Adult Student.

Winter Driving

(By Kevin Grant)

(President Grant Collins of Automotive Engineering.)

Watch your windshield, for glass is easily broken on a morning when the mercury is rapidly going down in the thermometer bulb. The cold makes the glass contract, and often when a sharp jerk on the windshield to release an engine will crack the glass.

When you come in from a long drive and the car top is covered with snow, brush the top by fulcher it back, and then allow it to dry with the top up. A folded top, if damp, will soon discolor and crack. Don't clean a top with gasoline, for gasoline will rain any rubber which is in the fabric or connections. When the top does need cleaning use good castile soap and a scrubbing brush. Soap and water will have an equally good effect on the celluloid windows.

The driver who fails to equip his car with some form of anti-skid chains for the roadway during the winter is a poor economist, but there should only be used when absolutely necessary. They should be fitted loose enough so that they will work around the tire and accordingly distributed. A strain, but, they should not be so loose as to form a "bulge" which will mean the pounding and bumping which is very detrimental to the tread. Chains applied too tight will also considerably shorten the life of the tire. They will not prevent skidding if applied in this manner, and will bite into the tread and play hob with it in a short time.

This is especially true on wet or icy pavements, and the bite on the tread can easily be recognized as to cause determined on account of the chain-link impression on the tread which is usually in evidence. Chains should never be applied when the rubber of the tire is exposed. Dismount the tire point not only prevents skidding, but the blow-out takes place at a most inconvenient time, because many days, or maybe weeks, or during the winter after a heavy snowfall.

Don't trust to your chains to pre-

Rhondda Welsh Male Choir Concert

The above choir gave a very enjoyable concert in the United Church on Christmas Eve, December 24th. Owing to the timid chorus, which was unavoidable, the attendance, while large, did not overflow the church, but those present listened to a programme which has seldom, if ever, been given in the cities of Alberta with a choir of that size.

The choir, consisting of 16 voices, possesses the volume of a dozen many times their number, and their flexibility in handling fuffe and pianissimo passages was something to make all lovers of music sit up and take notice. The conductor who has their under perfect discipline, and produces harmonies and effects that go to form his choir, without effort all the wonderful grading of musical expression that the ear is capable of. Of the choral pieces rendered, it is difficult to choose a best as sound as all were so good, but perhaps the most popular were that they rendered in Welsh. "Ar Hyd Y Nos" (All Through the Night) and "Gwahoddiad" (The Invitation) were the outstanding favorites, and the encores which the Gymry chorus was well versed and heard to perfection. The English Folk-Songs were also rendered in perfect unison, and the choir showed a great versatility in their ability to change from the pianissimo of "Bed Time" to the fortissimo of "Men of Harlech" with equal ease and precision. The choir is a great credit and solution.

The solo numbers rendered each had outstanding merit, and here again it was practically difficult to discriminate.

In short, Gwyn and Evans were very popular performers, their "Pleasant and Business" selection being delightful, each from the standpoint of music and humor.

The concert was under the auspices of the United Church Choir.

BOTHA NEWS

Christmas has come and gone once more, and we heard some children remarking how long it would be till the next Christmas. The weather was an hour ticket, roads good for both cars and sleighs. And such folks were the residents, on that there was nothing to mar the pleasure of the day.

The Christmas program given in the Hall the night of the 23rd, by the teachers and pupils of the Consolidated Schools was one of the best ever. The Hall was packed, seats and standing room all filled.

The little tots are always funny and entertaining, and Miss Bailey, the primary teacher, had trained them well in songs, dialogues and recitations. The bell drill by the little girls was well done and very pretty.

Miss Mawhinney's pupils in Mother Goose and the familiar characters in "Hanging Dumpty," "Jack and Jill," her charmes, such as "Little Boy Blue," and all others were fine, as well as other numbers given by this grade.

The Star Drill by Miss Dominy's girls was a beautiful pleasing number. The dialogue "Santa's Substitute" in which the Christmas gifts were raised in a most amusing way was also given by Miss Dominy's grade.

The High School pupils under Mis-

Really trading gets some stupendous boosts from time to time. The "Five Dollar Store," told the old Christmas shoppers were some behind the earliest, brought out the real meaning of Christmas.

The dumb bell exercises by the boys was given in perfect time, while the Minuet Drill by 12 girls, 6 of them in boys attire, was the crowning success of the evening. The soft and varied combination of color in the costumes and powdered hair of the old Colonial times gave a very pleasing effect, while the costume and expression told the story of willful maids, and would-be lovers without words.

The recitation was long and each next deserving of mention. Choruses by all schools, recitals and piano solos all added to the pleasure of the evening.

The orchestra music was unusually good and well appreciated.

The contributions for the treat of candy and nuts were most liberal, so that all were generously served.

The tree, procured by Mr. Garvin and W. L. Friend from the Horace Cotton Lot, was prettily decorated and lighted, and Santa Claus made his appearance at the close of the programme.

Those exercises require a lot of time and hard work, but are fine inducements for the school children, and are really a part of their education, as well as giving pleasure to parents and friends and keeping alive the Christmas spirit.

The May Park School, Miss Birdsell teacher, gave a very interesting X-mas program on Tuesday evening, December 24th.

On account of the dust in the air, and the fact that the ground was not in the frozen state of some, it was decided not to have Sunday School on Sunday morning. But the service will be held at usual time next Sunday, followed by the Mission Band meeting.

THE COMMON COLD

LONDON MORNING POST, Eng.:—It is the established custom to make the common cold a subject of jest and mockery but such levity is the last thing of which to make it. The sufferer there is nothing comic in the scientific description of the symptoms. Like the pain one enjoys, "To the mind of reader, knowing like it brings effectively." There is no escape. The unhappy victim can only bear it in the down assigned. He can only reconcile himself to the fact that, from the first lachrymatory sneeze or shiver, he must face a fortnight or three weeks endure headache, distress, and a general lowering of vitality with a loss of taste and smell, and a liability to serious complications. His life will creep with a broken wing until such time as the affliction chooses to depart as it came, leaving among other evils a fresh apprehension as to how soon it may return. Surely here is a field for tireless investigation.
